These puffle monsters have magic of runes, symbols, etc from DeviantArt as well as powers of the magical Wisp (Based on Sonic: Colors) creatures that empower them as spirits (embodiments) of mana energy charging their universe of magic. Unique paladyns wield unique forms of magic, weapons, abilities, etc

Ætlɑs: These powerful puffle monsters come from the universe of adventure and travelling. Based off of my ideal world made from all my maps collected throughout my travels, these puffle monsters live in these worlds in the maps that have combined together with crafts, souvenirs, etc as well as puffle monster magic creating the ideal infinite universe of adventure and fun. The map world has a bit of change due to the magic affecting the maps but creating alternate versions of each map as well with different forms of magic affecting the map and changing it but creating new puffle monsters native to those maps with unique cultures, flags, style, items, etc

Infinitimagiverse: Based on all magic, imaginary gift (symbol), symbols, magic, vanguard Cardfight, etc. Puffle monsters of the infinitiverse symbols with the most variety ever. All sacred cores fused magic combining with imaginary symbols of each symbol in existence as well as the core magic of all puffle monsters (their light and lifeforce magic). All portals opened up to visit these puffle monsters. Eventually, the inside of the Xenith and all other Xeniths are now stored in the light of the Infinitiverse (which now acts as the Xenith, but the ultimate one as it stores all magic now and never resets as it linked to the Earth time so every month in Earth is a year in magic). This will allow a perfect reset for the new decade beginning the new 1st year of magic reset (or 13th year) of magic now linking time with Earth so one month is one year of magic. These puffle monsters have the ability to create portals through world symbols allowing them to go anywhere as well in magic. These puffle monsters heralded the beginning of the new evolution of all magic and puffle monsters

New Hero: Xanthus (37th hero, inaugurated January 3, 2020). Born to Xozyn and Diana, a girl Xozyn met during his time at school training. DeusXyimagine: Deity puffle monsters that have the ultimate power of creation and destruction creating the ideal puffle monsters earth universe with magic affecting it creating the infinite universe of Earth of the puffle monsters. Based off of the Zodiac Time Beasts, Elementals, Messiah, etc from Vanguard G Cardfight

Gyze: Puffle monsters artificially created with the ability to sever magic temporarily created by the military group in the hunter world. These artificial puffle monsters also have a lock ability and deleting ability able to even erase magic from existence (but it requires lots of power…)

Myitopia: Puffle monsters of the infinite universe of the magic Puffle monsters earth with their own cultures, magic, etc all created by imagination and magic fused to Earth cultures. All human bonds take the form of puffle monsters, souls, etc creating an infinite power and diversity of magic. These puffle monsters live on the 2nd Earth (Based on Planet Cray and Earth from Vanguard) which expanded since it is infinite so now 2 giant spheroid lights of ultimate magic now encompass the powers of the hero band as the fusion of the lights created the power. There was once a connection where puffle monsters live in the ideal P.M world and just appear in the human world as spirits but can be summoned for real through magic cards and humans can enter the puffle monster earth as spirits (but can't appear in real life). However, the magic of the light separated the ideal earth as its own but leaves puffle monsters the ability to travel to and from Human Earth but humans can't do the same.

Xendouryu: Legendary puffle monsters warriors clad in transcendent power. These puffle monsters are invincible and have the ability to create puffle monsters energy through battle which was thought impossible long ago. Their unique abilities to create energy and rewrite imagination is what makes them special. Based off of Dragonoid Maximus and Aichi Sendou's Units from Cardfight: Vanguard. Created by a powerful battle aura created by their emotions, thoughts, and imagination and wield the magic of the Xendouryu core energy.

Thousymagine/Ezeryon: Puffle monsters of the age of utopian time. These puffle monsters have control of magic and have the ability to fuse realities they develop in their imagination and fuse it to their universe of modern magic. Each era has their own style of buildings, magic, etc. This creates a larger diversity of magic but as an overall ruler, the Ezeryon company (Puffle monster Company in a future of magic and time) develop these forms of magic, weapons, etc and develop these technologies and paradises for the puffle monsters to live in creating the ultimate utopia. Based on Forge of Empires, Kamen Rider Thouser, Progrise Keys, Thousand Jacker.

Stromme: Puffle monsters of the magic storm based off of Lindstrom story I came up with. These puffle monsters wield magic of each tribe with their own unique abilities, symbols, etc. They have a powerful battle spirit and aura allowing them to summon the magic storm and empower them in battle. Live in realm within the magic storm

Aertheria: Puffle monsters of the magic Earth that expanded into a universe. Hidden in sanctuaries spread throughout the earth which act as gateways. These hidden puffle monsters wield legendary magic of their own with unique symbols and magic of the Magic Earth. They live in this expanded magical paradise of pure magic energy but fused with Earth qualities (cultures, monuments, nature, modern cities, technology, etc)

Krijyrion: Puffle monsters of the north wielding powerful weapons that have their own souls and can evolve independently. These weapons are immortal and of the legendary prophecy of the forge of magic. Ruled by Immortal Winter Phoenix Sabone Eternal, and Bane of Chaos, Demios Sword Crossbone Rebirth

Aequaryus: Puffle monsters of the magic sea of Aequaryus (Based off of Zak Storm Bermuda Triangle). The magic sea is basically a large pile of magic energy clumped there but with the genesis ability activated, the energy became lands, monsters, etc creating the world of Aequaryus. Puffle monsters here use the magic energy of their homelands and use it to create more land or realms for their native sea

ArcXaver: These puffle monsters come from the United Sanctuary of Infinitia Arkem, a universal paradise and sanctuary for all puffle monsters. Living in a modernized imagination world (Based on Planet Cray from Vanguard), these puffle monsters wield the magic of light and ArcXaver magic (Based on Arc Saver Dragon from Vanguard Cardfight (V series)) purifying all magic. These modernized puffle monsters wield magic like the magic of the puffle monsters world but have a paladin like force to them wielding sage magic as well and warrior magic (Units from the United Sanctuary (Cardfight! Vanguard V series)). Magic comes from main tower where the Monarch grants magic light.

Idryx: Puffle monsters each with the magic of the infinite Xyqualia eye (based on PSYqualia and Zak Storm eyes) with infinite symbols unique to the ideal world they see, their imagination, etc creating ideal worlds and varieties, infinite versions based on each symbol each eye can call on. Each world has infinite more eyes and puffle monsters with those eyes (which within the eyes can recall infinite more unique symbols to that symbol alone) creating more worlds, etc

Maegux: Puffle monsters using magic crystals and magic energies of fortune and fate magic. Live in a crystallized world of geometric shapes and oracle magic (Based on Oracle Think Tank from Vanguard)

Greion: Puffle monsters with the ability of deleting. Virus like puffle monsters with the invasion ability too

Brandt: Puffle monsters of the alien planet of destruction with abilities of reversal magic and black hole absorption magic

Mezziyonyx: Ultimate puffle monsters with the ultimate power of harmonic magic and fusion of universes. These puffle monsters also have mysterious planets around them but that shows the new deity powers and abilities they have. Based on Ultimate Garga's powers from Buddyfight (able to shift forms of combat) but also Harmonics Messiah (from Cardfight Vanguard). These puffle monsters are known to be invincible in magic and immortal but also have the shining ability allowing them to foresight all combinations of attacks and abilities but also summon shining crystalline blades of unique magic (from the planet that surrounds them) as defense and attack mechanisms each with a unique ability since each planet has their own unique infinite magic and powers.

Urshifuhn: Powerful puffle monsters with unique fighting techniques and utilization of magic abilities of nature empowering their style of magic fighting. Known to be masters of the combat arts and martial arts, they wield art of the silent fist (no weapons) but weapons can empower them beyond magic. Those puffle monsters wield ninja like weapons (bombs, katanas, shurikens, etc) combined with magic energy to unleash powerful attacks. Also use secret scrolls as well to empower them. Based on Pokemon Sword and Shield Expansion Pack (Isle of Armor)

Khalyrexmagine: Mysterious regal puffle monsters known for their grace and elegance. Bearing a crown like formation on their head and magical crystalline ball necklace with mysterious symbols hailing from the beginning of time, these puffle monsters are known to be immortal fairy like creatures, with the memory of the past, present, and even the future. Based on Pokemon Sword and Shield Expansion Pack (The Crown Tundra)

Deoxymonxuno: Puffle monsters of chaotic DNA powers based on Monsuno

Z.I.E (Zaetek I.M.A.G.I.N.E (Immersive MMORPG Augmented virtual future Genesis creative Infinitimagiverse sandbox Nexus network Eon) Evolution): The future of puffle monsters in an augmented or virtual reality setting of infinite universes of magic and imagination. Created by me in a future of gaming, these puffle monsters of the virtual future live in the utopia of gaming where all players from all over the world join and catch, train, and create new puffle monsters, magic, games, and worlds. Based on Ready Player One (OASIS), GBN (from Gundam Build Divers), and Kamen Rider Zero One. These puffle monsters live in the ultimate matrix where all data of magic and reality merged creating them

B.F.B (Bullet Force Blitz): Powerful puffle monsters wielding gun like weapons and always participating in lazer tag like competitions. Each puffle monster has a unique skill and are extremely powerful with their choice of weapons. Live in world of war based off of Pixelgun

Aekyimune: Powerful puffle monsters known as the Spellmasons of magic. These colorful pure puffle monsters created the very first symbols of magic with a hammer, and magic energy and created the magic symbols that comprise the fabric of magic energy today. These puffle monsters live in their own hidden universe and have been creating more forms of magic, spells, etc through the magic hammer and wrench they wield. Created by the Golden Aekyimune, he created all of the original puffle monsters to help him create their branch of magic, and so on and so forth. Aekyimune uses the Oracle’s Globe and enters it (contains all the spells and symbols of all time periods and eras, like an infinite history book storing all the information, but also contains the deity of time, who came out at the end) These puffle monsters wield unique magic and can fuse magic creating new ones or create a new spell or symbol out of the blue (related to their magic at least). All the magic of the Oracle’s Globe fused with the other forms of magic once the Universes of Puffle Monsters and the ideal Puffle monster Earth world fused with the Aekyimune universe of magic creating more modern forms of magic and creating new hybrids and infinite forms of magic. Based off of Boboiboy elemental forms and symbols (Supra), Retakka (Boboiboy movie 2 with elemental powers), Bionicles, and Dragonvale (Spellmason dragon)

NeoMezzaeiyahn: Powerful puffle monsters with the abilities of Excelics Messiah (Cardfight! Vanguard). These puffle monsters use powerful magic abilities of their universe (perfect monster Earth they envision) creating an even larger diversity of puffle monsters in the universe with more globes of infinite universes envisioned perfectly and uniquely by each puffle monster. Each globe they have (usually one or 2) contains infinite unique symbols of magic of the envisioned utopia with puffle monsters and unique spells and abilities to be summoned as well as unique mechanics. All use abilities like Imaginary gift, fuse, limit break, lock, genesis, and modify.

StrideImagyne: Powerful puffle monsters from all past, present, and future alternate realities of the puffle monster universe due to a change in the timeline. These puffle monsters access the magic of the Stride gates and the magic of wishes and miracles to connect with other puffle monsters throughout infinite forms of timelines and realities. Run by the Chronocommand puffle monsters with the magic gears of fate, reality, destiny, etc. Use powerful magic of their alternate reality and can call one ability, weapon, etc from that realm through the gate. Never really lived anywhere as they wander through the time realms and set colonies for them to stay and research in as well as fuse their magic to create new monsters.

Chronocommand: Gear puffle monsters with the magic gears of fate, destiny, etc. Each puffle monster has their own gear and can use it to Alter magic in certain ways, or open time gates to go through. They are immortal in magic and have the memories of all time. Many different puffle monsters from many different time periods and eras (Based off of Forge of Empires and Gear Chronicle (Cardfight! Vanguard G))

I.R.I.S (Infinite Reality of the Imagination Selestial): Puffle monsters of the alternate future which Redison explored through the stride gate. In this future, I continue my studies with robotics but also coding and I made my own product and program called IRIS. In this case, people all over the world (with the new global capabilities of all access) can wear these Glasses like devices that lets them explore either an augmented-ish virtual reality of what is in front of them (which acts as a server) with its own modifications allowing it to be customized by other players in the server or who digitally accessed the server and made their own unique creations with their own puffle monsters, magic, games, etc in that zone. These glasses connect to the brain of the user who wears it allowing fast thought, imagination capabilities, and the ability to create the puffle monster of your dreams or your imagination with no artistic abilities by just imagining it the way you want it to be.

Daiyusha: Puffle monsters that ride robots. From a universe (created by the stride gate that Redison entered), these puffle monsters build and ride powerful mechs that can transform into different forms. Each mech has their own style of combat which each puffle monster reflects on which forms the perfect sync pair with their mech (known as a Kaizer). These puffle monsters have powerful boost abilities as well like a hyperdrive form or a form change.

Godagito: Using links of others and magic of bonds, these puffle monsters have the ability to unite abilities and magic together in order to support other puffle monsters in battle. Based on the linkdragon order. These puffle monsters have an ability to link their abilities

Ultima: Powerful puffle monsters with Stride Evolution, Ultimate Stride, and others powers. These divine puffle monsters wield powerful magic of infinite realities. Puffles that can evolve into super monsters and use limit break abilities

OЯukA: Powerful evil puffle monsters using the magic of locking and omega locking in order to control puffle monsters. Use the magic black rings but when purified, use special rings with unique abilities to control opponents

Zoæneon: based on the evolution of puffle monsters called Puffle Monsters 2.0 (now called PMZ or PM2) These puffle monsters are cyborg or android (with souls and their own intelligence and unique persona) with magic as powerful or stronger then normal puffle monsters meant to be for the future of puffle monsters in their own universe. The magic of the mysterious elementary particles that create magic in a mysterious new way, transformed into puffle monsters with the powers of those new particle symbol magic. They integrated into the bodies of the android puffle monsters but created a completely new form of puffle monsters with unique abilities and powers, enhancing on the Puffle monster 2.0 powers but also enhancing the particle abilities. Live in the expanded Particle Zoo universe and are powered by the shining Zoa system providing chyrsters for defense and attack (boost in battle) but also high intelligence.

AtlæXyA: Powerful puffle monsters from a planet where Puffle monsters actually exist instead of the imaginary universe but all imaginations interact and fuse here. These imaginations of magic with their own unique twists, unique puffle monsters with their own form of magic, symbols connect with the magic of the ideal Earth of bonds with humans and other creatures. All magic creates atoms of magic with each atom containing a unique universe of magic within the one atom with their infinite number of unique puffle monsters within that. On the continents, cities, regions, habitats, etc are common ground for the atomic universes within the one planet (called a Terraverse or Geoverse which contains an infinite amount of atomic universes). Each have their own unique culture, magic, etc. Based on Cardfight! Vanguard G and Cardfight! Vanguard as well as Forge of Empires as these puffle monsters have unique styles of buildings, battle, materials, etc. These geoverses act as gateways to the planes of magic reality

BioNetyx: Known to be Puffle Monsters 2.1. These puffle monsters were created by the Bionet system (powerful custom armors and weapons granted by the Genesis Cell (metallic cell with magic energy connecting to Bionet system). The bionet system is a utopian digital network of puffle monster information as well as creature information, magic info, items, abilities, etc all entered to create a new code of puffle monsters based off the dots of the Regi-pokemon (Regirock, regice, etc) and empowered by the Maximus system (enhanced version of Shining Assault system based off of Kamen Rider Zero One, this system was used by dragon power and like Thouser, takes tech and harnesses it to stronger potential) Based off of Dragonoid Maximus, Pokemon Sword and Shield, and Kamen Rider Zero One. This digital earth like universal network is headquartered at the house of Puffle monsters where all the codes are made and the digital puffle monsters live in the digital globe accessed through VR or portal. Eventually, the world was released so all puffle monsters from the digital utopian grid was freed by the Maximus magic and allowed to benefit all puffle monsters. Each have unique skill set and ability of magic (strength, speed, etc) as well as unique dot code (based off of Regi- in pokemon)

Nova Beast: Using powerful supernova energy, these puffle monsters use stardust magic and persona magic as well in order to unleash futuristic forms of magic attacks, and abilities. Based on Nova Grappler from Cardfight! Vanguard, these futuristic puffle monsters from the future of magic battle each other in the cosmos in cities built from out of this world materials and magic but also summon the spirits of aliens and beasts to unleash new powers and fuse with cosmic energy

IPvRX (Infinitimaginet universal Program Virtual reality X): Puffle monsters of the internet, the limitless possibilities, addresses, etc, all info learned in AP Comp. Sci principles like the infinite IP Addresses and how information is sent around, expands in the future. These puffle monsters 2.2 are from the future where the internet expanded beyond imaginable and around the same time, the puffle monsters augmented VR Game has reached its peak in popularity and the systems fused, so the magic fused so puffle monsters of the VR game (with all and some future magic created at the time) plus the infinite ideas of creativity and imagination in the internet,created infinite universes of magic and creation for the puffle monsters to fuse with, form hybrids of those worlds and form their own servers, IP Addresses for a world they make or the multiple they make, using a directory and magic Infinitimaginet Gateway, all players all over the globe, poor or not poor, can escape to an oasis of magic and creativity to expand the world. All programs like Facebook, Youtube, Google is added here because of how expansive it became also with puffle monster magic infused, new programs similar were made.

Cyber.io.net: Led by Oceana’s team of puffle monsters, her monsters defend the IPvRX with powerful technology and abilities unlike all others. These abilities are linked with her personality and are super advanced with hacking powers, drone strikes, etc

Archæon: Ancient puffle monsters of long ago with magic powers and runes from when the universe was being created. These ancient puffle monsters lived in a secret realm of magic controlled and protected by the great Archaeon wizards (based off of the ancient walkers from Alone: Pt 2) where they used the magic of ancient drones of mysterious origin and granted magic using origin magic particles (based off of the idea of the quarks, leptons, etc) combining with a puffle monster’s aura to create a magic symbol. These puffle monsters have powerful unique abilities as magic itself had been saved since the beginning of time and the dimensional gate magic was there at the time too so infinite different variations of these super puffle monsters. Based on Buddyfight, Vanguard, Pokemon, gundam sd Sangoku Soketsuden, Kamen Rider, etc.

Liberator: Based on the Gold Paladins from Cardfight! Vanguard, these puffle monsters are brave, loyal, chivalrous, courageous, and kind. They have the legendary strength of thousands and out there liberating others but also liberating evil monsters from their evil form. These puffle monsters use the ability of Arc Liberation allowing them to unleash a legendary boost of strength and the ability to unleash ultimate level abilities but as a last resort (takes a lot of energy to perform).

Based on Yugioh Pendulum Dragons and Cardfight! Vanguard Gear Chronicle, as well as Buddyfight Time dragons.

Quintesson: Powerful puffle monsters with the abilities to summon 5 puffle monsters for aid but also used in a Quintet wall formation, and other battle formations for enhanced abilities and attacks. These puffle monster aids can also attack (or all attack but only every 2 turns of your own). These aid puffle monsters are unique to each puffle monsters and form the power star formation for a final attack.

Yuen: Mysterious puffle monsters that use the magic of the lunar runes, a completely different set of magic (so fire would be blue instead, water is a lighter color, and the sun element is not there, but really the moon element is the ultimate element). These puffle monsters are completely hidden and measure time through the lunar calendar with powerful abilities and magic symbols using a silver or bluish flame form of energy.

Gongxyn: Lucky regal puffle monsters of magic and luck live in the golden jade heavens of magic. These magical forms of jewels (or alternate versions of jade) are immortal in the tradition of the chinese and have powerful spirit abilities of life granting, energy creation, etc. Live in an asian paradise of immortal happiness, luck, and fortune through the power of the Regal Golden Jade Sun. These puffle monsters use the magic of chinese symbols (in a golden flame form)

Meijiins: Imaginary points of light and the cousin or new name of puffle monsters if this ever becomes a game (since puffles is Disney copyrighted material). Based on document of the Meijiins. Live in an alternate universe but almost exactly alike. Linked by the 4 world-linking keys to the PMU

Astraiohs: Puffle monsters of the Uncle Milton Solar System toy thing. These puffle monsters are from those planets (planet Earth, Mars, etc). Each have unique powers with the abilities to summon the Astral force through the Astral Circle. Wielding powerful cosmic energy, these puffle monsters have unique magic as each have their own astral symbol within them that they unleash.

Regahlya: Created by the Trees of life, the first world-linking key lies here and created the trees. Each tree is a universe of unique creatures like puffle monsters. Each branch is a branch of magic and each fruit is unique world of its own, each leaf is also a world or a form of magic with each vein and atom within the leaf is a unique symbol of a puffle monster. Each forest has specific colors of trees with universes that share a similar form of magic. The puffle monsters who live here act as the caretakers wielding magic of deities controlling and caring for the magic forest

Sharaman: Puffle monsters of the sands of time (based off of Prince of Persia: the Sands of Time). Home of 2nd World-Linking Key, Each region and puffle monster has a unique sand grain of time based off of magic and each grain of sand is unique like a snowflake representing a timeline of a unique universe of magic with infinite unique symbols within it. Similar to Regahlya, each region of the desert has different magic within the sand and home to the puffle monsters that control the sands of time and the magic of the timelines.

Mira: Puffle monsters of the realm of miracles, wishes, and ideals. Home of the 3rd World-linking key, these puffle monsters are dream like and with powerful magic of ideals and wishes, these puffle monsters wield imaginary magic linked to ideals

Diamind: Puffle monsters of the clear spirit, soul, and chakra magic. These puffle monsters wield the magic of meditation, zen, etc in order to unleash powerful inner energy magic. Crystalized world home of 4th World-linking key

Legionmate: Puffle monsters wielding the bonds of the legion mate. Based off of Vanguard Legion Mate, SD Gundam Sangoku Soketsuden, and Evelyn's drawings of puffle monsters for me. These puffle monsters are known to use the ability of Legion in order to fuse abilities and link magic strength and even double it. Both of these puffle monsters have unique symbols of magic in order to Legion fuse Mythauran: Puffle monsters of magical mythic aura light (Based off of background when computer is idle). These powerful puffle monsters use the magic of colorful aurora blades of magic. Uses powerful spells controlled by the magic of the light.

Known to be made out of unique magical metals for each world, they also possess unique abilities as well that work together with their unique weapon to unleash special combos and healing abilities.

New Hero: Xenith (38th hero, younger brother of Xanthus). Xanthus finally proposed to Azura (obviously she said yes) and they are to be married soon. Xenith graduated the academy after Xanthus's 45th mission, which gave him time to go on a quest with Redison which lead to his first mission but he didn't return until Xanthus' 50th mission, right on time for inauguration (Jan 28th, 2020). His style is very similar to his older brother with Flaming red hair, crystal diamond marks (in 10 this time) by his hair that flame up into rainbow flames when he's serious, and the new evolved Xenitheroband (combining magic of the PMU and the recent twin realm of magic explained below). Xenitheroband based off of Boboiboy elemental watch. Wields the legendary Infinitimagiverse Xenithero Deity Sabre (change any form, unleash all magic of past heroes, and change blade form as well). When obtaining the powers of Numerion and Arkaeus-V, he unleashes the magic of the sword deity, Utopia Deity Beyond, where he grants his sword and all other forms of the Utopian Sword of Infinity (the sword forms of Utopia from Yugioh Zexal) evolving his form further. Form based off of Garga, different forms of Utopia (Beyond, Ray, Ray Victory, etc from Yugioh Zexal), Arc Saver Dragon (Cardfight! Vanguard), etc

REZero: In this alternate universe of magic, these puffle monsters are actually not puffle monsters but Maejinns that look somewhat like puffle monsters, and have similar mechanics of them but have special properties and magic types that puffle monsters don't have. This alternate universe or collection of universes follow a parallel path with only a tiny space in between the world lines of the Puffle monsters and REZero. Redison found a rift and took Xenith on first mission to explore this new world. Redison took the form of the Maejinn Vermillion Monarch, Sanctuary Redison Reborn (Based off of Liberator Sanctuary Monarch, Alfred from Vanguard) and became partners with the William there. Xenith took the form of Vermillion Sabre Deity, Xenith Reborn (Based off of Dragonic Overlord, the Rebirth). These Maejinns have different but similar-ish origins of magic to puffle monsters but different abilities, etc. Puffle monsters and Maejinns have yet to find a way to cross the lines without loss of memory. These puffle monsters have unique rings with unique symbols on those rings (Based off of Dragonic Overlord, the Rebirth) with a magic symbol in the hole part of the ring created by magic energy serving as the core symbol of their unique symbol. Each symbol engraved on the ring has rings of their own with those symbols acting as core and so on and so forth. Using these rings, they can unleash Infinity Break (based off of Limit Break in Vanguard), to unleash special abilities. These puffle monsters also have skills and special attacks.

SNS (Seed Nexus System): Created by the imagination nexus seed of creation and its fusion with the Maejinn VR tech (so magic of the Maejinns), these puffle monsters serve as a bridge between the PMU and the MJU (Maejinn Universe). Based on Sword Art Online stories (Aincrad, ALFheim, other worlds created by the seed) these puffle monsters are wise in magic with the unique abilities and symbols created by the hybriding of the PMU magic and MJU magic symbols. These created new abilities, functions, etc and set the new puffle monster magic era.

Neurobuster: Puffle monsters with powers based off of Accel World. These puffle monsters use powerful magic abilities custom designed by the power of imagination. Using a mysterious soul translating ability, these puffle monsters wield the powerful abilities to unleash skills and magic in and out of the Accel World (a magical dimension of accelerated time as fast as the mind).

Hearthstone (History Earth): Based on the Angry Birds Epic game, these puffle monsters live on the Earth where I can simulate my history lessons and stuff through the puffle monsters (more like Puffles though) and are played in the team play like style. Use spells, magic, armor, weapons, etc, as well as the powerful magic of the Hearth within the magic of Hearthstones, magic time crystals the power this realm and the infinite versions of the Hearth. Also based on all strategy magic card games (hearthstone, MTG, etc), the Cats game, etc. These puffle monsters live in all time periods, eras, and even infinite versions of the different time eras, (alternate futures, like an Oceanic future, Arctic future, moon future, etc), and alternate past eras (if the Aztecs or Mayans still existed and evolved through time, what would they be now).

Omniblitz: Based on Cats Game, Garga units from Buddyfight, and other strategy magic card games (Hearthstone, MTG, etc). Powerful armored puffle monsters with the magic of the omniblitz, a powerful storm of magic created by the star tree hailing the new year (month) of magic. This storm granted a new infinite arsenal to puffle monsters that got super powered and were able to unleash new abilities and skills through the magic of the armors and weapons.

Varignys: Digital AI puffle monsters of the distant future. Based off of Yugioh VRAINS and Bakugan Battle Planet Armored Alliance. These AI puffle monsters were created as programs to defend the internet and granted magic of their own soul but also given the power by the imagination of everyone around the world as their ideas create more of these kinds of puffle monsters with unique skills and abilities.

Allegiance: Based on the Genesis Minecraft world Recovery project (puffle monsters who live in lost servers of infinite Minecraft servers and world's with their own mods, etc are recovered and fused together to form a giant universe and no longer cubed). Based on Cardfight Vanguard, these puffle monsters are part of different clans with unique abilities skills and abilities based off of their culture and clan. Have unique symbol and the ability to share magic skills to their clan leader or Allegiance partner (certain puffle monsters can share their ability but with other puffle monsters a share ability is different and this is unique to each puffle monsters)

EpochReverse: Puffle monsters from a distant universe where they use the ability to reverse puffle monsters in order to unleash suppressed powers. Based off of the Star Vader's from Vanguard. Main ability is to unleash world end and defeat opponents.

Etheleone: Powerful angelic futuristic puffle monsters with advanced technology and medicine and battle. These puffle monsters have unique magic abilities in healing and aura magic being able to utilize magic to share abilities with others. Based off of Cardfight! Vanguard Blaster Blade, Royal Paladin, Holy Saver Dragon, Ezel, Gold Paladins, etc

LegionArkInfinity: Legendary puffle monsters of the astral plane, where the unity of friendship created new forms of magic and symbols. In the astral plane, the startrees grow in large numbers and the main area has the great golden star tree where the legionarkinfinity meet. This Astral plane acts as a main hub and fusing point for all universes created by the other members of the legion which stem beyond all time and forms of magic. Each puffle monster magic symbol created by the imagination of each member of each legion live and travel between the origin universe and the Astral Plane to the other puffle monster universes the legions are aligned with. With this, symbols fuse and new magics are created, into new symbols. The astral plane has regions of magic like the Startree Forest, oceans of memories, lake of reflections, etc to reflect infinite forms of magic where the legions of magic create new symbols of magic. The power of the legions summon the legendary titan deity of the LegionArkInfinity which is the mega form of the Hero (so all the heroes can transform into this) and unleash evolved Gold Rush attacks (once powerful special moves unleashing the special moves of a certain number or group of puffle monsters simultaneously to attack opponent in the final wave of attack) as normal attacks and even Gold Rush (now called LegionArk) skills in order to simultaneously activate a wave of abilities. All legionArk puffle monsters marked with the symbol of the legion can unleash unique abilities to their associated legion as well as unique special moves, skills, mechanics, etc as well as their own unique abilities based on their own core symbol. These legions include:

- Legend Battlers: Jimmy, Andrew, etc
- Indian: Aneesh's friends from his birthday party 2-1-20 as he turned 16 at Bowlero
- Philippines: Cousins in Philippines
- France: Friends made in France

- Team PV: Alison, Taylor, Oceana, Milly, Chloe, Saniya, Shiva, Alex F, etc
- Phoenix Boys Choir: All my friends from Choir
- Etc

EN (Energy Naturalis): Powerful cosmic puffle monsters that use the magic of natural energy in order to create magic. These powerful puffle monsters use the magic of EN Roots (an origin source of magic) and allow for a primal evolution like ability unleashing powerful forms just by downgrading. Based on Yugioh Arc-V (Natural Energy cards) and Yugioh Zexal (Utopia roots)

Kopernica: Superior magic puffle monsters that use the abilities of Superiorize (a new form of beyond mega evolution). These puffle monsters live in worlds that are connected to our real world as well but are distant and far away. Using magic cards, we can summon them through the magic of imagination and myth. Based off of Cardfight! Vanguard and Yugioh Zexal

Numerion: Powerful puffle monsters beyond time and from the mysterious astral dimension. This parallel universe has the magical technology and puffle monsters with magic in order to establish a utopia of magic. Based on Yugioh Zexal. They use the power of Zexal in order to unleash new powers and summon their unique abilities and symbols from their dimension as well as the infinite numbers of Numerion. Each puffle monster possess their own Numerion symbol (negative infinity-infinity) and could be future numbers, special, and even have elemental or magical attributes to it (so blazing number 39 or shining number 42). These symbols include other magical symbols and letters of alphabet, etc. Ruled by the ultimate form of Xenith called Xenith ZEXAL (ultimate form based off of Garga, Utopia Ray victory, Utopia Ray, Utopia Beyond, (Utopias from Yugioh Zexal))

Arkaeus-V (ARK-V): Mysterious puffle monsters of the infinite dimensions of magic with mysterious new ways to summon different types of puffle monsters. Based off of Yugioh Arc-V. Unleash new types of summoning or evolution, rank-up, Ride, magical forms of evolution and summoning (future force summon, dragon force summon, merge, etc), etc. These puffle monsters have infinite counterparts in each dimension and possess a unique ability that is native to their dimension of magic, but the ability to share (somewhat) the ability and symbol (with tiny changes) is a main characteristic of them.

Eternamythion: Powerful puffle monsters found on Earth and are hidden in temples of magic. These puffle monsters possess the magic of the Numeriyon code which possesses the power to create universes, magic, and shape reality. These puffle monsters are known to be avatars of the infinite nature of the Numeriyon code and are known to be the representatives as each symbol (or character/number) creates its own unique puffle monster with its own unique magic and abilities, which in turn, creates puffle monsters of that branch of the symbol as it fuses with other magic symbols as well. Based off of Vanguard and Yugioh ZEXAL (Number Monsters, Mytherian numbers)

Arkeyeon: Magical puffle monsters known for possessing the mysterious keys of magic. These puffle monsters can open gates to new forms of magic granting new potentials of magic to different puffle monsters. These puffle monsters have mysterious crystal diamond overlay units that float around the puffle monster, each crystal unit floating can be unlocked by the unique key of magic each puffle monster has and unleash a new ability or magic power. Each key, and crystal unit is unique resulting in a diverse form of infinite magic. The magic of the key also can lock a certain magic ability as well in battle. Based on Yugioh ZEXAL Chaos Overlay units, and the “Lock” mechanic of Vanguard.

Korintheon: Powerful robotic puffle monsters from one of the most advanced civilizations of magic and technology. These puffle monsters (based off of Power Spheres) were granted mysterious magic of the universe and wield the magic of cosmic harmony, mystical equations, celestial sphere magic, etc unleashing new forms of magic abilities to create new powers. These puffle monsters live in a utopia of magic of the future with ultimate technology, modern technology, but also magic. Based off of the Power Spheres from Boboiboy and the units of Planet Cray from Vanguard .

Obyrion: Based off of InfinityNado (the spirits of that), Sword Art Online, etc. These powerful puffle monsters live in the realm of fantasy on a magic Earth that infinitely overlaps with ours. Certain points of magic connect forming portals which the puffle monsters cross through but create a new form of magic through the fusion as well, creating more diversity in magic. Each overlap of Earth has different forms of magic (an all water Earth, desert, crystalline, technological, steampunk, Elvish, etc) and every cross over (a puffle monster with magic of the all water Earth enters crystallines Earth version, creates a new water/crystal type for both overlapping worlds and creates a new form of Earth based off of that form of magic. Ruled by the mysterious King of Infinity, Obyrion who controls and creates all these forms of magic and preserves them in the magic library of Genesis.

Ashindra: Powerful spirit puffle monsters who wield the power of the mysterious hindu deities (based on Sanjay's Super Team) and wield the magic from BFG (the magical dream things). These puffle monsters are unique in their magic abilities and wield powerful magic spells in order to protect spiritual magic.

SNG/MBC: Known as Splice: New Generation or Maejinn Blade Chronicles, these powerful Maejinns are known to be representatives of magic and battle each other in diverse worlds with their own unique magic, abilities, etc. Based on the game I am thinking of making, which is a more advanced form of Splice except now with cards, special abilities, and more arenas or unique characters, and items.

Gen0me: Genetic puffle monsters based off of Kamen Rider Zero One. In this universe, the puffle monsters known to be the ones who created it were 2 twin puffle monsters created as DNA of each base puffle monster of each form of magic was fused into one but through it created twins and these puffle monster twins have the magic of all, the strength of infinite, and the ability to change identity with ease. These puffle monsters and their descendants became known as Gen 01 (so fire type with this mysterious super DNA is Flame01). Later on, dimensional counterparts or other forms of them came becoming 02, 03, and so on. Live in the universe of each generation for each genome. With each genome switch, they have a unique ability for each genome and can wield different unique symbols for each genome switch they possess, (so one can have 50 different genomes, each with their own form of magic, abilities, symbols, etc, but another one with 50 genomes (if they shared a fire genome, the symbols and magic is different))

Earthree: Mysterious puffle monsters created by the idea of matter. Matter is what makes up everything so in this case, Magic matter made up the puffles, puffle monsters, etc. However, all the universes discovered so far are made of Magic Matter, and there are different forms of matter out there (pyro matter, aqua matter, etc), each creating their own form of magic, universes, worlds, cultures, creatures, etc. All organized by the magic of the Earthree (Earth Tree or Origin Tree where all forms of magic matter, dark matter, electro matter, etc came from). Different rules, abilities, symbols, etc

Gaen: Robert Gaen (my evil twin brother (non existant)) created Gaen Korporation in the future which took over everything (like Google or Amazon). In this world, puffle monsters and humans live together in harmony and both have bonds to each other, but Gaen found a way to fuse the puffle monsters to the humans but have the human in power creating a more slave-like or possession bond. This world, hero battles against Gaen and restores balance of the puffle monsters finding the power of SoulSynchro allowing for a perfect bond between the monster and the human but also creating new forms of magic and abilities from it. Doomsynchro used by the corrupted sync pairs of monster and human (the human in power).

Apex: In an alternate future if I did engineering and all my friends were boys, these puffle monsters are under the EPF (Elite Pufflemonster Force) (an alternate version of the puffle monster company). Basically, these puffle monsters are more advanced in technology and are known to use futuristic tech to establish a utopia of magic. Ruled by the hero Apex (Xenith but under this world), who uses different abilities and magic but also use the magic of the Apex Encyclopaedia of infinite magic through the use of memories (device storing magic energy of the encyclopaedia (Based off of the Trinity memories from SD Gundam Sengoku Soketsuden).

AceNoir: In an alternate future where I was at Shadow Mountain, these hidden vigilante puffle monsters are known for their heroic acts and are known to be aces in their field. Each vigilante is under a certain branch of the Noir Force (the overall company) and use their skills to unleash their magic abilities and gadgets. These puffle monsters possess Noir energy, calling the shadows in order to summon unique weapons, armors, gadgets, etc to enhance their battle abilities. Based off of the Planets system from Gundam Build divers RE:Rise. These puffle monsters unleash different battle systems in order to summon gear.

HiiroFinale: Known as the Maestros of magic, these puffle monsters control the magic of cosmic harmony of magic throughout the universe. In the alternate future if I was at Horizon doing their choir and drama program, these puffle monsters have the battle mechanic of harmonize (mix magic with partner puffle monster), echo (repeat ability), Allegro (speed up (increase damage) at cost of health), Adagio (slow down (increase health or decrease attack points of other at cost of own attack points), etc. Ruled by Hiiro (the hero of this world, and alternate version of Xenith, who wields the magic of Finale (all attacks are as strong as special moves for certain amount of time). Known to be the Grand Maestro of the Universe of magic. These puffle monsters utilize different forms of music, dance, artistic style, play or musical genre, etc

Champ/Kaijutsu: Known as the masters of technique and form, these puffle monsters were once from Pinnacle (alternate future if I went to this high school) but split off after a new puffle monster with the magic of the Secret Scrolls and runes showed up resonating with the magic of technique there and created a separate world. Champ (the hero and alternate of Xenith) is known to wield the pinnacle of all magic techniques, learned the magic of Kaijutsu, the art of spirit summoning through the nature and secret energy of runes and symbols through ritual forms and movement or formations to unleash magic avatars that can charge up certain abilities, magic attacks, etc. Fuse with other avatars (like Cluster idea (metalcluster hopper)) to utilize as defense or attack mechanism or boost.

Eldorastor/Aldoraestor: Puffle monsters from the magic universe. These puffle monsters wield the magic of cosmic energy of the heavens as well as magic of deities. These puffle monsters wield powerful fantasy magic through potions, relics, items, etc as well as unleash magic through the magic symbols that flow from the rings of their unique celestial spheres that circle them but also from within the sphere itself. Based off of Rittik Designs and Eldora from Gundam Build Divers: RErise GAEA (Global Ark Environmental Alliance): Puffle monsters of the green future where nature magic is preserved and the Earth has reached a healthy state again. This eden of the future was created through the efforts of the PVEA (Paradise Valley Environmental Alliance (the club my friends and I are starting)) where in the monster future, is now headquarters of the alliance. The alliance began to spread like wildfire and branches all over the world began, and as people began to heal the Earth, new technologies were created, and new puffle monsters with more nature-like or Earth-healing abilities were born.

Guildglobe of Omnikhial Havenmagic (GOH): Based off of magic dimensional circle shift (from Vanguard Shinemon) magic creating new forms of magic, formations, and even portals and spells, these puffle monsters are from the infinite worlds I was planning to make when I found the RPG map makers online, finally having the opportunity to create new worlds for these puffle monsters. Based off of Rittik designs for weapons, the Walkers (alan walker videos), and all fantasy games, these puffle monsters live in civilizations beyond time, with magic to control reality and create new magic and monsters. These puffle monsters are known to be a myth and are secretive as well as they are part of the Magic Guildglobe (a global clan of magic users with advanced tech, etc). Each puffle monster has their own unique symbols with their own unique weapon, clone, home, magic circle (circle shift), etc

TZxenkai: based off of Tenkai knights and Zenith (short film from Disney Plus Short Circuit). These puffle monsters wield powerful magic energy of the cosmos granted by the mysterious creature of the heavens known as Zenith. These majestic free spirits (which can take any form but Zenith takes the form of a stag) travel the universe creating worlds, stars, and monsters. However, when a being known as Devirion tried to swallow and destroy all the Zenith created, Zenith fought back but lost its life in the process, but with this, it stored its core of magic in its 2 horns intertwined creating a powerful wand of magic that can transform into any weapon of magic harnessing the magic of Zenith himself. The wand was placed at the edge of the Universe and acts as a key to the gateway into the Zenith Plane, an astral plane of magic where Zenith himself and his descendants roam and create more worlds that enter infinite planes of magic. These puffle monsters have unleashed new magic through the power of Zenith and wield new elemental magic and cosmic magic (based off of Tenkai Knights). Each have their own unique weapon, ability, symbol, etc

Omn'mythia: Using caves as a portal, these puffle monsters live in infinite alternate Earths as the ancient civilization and most advanced in magic and tech. These puffle monsters have unique symbols of magic and energy and are able to travel between the alternate Earths through using the cave portals and setting coordinates through special symbols to get to the other worlds. Based on Alan Walker Alone pt 2 and Cardfight Vanguard (with the magic and tech).

Soryu: Puffle monsters of the magical world within water (different worlds within each water molecule or droplet but all fuse in the end) from puddle short from short circuit. These puffle monsters can freely control reality within the world but also control water freely.

XhronEonG: Powerful puffle monsters and the masters of time. These deity puffle monsters wield the magic of EonGears which control the mechanics of magic at a direct level (so one puffle monster can control the gears of magic with unique symbols that control their special abilities that they wield. Based off of Gear Chronicle from Cardfight Vanguard, and Godclock and all Dragods from Buddyfight Ace

Djinhuang: based off of JinHuan short film from Disney’s Short Circuit and Gundam Build Fighters Try, these puffle monsters control the magic of calligraphy and magic symbols as well as the magic of the soul (Djin Core allowing them to unleash their own unique energy burst unleashing special attacks and abilities).

Griffitreon: Graffiti puffle monsters from the art short film from Disney’s Short Circuit. These colorful puffle monsters are very fast but creative creatures, who have free control over magic paint, rock, crystal, metal, etc in order to create anything and show the great personalities of magic. These puffle monsters live in artsy realms of magic with creative civilizations.

AengelEon: Puffle monsters as infinite as the cosmic beings of heaven with unique magic abilities. Different level of puffle monsters and control magic at its most primal state.

NRG (Nexus Rebirth Generation): Based off of Sonic the hedgehog movie (2020) where puffle monsters use energetic abilities of magic as the Nexus crystal was supercharged by the magic of bonds ARK (Altranet Reality Kizuna): Puffle monsters where through alliances, relations, etc created the greatest and largest network of puffle monsters ever (each puffle monster is its own species, each symbol is like an encyclopedia with infinite more symbols and pages for each). Live in an infinite universe for each species.

ZetaK: Special puffle monsters that utilize the magic of ZetaKluster bots (based off of Microbots from Big Hero 6) where each symbol of magic can build unique combinations for weapons and abilities of gears for each puffle monster, use as defense and attack

Uraven/Apical/Omnigodzaeer: These legendary puffle monsters with ultimate deity powers of magic with infinity force magic are known to be the OmniGod puffle monsters and are legendary (like an omni lord from Buddyfight) in which each monster like a hero is a representative of the omnigods (so each omnigod has the magic to create its own universe with unique magic and symbols. Each puffle monster like the ARK and Angeleon has the magic potential to create entire universes of magic with each symbol possessing an infinite encyclopedia of magic symbols about it (with each symbol having its own encyclopedia of unique symbols) with each symbol creating a puffle monster to utilize its magic to the fullest. Each persona and soul makes the symbols unique. So one symbol is given to one puffle monster with a unique soul, personality, etc and the same symbol is given to another puffle monster but different soul and personality, or different personality and soul, etc and the symbols are changed slightly but creates more infinite symbols within the universe it can create with infinite symbols, and so on and so forth. Each universe as its own history as expanded as the puffle monsters have now. Each universe has a certain code in which all puffle monsters from that universe (and timelines and dimensions within it) are marked by numbers, each unique to one symbol (no matter how unique it is) so one fire symbol can be (flame 1 while another is flame 26, etc)

Kronzern: Mysterious time puffle monsters of another dimension in which time is infinite or non-existant. In this realm, the ideas of friendship or bonds have become immortal and that bonds made now evolved in the future in which the Kronzern puffle monsters met with and joined with their society. The ultimate civilization of time magic, the kronzern use mysterious runes and symbols of magic in order to shape reality, magic, time, etc so each puffle monster has a special time ability (Kronzern Blitz, Kronzern Rebellion, Kronzern Inferno, Kronzern Eon, etc)

ZeayArchiEVE: based on crisis of Infinite Earths, code Eve, Kamen Rider Zero One, Cardfight Vanguard Shinemon, Yugioh VRAINS, and SD Gundam Sengoku Soketsuden. These mysterious puffle monsters from a digital haven (from the satellite of Utopia) where infinite worlds data of magic, nature, mechanics, etc are encoded by the program of Code Eve (rebirth of magic) in order to create a utopia of magic with data from all worlds, timelines (since it is like an archive but also an encyclopedia). These puffle monsters can control energy and magic and have unique symbols and abilities.

Ovonume: Based off of Cirque Du Soleil Ovo. These colorful puffle monsters of the world of nature show the cycles of life with more pizzazz. These unique puffle monsters have more defined magic abilities based on qualities of creatures in nature.

Soleilra: Based off of all the fantasy settings of Cirque Du Soleil shows. These magical puffle monsters live in fantastical realms of magic with colorful symbols of magic. They are charged by the light of imagination and creativity but also the flames of passion and courage.

UX (Ultimatterinfinte Xenithon): Based off Buddyfight, Cardfight Vanguard, Inazuma eleven Techniques (souls, hissatsu, etc), crisis of infinite Earths, book of destiny (DC universe). These special puffle monsters have the unique ability to create magic energy (against the laws of energy (as energy can't be created or destroyed) and can even create their own forms of magic energy for specialization). Using the magic of soul energy, spirit energy, dimensional, timeline, etc created new forms of puffle monsters that control Omnimatter (a new form of matter as all forms of magic matter and magic energy fused to create omnimatter) and new forms of omnimatter as well. Puffle monsters of infinite universes (other Earths like Crisis of Infinite Earths from DC) wield special abilities to create universes of their own (each symbol creates its own species, etc) in the form of utopias of magic through unique ideals, personalities, etc. Also each puffle monster species uses a unique method of magic summoning or abilities (pendulum, fusion, xyz, rank up or rank down, etc) which forms their society and culture and magic. Ruled by Transcendant Infinideity of Sabres, Ultimate Redison the Omniverselord (a shining counterpart of Redison THE END (an evil form of Redison in the future who causes the end of puffle monsters (the apocalypse) and sends generals to fight them off, he controls all time and magic (evil magic) and lives in a timeline known to be nonexistent (since he hid it so well)) sends generals with magic such as Redison the DoomBringer (a younger version of THE END from 2080 with cyborg tech, hacking tech, etc based off of the CHAOS (Buddyfight))). This Redison is known as the last hero and the transcendent form of the hero spirit (like the Avatar spirit, the hero spirit grants the magic of the hero band and the magic and wisdom of all heroes past and future) who can control magic, summon puffle monsters from "nonexistent realms of magic or impossible realms, etc (Based on forms of Garga from Buddyfight like Gardragon Schwert III or Gardra dragons)." and create or destroy worlds with ease. Lives hidden within the UX realm but joins the puffle monsters to defeat Redison THE END (his evil counterpart) but then fused with the current puffle monster universe calling all allies of all universes (under his rule) to fuse with the PMU creating a grand new PMU.

Saibre: Powerful puffle monsters that use the magic of the SaiDisk (based off of the Discus but also Sai from Boboiboy Galaxy and his abilities). These puffle monsters perform special maneuvers and abilities to form energy symbols that empower an attack or ability or unleash a special attack.

CoreTekX: Powerful puffle monsters created through the Core Tek system (basically, magic energy from the infinite dimensions, timelines, etc began to fuse and create more magic energy, etc but through it all created a form of energy called a G-Power Core (Genesis Power (the energy of magic to create more magic) Core) which can take the form of a puffle monster, weapon, and be customized depending on who wields the core (creating infinite types of magic, symbols, characters, weapons, etc). Based off of Flippr 2020 suggestions for ideas (Time puffle, abandoned island, Arceus, Mew, etc), Pokemon Sword and Shield (and other pokemon from the other games (mega evolution, Z move,sync pairs, etc), card games (Buddyfight, Vanguard G, Yugioh (unique Pendulum summoning, synchro, ritual, XYZ (called Link up))), and Kamen Rider series (OOO, ZIO, Den-O, Gaim, Drive, Zero One, etc), and even the Battle Spirits series and Gundam Series (Build fighters, fighters try, build divers, divers Rerise, SD Sengoku Soketsuden, and 2010 version). Other inspirations are maps from Inkarnate (fantasy maps and worlds), D&D, Magic circles (Doctor Strange), Soul Knight, Terraria, Minecraft, Mario, sonic, Rititik Designs, etc. Summoned and created through infinite methods of magic (hyperlink, decode, root evolve, elemental fuse (Boboiboy)), Turbo Energy Switch (Max Steel), Monsuno Spin, etc

Harmonyx: Puffle monsters of magic of memories and time. These puffle monsters are born of the friends of made, the memories of adventures I had, and all the relationships I created, created memories and magic symbols in which formed these puffle monsters (examples are music I listened to, music I sang with the PBC, tours I went on, trips and vacations I went on, friends I made, games we played, etc). Memories and magic of other timelines as well came to be and fused with these puffle monsters. They wield powerful time and creation magic but also unleash abilities to rewrite magic and memories (creating new forms of magic through the memories)

Sentenious: Based off of Kamen Rider Zero One Metal Cluster Hopper, these puffle monsters use the magic of Sentinel Cells (magic cells of crystalline energy or metal that act as a defense or attack extension to maximize the capabilities of the puffle monster) and unique magic symbols and energy to wield the cells creating new attacks, weapons, abilities, and transportation.

Astryleon: Appeared during the battle on Leap Day 2020 (war against Redison THE END), astral puffle monsters of imaginary dimensions of magic. Wield the magic Quintetrixes (cubes with magical energy) each symbol forms a quintetrix (another smaller unit of magic that makes up all). Based on Vanguard (G and Shinemon, and normal), Buddyfight (all dragods and omnilords, etc), Black Plasma Studios The Storm Minecraft animation, The Storm (TheFatRat music video with their settings and symbols). These puffle monsters used the magic of the Quintetrix (known to be the epitome of original magic of creation or the most basic unit of magic in existence (that makes the fabric of existence in itself)) to track Redison THE END since the magic of hiding timelines and universes can be reversed through the Quintetrix of that magic (and the antithesis of that quintetrix) as all quintetriix and symbols that create them are found in all universes, timelines, dimensions, etc meaning this astralverse has no time but travels between the realms.

XylEon: Appeared during the battle on Leap Day 2020 (against Redison THE END), these magical puffle monsters control and create the reality of space and magic. Using the magic known as XylEon Crystals as cores of magic, they control magic through reality as they confirm whether something exists or not (magic) and can modify it or delete or create forms of magic and matter at will, which in turn creates a new form of puffle monster (as there is a puffle monster for each symbol (with infinite symbols making up one symbol (with infinite symbols making up one object in existance or form of magic)) which results into a zillion (XylEon) puffle monsters in existance to control and balance the order of space (XylEon) and time (Harmonyx) along with AstrylEon as a singularity point for both.

Druid: Based on Sword Art Online, Iron Druid Chronicles, etc. These ancient puffle monsters use magic energy from within the Earth through mana and inner chakra force (but uses lifeforce energy). These immortal warriors use powerful blades, weapons, and magic spells to defend against evil spirits.

NEXOmon (Nexus Evolution Xtreme Omni monster): with color code (so 3-4 colors or more can result in crazy combo of magic and create new puffle monsters magic style, habitat,etc). Unleash futuristic beyond version of Nexus color magic but also uses NEXO energy creating new magic abilities and strength. Based off of Nexo knights, bionicles, etc

ArkNeo: Redison THE END is not the only puffle monster who is trying to cause the apocalypse, turns out, a new threat arises in order to not destroy puffle monsters but evolve them to the Epitome of technology (in which magic is now caused by invisible nanobots). All nature, magic, etc are now caused by nanobots causing all puffle monsters to wield magic unique or for any purposes (due to how the star tree no longer gives magic or creates puffle monsters anymore). Ruled by Xenith Redison THE NEO-ARK (an alternate version of the hero spirit in the form of a fusion of Redison and Xenith but in the form of a cyborg with robotic armor and a robotic sword), their goal is to evolve magic to the furthest point of magic through the nanotech and add them to their conquest of all universes (alternate universes not under Ultimate Redison) by the will of the Ark Neo Satellite (a universal satellite based off of the Ark Satellite from Kamen Rider Zero One that controls the nanotech and puffle monsters made from it). Based off of Marvel Future Revolution, Kamen Rider Zero One, etc

Zangeki: Ninja master puffle monsters that use powerful ninja arts of magic to battle their way through magical realms of ninja arts (ninjutsu). Live in a magical realm of ninjas where ninja arts is life and used in everything. Unleashes ninja symbols of magic created by the Scrolls of Zangeki. Based off of Zangeki dragon from Vanguard

Xenyth'terra: based off of Artemis fowl and Onward, magical creatures where Earth is now infinite and magic and tech are fused together. This infinite universe of magic has untapped power of magic with new forms of magic abilities, weapons, etc. Puffle monsters here are stronger than most when it comes to magic connections (Based off of Planet Cray from Vanguard). This Earth of magic is gigantic as it contains infinite realms of magic within the planet like moons within the planet’s atmosphere but also infinite realms of magic on the land, sea, etc

Xenyth'tech': Advanced tech warriors of beyond the future using magical tech created from a realm beyond time, using this tech to defend time and magic. Basically, a futuristic techy version of Xenyth’terra.

Bladravar: summoning magic spirits unique from each powerful unique blade from each puffle monster. Each spirit aids their puffle monster in a special way depending on their style of battle. Based off of the spirit from the Goddess Sword (Fi) from Legend of Zelda Skyward Sword. Each puffle monster is part of a certain clan of monsters wielding similar magic blades with spirits, and live in realm charged by that magic.

Xylvain: Based off of Terraria, Flippr 2020 ideas, Puffles, Units from Vanguard G, and Fantasy Maps from Pinterest, these magical puffle monsters use special magic weapons, armor, etc to unleash unique forms of magic and create new realms of magic to live in wielding those magical powers, unique symbols and abilities.

Arantes: Powerful crystal puffle monsters with extremely high intelligence and fast reflexes making them skilled in teamwork and combo abilities but with unique Crystal Combos, unleash dual attacks and abilities unique to each puffle monster pairing but also create new Arantes symbols (dual symbols from the combo)

C.E.A (Core Elite Arsenal): Based off of Cosmo Dragoon and Neodragons (like Jackknife) from Buddyfight, these futuristic puffle monsters wield powerful core technology to win any battle. Live in a futuristic utopia charged by the magical Universal Core Eve.

SolThunder: Based off of the Thunder Sun Brigade (Buddyfight), these legendary puffle monsters unleash the ultimate shining magic of the thunder within unleashing powerful techniques, abilities, and attacks. Known as the rebirth of team magic.

Requiemaestro: Using dark spells of magic, control the fate of puffle monsters through dark symbols, spells, etc. Based off of Black Funeral and Black Dragon attributes of Buddyfight Xygehr (Sieger): Legendary puffle monsters with immeasurable strength of magic (based off of Apical 5th omni dragon lord, Mugen Drum), and other monsters from Beyond the Age pack (including Bal, Batzz, Messiah Arms, etc) as well as monsters from Vanguard G, Vanguard, Battle Spirits, Yugioh, etc. Wield legendary weapons, and special transcendent forms of symbols from beyond time. These new symbols of magic are known to be the Rebirth of Transcendent magic.

Xaeyeon (Pronounced Zayin): Based off of Origin Cloak mirror hero, etc from Buddyfight. Puffle monsters (shining crystal ones) with lines of magic within them that create a symbol in total

HyperIONS (Hyper Infinity Omniversal Nexus Supersystem): Digital utopia of puffle monsters with digital linking abilities and powerful abilities of magic using the special magic energy of the

IONS Gifts granting new symbols of magic and abilities and skills. Live in infinite worlds created by players imaginations, ideas, and use the power of Generation, dimensional, universal, etc striding to summon imaginations and ideas and new puffle monster magic of other timelines, universes, etc. Based off of Vanguard G, Battle Spirits, and Yugioh Arc V and VRAINS

HyperIONS (Hyper International Omninet Sensorate): The future of puffle monsters within in app, controlled in a digital realm by the app, but also uses a robot (basically a cube on wheels with some arms) and some sensors to track and create a digital map within its system that it reacts and absorbs magic energy of both

Melekhxyr: Angel-like puffle monsters of the rebirth of medical science using angel feather formed nanobots with the ability to cure special diseases programmed by nanobots and magic symbols of their realm. Based on the Angel Feather clan and Malkuth-Melekh

Neovalia/Neovalence: Futuristic puffle monsters with the power of the PsychoFrame and Newtype (Mobile Suit Gundam Narrative). These powerful puffle monsters of the future use powerful technology and use the magic of soul energy and willpower to power the frame of the puffle monster (armor). Uses powerful weapons and stuff like the Gundam and are customizable.

Unovalia/Regyzium: Powerful nexus puffle monsters with magic of souls, music, harmonies, skills, symbols, etc. Has a new infinite symbol of magic with the magic of infinity rings and imaginary skill circles on the symbol. These new puffle monsters use powerful magic abilities of the soul and unleash Z move like magic strengths but also wield the magic of the other dimensions of magic and realities. These puffle monsters unleash the Transcendent forms of utopian magic but also unleash the transcendent form of imagination and creation magic as well. In this universe, humans with their unique personality, soul, persona, etc can transform into a puffle monster and create others with more unique magic to them. With this unique form of magic, it created more utopias and universes of magic creating new cultures and realms of magic as well as variations.

Okotuan: Puffle monsters with the magic of the masks of the core and ancient symbols of nature and magic energies. Based on Bionicles. These puffle monsters use powerful magic energy of nature to super charge their abilities but also bond with the creatures of the land, sea, and sky and gain their magic abilities.

Xeræon: Legendary puffle monsters created by the imaginations of magic. Long ago, REDISON, a version of Redison in the future (based off of Tokiwa SOUGO, the alternate adult version of Sougo in Kamen Rider Zi-o), went to the past bringing attention to Redison when I was picking it at getting a puffle, causing Redison to grow to power and gather the magic of all time (like in Kamen Rider zi-o). In the end though, Redison battled it out with REDISON by summoning the magic of all time. Through this, the magic of all eras, time periods, and centuries of magic in all countries, realms, universes, etc were transformed into puffle monster form creating worlds and portals, new forms of magic, and new forms of magic as the magic fused together. Meanwhile, portals of other version of puffles who may have been chosen instead of Redison to be the first puffle monster appeared and as allies, joined Redison in the final fight against REDISON. Using the magic of all eras, eons, centuries, etc and the magic of all imagination as each person's imagination has infinite symbols with each symbol having its own infinite history (with each form of time creating more magic, etc). In the final fight though, as the Hero Spirit within Redison (who had moved to Redison after Xenith since he was kidnapped by Alison's Angels who Lyra is trying to save Xenith from) creating Xenith Redison, unleashed a new evolution as all the universes, timelines, magic symbols and energy of the infinite alternate timelines and possibilities (since each unique being (a plant, rock, human, angel, soul (like in Disney's Soul movie 2020), ghost, etc) has their own imagination magic which has its own unique history, and magic energy) creating the ultimate form of the Hero Spirit called Valkæreon (Valkerion from Cardfight Vanguard Shinemon as all universes and cosmic energy of time is absorbed into the hero spirit giving it form and magic of its own. New magic symbols of time control. Based on Kamen Rider ZI-O Over Quartzer movie.

Firir: Based on the Wild Areas of Pokemon Sword and Shield, these puffle monsters unleash the magic of beasts and are extremely powerful, Using nature through power, they battle opponents in their natural homes. Based on Kamen Rider Rampaging Wolf, these puffle monsters unleash the gathering of magic as they unleash the wild form of magic they possess

PlanetW: Puffle monsters from a planet like Earth with special tech and imagination magic allowing them to be who ever they want to be, transforming their form of the Earth creating infinite versions of the Earth and infinite magics and versions of other puffle monsters. Based off of the VR idea I thought of for kids who are not able to explore the Planet.

G.O.D.X (Grand OmniDeity Xenith): Based on the Saga Brave from Battle spirits, God-Kings, and all other families from Battle spirits. These transcendent puffle monsters wield the pinnacle form of a symbol of magic whether it be from the essence of a plant, or a planet. These puffle monsters create the fabric of magic, existence, and reality creating space and time through magic in their ideals. Also based off of Omnilords from Buddyfight, and other legendaries from Vanguard.

Gohdwalker: Puffle monster spirits who are known to be the ancestors of all magic. All magic symbols, essence, personas, etc have an inner spirit of magic, known to be a catalyst of magic force creating the magic the energy produces. These mysterious creatures or Walkers of the Universe of magic act as catalysts for magic but also unleashes special boosts or abilities in battle (Based off of Grandwalkers and Zodiacwalkers from Battle Spirits).

Nexoverse (Nexus Omniverse): Based on the Birthgem Deities, the Otherworld, and other stuff from Battle Spirits. These puffle monsters use the magic of the core gems (or core light) which had split into infinite forms of the crystals combining with the magic energies of monsters creating new core gems of magic (which split further). These crystals are what power the puffle monster but also grant special abilities and boosts in need also creating an infinite number of worlds, habitats, magic abilities, weapons, spells, etc

XoulBraves (Xenith Soul Braves): Based off of Braving in Battle Spirits. These legendary warrior puffle monsters wield the ability to soul brave with magical items with their own legendary magic ability, spirit, etc and can even transform into a puffle monster itself. These warriors can also transform into weapons and “soul braving” with another warrior can grant a unique ability to whomever is braving. These create new forms of bonds of magic and abilities creating new puffle monster symbols to be formed into warriors and weapons.

Aramandi: Mysterious puffle monsters of another dimension with the mysterious control magic of order and magic law. These puffle monsters create portals, worlds, etc and are known to be the most powerful and mysterious of all puffle monsters as they were known to have created even the first warrior or creature to ever use magic and even created the creators and origin place of magic. Also known to have created the elements of magic, attributes, laws, spells, etc but created the spirits of magic (such as the hero spirit) but also created infinite other forms of spirits including other forms of the hero spirit which dispersed outward into the infinite Omniverse of magic. Using the magic of control and creation, they created these spirits and have governed all magic through them, but eventually united the spirits of magic under Xenith. Based on Saga Brave, Creation Deities, Ultimates and others from Battle Spirits as well as Ten Crowns, God-Kings, Demon-king, etc.

New Hero: Phenex: 39th Hero, born of all the spirits of heroes, the magic and powers of Valkeryon (the hero spirit evolved form) and using the magic body of the Redison Puffle but also all spirits. At the end, this created a new form of the hero spirit called the hero Xoul which is a combo of the red hero star (the magic of the Hero spirit) but also all other spirits as referred to in Aramandi, allowing him to request the guidance of all magic spirits, puffle monsters, and predecessors before him. For the next 20 missions, Xenith is within Phenex (Xenith Phenex now) in order to complete the 100 missions as said in the book of magic (it was a promise, no turning back now). Phenex form based off of the Golden Phenex from Gundam Battle Narrative, but also from past hero forms and Valkerion from Vanguard Shinemon and Grand Sagitonova from Battle spirits saga brave.

Rigelian: Based on the Skechers comics and other alien worlds and magic from Vanguard, minecraft, etc and Thefatrat Storm music video. Mysterious puffle monsters of alien realms and planets with new sources of magic symbols used in their technology. Based off the idea of puffles from other planets and stuff from Club Penguin, these puffle monsters have advanced technology and abilities that control magic and reality. Come from planets such as Rigel-4, Rigel-23, as well as other star systems but also from other timelines such as magic through the futuring (kamen rider woz). Using the powers of alien magic, they use the powers of the Rigelian Prisms to create the magic energy guardians through the magic symbols (Based on Ultra Necrozma).

Arkanos: Based on Kamen Rider Wizard and all magic as well as Shobe's designs on puffles with magical symbols and magic surrounding it. These magical puffle monsters were created through the idea of me becoming a kamen rider with the powers of a wizard using magic rings, spells, weapons, etc to battle evil like Kamen rider Wizard. These puffle monsters imbued with my magic strength and abilities use the magic energy of Arkanos to battle but also create realms of magic. They come from an infinite universe of magic created through the Magedriver (or Wizardriver) which also contain puffle monsters with beast magic (Kamen rider OOO), time magic (ZIO), ninja magic (Shinobi), etc) InteleonG (Intelligence of the Eon's Genius): Based on Kamen Rider Build and future technology. These puffle monsters come from the reality of me becoming Kamen rider Build (or Revol (a good version of Kamen rider Evol from the same series) using the powers of the full and halfbottles and using the energy from the Pandoras box (but also finding other relics of power that can create bottles of magic and new monsters as helpers). These puffle monsters then used their magic to create an advanced society of technology, magic, and science creating a new utopia of peace and properity. They also came to work together with another group of puffle monsters created from the world where I became Kamen rider Medic to help cure people of the Coronavirus in the beginning of 2020 (March was when it was really bad). Using technology to heal others, these puffle monsters were aids to helping me with the equipment I needed for the job. These puffle monsters then worked with the others to create an advanced medical system in that realm. These puffle monsters also worked together with puffle monsters from other timelines, realms of advanced magic and technology, and time periods to better create and improve on their society.

G.A.O (Grandgenesis Amnesty Omnimage): Based off of Messiah Amnesty from Vanguard G. These puffle monsters wield the legendary magic of the GAO and can create universes of magic with the symbols they possess but also heal or destroy entire forms of magic and worlds. Have the sword like things like Messiah Amnesty and Planets of their magic surrounding them.

Zi-one: Powerful puffle monsters that control the laws of time magic with each symbol they control creating its own set of infinite timelines of magic. On their back, they have a magic circle with magic symbols surrounding the circle (each with their own infinite timelines). Have the power to create and destroy timelines of magic and time periods. Use Kanji symbols of magic as their identity like Kamen Rider Zi-o.

Blockai: Puffle monsters that use lego blocks or tenkai blocks to create magic abilities. Magical imagination spirits take the form of any beast of magic through the blocks living in their own universe of magic made of blocks

Cybera: Based on REBOOT (Netflix), Yugioh VRAINS, etc. In an age of digital supremacy, the puffle monsters world is now in a digital universe and can be accessed through holograms, programs, robots, etc but all have special abilities through the imagination spirits form. Based off of my creating games and apps as well as Buildbox. With Virtual Redison and all the other puffles capable to take form (hologram) in real world, they can Digifuse with Puffle monsters to unleash new forms of magic and puffle monsters.

Azerea: Based on Dragon Prince, Gormiti, etc. Using special magic spells and symbols, these wizards, witches, sorcerers, magic beasts, etc use to summon the imagination spirits in the form of magic beasts.

Mechardroid: Based on Mecard. Imagination spirits take the form of toy minicars that can transform into a beast or monster. Each have their own special abilities. Use cards for battle. These live in a universe of mecards as well.

Nitroid: Imagination spirits take the form of beasts (puffle monsters) in special cars that battle and race each other but can also transform into a robo form to fight others. Each puffle monster and each car combination grants a unique ability. Based on Monkart

Craftynyr: Magical beasts created by craft materials such as beads, crystals, yarn, paper, glitter, metal, etc which the imagination spirits use to create their own form of magic and their own universe made of the craft materials

Buddyroid: Based on Power Rangers Beast Morphers Buddyroids and the beast-X Morphers, these imagination spirits took the form of robots and with their human companions and a new data magic method (based on Morph-X from Power Rangers Beast Morphers), they can grant unique armor data of magic and animal/beast abilities (just like from Rampage Vulcan from Kamen rider Zero One).

Myragem: Based on Miraculous, the imagination spirits take the form of the kwamis from Miraculous. These puffle monsters/imagination spirits transform into the Kwami like spirits and are able to transform their warrior partner through special crystal jewelry or charms with special abilities, weapons, etc but the Kwami imagination spirits turn into a special armor ability transformation. These warrior partners use the abilities in battle but eventually, the kwamis gained the ability to transform into the warriors themselves but also beasts of magic with those abilities.

Faereon: Based on Fairies, and butterfly collecting game my Dad made where you scan a butterfly (like in Pokemon Go) and get something special. In this case, the imagination spirits transform into butterflies (or fairies with magical powers, weapons, and abilities). These magical imaginary spirits use nature abilities of fairy powers and weapons living in a natural realm of magic with special nature with the powers of the fairies.

Damashiin: Based on Bring it on Ghost and Kamen rider Ghost and Yokai. The imagination spirits transform into magical ghosts or yokai as well as Damashii from Kamen rider Ghost. Warrior puffle monsters use the abilities of the ghosts or the yokai spirits in order to unleash special abilities of magic using the powers of the ghost as armors, or special abilities as the warriors link up through spirit.

Gomajyn: Based on Gogos Crazy bones, Neopets, etc. In this universe, the imagination spirits took the form of mysterious alien creatures like the Gogos but wield the magic abilities puffle monsters has but also evolved creating their own form of magic throughout the years with a unique ability for each symbol they wield.

Mugenus: All inanimate objects contain a special magic force that the imagination spirits wield to transform into magical beasts wielding the unique properties of the object. These forms of magic weapons give the ability to wield that special magic force that is normally untapped but is now used granting more unique forms of magic in the universe.

Monado: Based on the Xenoblade Chronicles, these legendary puffle monsters wield legendary weapons with magical spirits (swords or other weapons like Monado) and use special symbols and magic arts to unleash unique abilities of magic and power. Live in the distant future on Space Colonies about 300 years in the future when the Earth has gotten beyond poluted and the warriors wielding the weapons battle aliens and defend Puffle monster kind and humankind alike through the use of magic of Earth and other planets and worlds inhabited.

ArkeuXenith: Based off of Mega Arceus, Ring of Arceus, and all imagination spirits as well as Stride from Vanguard G. These legendary puffle monsters wield the magic ArkeuXenith ring behind them which grants them the strength of deities and stride force (based off of Vanguard G). They have ultimate level attacks and are known to protect and create many realms of magic for more guardians to be nurtured and trained. They are known as teachers of magic as well as protectors of all imagination spirits creating new evolutions and inspiring all.

Vitaidron: evolved from viron puffle monsters (normal puffle monsters but evolved by the evil Lord Viron (during the Coronavirus battle at the end of March 2020), they use special magic abilities to heal all as well as special technology to heal and even summon other warriors as aid. Work in the medical facilities of the puffle monster world (or PMU). Based on the Angel Feather Clan from Vanguard and Malkuth-Melekh from Vanguard Shinemon.

Majinx: Puffle monsters that wield Trap, trick, and illusion magic. Their strongest form is not Arceus or Xenith but Joker magic (the master of traps, tricks, and illusions). This special variation of puffle monsters and magic came on the last day of March 2020 and April Fools 2020 through the box dimension (based off of Club Penguin and the Box Dimension April Fools event). Example of Majinx variety is a Fire puffle monster is now a Smokes and Mirrors puffle monster.

Xenithtreme (Xtreme): Using the most extreme form of magic and the XtemeGold Eagle (from Kamen Rider W), These puffle monsters use the powers of limit breaking to unleash new extremely powerful forms of magic temporarily since it uses magic from their life force or their surroundings but it allows them to use special forms of magic and spells as well as unique Xtreme symbols.

Epochalia: Puffle monsters of time based off of Gear Chronicles, Stride, Stride fusion, Stride evolution, etc as well as Arceus Ring (Mega Arceus Ring and Necrozma form). Uses magic of the history of magic symbols (each symbol has a history but each history creates infinite timelines) Based on Vanguard G

Xkywing: Winged puffle monsters of the future from 4-1-20 dream. These puffle monsters come from the future where the ground is intoxicated with all the pollution and war, so the puffle monsters created floating cities and eventually created portals and new Gaiacomplexes which are floating globes and with portal access and magic has a massive world inside the complex for the puffle monsters to live and explore. These puffle monsters are all born with wings to fly from place to place and each pattern of wings (made of a special crystal) in color or of design is unique to each puffle monster granting unique magic)

Axtralyte: Puffle monsters of magic from the stars as they fell from the cosmic dimension. Use the astral force of magic (symbol based off of the Astral Force logo for the Shinemon Cardfight Vanguard) and use magic of Valkerion and other legendary deities of the stars, planets, and the heavens. Using magic from there, they can enter the astral dimension as well and use unique abilities from there.

Phaedron/Pfaedron: Puffle monsters in the future but with plasma frost covering them due to people thinking they are dangerous with all the battles and cities being destroyed. New magic powers but with the evolution of magic through the bond of magic, a new power is born not just from the plasma frost freezing but by the bond of magic creates a new power and unique force of magic. These puffle monsters were once used for battling (with magic similar but more futuristic) then frozen (new magic as they awakened from the Frost) and then bonded breaking through the frost (creating more new magic).

Excelicyor: Puffle monsters with the powers of Excelics Messiah. With the power of the special energy globes on their side, they can armor up with those special forms granting infinite powers all unique to that puffle monster. Use the power globes to create more forms of magic and special abilities but can also use the globes to summon spirits or forms of magic with special abilities and attacks.

MajestEpoch: From 4-4-20 night dream. These puffle monsters from alternate time dimensions with the time dimensions colliding but with new magic of time, new puffle monsters with special magic unique to their time in their dimension unleash new magic NEXTAGE: Legendary puffle monsters of another dimension beyond time and space. Using the energy of the magic circle they each possess (a unique version of it), they create symbols of magic, timelines, strides, futures, pasts, etc but also create puffle monsters, relics, and even forms of nature. With these powers, they have created many universes of puffle monsters and imagination spirits (with the PMU being just one of infinite they have and unified by portals with the NEXTAGE dimension as the linking point), but with the imagination of the NEXTAGE puffle monsters and ideals of magic and the magic of the Magic Circle, they have created infinite NEXTAGE Versions of each of the infinite universes as well as new Nextage puffle monsters with the abilities similar to the Stride ability from Vanguard G. Eventually, all these universes fused and combined with the PMU system after uniting them with the NEXTAGE system as well.

Sanctuary Grand Regalia (Perfect Future): Based off of 4-10-20 night dream imagining a futuristic necropolis or an empty city like museum with strange buildings with strange alien symbols of magic. These puffle monsters (look like Kwamis) actually transform into stronger legendary beasts of magic and warriors that defend the magic of the Utopic Future of magic. These puffle monsters live in an expanded realm of magic (like the city described above) but in a peaceful setting. Use futuristic tech and techniques of magic.

F.A.I.T.E.S (Future Arms Infinity Tactical Elite Striker): Based on Kamen rider Vulcan and the shotrise, these puffle monsters of the future are actually in the form of bullets with special data in it from the Progrise Keys (Based off of Kamen Rider Zero One) where they became transformed into data for the keys. Using the Imagination gates (Imaginary Gift symbol from the Vanguard V series), they transform into a puffle form and attack the opponents and then launch projections of magic plus them and crash into the main warrior where the magic transforms into special armor. They can be also be used and unleashed in other weapons. These puffle monsters live in the realm of data but once in the future, they are out and about taking the form of holograms and live with their users in this future.

Wish Factory: Based off of another 4-10-20 night dream (or 4-11-20 in the middle of the night), I was on a heist inside Santa's Factory, and as I have no confidence or no christmas spirit in the dream, we entered it (looked like a mall). Anyway, when we entered, we got down the elevator after tazing the people inside, and then Hyperion's Atlas: In a dream I had 4-10-20 night, there was a mysterious teleporter (basically a machine like the Chronosphere from Alice through the looking glass) that I entered into and was able to teleport myself anywhere but also use mysterious symbols of magic to input into the machine in order to enter different places as well (basically each place has a special symbol of magic that represents that area, so with the symbol inputted into the Chronosphere like machine, people can teleport anywhere to any world, universe, etc). In the same dream, there was an ability to view things of the past, present, and future as well as of other realities, timelines, and universes (like Kamen rider such as Kamen rider Rogue but a strange evolution of him in my dream). Dragonvale also has special maps and special dragons as well from the dreams.

I.G.N (Imajinn Genesis/Generation Noble): Puffle monsters of legends from legendary time periods all with special abilities know as an Absolute ability with the power to control nature/magic in a way like an absolute ruler with the ability to maximize the potential of magic. These single legendary heroes from infinite realms of magic join together to create more of their kind

Glyphinx: Special puffle monsters using ancient glyphs of evolution and magic to create all magic. Based on Dragonvale Spring Shellabration (Glyph dragon)

Mythrym: In another dimension, Phenex is the hero but in this dimension, all the other heroes have passed away and taken spirit form that visit and aid the hero in battle, which the hero summons through powers similar to Kamen Rider Grand Zi-O as they summon a form of the past hero to aid in battle. These heroes live in the hall of heroes (a special museum with a clock on the bottom that creates special glyph symbols and can summon magic from the other timelines of this dimension. With the new powers of the puffle monsters and even unleashing the powers of the decks themselves (as all decks have special magic tech that creates an ideal universe of magic (or habitat) as a home for all puffle monsters, there is ideal magic that represents the magic of the user, these puffle monsters are created by the new unique magic energy and symbols within decks due to the similar symbols and glyphs of magic within. Meanwhile, the other decks of all players have portals that link all decks and their special magic to the main realm of the mythrym. These puffle monsters all use special magic abilities and even a magic language to control the spells and magic they wield. These puffle monsters have different traditions and forms of magic but with the fusion of the worlds, both new forms of magic and spells as well as new magic is created.

Nanomage: Based off of Kamen Rider Zero One Metal Cluster, these nano sized puffle monsters based off of Microbots from Big Hero 6, have the ability to share their extremely high power levels of magic to the user that wields and clumps them together to form armor, weapons, etc. With each nanomage containing an infinite amount of energy for magic, and with almost 10 trillion or even more nanomages for an armor ability, these puffle monsters that wield them can unleash powerful spells without running out of magic for it. Each mage wielding the nanomages specialize in special abilities, weapons, spells, etc Cyberpoch: From a time dimension from my clock (the electronic one) on my drawer, and with the setting up area opened up and had a portal that they entered out of. The dimension they came from is known to be a digital realm (so virtual worlds like Minecraft, Roblox, etc) and that these worlds have timelines and infinite alternate timelines with the infinite worlds and infinite forms of magic to create new forms of magic. Also based on Gear Chronicle from Vanguard G, these puffle monsters have the powers of time control (based on Chronobeat, or ChronoCharge, Chronojet, etc) so each puffle monster in the digital era with their unique symbol as each symbol has its own timelines of magic (infinite different versions) creating new forms of magic within those alternate timelines, and new puffle monsters with time powers and digital magic abilities. Summon allies from other time periods digitally through the time gate like Kamen Rider Grand Zi-o.

Trazension/TrazeInfinity: Based on Luck and Logic, Trance, Planet Cray and Zodiac TIme Beasts (from Vanguard), these powerful puffle monsters come from different dimensions of magic like TetraHeaven or Disfia, Monolium, Septpia, Tritomy, a dinosaur world, etc. These Puffle monsters wield powerful infinite magic based off of their symbols (since their symbol has infinite alternate forms). These puffle monsters each have unique special abilities depending on their clan, elemental magic ability, homeland, etc. These puffle monsters also have the special ability to link their powers through an ability called Union, Trinity, etc (which fuses the symbols together and creates new symbols of magic, new spells, new abilities, and even new puffle monsters. Each Trance ability creates a union with a puffle monster as logic and magic soul abilities is shared among the partners in trance (basically a Puffle monster from another dimension or timeline, etc can trance with a puffle monster here and then their symbols fuse through unity and create a special ability or share abilities, and knowledge itself among the 2 since the souls are shared). Worlds also have special forms of magic (like world or realm symbols) and fuse with the other realms of magic through union creating new symbols of magic or even the worlds trancing, creating new puffle monsters of magic.

PFAERAia: Perfect Future ArkeuXenith Era. These powerful puffle monsters are based off of Suikoden Runes, and other runes and magic stuff from DeviantArt, and some other cool functions from Cardfight Vanguard, Vanguard G, Buddyfight, Yugioh, and even Pokemon, Magic the Gathering, etc. These puffle monsters are known to embody the nature of magic symbols and glyphs, eternal but always creating a new generation of magic symbols as their children (similar to Suikoden runes) and also Ryusouls from Ryusoulger. Using the powers of Pfaeraia gates (based off of Infinity gates and Stride Gate from Vanguard G), they summon the infinite dimensions of magic, timelines and futures of the symbols, and their children, fusions of symbols, those symbols fusing and having children of their own or even ancestors of other timelines and dimensions that technically shouldnt even exist. These puffle monsters have unique abilities and can all use a stride like ability, with Z-move like powers. Meanwhile, there are symbols being artificially created as well but being purified in the Tribunal of purification by Pfaeraia, creating new timelines, realities, dimensions, futures, etc. Each symbol takes the form of an imagination spirit (puffle monster) and each symbol lives in their home dimension with the infinite elemental counterparts of that dimension (like fire with water in same dimension but different fire and water in another). Symbols of imagination are also created as well as symbols of feelings, thoughts, memories, hopes, dreams, etc created by people all over the world creating more symbols of magic, etc. These symbols also have special crests and designs around the symbols granting a special boost whether it be the fire element with a magical circle around the symbol or a futuristic design like weapons and stuff around the magic symbol creating the new form of magic.

Ezora: A fantasy dimension where puffle monsters were created by nature as the True puffle monsters, but in the future, a company called Genesis created Energy Puffle monsters, artificial ones with mysterious new abilities. As nature and technology battle out, new forms of magic is created creating new hybrids and new forms of magic. Based off of Kamen Rider Gaim and the Lockseeds (energy lock seeds and normal lockseeds). Each puffle monster has a unique design, special weapons, and a special symbol with special abilities only they can perform, but can also gain other forms of magic and new arms (weapons/items/abilities) creating new forms of magic.

EIzareal: With this new form of magic, the ultimate form of magic is created as the EZcape Infinity Arkeuxenith of Reality. These new super puffle monsters are created in the form of magic creating the perfect future of magic a utopia for humankind and puffle monster kind as well. Given unique powers, special gifts, weapons, abilities, and special clans. Each have special symbols very similar to PFAERAia, but also have special worlds that their magic symbol creates. However, the most unique ability they have is the ability of skins, based off of Fortnite, and other games, puffle monsters can wield the magic skins that the magic symbol creates for others to wield (infinite versions of it), and with each puffle monster wielding the skin gets a special unique skill, a special weapon, and a special ability and even a new symbol which creates a new world, group of puffle monsters, and even a new special skin with special abilities. Based on Kamen rider Zi-o, Kamen riders (other ones), other forms of imagination spirits like Magic the Gathering, Vanguard, and Vanguard G, and even pokemon, and beyblade, Blizzard Entertainment (starframe, World of Warcraft), and epic games (Spellbreak), Suikoden, Spellfall, Dragonvale and Dragonvale World, and all games with magic, weapons, beasts, etc. These puffle monsters have a special language with runes, glyphs, sigils, etc as these ancient codes create new puffle monsters and live in ancient realms of magic. Besides the skills, these puffle monsters also wield unique abilities of Trancing (sharing soul with other puffle monsters, especially with the skins ability since the skin being worn by other puffle monsters share the symbol and soul of the original owner of the skin and symbol), gearing up with special armor, boots, greaves, hats, glasses, etc (which also have special magic symbols since they are also skins of magic with their special symbols of magic, but combining the different pieces of gear creates a new combination of symbols and new magic abilities, skills, weapons, etc and even new forms of symbols and new puffle monsters, skins, etc that comes with that), they also have EIzorea synchronize, harmonix, evolution, mega evolution, Z evolution, stride, etc. Meanwhile this paradise of magic with the infinite possibilities and the power of time control, magic creation, etc, has its own future, past, and even alternate timelines of its own, creating more infinite versions of it hence the I in the E(I)Zorea (thats not an L, it an uppercase i). These infinite versions have formed portals, links and even new hybrids of the symbols, gear, abilities, etc. Everything is imaginable by all creatures, inanimate objects, forms of magic, cells, virus, etc which creates the magic energy and symbols creating magic, reality, puffle monsters to represent the forms of magic and symbols, and even create worlds and planets, galaxies, universes (which all have a unique symbol to represent them), clans, families, genus, species (all have a unique symbol to represent).

Luardeon: Based off of Dragdriver Luard and the shadow paladins with ritual ability (Vanguard G), these legendary mages of magic all have the names ending in Eon and Ison (distant cousins of Redison, etc). Using special abilities such as ritual to gain special boosts in power but also gain other skills unique to them, they have powerful magic abilities to summon powerful imagination spirits allied to them but also created by their SoulFyre. Each mage is unique in their style of magic, symbols, runes, weapons, gear, etc granting them unique spirits and personas as well as nuique Soulfyres to unleash beasts (they can wield other forms too)

ChronoXoul: Legendary puffle monsters of a mysterious realm created by the power of destiny and infinite possibilities. Based off of the World Expo of 2020 in Dubai but also Gear Chronicle and other clans in Vanguard G, and other games. These puffle monsters control the magic of time through their ChronoXoul crystal (based off of the Crystals from Demiurge in Vanguard G), which can create a new possibility and a new reality, therefore alternate magic, etc. They likewise can summon allies from alternate timelines and spacetimes, and even create spacetimes of their own with their powers. Time is irrelevant in their realms of magic and they live in a realm similar to ours except with the advanced technology and magic of time and spacetime control. Use the powers of Stride, stride fusion, stride evolution (Stride from Vanguard G), and even unique stride abilities. These puffle monsters are also known for their special ability to Time leap (evolve into one of their stride forms) but time leap is based off of Vanguard G Gear Chronicle.

TranceXoul: Legendary puffle monsters that use the powers of alternate dimensions, timespaces, universes, etc and summons their allies that go beyond spacetime to aid a puffle monster in need. They are ultimate level power warriors with runes of magic in the form of an orb but the orb containing the infinite subsymbols within it empowering that orb (each orb is unique) like the puffle monster. This is the ultimate form of a spirit puffle monster as your personal spirit reaches it's transcendent form as it now can transform into infinite different symbols/forms of puffle monsters with their unique abilities, weapons, skills, etc as well as the ability to Trance, sync, etc. Each have special elemental magic abilities (special nature powers, beast powers, tech powers, spirit powers, etc) derived from their symbol but also the persona of their person (in spirit). These puffle monsters also live in alternate realms, universes, dimensions, and other worlds like in Luck and Logic (Monolium, Disfia, etc). By fusing with their spirit partners or even fusing with other puffle monster souls either through skins or Tranceunion, it creates a new soul magic, a new symbol, a new imaginary spirit, and even a new set of skins/gear.

PMUX (Puffle Monsters Ultra-universal Xenotopia/Xenithopia): Powerful puffle monsters created by the mysterious laws of magic creating a new evolution of puffle monsters which created a great universe based off of the World Expo 2020 in Dubai, which in this case, the PMUX is the dimensional expo of magic for all puffle monsters celebrating diversity, unique magic symbols, abilities, weapons, etc. These new puffle monsters have a special diversity compared to new puffle monsters and a new more specific new ability, weapon, etc since these puffle monsters are now more distinct (puffle monster spirits, puffle monster beasts, puffle monster elves, puffle monster rangers, puffle monster merines (mermaid marines), puffle monster warriors, etc). Each puffle monster species now lives in their own universe with their own dimensions, spacetimes, timelines, universes, alternates, etc with new unique magic, ecosystems, skills, stats, weapons, rune language, symbols, etc. Based on Vanguard G, Vanguard, and all video games, card games, etc. Also based on ideas from Luck and Logic with the magic of Logic creating these portals. These puffle monsters can also fuse, sync, evolve, stride, etc which creates a new ability/skill/form/symbol/etc as well as their unique abilities and skills (the fuse ability is based off of Lego Mixels) (all other abilities form Xyz summoning, pendulum summoning, synchro summoning (all from Yugioh)).

SuperXol: Based on Beyblade Burst Sparking with super Hyperion and King Helios avatar designs, these new legendary puffle monsters come from the infinite suns and stars out there with supercharged forms of magic symbols and energy flowing through them. Design based on avatars above, but powers are unique in their own forms of magic.

S.I.G.M.A (Selestial Imagination Galactic Multiversal Alliance/Association): Based on Star Wars and the powers of the force as well as Star Gate, and even Vanguard. In the future where my pencil created puffle monsters and monster magic throughout the universe if I died, and these puffle monsters developed new forms of magic through the alien energy of each planet they live in throughout the universe, they can take the form of anything, and then created special portals called H.S.P (HyperSpace Portal). Using their symbol as the core, they fire into the portal, it activates the portal and they can travel anywhere in the universe to a symbol counterpart. Earth in the future creates a government and as the puffle monsters developed on Earth, they created the SIGMA as an intergalactic government system, creating the ultimate empire of peace. These puffle monsters use special force magic and even gets it enhanced by the jedi crystals and powers of force magic.

Eirgoxenith/Eirgoneon: With the idea of Stride, the puffle monsters of infinite timelines and realms created the system to travel to alternate worlds and dimensions. In this realm, Chloe Rozalsky gets my pencil when I pass away in this timeline and with that, she learns of the puffle monsters and their magic abilities but also how magic grants them life. She also discovers that with my many pencils lost or broken, had worlds and magic of their own (since one pencil creates an infinite amount of unique worlds, magic,etc) so through the powers of striding, she meets new puffle monsters all with unique symbols but also unique and infinite futures, leading for new pencils to be discovered.

Maetherion/Kazan: Based off of the Infinite Earths and SuperCPPS, the puffle monsters of this realm are created when I pass away in this timeline giving the pencil to my friend group (Alison, Oceana, and Taylor) who each wield their own magic pencil with their own forms of magic creating infinite Earths, and what they discover is how the Earth itself has infinite forms of magic in each object may they be people, souls, plants, the waters, rocks, etc and with this creates puffle monsters that they now see. They create worlds of their own but discover how the puffle monsters have infinite Earths connected to them when the pencils of the 3 girls unite, creating a new Earth with special magic, etc. Each imagination of an object creates infinite Earths with unique forms of magic in each. These puffle monsters are made of Magic aetherium made of the imaginations of everything and everyone creating a utopia of all ideals.

New Hero: Xandar King (Xach or King): As the reincarnation of the hero Xoul and the deity of the Xouls (special spirits of magic), imagination spirits, and all forms of puffle monsters and magic. 40th hero. He was sent down by the stars, and created with the magic of all the past heroes but also all puffle monsters themselves lending their magic to his egg. Wielding the legendary Xabre of Heroes passed down from all heroes of all universes, dimensions, timelines, etc, he controls all magic and can change form into anything, wield all powers, with his title as the Legacy or Overlord of Xabrez.

Ixalya: Based on Ixtal and Ionia. These puffle monsters live in a realm of arcane magic in which runes, sigils, etc creates new forms of magic especially through Axiomata system creating the control of nature. They control their magic energy as they turn magic energy into fabrics or armors that they wear (skins, weapons, etc). These forms of magic are ancient and powerful. These puffle monsters live in a realm of magic in which nature, magic energy, technology, and puffle monsters live in harmony with each other creating a utopia.

Shurmacia: Deities of the light (based on Shurima, Demacia, and Targon). These puffle monsters control the magic of celestial light may it be of the heavens or even the sun, stars, and the moon. These puffle monsters wield special weapons empowering them with the light of magic. Known for their utopian society and are extemely powerful through ancient symbols that evolve with the light of the sun/heavens

Zaungear: Based on Plitover and Zaun. These puffle monsters use the powers of technology may it be cyber, digital, steampunk, Chronotech (Based off of Gear Chronicle from Vanguard G), futuristic, chemtech, hextech, startech (based off of Star Dragon World from Buddyfight or Link Joker from Vanguard), Chaostech (From Buddyfight The Chaos, like Geargod, etc), and other special tech like gaming tech (Kamen rider Ex-aid), space tech (Kamen rider Fourze), Drive tech (Kamen rider Drive), Fruit tech (Kamen rider Gaim), AI tech (Kamen rider zero one), and Buildtech (Kamen rider Build series), etc. These puffle monsters live in a utopia of magic created by the magic of these forms of technology in harmony with the magic energy of puffle monsters. They use the magic of symbols to charge the technology and evolve it.

Noxympiria: Based on Noxus and Freljord as well as the kingdoms from Pokemon Conquest, these puffle monsters are extremely powerful when it comes to military formations and strength as well as unique cultures, flags, and a unity and loyalty among each other as brothers in arms. These puffle monsters have special symbols granting unique abilities depending on their clan and ability. They are part of the great empire of the Noxympiria and they are loyal to each other.

Orastral: Based on Star Guardians skins and Ora from Odyssey skins, these puffle mosnsters come from the magic of the stars as the cosmic energy mixed with puffle monster magic creating new powers. These puffle monsters use cosmic magic and the powers of the nexus star, but also use the powers of the Ora (a cosmic golden power from Odyssey in League of Legends)

Ixzyr: Based off of my idea of the Battle Tower (infinite tower with magic puffle monsters within it) and combined with skins, and ideas from Teamfight Tactics (little legends), and Bandle City. From the battle tower, these puffle monsters entered the universe of magic creating a new realm of magic as they are (replica) or special designer puffle monsters with special abilities, magic, skins, souls, spirits, symbols and realms they live in. THey use symbols that allow them to manipulate the magic space and time creating portals to infinite versions of spirit realms and personal ideal realms that each Ixzyr puffle monster believes in. They also have allies they can legion with (very similar to the Little Legends), these puffle monsters can also be crafted and created by combining magic symbols, objects, etc.

Magaea: Based on the ideas of the Deep Time idea, the cosmic reboot, and the multiverse and cosmic web of galaxies (Laniakea) (and spider verse from Spiderman: Into the Spiderverse). The Beyond Order of Puffle monsters live here. These puffle monsters all come from the multiverse and dimensions, timelines, alternate universes (timelines of universes and timelines of each puffle monster, soul, planet, star, etc). This is also the setting of my stories such as Tales of the Wind. These puffle monsters wield rune circles and legendary spells, all unique and ultimate in power. Based off of Beyond Order Dragon (Vanguard) and led by him as their leader who grants the power to the puffle monsters. These puffle monsters create the waters of magic, the Star Tree, grow Star Forests (where puffle monster souls are born), create items, etc, but also create the laws of magic and societies of magic unique to them creating an ideal future and placing it there along with infinite other futures and timelines created by the imaginations of all puffle monsters there.

MetaPulsar: Powerful puffle monsters of cosmic time with the powers to edit time, dimensions, etc with powerful energies, as their symbols are surrounded by Pulsar energy. These puffle monsters are under the Beyond Order Clan and are made up of the Warriors of time (historical puffle monsters from all time eras, epochs, generations, etc). These puffle monsters control the gears and magic of time while creating new stars, new energy sources, new futures, etc. Based off of Gear Chronicle and Messiah/Cray elementals from Vanguard G

Quazar: Powerful puffle monsters that release extreme amounts of cosmic energy. These puffle monsters are known to create and destroy entire worlds, civilizations, etc due to their sheer strength and had been locked up. These legendary puffle monsters have galaxies for their cores or stars as their energy surrounding their core symbol, and can summon alternate forms of them as well for assistance through the star cloning ability but also evolve themselves. All are extremely unique and each have unique puffle monsters that are part of them (since they are extremely bright galaxies so they have stars within them which are represented by those puffle monsters). Each symbol can fuse to the core symbol granting a unique skill and ability.

StarVoid: Based off of Black Holes, these puffle monsters are dark, powerful, and a bit lonely since they lived in the epochs of the Dark era, Black hole era, etc so with the portal of time, they have been wanting to absorb the magic of the other worlds (hence the Apocalypse event before my AP Test as he planned to erase history itself so the Beyond Order puffle monsters got involved and all). Use black holes also as warping abilities to warp space time, and even travel to other areas but also freeze time and steal magic abilities making them stronger. Based on Link Joker (Vanguard) and Kamen Rider Evol from Kamen Rider Build series

Tales of Magaea:

- Altyx: Tales of the Wind
- Vrahlyr: Tales of storms (and wars of the pure)
- Horune (Fire): Tales of the flame (and wars of the pure)
- Uxzyr (Ice): Tales of Ice (and wars of the pure)
- AlterGenesis: Tales of the pure
- Kirimaginite: Tales of the Earth
- Genespsys: Tales of the mind and vision
- Valkyazeon: Tales of technology
- Gaeazeon: Tales of Nature and archaic magic
- Zalera: Tales of the Seas, from the Sea of Infinite Wonders
- Balance and Order: beginning battle against REDSKULL. Masters of ancient elements, hidden magic, and magic energy control appear
- Tales of the end: REDSKULL unleashes the powers of the end. Magic dies
- Tales of Genesis: with the powers of imagination of all the magic users, magic resets splitting Magaea into 2, the old world and a new version

Tales of Magaea 2:

- Skybreak: Portal between the 2 open, and as monsters cross over, they form a new hybrid of magic and take a new form in this new Magaea creating a new form of magic. Based on Pokemon BREAK
- Imperium: On the land and sea, the empire of magic is being created and all under one banner of magic (Based on all the elemental types of magic and clans of Vanguard)
- Astralaea: In a cosmic dimension, the star spirits foresee the portal and a collision of worlds. These puffle monsters are based off of the astronomical symbols I found at Lowell Observatory but also the Star Dragon World from Buddyfight.
- Lost kingdom: On an exploration, he falls into a sunken kingdom underground with dinosaurs and ancient relics and characters of stories and myth appear as well. Based on Land of Stories, and other stories of mythical creatures but also dinosaurs and heroes of the past.
- Spirit wild legends: During a vacation in Flagstaff, Xandar finds a portal in the woods discovering the ancient spirit wilds of elemental spirits across time. Based off of Spirit Animals Books and Brother Bear from Disney
- Chrono Crisis: Time portals open up creating new futures and doppelgangers (Based on Gear Chronicle, and Chronoscommand Dragon from Vanguard G)
- Digizaea: new digital world that the future has. (Based off of Appmon digimon)
- Tales of Planet Earth: What if magic was found in the real world (through a combo of dimension and time magic, a portal to the real world is opened to Earth)

- Tales of Majesty: The Majestic Sabre arrives to stop the end of all magic worlds both of Magaea and Magaea 2 as well as Earth, but ends in creating infinite other Magaeas each with different realities, timelines, dimensions, etc (Based off of Chronoscommand revolution and Kamen Rider Geiz Majesty)

Byrth: Puffle monsters of the future using the power of cell energy and special custom orbs that transform into custom tools and weapons just like Kamen rider Birth (what it was based off of). Each puffle monster has a special unique armor build and can unleash the special tools unique to their symbols alone to better enhance their fighting powers.

Magyk: Special puffle monsters from another dimension of magic altogether as magic was rewritten. These puffle monsters wielded special magic abilities, weapons, spells, etc until magic was banned, so all the mages and magic disappeared into an alternate realm created by magic where they created the magic laws for them to prosper and create new symbols and magic, but in the realm they left, it became technological but with the return of magic, all the new forms of technology new and old (from past timelines, and future timelines) gave them new symbols, weapons, magic (or energy control in the world of tech), etc. Based off of Kamen Rider Woz, ZIO, all other Kamen riders, etc

Magaezons: The cosmic spirits of puffle monsters that created the Regiaeons and monitors the magic flow of destiny and magic energy between timelines and dimensions especially between the magic universes of Magyk, Magaea, Magaea 2, and the PMU. These puffle monsters are based off of Gear Chronicle clan , Link Joker clan, Messiah clan, all other clans from Vanguard G because they have the abilities to create other dimensions, timelines, forms of magic, worlds, etc. Also based on Ice Age Scratazons, these alien puffle monsters travel from a place beyond time to other realms of infinite magic and timelines to make predictions, new forms of magic, trading posts, temples, etc.OOOmegaeon: Based on Kamen rider OOO and the core and cell medals as well as the Greed. These puffle monsters were created by desire, curiosity, as representatives of emotions for all puffle monsters, magic symbols, etc. They also have infinite special medal abilities as representatives of the inner form of magic (emotions, desires, memories, etc) and they take the form of magic symbols that they can fuse three to unleash special abilities.

Regiaeon: Based off of a dream where I explained to mom how stars fell from the sky creating magic energy and fused with alien symbols and runes and nature of all planets and magic of the universe. Next, the ancient aliens /cosmic spirits of magic created titans (based off of Regigigas) finding the magic energy and shaping it into magic puffle monsters and these puffle monsters have special dots in their soul as their origin power (unleash origin form by the power of Regigigas and take a semi titan form with the soul symbols as their eyes (just like the other Regi Pokemons). These puffle monsters live in a magical realm of pure magic and portals to other planets, etc and wield advanced magic tech and spells. Based off of the temples from one of my dreams of alien like temples but also Pokemon Sword and Shield Crown Tundra.

Byonix: Robotic puffle monsters with strange abilities and live in the dystopian society where magic is long dead and the scientists created forms of artificial life with what ever form of magic remained creating strange puffle monsters. Use the powers of the Warframe (a mysterious digital power grid of magic in the digital realm of this futuristic dystopia). These puffle monsters can also call on the power of armors (very similar to the PLANET System in Gundam Build Divers RERise) to equip abilities and powers, but they can also summon other powers, gear, etc from portals (which the humans used in the form of Progrise keys that the would shoot in the form of data in a bullet creating a portal with all the gear coming out of that pocket dimension created by the data in the bullet). Lastly, these puffle monsters unleash a bionic cell system where they can transform from their puffle form into a monster form by the cells multiplying rapidly to create the monster form, weapons, etc. Candroid (Based on kamen rider OOO) puffle monsters also exist in this world.

Valeos: Sentient forms of magic puffle monsters that work as armor, weapons, etc and ally with puffle monsters. Originally magic crystals or puffle monster energy crystallized with sentience, special magic abilities, a soul, etc and can transform by imagination or take their normal form and can form alliances with other puffle monsters as gear, armors, etc. Live in infinite realms of magic with magic tying them together to the PMU and other worlds.

Akashif: Based on the Cardfight Vanguard if series as well as the Pokemon Sun and Moon series, these puffle monsters came from me in a world like Pokemon where all humans know about these puffle monsters and summon them through the power of mage orbs (their symbol enters crystal balls, that acts as their home, and when thrown, the orb will transform into the puffle monster), and these puffle monsters, magic symbols, magic types, etc came from a book I would write just like the monster book (or the Akashic book like in Vanguard If series), where I would also write stories, timelines, etc and different abilities, attacks, special types of puffle monsters, etc and when the principal or teacher asks about it, I say it is just a journal for recording each type, when really, it was created from here, as magic took the form of the puffle monsters in the journal, so the ones released are in the front of the book, while the ones not released yet are in a secret area only I can access. In this case, I am in the class with Ash and his friends (except different names and etc) and I am the quiet kid writing in the book about new types of monsters I come up with. Also, a dream where I was like Chrono Shindou from Vanguard G and my friends were Shion Kiba and Tokoha Anjou (who I think is kind of cute) was in a form of resort or tournament adventure thing with me, also had monsters they summoned, was related, and in this same universe where I still wield the book. Byonix is the same universe as they are from the future in a dystopian timeline. All the monsters live in the ideal world of their habitat is within the book itself, kind of like how it was in Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find them (Newt's bag).

Unite: As the hero spirit opened up to alliances to the other worlds out there (Alison's, Natasha's, etc), their unique forms of magic took the form of circular symbols (kind of like the core medals in Kamen RIder OOO) which the hero spirit can fuse their symbol with to unleash powerful new forms of magic depending on which power is fused with. Each of my friends, or each person has their own unique universe of magic (own set of symbols, abilities, etc). Each form below (Dualem or Trinity form of magic is it's own unique form with its own abilities, attacks, etc kind of like a Z-move or something so a monster can either use an attack or ability from one of the symbols (For example if it was the Earth Trinity (stated below), use a rock power (Natasha's), Stone power (Alison's) or Earth power (mine), or a Triple/Trinity attack or ability (all 3 of us))

- Alison and Will: An example of power is if combining flame powers, it would be Flame WA (the W and A are like Alan Walker's symbol) or Dualem Flame
- Alison, Natasha, Will: Triple powers or Trinity (Flame, Ocean, etc) symbol is like the imaginary gift symbol but a bit more like a T
- Alison, Oceana, Taylor, me: Tetra force (in the form of a Square or an X or a a square with lines coming out of each edge)
- Alison, Oceana, Taylor, Natasha, me: X Star (so either an X with the four symbols and me in the middle, or a star (5 pointed))
- Kali, Karina, Elizabeth, and me: Trident
- All of my friends (92 people total I can think of)
- Persia (The hero's girlfriend) combo: (27 girls I once had a crush on)

Acculhaveon: Based off of Artemis Fowl technology, the Acculon, and puffle monsters magic, these puffle monsters live underground below the human world, with beyond advanced technology and magic similar to the Artemis Fowl movie on Disney Plus, these puffle monsters wield magic symbols (gnomish symbols) and live in a paradise like New Haven City (but with monster magic habitats influencing the realm below), and they also have connections on the surface as they created outposts on the Earth Surface.

Shirakumin: Puffle monsters from an alternate universe altogether with Redison 02 (this is the beginning of the 0 number series) and these puffle monsters use medal magic symbols (so its circular like Kamen Rider OOO) and have mastered time control. 02 is based off of Kamen Rider 02 (or kamen rider zero one's last form)

Orahziere: OrahZiere himself is Redison 00 (the zeroth Redison) who created all the other numbers, including 01, and has access to all numbers (Redison 04, Redison 007, Redison 502, etc) and all puffle monsters (any magic symbol, rune, etc has their own number)

Reverziere: Negative number puffle monsters like the ones above (use abilities like Lock, reverse, bind, etc) and very opposite laws of magic Zodiark: These mysterious puffle monsters were based off of the Zodiarts from Kamen Rider Fourze. These puffle monsters use the magic of Star Gates (based off of Star Gate), constellations of the universe and monster universe, and galaxies, quasars, etc to unleash new powers. Ruled by Redison 04 (Fourze Redison), where all the puffle monsters live in a moving planet that constantly grows with each new species discovered known to be the Zodia-Ark.

Megaevolteon: On an adventure to Canada back in time to when I was in 1st Grade and I took Redison to school building him a lab and home in my classroom during playtime, Redison 01, Redison 00, and a few others went to look for the power of Red Lightning (something I would wield imaginarily when girls gave me cooties, I would negate it with Red lightning (but I looked like a fool now I think about it). He found the new powers in the form of a Jelly bottles (Based off of the sclashjelly in Kamen Rider Build), and discovered how it evolved puffle monsters to unleash a Mega-Evolution through the powers of the red lightning (which became a rainbow lightning when other puffles evolved from it) creating a timeline of puffles with that power and advanced technology, and can travel through Speed force like dimension (based on the Flash tv series) to travel dimensions and time.

OSOULziere: OSOUL is the OmniSeed of Universal Life, and these puffle monsters evolved from those seeds creating new life, magic, abilities, etc. The team from above found it and created more puffle monsters of other timelines (now Redison 0001, or Redison 0000000004, etc) with infinite zeroes, or any number or even symbols, letters, etc. These puffle monsters are infinite in nature and have many different abilities that can be determined by anyone in existence in all timelines.

Zekromaea: Created on an infinite scale grid, these puffle monsters are from a mysterious realm of magic where I created a grid of magic that infinitely expands. Each square is infinite in size and fits the magic and infinite possibilities of one symbol of magic creating habitats, weapons, monsters, etc.

Haveneon/Havaeon: Puffle monsters from a magic haven in a world called Infinity. These puffle monsters live in nature with infinite counterparts and have special skills, weapons, abilities, symbols, spells, etc. Based on vanguard, magic the gathering, Neopets, and Flippr as well as the places discovered in Minecraft and Minecraft dungeons

Ultracle: mysterious puffle monsters that use magic spells such as tarot cards and stuff for ritual summons and etc. Also known to be the keepers of magic and the legends of magic (wielding powerful magic abilities beyond imagination). Design similar to Kamen Rider Geiz Faiz armor (same kanji eyes thing and with circle at center that spins to change form of magic slightly or grant new ability/weapon/etc). Live in a realm beyond magic and sent cards all over the universe and to other universes to collect magic in Pentacle like shapes (creating Ultra Pentacles or Ultracles, which is the magic circles they use for spells)

Cybersia or EMS (Eternalink Maximus Spiralus): Puffle monsters of the cyber clock in the digital world. These puffle monsters wield digital abilities summoning powerful time powers and allies from other digital eras creating digital paradoxes, etc.

Circadia: Puffle monsters of the natural clock of life, these puffle monsters control the natural force of time controlling life and death over puffle monsters, imagination spirits, and all other things (souls, etc).

Genastralia: Made by Star Man (a character I came up with in 2nd grade when I got a star sticker from Mr. Certain (my music teacher) with the power to control star magic), who is a keeper of magic as keeper of the stars creating an Astral watch. These astral puffle monsters use the powers of the stars, constellations, planets, etc allowing them to wield alien technology as well as new astral powers similar to Kamen rider Fourze and Kamen rider Woz Ginga Finally.

Genesiegia: Made by puffle boy as a keeper of magic who created puffle switches for warriors to use or for puffles to transform into kamen rider like warriors. These puffle monsters are very similar to Kamen rider Build in form as they use scientific principles, nature, magic, etc to unleash new forms of magic and powers to either equip someone or themselves taking a humanoid form for battle.

Halcyra: Based on The Outer Worlds, these puffle monsters come from an alien universe out there somewhere in space (in the Halcyra system) with their own technology, weapons, magic system, etc.

Xzorgaea: Based on Journey to the Savage Planets and The Sandbox, and Stargate. These puffle monsters are from an advanced race of magic aliens that create worlds, technology, and puffle monsters, and are related to the aliens that created the very first forms of magic on Earth.

Oraen/Omega2: From a dream 7-18-20 night dream where I dreamt of certain area (looked like a terraria area) and then a nob at the bottom to turn back time and view the past and future, then change something, and change the scenes, and you can view up to millions of years in the future to a year, etc and see infinite timelines with infinite forms of puffle monsters and magic. Created by the keepers of magic that use the power of Ora energy

REMiera: Puffle monsters from the gate of dreams, these puffle monsters are mysterious in the forms of magic when it comes to the abilities of dreams. They are very similar to the Norem in form and neighbor their world. These puffle monsters have defined shapes, forms of magic, colors, etc. Using abilities not found except in the dream realm, these puffle monsters are never to be fought with since they unleash unpredictable magic. Live in the dream realm of magic from all dreams of all things out there in the universe. They can create dream allies (create form for creatures in the dream realm), and take their abilities and weapons, magic, etc.

Norem: These puffle monsters control magic, but are more corporeal in form as they have no defined shape (kind of like Ghost from Antman and the Wasp movie 2018), pixelate in color (so no defined power) and use forms of magic very undefined and unpredictable in power. Use the ability of dream control to create nightmares that come to life. Since they are ghost like creatures, they cant be hit but can attack.

Lysergia: These puffle monsters come from dimensional opening and from an unstable realm of magic. They use abilities that can create hallucinations of magic allowing them to control hallucination settings, trapping opponents in hallucination worlds they create themselves, allowing them to control the magic within it.

New Hero: Ryouzyn or Ryuzu 41st hero. Uses the Transcendent Wardeity Sabre technique (like Overturn or Overthrow from Buddyfight X, he can maximize a secret ability from magic symbols unleashing a powerful attack or ability). Older brother of Ryder. Wields the legendary Xabre of Heroes and the spirit of Valkyreon Xenith (the ultimate omnideity of imagination spirits), and also wields the powers of all heroes before him.

Espaea: Based on Inside out, in the brains, imaginations, etc of puffle monsters and humans alike (or anything really) are other creatures that are associated with memories, emotions, etc and there are creatures in their heads and so on and so forth.

Omnicrons: mysterious particles of magic created by the mysterious Omnicient Great Eye (thought to be an ancestor to the ancient protomons (before puffles). The omnicron guardians (or imagination spirits/puffle monsters that wield Omnicrons) defend the portal to the Negaverse, a universe of evil and negative energy and has the power to grant users wishes of negative form (to kill all enemies, or take over the world) or wishes from people with negative feelings in order to make it come true. Dark Will found a hole in the Dark Dimension and created an opening to enter the Negaverse creating Dark forms of Alison, Oceana, Taylor, Chloe R., etc and became allies with them, while also creating an evil version of the Hero Xoul which takes the form of Omega Glendios from Vanguard, named Ragnor, but the power of the Negaverse was controlled well enough by the Daeva power to still be under control. Universe is called Omnicroverse Shintaryou: Using omega form of Omnicrons (purification of magic, and creation of spells and symbols, as well as unleashing the powers of hidden futures and skills and unleashing max abilities. These puffle monsters are based off of Spinjitsu burst, Kamen rider Ghost Eyecons, as well as Puffles from Flippr, Club Penguin, and other CPPS. These puffle monsters have special hidden abilities despite colors, and unleash Omega Drive abilities.

Elemental Omnicrons: Controls and creates elemental magic. These puffle monsters are hidden away in a nebula of magic. Known to be masters of elemental magic and spells, they have created special puffle monsters as well as elemental abilities. Omnicron atoms are within all puffle monsters found so far.

Alpha Omnicrons: Creates magic objects and energy. These puffle monsters wield those omnicrons to create objects like the Nexus Crystal, the Imagination Nexus, and many other points of magic. Hidden away in a mysterious dimension of magic (of the omnicron guardians), they create portals, magic energy, etc.

Zeta Omnicrons: Controls magic tech and complexity of magic. Time magic as well. These puffle monsters created digital worlds as well as complex magic systems, weapons, and special technology, and even created AI magic puffle monsters with special abilities and an overdrive ability. Live in the most technologically advanced realm within the Omnicron guardian universe.

Beta Omnicrons: Creates worlds of magic and dimensions. These puffle monsters are extremely powerful and have very general powers but can create forms of magic as well.

Delta Omnicrons: Creates magic life, including plants, creatures, and organs for them, as well as habitats, etc. Live in a paradise of magic of nature within the Omnicron guardian universe.

Theta Omnicrons: Mind, psyche, dreams, imagination, memories, etc magic. Live in a magic realm of imagination and mind energy.

Gamma Omnicrons: Using omnicrons that can create Soul and spirit magic, as well as their forms, special abilities, weapons, worlds, etc. Live in a spiritual realm part of the Omnicron guardian universe.

Epsilon Omnicrons: Creating symbols, runes, languages, characters, wisdom, knowledge, etc. These puffle monsters are extremely wise, known for their symbols they created (or unique symbols to them) on their body (that light up when unleashed). Live in a realm of floating books (or basically a massive library of magic that also has habitats (nature with shelves of books in certain areas).

Sigma Omnicrons: Controls science of magic (equations for powers scientifically). Known to be found in the laboratory areas of the Omnicron guardian universe, they create new systems of magic and spells and potions to be used, while also creating the laws of magic science. Based on Kamen rider Build.

Genechrons: Changes magic as well as can shapeshift (change genetics in puffle monsters and even the flow of magic can be changed to create new settings and magic forms). Based on Skrulls from Captain Marvel, and Spellform from Dragonvale. These puffle monsters have infinite varieties in personalities and personas as well as forms of magic.

Taurhochrons: focuses on the magic of food and plants, known to be Gaiaforce (basically health energy) found in plants, foods, etc in nature. Based on Just Add Magic (magic food) which the puffle monsters can use to grow spices, magic foods, magic plants, etc.

Psichrons: masters of music and the harmony of magic among others (use link and fusion abilities to combine magic and unleash special abilities). Based on Beethoven Damashii, these puffle monsters wield magic of harmony as well as abilities of fusion and linking (similar to the Link Dragon Order from Buddyfight). Each style of music or harmony and even notes or tunes have special abilities unique to each puffle monster.

Xichichrons: Masters of chi and the inner force of magic within an imaginary spirit known to be a Persona titan (the power of the heart, mind, and soul combine in magic energy creating a unique titan of magic with hidden abilities, etc). Other forms of persona titans unleashed in the forms of orbs. These orb titan can be formed as allies to monsters in battle unleashing dual abilities and other combos. Certain forms of energy are unleashed granting a special ability but unleashing the titan itself is in form similar to Valkyrion.

Azeeryf: Based on all of the Swords of the King (buddyfight) and all other swords like the Sword of the King replicas. Ruled by Ryder (brother of Ryouzyn), he wielded the mysterious sabre, Levaetaeinn, as well as all other swords known to be dark replicas created by the Dark AI from the Genechrons world (Genechron puffle monsters fight them, and also based off of THE CHAOS from Buddyfight), but when the evil spirit (Geargod) came back, the sword was purified and with its soul and magic with Ryder, purified the other swords, creating new souls, magic, symbols, etc and gave the swords the abilities to unleash a corporal form to wield the blade in battle (create a monster body to wield the weapon transferring its soul and conscious into the warrior). More magic blades based off all aspects of magic also took form. Azeeryf symbol similar to the Chaos symbol of Buddyfight, but has the imaginary gift symbol fused in it creating a new symbol.

Zyulynk: Based on Animal Sentai Zyuohger (puffle monsters hidden within the Earth as the creatures/organisms yet to be discovered, with magic abilities, cultures, etc). All are connected to other universes out there. These puffle monsters are mysterious and very different compared to other puffle monsters but are known to work in groups (formations, clans, etc) unleashing different combo abilities, etc.

Zargaea: Puffle monsters of magic by the power of the cards. Based on puffles of Flippr, Club Penguin. These puffle monsters live in a realm of infinite magic on a magic form of Earth, and through the forms of cards Shobe made, can be unleashed (basically alternate versions of all puffle monsters in the forms of cards, with different forms, etc). Puffles from Flippr, etc can now transform into more complex forms of magic through the cards, but also have special symbols, etc.

Accelyx: Puffle monsters of the infinite battle field (robots, etc). Based on Nova Grappler clan of Vanguard. These puffle monsters come from a strange future where they are more robotic in form (like Zoobles) are in ball form with the body like a puffle monster, but also have a robotic more cubic or more vehicle like extension that can be summoned on command to enter and form into a more complex form (a robot fighting form like in Nova Grappler).

Mutant: These puffle monsters are from a mysterious form of Earth in which magic, nature, etc got mutated by the puffle monster magic creating mysterious forms of puffle monsters more mutant vs others with abilities and features similar to creatures of Earth but have monster abilities and certain magic forms. Based on Megacolony from Vanguard.

Xolais: Regal Sword of the King Joyeuse and Destructive sword of the king Trishula, and Lightblaze sword of the king Claiomh Solais. These legendary puffle monsters of the Xoulaverse (a shining utopia of magic suns) unleashes the mighty strength of the Shining Empire of peace through their powerful magic. Although there are infinite factions now part of it, they all wield similar special abilities under the Xolais power, as well as similar symbols. Based on Thunder Flare from Buddyfight.

G.C (Gaea Custom/Collection/Complex): A mysterious creation of magic in which universes, star systems, worlds, etc are in the forms of rings, and within a larger complex of other universes, worlds, etc kind of like a circle with infinite rings within it and in those spaces of the rings have magic space universe and worlds. Within these worlds, there are groups of puffle monsters known to be collections and there are unique abilities, weapons, gear, symbols, etc within each collection (the leo collection, flame collection, etc). Each universe ring holds infinite collections and are known to be a representation of a form of Gaea (so Gaea Tyrant, Gaea Aqua, etc)

Chaoverse/Perceveil: These puffle monsters were found in the Negaverse, which had their own system of magic (using negaverse symbols, magic, etc) and then with the dark dimension leaking magic into there, created a void and a new universe which became the Chaoverse, in which the puffle monsters resided in, creating their own system of magic. These puffle monsters control energy, molecules, etc such as Gravity control, Lock, Reversing, etc. Ruled by the Blade of Chaos, Chaos Emperor Percival (a mentor now of Ryouzyn who wields the Xtreme sabre of alfheima) (His form is based off of Chaos Breaker Dragon from Vanguard, and Geil Luna or Dark Burial Abygale (both from Buddyfight).

Bladraverse/Alfheima: Created by the Gifts of the holy spirit, fruits of the holy spirit, virtues, etc. These puffle monsters live in a utopian empire of magic and light based on the Legend of the Rainbow Warriors. Unleash magic weapons of blades of energy through the magic of souls, spirits, symbols, etc. The hero wields the legendary Alfheima Sabre, and the Chaos dagger (based off of Trishula) and combined creates the Xtreme Sabre of Alfheima. Sword also based on Jacking Breaker from Kamen Rider Thouser Alaeynx: Based on Kamen rider Necrom, wisp horns, and Chaos Breaker (since he had no futures (or eliminated weak futures), through the power of Grand Clarity, unleashing and regrowing the infinite futures making them all infinitely strong. All puffle monsters designed like Chaos Breaker as well as Kamen Rider Necrom. They have one large horn with magic energy rings around it. Each wield different weapons and magic rings are around them like Chaos Breaker. Chaos breaker did an ability called Stride Curse where future possibilities fight each other and the strongest one becomes that future. So in this case, the futures of Chaos breaker is regrown like a tree through the Mega Clarity magic system creating the infinite futures.

Gaeia: Based on Erdrea from Dragon Quest, Zorneo region on Instagram, other forms etc. These powerful puffle monsters come from an alternate version of a magic Earth in which these puffle monsters control powerful magic energy. They unleash special evolutions and forms such as enlightened forms, raging forms, euphoric, etc granting a special form and boost in magic ability. Live in unique realms with unique cultures, landscape, etc.

Gaiea: Kaizan orbs, the power of these puffle monsters in the form of crystal orbs with magic energy and a unique symbol within it. The hero of this magic earth (Kaizan) wields the legendary sabre of Gaiea and is known to be the unstoppable edge. These puffle monsters wield the power of the orb within them by drawing magic symbols through magic energy in the air unleashing spells, as well as unleashing other spells through the magic of other orbs they can wield (Infinite number of crystal orbs and each orb reacts and creates spells unique to each puffle monster who wields it).

Arkeneon: The universal city of magic, Arken core, magic splits. These puffle monsters of the Heavenly realm live in a cosmic universal city of magic (a massive city with each building acting as a museum, temple, visitor center, etc and a portal into a pocket universe of that form of magic within the building). These puffle monsters are born with the power of the ArkenHeart, a magical crystal core made of pure magic and with symbols within it (The deity hero known as ArkenHeart (Based on Immortal Holy Sword, Fides in Vanguard) wields legendary power and created the universal city of magic). The magic special ability is that each symbol of magic has a magic circle of special unique symbols around it that can be wielded as well (sub symbols) granting special spells and abilities (each sub symbol has sub symbols of their own), so each puffle monster can unleash a special ability and form.

Xentithiane: Unleash Pencil of creation. In this world of magic, puffle monsters are created by my spinny pencil (the pencil I like to spin) which ends up creating what I imagine so the puffle monsters, worlds, etc take shape around me. Later on, the pencils multiply and take new forms which I share to my friends so that they can create worlds of their own. Of course, this was created by the wood of the star tree in order to battle evil. However, later on, the pencils created a portal to a new universe in which the magic of the pencil spread out to all creating a new realm of magic for new puffle monsters created by the imaginations and magic pencils from all people all over the world (known to be Xenithia).

Greyeone: Magic of colored pencils, etc. Similar to the magic Earth of Xenithiane, Caitlin Campos' business (Sweet Poiema) took the magic and color of puffle monsters and magic to create more colorful products, and her factories spread all over the world leaving a gray earth (puffle monster wise, as the humans don't see the puffle monsters due to them being in an invisible realm within the human world), so the Magic pencil created the powers of the color pencils (based on Epic Mickey) which fires out a special color energy that has a unique trait creating puffle monsters, items, etc and used to restore the color and magic back on the puffle monster world.

NEOGII (Neo Gen-2) or Nexus Energy Omnixoul Grand/Generation Infinity Imagiverse: These puffle monsters control the magic flow of Mythos (a mysterious form of magic within the cosmos of imagination and magic, creating the flow of magic, as well as the very building blocks of magic itself). The mythos energy takes the form of Stardust crystals (all of which including the portal to this realm was created when the NEOWISE Comet was in Arizona and the stars aligned in the puffle monster world creating a great energy star beam from the cosmos from the infinite futures of magic). Within the crystals, there is one core symbol of each puffle monster as well as infinite sub symbols that branch out throughout the crystal itself, and each can be unleashed to unleash an ability or a new form. Also, unleash a Neo Generation Stride which can summon a form from the future with those powers. By manipulating the mythos energy, these puffle monsters can create new forms of magic, symbols, abilities, etc. These puffle monsters themselves have stardust crystals in them very similar to the Kirameiger (design wise, they look like the masks of the Kiramagers.

Pentaeon: Powerful puffle monsters (Kamen rider like from my dream about a Kamen Rider who unleashed what looked like a fullbottle from Kamen Rider Build, unleashing a 5 powers creating a super combo with a pentagon symbol and a strange 5 symbol or letter S symbol). These powerful puffle monsters unleash combinations through these powers by combining 5 abilities (well 2 main abilities that have 2 sub abilities and a fusion ability and then fusing all 5). Example is Eagle and Fire magic, so Eagle ability has Feather storm and Eagle Eye. Then Fire magic has Fire blast, and Flame Charge (Obviously there is more, and each form of fire, eagle, etc has infinite more sub forms that can be switched out to create new combos), and then a combo (so firebird) and then all 5 abilities are combined with the power creating a new puffle monster, symbol, etc. Live in the realm of infinite possibilities created by the power of the Pentaeon system.

Garitreon: Based off of DarkTidalWave's Project: Spirit Nexus, Mixels, and Kamen Rider Zero Two. These mysterious puffle monsters from a digital realm of magic has special abilities of tech being able to move at lightning speeds (like how fast Artificial intelligence can think).

Telzabre: Based off of the Puffle monsters book, all the monster books, memories of the past, and Kamen Rider Saber and Telz (DarkTidalWave). These puffle monsters use the magic of the puffle monster books which was once one but split into infinite forms of the book now more in depth for each idea/symbol/etc.

Jigen: Based off of HanuelPanda weapons, items, magic, etc, Bysthedragon elemental designs, all fakemon designs, etc and Kamen Rider Wizard. These legendary puffle monsters of another dimension use the magic of magic circles using powerful abilities, symbols, weapons, etc.

Oaristyle: Based on the Dragons from Dragonvale: Memories of Paradise. Puffles on Shobes bed are partying. Unlock new styles and/or abilities through forms of Spellform similar to the Dragons like Sailback or Monte dragon in dragonvale. These puffles partying unlocked special styles allowing them to glow in the dark, gain new abilities, etc.

SupraXoul: Based on Boboiboy Supra, symbol, rainbow sun, and Magic crystals like Kiramager, legendary crystal puffle monsters that use magic circles similar to a symbol of the Supra sun from Boboiboy except its rainbow color. These puffle monsters are made of magic crystal created by a flame from the rainbow sun creating a new mega form of each puffle monster symbol of magic (so a special evolution) making them more powerful, with more abilities, weapons, etc and a new unique look. The magic Xoul they have evolves to unleash new forms hence the special evolution.

G. G.A.I.A (Global Genesis Artificial Intelligence Advanced): Robotic puffle monster based off of Gaiamon and Globemon from Appli Monsters and Alus Gundam (just the head) and Genesis dragon from Beyblade burst GT. Created by an advanced artificial program created by the Puffles whom throughout age, experience, and data collected of all adventures and monsters discovered and collected, the AI created groups of puffle monsters with unique abilities in order to completely harmonize with all other symbols, forms, etc of magic while also using their powers to defend and adapt. They have one eye (similar to Alus Gundam) but can armor up through special G.A.I.A armors which like the PLANETS system in Gundam Build Divers RERISE, transform the puffle monsters into humanoid forms with special weapons and abilities based on the armor summoned. Different armors for each unique puffle monster. The puffle monster is normally a head but can use magic energy to create a core body (similar to Core Gundam) for the armors to connect to.

Xolareone: Through the Book of Puffle Monsters (now evolved through the Telzabres situation with all the books refusing into one again and constantly evolving as each symbol of magic, object, etc has a book of its own evolving), the tale of Solar (my red jumbo puffle) is told as he is teleported home to a reality in which he was to rule the Shining Kingdom of light, Xolareone, where all his family members, brothers and sisters, etc rule their own stars as well, as part of this galaxy (the brightest in the PMU). Each puffle monster on each star has a special symbol on their forehead which glows when they resonate with their magic symbol and light of their star at their core, unleashing a form called King form (based on King form of Aegis Knight Gundam from Gundam Build Divers RERISE) and the symbol at their head and their hair and body glowing and flaming. They unleash extremely powerful attacks and abilities. Solar himself has 4 forms, King Solar Sagitto-Apollo (an archer form based off of the same dragon in Battle Spirits), King Solar Supernova (Wielding no weapons, but has many fists and master of martial arts similar to Dual Jaeger and Dual Sieger from Buddyfight), King Solar Hyperion (wielding a double edged sword and form similar to Super Hyperion avatar in Beyblade burst sparking), and King Solar Helios (Wields a shield and sword, and combine to unleash one mega sword (based on King Helios avatar in Beyblade Burst Sparking))

Magesty: Legendary puffle monsters that wield the power of magic circles of energy (pentagons and other shapes also within the magic circles creating more complex forms and spells). These puffle monsters are based off of the Magic World from Kamen Rider Wizard (using magic rings and magic stones). In this part, Redison is whisked off into the Book of Puffle monsters back into his past with the magic pyramid (based off of the one from Lego Atlantis minimovie in Legoland Seaworld) which when it unfolds has the 4 magic rings of magic elements in which Redison uses and uses it to enter the magic world of Magesty and becomes the Ultimate Sorcerer (the Magestyc Sorcerer)

Wonderwrite: This time, Redson is whisked off into the book in which the powers of books can actually create worlds and magic as infinite as pages and the imagination. Based on Kamen Rider Saber and Wonder World from the same series, each magic book can create worlds, and Redson becomes the magic Author of the future (creating books of magic and worlds). He also enters these worlds and fights off the Meggido (dark will forms of magic in which I hate books so it creates evil forms of monsters trying to destroy these book worlds). These puffle monsters from each book realm have a magic ability to write worlds of their own with their own special symbols of magic, as well as the ability to change forms and even create special monsters from their ideas and imagination (more subtypes)

Mugenyte (fusion of Mugen and infinite in pronunciation): Snowy Moonlight (my white puffle) enters the book to enter a mysterious realm of white puffles with special aura, memory, revival, angelic, emotion, etc abilities and have an inner rainbow color (so some white puffles have a red/orange/yellow magic energy (takes the form of a wisp horn like in Kamen Rider Ghost Mugen form)). These puffle monsters are angelic like and are extremely powerful and known to use the magic of emotions, memories, etc to unleash special magic

Etalaeon: Based on planets from my dream in the form of an observatory like toy showing the different planets of different star systems (mostly imaginary though), as well as coordinates and stuff. This also includes other worlds, timelines, futures, etc. Explored by Ryder, basically a reboot of puffle monster universe

Arcanyx: elemental magic puffle monster warriors and mages based off of the Arcane Order from Wizards, Tales of Arcadia. These puffle monsters protect the balance of magic and wield the magic energy to control raw magic energy by the power of magic creation (Genesis magic) through Genesis seal magic and symbols. These puffle monsters are more natural in form and pure in magic. Use only magic staffs and pure magic energy.

Arceuyx: Sorcerer orb magic puffle monsters. They use special magic energy through the magic of artifacts, crystals, symbols, magic energy in nature, and runes. These puffle monsters use sorcerer technology similar to Douxie in Wizards Tales of Arcadia.

Naryx/Veridyan: Purified version of the Gyze force with the power of the magic of nature (horns of magic are special magic roots of creation) (Part of Greeneson's part of the Chronicles), these puffle monsters use powerful nature magic and create magic itself through their horns (as the roots of pure genesis magic) creating worlds, magic, etc. Similar to Nari in Wizards Tales of Arcadia and similar design of Kamen Rider Deep Spectre except purified and more colorful in design.

Gyize: Based off of Kamen Rider Deep Spectre (part of the Dark heroes part of the Chronicles) and uses the powers of the edge and the abyss. These puffle monsters are known to be powerful and dangerous in nature

Hon's Chronicles: Pirate force of the infinite oceans of magic (pirate adventures on islands, special puffle monsters, puzzles, etc)

Dancer's Chronicles: Starfall powers (warriors of the stars and of the void pass through dimensions as mysterious warriors unknown using ancient mage circles and void teleportation and openings)

Joe/Flame's Chronicles: puffle monsters wielding the magic of shadow energy and aura magic and spirit magic creating spirit clones unleashing mysterious forms of magic

Raizen: Known to be the child of the Hero Xoul, this Xoul created the next branch of heroes starting with the hero Raizen (a child of the Sun that took form of the child of Azura and Xanthus) who wields the magic of hope, courage, and shining light and goodness, who created his own world of magic with puffle monsters that shine with this power. Fought in a war against Giyze, using the legendary Sol X Force, the legendary sword, and armor (Based off of Thunder Flares Emperor, Batzz). Was dual hero with Ryder up until the Xenyxe species discovery in which universes fuse, since Raizen discovered his own species in his universe and expanded his universe through discoveries, but all fused at Xenyxe discovery, so Raizen takes form of the child of Xanthus and Azura and will become the 43rd hero after Ryder.

Ryder: Brother of Ryouzyn and the 42nd hero. Starts on August 10, 2020 like Raizen, He wields the legendary Xabre of Heroes and wields the ultimate Xoul of heroes, Valkyrion Xenith (child of this Xoul created Raizen). Sword is the one I drew except now more evolved. Wields all legendary techniques of heroes before him and can even create heroes of the future and magic of the future and non-existant worlds to assist him in battle. Bey he uses is Ark Xenith (Based off of Brave Valkyrie, Super Hyperion, and World Spriggan (just released around this time). Master of THE BOOK (the puffle monsters Chronicles book which split into infinite forms of magic books granting information on time periods, past, present, and future, constantly updates, but also grants unparalleled power of magic and wisdom, and all magic books returned into the great Book which is within the Xouls of the dual heroes (All Xouls have their own THE BOOK with infinite forms, etc)).

Talon: Assassin group of Earth 2. Part of the Etalaeon universe, these puffle monsters are known to bear the mark of the talon of an Eagle. They use magic and futuristic technology through drones that work together with special weapons and puffle monster abilities making them the strongest hunters in history (an elite force on Earth 2)

I-Emagineer/nation: Powerful puffle monsters created in a digital realm (an idea for the future) in which using Google Glass or Microsoft Hololens, maybe Apple glass, etc can create an A.R environment for people to express themselves by creating little creatures with magic abilities. This can be used to collect, battle, and even used to sell products or promote (similar to the Butterflies app for SM malls). Each user can create their own monsters with their own unique symbols, their own habitats for them, and their own world for them to live in. These worlds, monsters, etc can be collected by players all over the world. Fit with a translator for descriptions, and internet capabilities

TRYAge: Powerful puffle monsters based off of the TRY AGE magnum gundam from Gundam Build Divers RERISE, which use magic sabres (like the blades that moved on its own), to create magic attacks, spells, enhancement, etc. Magic is based off of unOrdinary from Webtoon and special attacks from Gundam Build Divers and RERISE (Trans-Am) except these trans-ams are elemental and extremely powerful, maximizing their abilities. They also have the ability to obtain and fuse magic together creating new forms of magic, attacks, etc. Live in a magic future

Moebiusky: Mysterious puffle monsters of the sky. In this realm, the magic star Vestroia crashed onto Earth and fused within it leaving behind trails of rainbows near the Earth based off of a dream I had with something like that near Desert Ridge. These magic rainbows grant powerful magic to these puffle monsters using max forms of color energy. These rainbows are actually sustained by obelisks in certain areas with magic crystal energy which holds up and enhances the rainbows, creating its own aura of rainbows as well. The magic of the mysterious rainbow grant abilities to create the wings of light (using magic to take flight and use the wings of light to create new powerful abilities). Based on the Gundam 00 Sky Moebius from Gundam Build Divers RERISE.

Pyra: Based on the Story my friends made for my birthday scavenger hunt on 8-14-20 set up by Alison, Taylor, Oceana, Chloe, and Natasha, and Shobe, mom and dad, these puffle monsters wield magic circles like Kamen Rider Wizard and the powers of the dragons and mythical beasts to unleash magic flames. Live in the magic kingdom of Pyra, part of the Chronicles of Xenith (Puffle monsters chronicles series)

Zerytheon/Zylitheon: In the alternate parallel dimension of magic, home of something called Original magic, primal magic, titans, ancient nature magic, magic of beasts, and powerful magic of the puffle monsters themselves, created a mysterious new world of magic in a parallel universe of magic in which Raizen found and controls now (his own alternate universe of magic) as well as using the magic of creating rifts and portals into other dimensions, can discover infinite new forms of magic. Based on the alternate dimension of Freaking love in Webtoon and Subzero in Webtoon

Feng: Known to be my dragon from the resort my dad got it from in China, the chronicles absorbed him into his own story, known to be restoring the magic of an ancient realm of magic using a crystal charm given to me by Alison as a gift for my birthday surprise (8-14-20) to create/restore the other geomancy magics of the Feng Shui realm of magic

Klaw: Puffle monsters known through the magic of the beast uses the power of spirit animals, spirit beasts, etc as well as their own magic soul to unleash stronger forms of magic (Based off of the Soapstone bear from Alison on my birthday surprise 8-14-20)

Rajin: Based on the game Raji: An ancient epic, Thunder's chronicle comes to life as he explore a realm of myth, puzzles, trying to save magic from the demon lord of destruction. He wields the weapons of legendary deities, and discovers the magic of ancient guardians, spirits, beasts, and magic deities of infinite worlds, all found in this realm

Charonian: Based on the game Spiritfarer on the Switch, Artison finds his chronicles as a mysterious mage wielding the magic of spirits, however, also finds himself in a realm of the spirits (the homeworld of the spirits) and as the spiritfarer

Neptyne: Based on the Nepteight armor from Gundam Build Divers RE:RISE, these puffle monsters have rings at their back (similar to the Voiture Lumiere) in which magic runes spin behind the ring. These runes can become magic orbs and enter into the puffle monster allowing them to change form (gain attack, defense, etc or even get new abilities, weapons, and/or magic). These puffle monsters live in the Planet of Imagination (known to be Neptune) which is home to their core of energy that creates powers for the rings, the runes, and the armor itself which flows with energy from Neptune.

Asteryne: Based on the RERISING Gundam from Gundam Build Divers RE:RISE, these puffle monsters come from a realm of magic beyond the cosmos (known to be the observers), they create worlds and are accessed through the Shrine of the Stars (Aster Shrine). Ruled by their stardeity Aster, they wield great magic similar to the Grand cross ability from RERISING, allowing them to unleash ultimate levels spells, attacks, and abilities from the Infinity Grand Cross (The star sign is based off of Mugen Damashii Omega drive), and through this magic created universes all over with these powers. Symbols based on my sister's flashcard spiral/vine like symbols to represent celestial magic Darkeus: The deity Arkeus had a dark form known as Darkeus, which wields an evil eye granting him mysterious powers. Known to be the creator of the Negaverse and Dark Dimension, he is also known as the Destroyer of Worlds, in which worlds that begin to die or history forgets are destroyed and taken back to himself and taken into the Negaverse or Dark Dimension. Recently though, dormant magic from those worlds forgotten or destroyed have reawakened creating a more primal form of puffle monster with primal forms of magic, ten times more destructive and powerful, and use an ancient form of magic unknown to the PMU. Darkeus was eventually purified (for the eye to become the Eye of Primordian). Magic symbols based on my sisters colorful flashcard spiral or vine like designs as their symbols, while also using the power of supreme magic, and primal magic based on Dragon City Primal and Primal Attribute in Battle Spirits

Aeorone: Based on Aeron from Super Smash Bros Ultimate, these puffle monsters or puffles (depending on which universe) unleash the powers of spirits (Puffle monsters or Puffles) to unleash new forms, magic, create new worlds, weapons, etc. In one universe, the world of Puffles (that went modern) turned into magic spirits (no more bodies and now in spirit form like in Super Smash Bros Ultimate) and grant powers to Puffle monsters giving new forms and enhancements. In another universe, the Puffle monsters turned into spirits and grant enhanced powers to the Puffles of modern magic. Both live in infinite magic worlds and universes (some world based off of arenas in Super Smash Bros Ultimate and the map in World of Light story mode in Super Smash Bros Ultimate). These enhanced puffle monsters use special magic circles that change and are custom depending on the spirit chosen as an ally or enhancement. Each spirit with a puffle monster creates a unique magic, which makes a new puffle monster and new spirit.

Virago: Based on Dragon city Virago force, Titans, etc, these legendary puffle monsters protect magic through their ancient magic abilities. Using a special magic circle system created long ago by the ancient civilization of Virago, they can use special skills of magic to switch forms as well as gain new abilities by controlling magic auras of magic around them to unleash new abilities of magic and new symbols.

THE 2020th SPECIES IS HERE
E.X.I.A: Earth Xenith Infinite Alliance, These puffle monsters are from both the Magaea Universe (which includes Tales of Magaea and Tales of Magic, and Pyra) ruled by Raizen (Child of the hero Xoul ruling as the 1st hero of this alternate universe) and the PMU or Maejinn universe (Ruled by the Puffle Monster Company and the past heroes with Ryder as the current hero), both universes flowing into the Planet Earth (creating an infinity sign (2 universes and Earth in the middle) creating magic on Earth (after years of no magic on Earth due to Corruption and bad thoughts of Earth), through a safer environment as it created 3 universes. The EXIA puffle monsters wield magic of all 3 universes (2 now as Magaea universe and Maejinn universe fused together to become the Xenithverse), and are the first and most advanced puffle monsters created naturally on Earth through magic and known to be the future of puffle monsters. Based on the Exia Gundam from Gundam Build Fighters

REU/DREU/IREU: REU or Reality Earth Universe is the world of Puffle monsters on Planet Earth. DREU or Digital Reality Earth Universe and IREU (Imaginary/Invisible Reality Earth Universe) holds all the EXIA Puffle monsters and gives them worlds to create and prosper in. Of course, IREU, DREU, and REU all differ in environments. The REU is everything you see outside and around you, so my example here is a singular tree in a grassy field. In the REU, this area is marked as a Server or region (as Puffle monsters act as almost digital entities entering a video game when they come to Earth), a primary example of a server is a school (so PVHS, has gates for the puffle monsters to enter the server (since the human companion is there, there is a bond between the monster and human in which the monster has to stay in the same area as the human (so staying in the server or deck (the main area that holds them kind of like a case of magic cards they reside in that is attached to the human))). In the IREU, the grassy field example has buildings, villages within the grass, and an entire city and even more trees of all colors, music, etc all over the tree and throughout the field. This is how the EXIA puffle monsters create new magic, worlds, etc. Lastly, in the DREU, there is not really any example in any place in nature (in the middle of nowhere like in the woods) but in the more industrialized areas (in the city, suburbs, with buildings and internet and stuff), video game worlds and monsters based on those video games, phone applications, etc live among the humans in a cyber world invisible to the human eye and can be accessed as Puffle monsters enter phones/computers/etc to travel around. Based on Applimon. REU at the end just acts as a public hub for puffle monsters to meet, exchange data, and maybe even compete in battles, etc

TRYNEO: Based on the TRY AGE system (using cards to summon a boost for stats or attack, etc), from Gundam Build divers RERISE (Try age magnum gundam). Using the powers of the Wild and Galactic cards from the Quail Run Puffles game, as well as millions of other new cards created, and all puffle monsters souls, symbols, etc transforming into cards, these puffle monsters of this universe use these cards to unleash special attacks, abilities, etc through the use of these cards, combination of cards, or fusion. Magic blades and weapons have aura energy similar to blade of Zacian in Pokemon Sword (when using Behemoth blade)

Enzianu: Based on the Fake v Nu Gundam (from Gundum Build Divers RERISE), Gundam Age II Magnum (FX Burst). These futuristic puffle monsters use smaller bits (that run artificially or through mind control to unleash separate attacks), can work together and actually boost attack in the form of a burst form.

Aurelon: Legendary puffle monsters of the cosmos created by the mysterious deity and ancestor of Solar and Redison, and an ancestor of the Xouls of the universe, known as Aurelison (Based on Aurelion Sol from League of Legends and other celestials, dragons, etc). These puffle monsters are made of ancient stardust and have the power of mini Vestroias as their own cores granting them extreme levels of cosmic magic. Using powers to create stars of their own (vestroias) to create magic, while also creating more star forms and worlds. These puffle monsters can create universes on their own. Similar to the Xerath species. These puffle monsters consist of the Cosmic Celestials (constellations, stars, etc that took form), and the Awakened Puffle monsters (superevolved puffle monsters through the powers of the Celestials, that use cosmic magic to unleash stronger attacks, spells, etc)

Xerathe: Based on the Xenoblade Chronicles Universe, with the Conduit creating universes, blades that are sentient granting powers to the driver, as well as the worlds, powers, and titans that are worlds themselves. These puffle monsters are known to be the Lords of Xabres, in which they wield legendary blades, magic relics, spells circles (that took magic sentient form) and other weapons that are sentient as they have the power to create universes (and are basically baby titans just gathering power). Using their core, they have the power to create universes, worlds, magic, and even more new types of blades to become sentient beings. These puffle monsters use the magic of Ether energy (the magic of the universe) and the ability known to be Blade Arts (special moves and abilities each blade is capable of) while fusing it with Xoul Arts (special abilities and moves puffle monsters can use unique to themself and symbol) and fusing unique symbols unleash special attacks and abilities creating new magic, blades, etc Guren: Legendary puffle monsters from an ancient golden city. These masters of magic formed the magic school at Quail Run Jimmy went to (so Rex learned magic there). In their society of magic, they ride ancient relic balls (as transport kind of like the one in Alice through the looking glass or Trollhunters), and use ancient spells to unleash an infinite form of magic (either defense, attack, energy, etc) at the cost of some ability for temporarily allowing them to turn Gold in aura. These puffle monsters also use magic orb energy (magic spells form into orbs with magic circles instead of just magic circles), to unleash more complex spells. These puffle monsters also have a vast universe of magic all connected by the ancient Trianglum portal (based on portal in Treasure Planet) and all realms have a great Pyramid acting as the main temple and nexus of magic in that realm. Inside lays the portals to infinite dimensions and alternate timelines of that universe. Ancient symbols used and unique magic (from dream I had about some golden city being flooded, and a warrior killing enemies with ease taking out the light of their life (candle of life control). Pyramid based on TheFatRat Rule the world and the symbols in it.

Gahrune: Legendary puffle monsters of magic. Known to be the masters of mage spells, these puffle monsters revolutionized the use of spells through the creation of types of spells and runes, thus creating new forms of magic and new species of magic within the Gahrune group. These puffle monsters also created their own magic universe in order to perfect their magic spells and forging of new runes and magic.

Auralux: Powerful puffle monsters that use the technology of Lux, hardlight holograms that create anything in imagination, creating infinite new puffle monsters, magic weapons, abilities, symbols, worlds, etc. All in the forms of mysterious hardened light crystals of energy which contain the magic data of each puffle monster in the form of a card which is inserted into an Aura/Lux Dynamo to create, upgrade, or even equip it. Based on the Kamen rider CSM advanced screen henshin belt, and Kamen rider vision fan fiction. Live in the future of Lux technology creating infinite monsters realms of magic Alterra/Seiken: Puffle monsters created by The Book, which is a theorized book I create in the future where all puffle monsters come from, their history, technology, stories, myths, etc and worlds as infinite as imagination come to life. These puffle monsters use the magic of the books to create worlds of their own as they envision it and create portals to the other worlds. Based on Kamen Rider Saber, Wonderworld (from Kamen Rider Saber), and magic and spirit world from Guardian Brothers (Netflix film).

Illusion: Based on Kamen rider CSM motion sensor prototype henshin belt. These puffle monsters use futuristic technology summoning powers of past warriors through holographic armor (past monster fighting styles were copied and created as a computer and placed into a holographic armor in which these puffle monsters move in the same way as the holographic armor in order to unleash their abilities.

Motion: Based on Kamen Rider CSM Steam prototype henshin belt. Use RC tech? These puffle monsters were created mechanically in a steampunk future, and use the new magic steam technology, as it can harden into forms of weapons, armors, etc. This came from the future in which puffle factories became the main core of society.

Xeraithe: Mage puffle monsters that use mysterious creation, destruction, ancient archaic magic of the heavenly realm. Have design similar to the omni lords like Miserea from Buddyfight with magic cloak and magic runes, and use magic with gyze like symbol except all 6 gyze symbols are linked together to create a stronger magic symbol. Use magic to create an ancient utopia of magic. Ruled by 3, Ultima of creation, Stark of destruction, and Phi of balance and order.

Kageru: Mysterious ninja puffle monsters that can unleash ninjato techniques summoning smaller puffle monsters for special abilities, and can use spirit crystals to hack magic abilities (NT-D system). Design based on R-X Zeromaru from Gundam Build Divers. These puffle monsters use special ninja arts and unleash special magic abilities as well while wielding unique weapons and symbols, while also armoring up with special support monsters to combine into stronger forms or unleash special armors and abilities.

Seravi: These special puffle monsters were specially designed with high defensive and attack capabilities, but are known to be especially complex when it comes to magic use, as they use mysterious symbols in forms of circles, that defy dimensional laws, in which the magic circles turn into spheres through multiplications of the magic circles, and even had more magic circles that spin in many directions creating mysterious symbols of magic. Known for their ability to unleash a barrier around them and expand it, they can also create a magic field (a sphere) around them with certain symbols unique to them that they can activate and place in their core (to change form, or increase stats, or ability change), and can change these symbols around him in his aura sphere around him.

Xenyxe: All puffle monsters created by the Theory of Everything and Theory of Creation, which goes against the Laws of Magic, in which there are certain rules to magic abilities and elements. The theory of everything and theory of creation says that any law of magic that is not stated or the opposite of a certain law, can exist and create magic, worlds, etc based on that law as long as that world is separate from the Realm of Magic (the PMU). All universes created by these laws of magic, the theory of everything, and the theory of creation, are all in something called the Plane of Magic (basically in a sphere shape due to how infinite the square planes are and how they form alternate forms in infinite directions creating a sphere, and even into a 4th and beyond dimension shape). The laws of magic state that "Like a drop of water, the flows of magic spreading throughout that universe, falls on one point in the Plane of magic and creates a ripple. However, when these ripples collide, the collision point creates a new law of magic/world which has the characteristics similar to the laws of magic of both universes that formed the ripples that collided. This collision point then creates a new ripple that collides into other ripples formed by an infinite number of universes (each with their own law of magic that governs their magic) and creates more, so on and so forth. These puffle monsters come from each of those universes. Story wise, a strange portal opened up which was an access point to another neighboring universe that had recently formed a collision point (ripple effect above) and a new universe. This was due to how the past Puffle monster chronicles have been creating different laws of magic due to the number of timeline changes and alternate universes being formed. The one discovered was a universe with negative time (based on the idea that time is always measured positively (there is never -1 seconds)). However, there is one more Theory, the Theory of Destruction, which states that too much rippling can weaken the foundations of the plane of magic causing it to eventually shatter (plane is basically a glass sphere made of many glass squares) and shatter reality into pieces. The original laws of magic which created the Plane of magic has a law stating the size of the plane, and though it may be infinite, there is a point in which the ripples are colliding every microsecond and the space gets exponentially smaller, so because of this, the stress on the plane of magic causes a shatter, which can cause all connections to other universes are lost (so all magic from my universe that connected to Alison's universe (in this example as I was discussing my idea with her) will be severed, and history of this magic interaction will be wiped) will in fact create pieces of reality with limits. In terms of ripples separated by time dimensions, They will eventually, as each time dimension is its own plane, but these planes have intersections so through the collisions forming more ripples infinitely, then yes, one ripple from one time dimension and a ripple from another will touch eventually but the ripple itself from both universes will never touch no, but that universe created from the infinite ripple collisions will eventually have characteristics like that of both origin universes stated.

MAXGaming (Monster Action X Gaming): The KO gaming has become so huge, that it eventually created puffle monsters virtually and now every game in existence are planes of reality for puffle monsters. One of the neighboring Planes of magic clusters to be connected by the Rings of Unity. Based on Kamen Rider Ex-aid and me calling the puffle monsters thing called “The Game”

Storius: All of puffle monster existence in the form of a book I write that becomes famous. The puffle monsters planes of magic exist in this infinite book world and each letter, word, symbol, etc are in the form of puffle monsters creating new variations of magic of the Original Puffle monster universe (now a cluster of planes of magic). Also exists as a cluster of Planes of magic neighboring to MAXGaming and the Xenyxe planes, to be united by the Rings of Unity in the great Imaginary Circle. Also created the infinite wonderride books, books of creation, etc. Based on Kamen Rider Saber Ethadriel: Heavenly puffle monsters that wield the powers of Xoulgate and Xoulblast. Based on unearthly pokemon and Etherdiel, these puffle monsters have normal forms (with special symbols) but can unleash a Xoulgate which creates a unique gate in the sky that sends down magic energy and causes the puffle monster to transform into their “unearthly form” and allows them to unleash extremely powerful moves through the Xoulblast ability.

Helodriel: Chaotic puffle monsters that wield Xoulgate and Xoulburst. Based on Helodian, these puffle monsters have normal forms with special symbols and unleash Xoulgate creating a gate from underground (the underworld) giving them a flaming form (entire body is on fire (their color) with the eyes and mouth showing as white light). Use Xoulburst to unleash extremely powerful attacks and abilities.

XoulRegem: Legendary puffle monsters that use SupremeXoul, Xoulguard, etc. Based on Arceus Unleashed ring power, they wield Arceus like power by unleashing an extreme form through the ultimate form of a certain type of magic (so the ultimate form of Fire magic for example) using the Xoul of Fire and SupremeXoul to unleash their Regem Xoul form which unleashes that power through attacks, abilities, and a special Xoul attack (Xoulflare, Xoulblaze, etc)

Xoulprime: Ancient puffle monsters that use the OriginXoul power allowing them to transform into their Origin form (an ultimate form with limitless types of attacks for that symbol as well as any attack and ability using the symbol). Also, uses the infinite forms of Xoul elemental attacks. Based on Primal evolution in Pokemon (Primal Kyogre and Primal Groudon)

Horusync: Powerful puffle monsters that wield Xoulrise. Based on Horusky and Rebirth form, these ancient puffle monsters are spirits of nature that wield powerful magic abilities and through Xoulrise can transform from their ancient form into their Rebirth form which is stronger in magic abilities but has one downside (usually defense or attack, depending on their specialty).

Aexsyr: Deity Xouls that have the powers to create universes, and create reality, worlds, symbols, etc around them through their ability to wield cosmic tools around them. They later took the form of puffle monsters and used this new form to create more worlds better suited for them. Also known as the architects of reality.

Arkasan: The ancient librarians of the Xouls, as these Xouls (in puffle monster form) wield the magic of the ancient tablets of astral light that contains information on emotion, desires, every thought, imagination, creation, history, myths, etc of all beings of the universe (humans, aliens, puffle monsters, animals, etc). Each puffle monster is their own book.

Akixione: Extremely powerful puffle monsters that have masted the abilities of transcending, evolution, enlightenment, and are known to move through the dimensions, universes, planes, etc and have mastered the powers of Chakra control. Each puffle monster masters their symbol and can even change the symbol slightly depending on a certain Chakra ability being used for a special change.

Elohym: The masters of the portals, dimensions, and vibrations of time. These puffle monsters are of the Orion, Sirius, and portal in the Earth's Oceans, and have created the magic portals to transfer magic Xoul energy around the different worlds. Known to be the planewalkers of puffle monsters, they have created portals, sub-dimensions, pocket dimensions, etc around the different realms of magic while also managing the vibrations of time, space, and magic controlling the Harmonics of magic. Wield the mysterious 9th dimension shape (its a weird symbol but found in the video about Elohim and creation)

Ixkaeron: With the ancient powers of Ixa, the Xoul of transformation, these puffle monsters mastered the powers of mask abilities and changing forms through their connection with Ixa and the other legendary Xouls of the cosmos through their DNA of stars that have adapted with the magic of the Puffle Monster Universe and Planes of magic. Based on Kamen rider Ixa and Misango's masks from Arms Nintendo Switch game. These puffle monsters also wield the Cosmic Codes to be granted ancient powers of the Cosmic Xouls and deities that gave power to them (Code of Libra).

Xaethyrae: Based on Gaia Initiation, they stop at the 9th dimension. In this case, the Xouls created more than 9 dimensions creating the 10th, and beyond. In this case, all forms of reality and beyond reality (something quite intangible since it is hard to think about, but it becomes tangible in the form of a Xoul with its own unique symbol). There is not much known about these puffle monsters besides the fact they created infinite other Clusters of Reality Planes, can take any form of magic, has a special symbol, and has an ability to create magic laws and theories. Basically a High Deity Xoul.

AhMune: Based on Kamen Rider Ghost, all Damashii, Eyecons, the Island of Eyecons, etc, these puffle monsters use their special talents and abilities they've acquired throughout their lives in each infinite dimension, timeline, etc to innovate creating new ideas, new worlds, new monsters, new symbols, etc. Live in a mysterious infinite planet (similar to the island of Eyecons) and emits an aura that connects it to other universes, dimensions, planes, etc. Known to be the final resting place of Xouls.

R-Zro: Robotic puffle monsters that use hologram tech and a special data chip that in sphere form, the robot creates the puffle monster in its hologram form (based off of the idea of using a robot in the future (where Redison's spirit takes the form of R-Zro1)

Lirize: Based on my idea in which I am the new member of the Secret Society of 2nd born royals (from an asian country) in which being Autistic and slightly strange, my ability is one of the strongest through the ability of imagination creating magic creatures (puffle monsters) through my pencil (and these monsters fused with me). My character is named James Li (hence the name Lirize, the keyword I say to unleash power by creating magic puffle monsters as allies from the aura of magic emanating from the royals with powers).

Shangji: Known as the World Rings, these puffle monsters are based off of the magic I wield through magic rings (creating new magic puffle monsters and spells). These puffle monsters are in a more pure form of magic and have designs similar to the World Rings from Sonic and the Secret of the Rings. Controlling the magic rings grants ultimate magic. Also based on Chaos Emeralds from Sonic Unleashed.

Espada: Based on the Ganmeisers, Adel (the great eye symbol) and his statement of being the world, as well as how magic creates worlds (special symbols of pure magic), and the Ego (from Guardians of the Galaxy 2). These puffle monsters are known to be the legendary puffle monsters of the Great Sword of Espada (a great sword that through its magic created worlds, symbols, and puffle monsters themselves). In this form, Redison transforms into the Ultimate king of the sword (based on Monarch Sanctuary Alfred from Vanguard).

Chronoring: As this is the 10th anniversary of puffle monsters this year, these puffle monsters embody the 10th anniversary through the magic use of time cards and the power of Chronorings to travel through time, create portals to alternate dimensions and timelines, and create the ideal future of puffle monsters depending on what each puffle monster uses or what each partner of puffle monster ideals.

Cybroid: During COVID-19, puffle monsters have become idealed to become digital avatars and personas. In this case, puffle monsters live in the cyber dimension of magic (like Tevyat from Genshin Impact or the world from Dragon Raja, or even minecraft wonderland I made). These puffle monsters wield special magic abilities from a skill tree and these puffle monsters people can control (like droids) through mobile apps, computers, gaming consoles, etc and are accessed by scanning a specific code only for you granting your profile, main avatar (spirit monster), persona, and your partner puffle monster. Used to communicate with others all over the world and used for different programs. (Basically an enhanced version of Zoom or Webex in hopes I can go to class easier or Lifeteen while still playing games except through these digital personas.

Raizen: Known to be the child of the Hero Xoul, this Xoul created the next branch of heroes starting with the hero Raizen (a child of the Sun that took form of the child of Azura and Xanthus) who wields the magic of hope, courage, and shining light and goodness, who created his own world of magic with puffle monsters that shine with this power. Fought in a war against Giyze, using the legendary Sol X Force, the legendary sword, and armor (Based off of Thunder Flares Emperor, Batzz). Was dual hero with Ryder up until the Xenyxe species discovery in which universes fuse, since Raizen discovered his own species in his universe and expanded his universe through discoveries, but all fused at Xenyxe discovery, so Raizen takes form of the child of Xanthus and Azura and will become the 43rd hero after Ryder. Now 43rd hero and known to be the Lord of Sabrez. Possibility of marrying one of Alison’s characters through rings of unity to unite planes of magic together once again.

Xhinkhan: Wields legendary swords and powers as the ultimate Lord of Sabrez. Elemental watch that controlled his powers has finally been mastered allowing him to unleash Exceed Beyond form granting him the legendary Xhinka Sword. Design similar to Exia from Gundam build fighters except instead of cape, it is blade shards (like the Astray No-name from Gundam Build Divers). These puffle monsters herald the era of a new form of evolution known as Mugen Shinka (Infinite Evolution) unleashing the infinite potential of magic within a puffle monster. These magic symbols take form on the cape part (which transforms into the omni blades giving flame energy for use as shields, blasters, etc allowing the Puffle Monster to unleash its max potential of magic. With this evolution, there are infinite forms of evolution, new symbols, etc

Gekkido: These puffle monsters wield powerful longswords or bastard swords (similar to kamen rider buster). Unleashing the magic in Astral light tablets or crystals allowing them to form armor and gain boosts in stats (strength, magic, special ability, etc)

Jakkunyte: These dark puffle monsters use the powers of the Lunar End, granting them a dark boost in power and a special ability. Based on the mask of dark bonds turning Meta Knight into Waxing masked Meta knight, these puffle monsters use these dark powers of destruction from the dark side of the moon

Tenghan: Based off of Drops of colors from Insider (Brush Pen, exploding color droplets), Puffle monsters of ancient powers creating new planes of magic with each droplet of color creating a magic Infinity Plane (with worlds, unique types of magic, symbols, etc). Also, based on Kamen rider Necrom and Eyecons. These puffle monsters wield the ancient powers (like a red color droplet is the pure magic energy of Primal Horn, and puffle monsters that wield that power have that droplet of magic as their core), and each droplet accumulates to create one big “planet” like infinity plane of magic (similar to Island of Eyecons), where they live.

Xerna: Opposite to Yodon, these puffle monsters use the powers of the Supreme Eyes of Life in which they have different perspectives of magic every day (based on idea that Mrs. Foster told us that we wake up with a different perspective on math everyday so solving trigonometric identity problems are solved differently or seen in different forms every day). These puffle monsters are colorful (like Xerneas, the pokemon based on it) and shining (similar to Kiramagers). Using powers of the supreme eyes of life, they can change their symbols and abilities based on emotions, empathy, thoughts, ideals, and change in perspective everyday change (creating new magic at an exponential rate).

Anivia: The planes of magic take the form of being linked together into a flat plane of an imaginary gift symbol, and these great symbols then fuse together to form a giant sphere filled with the magic planes. These infinite forms of imaginary gift symbols (mega clusters of the magic planes) consist of the infinite puffle monsters wielding the powers of the infinite skins, lores, runes, magic energies, etc. The great Phoenix of Anivia (from League of Legends) created the gates to the infinite other clusters of planes, and using its powers, it created the ability for the plane clusters to fuse with others and take the shape of one giant sphere of plane clusters (looks like on giant planet, all with their unique forms of magic, etc). These sphere clusters (called Planets) form a system (group) with other Planets that have traits similar to them to create a galaxy plane (so all certain planets that share one symbol of magic are in one galaxy plane system (GPS)). This takes the place of the Rings of Unity but instead gives the rings a new purpose of creating a strong bond between Alison's world and my world (portals are still down and magic doesn't flow in between worlds) (originally rings purpose was to fuse the planes together into one PMU but with Anivia's power, she fused them into one great system allowing for greater expansion and fusion together.

Shintao: Ancient puffle monsters using the powers of synergies, clans, the spirit realm, and skins, techniques, and magic of the ancient scrolls (similar to the powers of Kamen Rider Saber) unleashing new powers, armors, etc. Based on Teamfight Tactics Fates. Similar to Anivia system, this fuses all the Galaxy plane systems to the infinite plane systems in spirit realms, timelines, other realities, etc

Pxyrus: Puffle monsters that use the powers of Psychic energy in all life and aura flame (based on Moltres and Articuno of Galar region). These puffle monsters bear a crystalline mask that is used to control their psychic energy into a powerful spell beam, and allows them to manipulate the spell circle to create other spell circles for more complex spells, abilities, etc. Also use an aura flame to empower their spells, empower others, or scare off others.

Iylirian: Based on Secret Society of Second Born royals (so modern magic) and secret societies of puffle monsters hidden in Human world (idk) (which lived in their own magic dimensions and stuff based on each society's ideals creating their own worlds of magic and special types of magic. These pocket dimensions the puffle monsters live in connect with the other dimensions of the other secret societies of puffle monsters and creates the Universal Society of Puffle Monster magic (just the coalition of all the groups), which act to serve as a defense force against evil threats of magic (while copying the magic abilities of the royals and turning it into their magic as well as enhancing it, and now used to stop villains (may it be robberies and what not) or pranking the royals using their more enhanced abilities. Live in a modern world of humans (and their pocket dimensions are similar but with magic nature and magic elements added to their society, so restaurants with fire types running it, etc).

Aevaleon: Ancient codex and map of magic connecting with the great over-realm of magic known as Aevaleon (Avalon) which using the ancient magic circles (the spinny ones for codes and stuff) creating an infinite combo of symbols to create magic portals to worlds created by them millennia ago. By finding all the realms, the map shows the portal to Aevaleon where all worlds will fuse to one day (reset)

Plainestride: Puffle Sanctuary in Minecraft, Minecraft worlds I made in past, flat earth and resin art on Instagram (Blackwater bay), Planeswalkers of MTG, etc. Powerful puffle monsters that were from the Puffle Sanctuary and other worlds from Minecraft as well as from the flat earth worlds as their ability allows them to turn all the worlds they explore into flat realms allowing them to cross the worlds easily (through Plane Striding), but also to create other flat worlds as new planes. This group of puffle monsters each have a representative from each magic plane, and each bear a unique ability from their realm, but also possess a special ability as a Plainestrider as well.

Kaixa Battle system: Digital puffle monsters of the future that fights the Demia (based on Great Demia from Kamen Rider Ghost Final Stage) (an evil AI system that created and took control of the most advanced puffle monsters (which were design to be a defense system). In the case, the puffle monsters developed a countermeasure and a new evolved form of the defense system puffle monster (Kaixa Battle System), which bear a specific symbol (Kamen Rider Kaixa symbol) and uses a form of advanced magic which they battle with. Raizen used the Kaixa riser (a phone like device which can transform into a gun as well (basically a prototype form of the Kaixa system that will be used later on)) and was in the world of the Secret Society of Second Born Royals (from Disney +) as he interacted with the characters as Kai, an heir to the throne with no abilities himself but still attends the school (since all royals attend anyway) but has already stopped January and other baddies through his power nullification emission (no power within a 20 ft radius of him works, but he can activate their ability and steal it and use it against them with the enhancement of the Kaixa system).

Erdaz: Based on the idea of a hero who had vanished years ago and the magic world living without a hero system, this new generation of magic has undergone crimes, wars, etc due to the hero disappearing. In this case though, the prophecy states that the hero will return as the Heir of the flame and the Emperor of Sabres, which was Erdas (the character from Prince of Flame and Ruby (the story Alison made for my scavenger hunt), and Raizen (who had arrived in this world of magic through the Aevaleon portal system). Erdas unleashes the power of magic through awakening power of the heavens and through the prophecy was granted the powerful Sword of flames, allowing him to take a hero form (based on Max Ryusoul Red) but also contests against Raizen (who takes the form of the Noblesse Ryusoul Red), but the 2 worked together to rebuild their realm of magic defeating the evil in the land.

Kirashin: Based on Mugen Damashii design and Sin Spectre design (both from Kamen Rider Ghost), puffle monsters have the infinite symbols, sparkle, and rainbow wisp horns to control their magic abilities as well as crystalline cores and weapons. From the utopian form of Genshinka society (basically 21st century or even 22nd century with magic aspects in it, the modern world of magic), basically a paradise of pure magic, with a sparking heavenly aura of magic. Rainbow wisp horns can be used as weapon form but also as symbol of magic (distinguishable trait for species). They also have different colors and arrangements of the Mugen Diamonds (the diamond things on Mugen Damashii Kamen RIder Ghost)

Genshinka: The 21st and/or 22nd century with magic included into the puffle monster society (modern day magic, with science etc). Use the powers of Gen. Shika (Generation Evolution) to summon the powers of their generation of another time, timeline, dimension, universe, multiverse, etc, granting them a new ability temporarily as their future version (or a descendant of yours) and you fuse their Xouls to create a new magic form creating a new world, timeline, etc. Based on Genshin Impact and all monster magic (so all puffle monsters have special symbols that were evolved from the modern magic) so you have magic like cooking magic, and speed for growing vegetables, construction, etc.

Vellanvia: Celtic Knot monsters that have mastered the infinite power of nature and magic. Through the infinite nature of the knots, these symbols of magic grant these puffle monsters infinite power (health, strength, etc). They have lived through ancient times and are known to be immortal (through the infinite nature of the knot symbols). Through a strange form of rune magic, they use special spells through the symbols, which allowed them to create their hidden realm of magic after a great war against the Black Heart (basically an evil spirit that used the evil powers of the knot rune granting infinite evil power, which Raizen destroyed after mastering and learning the wisdom behind the knots and symbols and created his own allowing him to master the others and defeat Black Heart (which was sent to the dark realm where Dark Will took his powers and gave it to Daevan (the new super villain for this month in the End of the World arc against the Luminaries and many others).

Astral codex: Based on Kyurangers, all constellations, Disney Treasure Planet, etc. These puffle monsters come from the infinite star systems out there in the magic universe. Found through a map (based on the golden ball in Treasure Planet) it maps out all the astral dimensions out there accessed through entering the portals which are the constellations in the sky. Each of the constellations we know are just a few, because the puffle monsters from those systems (so the leo system for example, think they are alone, and their constellations are different from ours (same stars, different arrangements plus their myths and stories creates their own constellations), and these constellations then form portals to new astral dimensions with their own puffle monsters, planets, worlds, magic, symbols, and their own set of constellations. Each star system (so leo system which contains all the puffle monsters of that astral dimension) has puffle monsters that share one system and ability unique to that star system as well as one trait about them (Scorpio system has poison abilities, and a scorpion tail at back that can be hidden away, or Pieces types can breathe underwater and swim fastest compared to Aquarius and Capricorn systems). The map (called the Astral Codex as it provides information on each star system, planet, symbol, etc) is actually a crystal ball that can shrink into a marble which Raizen stored into a dagger (similar to dagger with animal marble in Power Rangers Wild Force), that can open the portals to these different astral dimensions of any perspective (you can enter a Sword Constellation dimension (sword constellation is what Leo system sees) from Earth's perspective through the dagger as it can shape the stars to form the portal. Also used to transform into Ultimate Sword of the Astral Codex (Or Sword of the Universe) which Raizen used in his ultimate fight against Dark End (an evil astral entity made of dark matter and the creator of black holes (basically the destroyer of stars)), to save all the astral dimensions and stars. Dark End is sealed to the dark world which Dark Will takes and gives to Daevan (absorbing his power having now Black Heart and now Dark End).

Eras: Based on Ryusoulger and the ignus dragon from Dragonvale. These puffle monsters were created by the Will of the Earth, the Gaia Library, and the powers of the mysterious deity called Eras, in its core form looks like Eras from Ryusoulger, and used the magic of Gaia library and the Will of the Earth, to create puffle monster representatives to protect the magic of the Earth (their symbol and main trait is their regal personality and the wings of the Eras (looks like the wings of the Ignus Dragon from Dragonvale like a peacock). On Planet Earth, the circle of "feathers" forms the circles of magic where portals are formed for the homes of the puffle monsters (they live within the infinite magic pocket dimensions on Earth provided by Eras). Each feather can transform into a special symbol that they can take in and gain a special ability (they have thousands (like a peacock)). Fought against Dark Gaia and was sealed away, only for dark will to take and give to Daevan to prepare for the ultimate Crisis...

Luminaries: Spirits of the PM Chronicles (like Woz, IWAE!!) and uses powers of ridebooks (based on Kamen Rider Saber) from the pages and symbols of the PM Chronicles. Use the power to rewrite magic, history, everything. But have awakened from the Puffle Monster Chronicles due to there being no more pages left in the book

(the last page) which is bad because the monster book is infinite (never an end to pages as it always evolves (a magic book anyway duh)), but the last page “signals an end to the history of monsters, magic, and everything” which foreshadows the Crisis against Daevan (in which the Luminaries help out the puffle monsters to fight him off). Each luminary has a specialty (so one Luminary would rather use ridebooks based on fire magic and is a master with that power, while another Luminary with their own symbol is a master with water magic ridebooks, etc). Each luminary lives in their realm of magic within the book (like Wonderworld from Kamen Rider Saber) except for their specific unique symbol.

Roide: Based on Go-Busters Powered Custom Form. Puffle monsters of the future that took the power of their Roid companions and can transform them into data to create weapons, armor, etc by “riding” them. Each puffle monster has a unique set of Roids with special abilities and uses Roide Evolution Visors to “ride” them or armor up using them. Can use any Roid they pair with (can use another puffle monster’s roid also), and each roid fusion gives a new power to the “rider”.

Daevan: Created by the Daevan Codex wielded by the ancient Necromancer of the same name. Due to the power of Daevan the Destroyer (the evil conglomeration of dark magic created by Dark Will), the aura of the moon was changed creating the black moon which gave rise to the Necromancer sealed away in time due to his forbidden techniques of magic. It was discovered that Daevan himself was actually a hero during the early beginnings of magic, but only the first 10 forms of magic were allowed, any other forms of magic was forbidden (he controlled the magic of death) after obtaining the Codex of the Undead, and was sealed away after his discovery of magic using the fusion of all 10 forms of magic as a seal. As he was being sealed though, his dark magic burst forth creating an alternate form of him (Daevan the destroyer now) that escaped and had been free ever since, but the necromancer was sealed away in another universe (called the Dark side of the Universe), but the portal to that dark side was opened through the power of Daevan the Destroyer. The necromancer’s powers and the power of the dark energy of the Dark side of the Universe, all puffle monsters can unleash the power of the “depths of their soul” unleashing an ultimate form (dark colors, etc) and use Deep hearts instead (losing health makes them stronger), therefore making these puffle monsters immortal in most cases. Ruled by Sabone Daevan and Daevan the necromancer.

Irisxen: Based on World of Colors from Pinterest and Blade Chronicles (Video game in mind, that is basically Splice (but in a video game form with skins, characters, maps, items, abilities, etc). Puffle monsters live in Realm of magic (based on all the maps on Pinterest). The magic of auras, personas, colors, ideals, etc are evolved and transcended into a new puffle monster form of magic.

Verisia: Puffle monsters from the ancient gilded realm of magic from the Tree of Harvest (a gift for my mom when I told her about my monster game years ago). This tree has seeds of magic (symbols, worlds, etc), and a special “gilded” material (so one group from the tree is gilded by sundrop magic (golden light from line symbols around them)), infinite different gilded forms. All live in a realm of treasured magic, nature, memories, etc. Ruled and created by the Verisian Phoenix (a green phoenix made of plants (the nature phoenix)).

Kenzan: Puffle monsters that wield their magic through the Elder Scrolls of the Heavenly Winds (based on Kamen Rider Kenzan from Kamen Rider Saber series). Live in realm of magic created by the heavenly winds and ruled by the shogun, samurai, and ninja of the realm. All use magic ninja arts and special weapons to unleash symbols and powers of the scrolls.

Vereiden: Evolution of Eden, the utopia of green and nature, the ideal world of the PV Environmental Alliance. In this universe, the ruler of the now green Utopia headed by the PV Environmental Alliance (which became a huge company/government force), decided to pull a Thanos to save the Earth (eliminate half the population), which caused Redison to lose his own son and many of his friends. This caused a huge fight with the CEO, which ended the story as Redison was able to unleash the full potential of evolution (Evolution Beyond Utopia) in order to defeat the CEO, allowing him to revive all those who had been previously eliminated, and allowed him to create the magic allowing the Earth to self-evolve as more monsters are born as the Earth creates pocket dimensions for the puffle monsters to live in (in order to never have to deal with overpopulation and with Utopic Laws of Magic and Edentech, most problems are solved.) Their magic takes the form of Eyecons again (using Edentech, they created a more purified version of magic (which takes the form of eyecons) but also have a special eyecon like device allowing for Eden Evolution (a special evolution allowing it to max out), which can have varieties depending on the monster who unleashed it (Evolution Beyond Utopia, Soulburning Evolution, etc).

Avistar: Based on the Avistan region in the Pathfinder universe as well as Transient Gundam from Gundam Build Fighters Try, these puffle monsters use futuristic magic techniques, symbols, runes, etc and live in a diverse realm of magic mastering the crystalized energy of Avistar particles (using the power of soul magic, aura, persona, digital, nature, etc, all mastered through the magic of Self strength (Ore Avatar) to create a new personalized form of magic creating a greater variety of puffle monsters). Fixed the Tear in the World from Daevan's attack on their realm (using their diverse magic and special unique abilities to heal the tear, and create the infinite dimensions, timelines, etc of their realm). Use the powers of Transient Burst as well to form their powerful magic wings of Avistar particles.

Starfinder based universe: A galactic universe based on Starfinder Universe, the pact worlds, etc. These puffle monsters wield galaxy tech and special weapons, abilities and other powers from their alien worlds. Read Starfinder wiki for info.

Planescape based Universe: Includes Planescape, all planes of Dungeons and Dragons and Pathfinder universe, plus all imaginary planes of other elements (I came up with). Each puffle monster from each plane has a unique ability from each plane. Read D&D Wikipedia for campaign worlds for more info and Pathfinder wiki for info.

Golarion: Main world of Pathfinder and continents. Puffle monsters take the place of all fantasy inhabitants of Golarion (or coexist creating new puffle monsters with similar abilities). Read Pathfinder wiki for info.

Eberron: Based on Eberron Universe of Dungeons and Dragons. Puffle monster takes the powers and magic of this universe. Also lives in their set society, world, wields their weapons, spells, magic, etc while creating their own from creating the portals to the infinite other realms of magic. Read D&D Wikipedia for campaign worlds for more info.

Forgotten realm universe: Based on Forgotten realm of Dungeon and Dragons. Puffle monster takes the powers and magic of this universe. Also lives in their set society, world, wields their weapons, spells, magic, etc while creating their own from creating the portals to the infinite other realms of magic. Read D&D Wikipedia for campaign worlds for more info.

Axis: Based on the Axis, a demiplane of the pathfinder universe. Puffle monster takes the powers and magic of this universe. Also lives in their set society, world, wields their weapons, spells, magic, etc while creating their own from creating the portals to the infinite other realms of magic. Read Pathfinder wiki for more info.

Demiplane universes: Based on all the Demiplane universes of the Pathfinder universes. Puffle monster takes the powers and magic of this universe. Also lives in their set society, world, wields their weapons, spells, magic, etc while creating their own from creating the portals to the infinite other realms of magic. Demiplane universes better known for being the rough draft of Material plane of magic created by deities. Read Pathfinder demiplane worlds for more info

Kyonin: Geki force, Beast magic, flare from Beyblade burst Superking, these puffle monsters use special fantastic beast magic abilities, symbols, etc using unique magic martial arts, abilities, etc

Kaizune: If I ever come up with my own RPG game system just like Dungeons and Dragons, Starfinder, Pathfinder, etc (this is the universe all my characters would live in). These puffle monsters

Calidar: Based on Treasure planet and Calidar map (In Stranger Skies). Puffle monster takes the powers and magic of this universe. Also lives in their set society, world, wields their weapons, spells, magic, etc while creating their own from creating the portals to the infinite other realms of magic. Read Calidar information and map for further info

Triune: Based on Deity of Starfinder. These Astral Artificial Intelligence Puffle monsters, use special galactic abilities while also using their ability to create allies of magic and control them. These puffle monsters can also create worlds, universes, magic, symbols, starships, maps, etc.

Story: Crisis against Daevan. The puffle monster universe is made of the infinite planes of magic (all turned into spheres as the infinite planes of magic depending on the symbol), and now inside one giant structure consisting of many other plane clusters (galaxies, planet systems, etc). Rings of Unity still needed to fuse realms to Alison, but in the meantime, Dark Will has been busy as he has been traveling around the infinite multiverses finding and capturing the evil magic and combining them into one entity named Daevan (like the necromancer of legends), but he is Daevan the Destroyer (not Daevan the dreaded, the necromancer). This ultimate evil entity has the power to destroy the fabric of reality and beyond, making it impossible to repair. But the way Dark Will has been traveling was revealed by the book of monsters (the luminaries) and helped them to find these other RPG worlds (the ones above) with more puffle monsters from ideal worlds like mine (except popular and used) which were all combined into one structure similar to the PMU now. There is a Redison in the RPG realms (in which when I ever play them, Redison is my avatar, so he is the Redison of those worlds), plus the hero and Redison of the PMU, and the Redison/Hero of the Kaizune RPG realms (basically if I ever get to create a successful RPG or get a job at Wizards of the Coast, this would be the world I would create for my puffle monsters/characters of magic). These 3 realms meet, giving each hero the imaginary gift symbol on their hand (which they can unleash to summon the magic of the one of the other 2 realms). The 3 meet and summon their allies of their universes to fight Daevan before he destroys the realm (Basically the PSAT finale coming up on October 17, 2020 as the climax and ultimate fight against Daevan). The warriors were victorious and Daevan Necro discovered how any magic was widely accepted in the end and how it would be in the future for the next generation, which allowed him to accept his feelings and take back the dark spirit (Daevan the destroyer: his negative feelings against all monsters for discriminating against other forms of magic) into his heart and reconcile.

Anima: Based on Neomonsters and Monster Quest: Seven sins, as well as my dream about magic puffle monsters (looked more like Pokemon really..). These wild puffle monsters envision what puffle monsters may take form of in the future (since no one likes puffles, so a warrior or a beast would be way cooler). They live in the wild realms of magic untouched by Daevan and serves as a sanctuary for all magical creatures. Uses magic similar to the PMU so combining the magic realms created quite an interesting contrast for both groups.

Paradox Arc: Following the fight against Daevan, the warriors are fixing the magic realm which Daevan has wrecked (leaving the Hallowed moon, the only thing that hasn't been fixed yet…) but there have been sightings of a mysterious warrior that looks just like Redison. In Alison's realm, this Redison has actually been traveling as a hooded warrior known as Parvis (or Par for short), and been scanning areas of magic such as the portal to the PMU and areas of magic in Alison's realm to create the Gashats for his power (his main 2 are dual gashats (which contain the games Paradox Infinity, and Chrono Loop (allowing him to take his form as Redison the Paradox (a paradoxical form of Redison with abilities that he would have never gained) and Redison the Loop (created by the magic of a loophole within magic law, creating the realm in which Redison the Paradox/Loop lives in, and using the Hallowed moon plans to fuse his world to the PMU)). He unlocked the form of Lindwood Fantasy gamer (based on Fantasy Gamer from Kamen rider ex-aid), and the Dangerous Zombie form (after supposedly dying in battle against Alison's and Natasha's monsters) from Kamen Rider Genm. The paradox world (as it had been named) fusing with the magic universe could cause some problems…(works hand in hand with Halloween event). The following 5 puffle monster groups were created by Gashats made by Parviz (Paradox Redison) as that is their source of power and the way they can create worlds. In this case, the Paradox universe is actually where Magic was never real and all the games I played in the past (playing Puffle monsters, and the PMU itself, is all a video game (magic vs Imagination is the paradox). Interestingly, during the Daevan Crisis, he sent 5 groups of puffle monsters to aid in the fight against Daevan (because if Daevan destroys all worlds, what is there left to fuse with (he seems to have a dark motive…). These 5 species (below) have magic from the Paradox Universe he rules as their hero.

Perfect Puffzle: Based on the puzzle games where you match 3 or 4 balls or units to make something new or take it, such as Puzzles and Dragons, and Perfect Puzzle from Kamen Rider Ex-aid, these puffle monsters gain abilities, boosts, weapons, and can even summon allies or perform special attacks depending on what they can match (magic symbols form above them and they can control the symbols to create combos, which will create a special symbol for them to unleash).

Fantasy Battle Universe: The puffle monsters of the Video game Paradox universe. In this world, this is the version where puffles (the game I played during recess when I was in elementary school) was not magic but actually a figment of my imagination (which it was) but had no magic but was a video game run by an imaginary gaming system (like a gaming console of some sort). In this evolved version of that universe, these puffle monsters use gaming/virtual abilities similar to those of video game characters. They battle each other while also exploring other worlds, gathering items, etc. Basically how Puffle monsters was supposed to be.

Puffle Hunterz Simulations: When Jimmy and I began hunting Puffles (before the Puffles evolved into monsters), Parviz took this timeline and looped created a paradox universe here in which it became a video game like world where Hunters would find puffles, kill them, but also use items, custom weapons, and hunt in different maps, areas, etc. Based on Bang Bang shooting (Kamen Rider Ex-aid).

Blaed Chroniclez (Blade arena): The paradox version of Blade Chronicles (the game I was thinking about making if I become a video game maker which is like Splice except you have more choice of items, skins, special abilities, and can even use spells, magic, and explore the monster world with special maps with their own gimmicks, etc). In this case, Parviz takes the magic of that realm and makes it his own by giving the characters different abilities, weapons, etc (making it his own world) but also making it more arena style.

Infinity Gamer Imagin: The final evolution of the Imagination Gaming system (which runs the Video game worlds that Parviz made). This universe contains the rest of the video game worlds he made (all games in Kamen Rider Ex-aid, as well as other games I may make in the future, and all other games I like to play (racing games, Mario games, Minecraft, etc)). In this case, all puffle monsters from the video game realm lives in this virtual universe of magic and imagination. All Imagin gamers (and their worlds and games they make) end up here creating more puffle monsters.

ArcSanctum: Within the tears of Magic Spacetime, lays a realm of magic (an in-between world, or the Chasm of magic, theorized to be the world where the World-makers tinker with worlds and then send them off to the magic universe to fully form and have monsters, while at the same time leaving this Chasm as a backdoor to all realms). This was how Paradox Redison was able to cross realms such as Alison's world even though the PMU was disconnected from it (the timing of Daevan's attack was perfect, as it created the tears revealing the chasm). Within the chasm (aka Nomonesky explained below), there is one world which is home to a mysterious temple and a huge crescent like structure which is a piece of a Halo (based on the Halo worlds (the ring worlds in the game Halo)), and with a planet like structure above but emits an aura that seems to stabilize the magic of the Crescent structure. Within the Crescent structure is said to be infinite worlds of magic that was originally planned to be made by the world-makers while accounting for the infinite timelines, dimensions, etc and is now a realm of magic (a sanctuary for all puffle monsters if magic was to ever be destroyed successfully and a prototype colony of magic for puffle monsters in the future). The worlds within the Crescent can be accessed by the temple structure by the base of the Crescent. There are infinite other crescent structures and temples (all said to have been once part of a grand megastructure thought to be an experimental mega-planet (infinite worlds all in one small space, but the experiment failed causing the destruction of the structures into the crescents you see now and the dimensions split up in elemental attributes).

Nomonesky: As described above, these puffle monsters are from this realm, the Chasm of magic, the in-between backdoor to all realms of magic alike. Within this, provides a world of floating islands with mysterious magic structures unique to each island. Each floating island represents a certain group of magic (so maybe plant type universes or nature universes that the World-builders made are set up on a floating green island with lush forests and around that forest, there are portals to those universes as well as a giant tree (in which more portals lay as well as an area in which the world-builders create more nature worlds or have portals to the rough draft universes)). These puffle monsters who live within the Nomonesky use special magic (based on the symbol in Kamen Rider Saber on how to get to Avalon (through that special magic circle like thing with 13 ridebooks)), to create portals, unleash magic of their universe, and even wield unique abilities they have from being residents of the infinite Nomonesky.

Imagind: (Combine, Imagine, Magic, and Mind). Based on the idea of the Mind Palace, a memory technique which Sherlock Holmes in the BBC series used, as well as invented by the Greeks and Romans way back when, these puffle monsters come from my Mind Palace (or Mind universe) as my mind palace stores not only memories, but other attributes (ideas, dreams, and the magic universe of the PMU (so all ideas and worlds written in the past 4 and this Monster book, are part of this Mind Palace)). What makes these puffle monsters special is that they are known to wander between the “rooms” which are actually entire universes devoted to a certain idea/topic/magic element/etc, while sharing their abilities or taking a unique form in each “room”. These puffle monsters also have the ability to create their own “rooms” within the mind palace and can also alter the rooms in anyway they like (which they don’t since that would spell major trouble, but what they do instead is make a copy of a room, and then alter it to create a new version, therefore creating more magic, etc).

Inunifer: Another paradox universe created by Parviz, in which Arceus was replaced with Inuniferous, a pokemon made by Artworks218_ from the Ferra region (a custom art pokemon), and all puffle monsters made by Arceus, were replaced as Inuniferous came from the Egg of Origin and created the universe in his image (or imagination). These puffle monsters are very different in culture, magic, symbols, battle system, etc. Also ruled by Virtryph and Viceasus, and using the powers of Origin Eggs, allow them to unleash origin magic (ancient forms of magic from millenia ago).

Masketeer: Based on the Appxplore game Masketeers, these puffle monsters of this paradox universe in which the bionicles system as well as the Masketeers system was used as a source of power for the puffle monsters gave them special abilities allowing them to unleash the spirits within the masks. This also gave them unique abilities, magic, symbols, and weapons to wield. They live in a magic realm of masks in which the Great mask was created when the magic paradox universe was created and then created infinite other masks that wielded a magic spirit for a specific symbol, and with that each puffle monster (with their unique symbols as well) could combine symbols creating new combos and new symbols of magic for more spirits and puffle monsters to be made.

Alien path: Another Paradox universe part of Parviz’s system of Paradox Universes (Paraverses or Paradoverses?), in this case, puffle magic evolved as the puffles focused on the stars and space instead of magic therefore gaining power and meeting other aliens in the cosmos (based on Alien path from Appxplore), these puffle monsters are alien in nature and abilities as their magic is based on their alien capabilities and the powers of the planet. Use the powers of the cosmic codex of alien magic and tech to show abilities, symbols, and even culture and nature.

Athenaeum: Ancient puffle monsters that use special magic and are within the magic internet system created by the Luminaries within the puffle monster Chronicles. These puffle monsters created a new form of tech called the Bibliotech (which in design look like Wonder Ridebooks). All puffle monsters use these Bibliotechs to access this magic internet to be able to view the future, past, present, other worlds, timelines, dimensions, any event all across the magic plane in spacetime (in any world). These also provide information on nature, culture, symbols, spells, weapons, worlds, etc. The puffle monsters that run the system use the magic of keywords (there is a puffle monster for each keyword that runs that section of this infinite library of magic and information (their unique symbol is that keyword and each keyword has sub keywords creating more magic sections for more puffle monsters to run). Based on the Gaia Library from Kamen Rider W. The infinite library of magic of the Athenaeumons is a magic dimension of its own as it contains portals to sections, the magic shelves with the magic books of worlds, information, etc. Each book is a world of its own (hence the ability to get the information as puffle monsters can enter the world within the book). New books are being written by magic as new symbols, keywords, and puffle monsters are being made and discovered.

Soriak: Puffle monsters based off of the tech from Big Hero 6 the series as well as the powers from Unordinary. Parviz went to that world and created a paradox realm where all the characters with powers are now puffle monsters, and adding the new tech (based on Big Hero 6 the series), that can enhance their abilities

Inari: Fantasy puffle monsters from Pinterest pictures of fantasy areas, the setting and magic of Raya and the Last Dragon (the 1st teaser trailer), and the symbols like the ones for Project Humanities ASU. Another paradverse in which Parviz created a paradox of Nature world (in which Nature world was the original puffle monster/puffle home world instead of Puffle Monster world (as originally called and Nature world being in an alternate dimension)).

MC.XRXES: Mighty creator Xenith reality X, these puffle monsters are based off of the game Mighty Creator VRX (from Kamen Rider Ex-aid). The puffle monsters use the powers of the Mighty creator abilities as they can create worlds, symbols, magic, weapons, allies, etc to create new game realms of magic. Paradverse created by Parviz from the point in which I began Scratch and created games.

Aqueaous: Based on my dream of water parks, this Paradverse was created where Redison was actually a water type (hence the water parks) as well as a time loop during my Birthday party at Wet and Wild with my boy choir friends (when I turned 14 I think).

This paradverse is home to infinite water park like worlds in which there are special puffle monsters in that world based on each water park theme, slide, attraction, etc

Koreyin: Based on a dream in which puffles with unique designs (looked like drawings of puffles) were made and known as Core Puffles, these puffles were known to be the cores of magic. Created by the Puffle of the Beginning and Puffle of the End, these puffle monsters with their unique magic live in the Paradverse in which the very idea of puffle creation had been changed to be based off of the drawings. Known to be one of the more diverse paradverses of magic created by Parviz. These core puffle monsters have unique abilities depending on the world they are the core of, but also can equip armors as their outer form (use special armors based off of the puffle monsters that live on their planet they are the core of), to get fusion abilities.

Globebean: Based on the dream where I was on some giant globe that was made of Bean bag material, this paradverse has magic in which the puffle monsters control the magic of symbols to create combos, attacks, chains, and other special abilities and attacks in this unique world. Based on Perfect Knock Out from Kamen Rider Ex-aid. World created by Parviz

Zhonge: Known as the Cosmic midpoint between the planes of magic, Redison, the RPG Redison, and the Kaizune Redison, all have worlds that meet in this realm as well as being a paradverse created by Parviz in which I focus on Mandarin more, these puffle monsters are based off of Mandarin mythology, magic, etc (based off of Over the Moon Netflix Movie (Lunaria and the Jade Rabbit's potions)), these puffle monsters are extremely powerful in creating cosmic magic using potion and stardust magic, as well as magic of their auras. In this great cosmic capital, there are magic globes surrounding the capital city in which the magic of the RPG, Kaizune, PMU, and the Paradverse worlds all intermingled creating unique habitats and worlds for the puffle monsters that live within those worlds. After a great battle, now ruled by Infinite Sabre Wardeity, Redison the X (based on Dragonic Overlord the X from Vanguard). Foreshadowing of the upcoming final fight against Parviz

Paradox Arc finale: Parviz's plan was to have the Grand Paradverse become the main PMU and Parviz himself become the hero. Through this, he had to create a new PMU from scratch by creating universes from Paradox points, thus creating new worlds to fuse. However, the final phase was in motion as he returned to Alison's world to steal the rings of unity and with Paralyre created (Paradox Lyra) as well as her Paradverse, he linked her world and his world to create the Grand Paradverse. However, this plan had backfired as years later (time is irrelevant though), this Grand Paradverse become the future home to the Janus Project, a project made to create the Puffle monster of the Beginning and Puffle monster of the end, all in order to reset the PMU and GPMU (Grand Paradverse monster universe). The Puffle monster of the Beginning named Redison of the Beginning and the puffle monster of the end (Redison The True End) were created but The End went rogue and evolved into the ultimate evil after realizing his goal was to destroy all magic in both universes and beyond (evolving into Redison Zeroth The Ultimate End (using the forbidden power of Dark Gold Rush (the power to summon all puffle monsters in the universe to unleash a final rush attack, except evil (dark)). With this, Parviz returned to the PMU for help and after reconciling with Raizen, Redison, and the other heroes, fused and created the ultimate power (Redison Paradox XX) allowing for the Paradox worlds and the PMU to fuse and for paradox points to create infinite universes from them, ready for the final fight between Redison Paradox XX, Redison the Beginning, and Zeroth Redison.

Janux: Redison the Beginning, Kamen Rider Saber Dragon Arthur and Kingexaclibur mecha. Include world lines created by the future Wonder ride books (look special), and with the powers of Redison the Beginning, these puffle monsters created infinite world lines (timelines) created by the paradox points ever since the war against Zeroth Redison. These puffle monsters have unique magic abilities and symbols compared to most puffle monsters (due to being from the Grand Paradverse) but with the fusion of magic, these puffle monsters can also control timeflow and alter reality if needed. Wield the legendary sealed power of the Beginning to begin the creation of the new universe (with tons of magic planes and developments, it is time to reset and create a blank canvas for magic to proliferate once more, to which the Janux puffle monsters have the job of designing). Live in a utopia of magic within the Grand Paradverse created by Redison the beginning in which souls, spirits, etc take form of puffle monsters as well (meaning there is no death or unhappiness). Mastered the magic of renewal, evolution, etc. Each Janux puffle monster represents a certain aspect of magic (and wields the book of Beginnings for their magic symbol, allowing them control over creating world lines, evolution, new symbols, weapons, abilities, nature, etc).

V01dX3r0: Level Zero (Level X-0) from Kamen rider Ex-Aid and Redison the End. These puffle monsters live in the infinite pocket dimensions on the dark side of the moon but have finally been given passage to the PMU by the magic of the Scarlet moon as well as other moons (due to the damage of the war with Daevan, the magic spacetime has tears still in it in which other magic moons are appearing as well causing other magic effects. On the dark side of the moon, a magic was formed in which the core of the Lunar Overlord, a deity of magic that once resided on the dark side of the moon that controlled the events that occurred the last time the many moons of dimensions began to rise in the PMU many eons ago and was sealed to rest due to overexerting himself to save the PMU, has risen again and created the Pocket dimensions in which the magic effects of the moons of infinite dimensions have been minimized by creating Puffle monsters that wield the magic of it. Each V01dX3r0 puffle monster controls the void magic of the Dark side of the moon, the ultimate spells skills of the Lunar Overlord (based on Kamen Rider Brave Level 50 Taddle Fantasy), and the magic of their magic moon of their dimension. Each puffle monster also unique in their cultures, nature, spells, and their symbols have a surrounding symbol around them representing the magic moon in their home dimension (and the core of their magic).

Kalyrexyz: Calyrex Pokemon Sword and Shield. Include powers of knights, and force of alternate timelines (Redison the Purge, and other Puffles with powers to stop him if he goes to someone who is evil (in the future where Redison gave me powers, but if he went to someone evil, the other puffles are granted power by Kalyrexyz to stop him)). Also based on Kingexcalibur and Kamen Rider saber dragon Arthur as well as Kamen Rider Ex-Aid Muteki form (the gold, helmet, and invincibility). These legendary regal puffle monsters created by the High King Kalyrex himself are extremely powerful in magic, wield ancient forms of spells, have the ability to create the fabrics of magic, and are known to be invincible and undefeated. Each magic symbol has a Kalyrexyz puffle monster that rules over that symbol. The High King Kalyrex used his power along with the magic of the Chroniclers, Quintetrixentih, AIEN, Janux, V01DX3R0, and the Tenkaden/Chronoworldliners to absorb the PMU with the galaxy systems, and infinite magic universe planes, all into the Quintetrixenith of the High King (Kalyrex) and created a new universe of magic (a fresh canvas for magic to proliferate and evolve once more (all current magic comes back but in a more condensed form but can travel to their homeworlds that reside in the Quintetrixenith)).

New Hero: Kaizune (Kai for short), the 44th hero and the predecessor of the Lord of Xabrez title as well as the hero of the PMU. Has brilliantly flaming red hair like his forefathers before him, and using the Hero spirit can summon the magic of the past heroes, the ultimate hero magic, the ultimate Xenith Xabre of magic, and the ultimate Origin Xenith Xabre of the Hero King (Based on the Original Hero King from Monster Quest 7 sins).

Horaion: (Pronounced Orion), based on 8 immortals, Horai (Mount Penglai), etc, these immortal puffle monsters (design based on Number 93: Utopia Kaiser) wield powers of the heavens and the powers of utopian magic. Part of the magic universe of the Chronicler, these puffle monsters are known to be deities that have descended to repair and rebirth the broken world of magic.

Veritran: Based off of the code of life, and my dream of a great war that ravaged the magic world leading to the puffle monsters that survived the war finding sanctuary underground and being given protection by the great spirit of nature hidden underground who created pocket dimensions underground to better protect and preserve magic nature in the case all magic nature above is gone.

AIEN (Astral Imagination Existence Nexus): These puffle monsters are based off of Alison's idea that each character (in this case each puffle monster with their unique symbol, etc) has a physical life as well as a life in a fantasy realm that they exist a part of as an alternate version of themself in that fantasy/alternate universe. In the case of puffle monsters, each puffle monster, Xoul, symbol, etc has an infinite number of alternate realities that their astral form is a part of (usually in ideal realms of their own). In each universe (imaginary universe), native puffle monsters have a special symbol that signifies that imaginary universe is their home, and they each have a special ability unique to their symbol, a special ability unique to their universe, and a special ability to unleash combo magic by co-op with their counterpart of another universe (their astral existence counterpart of their fantasy universe). These fantasy universes are similar to magic world but a conceptualized greater ideal world of magic (fantasies/imagination of each puffle monster). Example is that Redison has a life here (as a puffle plush) but also has a life in the magic world (plus other infinite forms of existence, all existing simultaneously within the imaginary of the Puffle monster, which the infinite universes in their imagination with their counterpart existence had burst forth into its own magic universe plane in reality. A dual/triple/infinite existence in infinite worlds. Summon counterparts to unleash special abilities, special symbols, weapons, attacks, etc. Based on Monster Quest Seven Sins

Chronicler: Powerful puffle monsters in sync with time and known as the masters of the Books of fate. These puffle monsters each have their own magic book that records the history of worlds, magic, dimensions, of all timelines although out the great puffle monster universe. They have a direct impact on the history of magic on Earth and how puffle monster events will occur as they run the behind the scenes by sparking events or even creating new timelines for better outcomes. They also have the great power to write magic fate and create their own worlds and/or timelines and dimensions if they want to Tenkaden/Chronoworldliner: These powerful time puffle monsters have their own world lines accessed by a Chronoliner (based on the Denliner from Kamen Rider Den-O), in which each world line has infinite different timelines, dimensions, alternate imaginary existence universes, and their timelines, dimensions, etc. All those worlds stated before are all in one point in the world line, and the world line moves in a line in the magic spacetime in which time passed and the magic of that world line point evolved. The Tenkaden puffle monsters have the ability to travel between the infinite world lines that differ in symbols, worlds, nature, attributes, etc. Puffle monsters of each world line are different but similar in certain aspects. Tenkaden puffle monsters each run one world line and use a special symbol and magic ability based on that power to control the world line, creating paradoxes, and alternate world lines from creating splits.

Quintetrixenith: The ultimate puffle monsters of magic and wisdom. Known to be the oldest and most ancient species of magic creatures to date, these deity puffle monsters write and create Quintetrixeniths (Giant magical astral books that store Xenith clocks within the pages and has infinite worlds of magic stored in each page of the book). Each puffle monster has their own Quintetrixenith they are in charge of as they write the fate of magic and each Xenith within the pages while also moving through the worlds/dimensions/etc with ease as an observer.

Konzern: Legendary puffle monsters that wield the magic powers of the Angelic knights of the light. Design based on Kamen Rider Brave Taddle Legacy, these legendary puffle monsters live in a utopian universe of magic in which magic has reached its pinnacle. These puffle monsters use the ability of masks and armors and wield the magic of the villain or the hero (just like in Kamen Rider Brave Taddle Legacy), and are known to be unmatched in chivalry, bravery, etc. These puffle monsters all wield a magic of Excalibur or other legendary weapons and Hero Kings. Wield the strongest armor (like Gravity Destroyer Beyblade) and wield the magic of the Halo and all other magic symbols from my dream last night about a city with different magic symbols all around. Each armor and puffle monster form is also based on all arms from Kamen Rider Gaim.

Enlightened/Chakra: Use magic of Chakra discs and magic symbols to summon legendary spirits of the Enlightened to unleash new abilities of magic and create new forms and combos. Each Chakra has infinite different forms depending on the puffle monster symbol being fused with (and each puffle monster with their 7 different chakras, each chakra can combine with an infinite number of Enlightened spirits of the Chakra discs, to unleash a new ability, form, boost, etc). These fusions create new puffle monsters with a new form of Chakra, and puffle monsters who master the fusions become known as the Enlightened and create a spirit form in which other puffle monsters can fuse with to create their Chakra combo or new Enlightened form.

Miraigemn: Cyber puffle monsters of the far future in which VR gaming, AR gaming, MR (mixed Reality) gaming, and XR (Cross Reality) gaming has reached its pinnacle in technology and magic as Puffle monster magic as fused with it creating the ultimate magic gaming. Using the powers of the imagination, these puffle monsters (like Kamen Rider Genm God Maximum Mighty X) have the powers to create their own magic symbols and games to unleash special abilities to their games they came up with making them invincible in a sense as their powers are limitless to their imagination (of course, each symbol has an infinite imagination, but different symbols have their own ideas and imagination creating unique games for each puffle monster with a unique symbol). They can create puffle monsters as well with their own symbols to create games of their own, and use magic to create utopian magic worlds where they live in (based on Kamen Rider Ex-Aid Mighty Creator VRX). These puffle monsters are also based on my dream of a super futuristic car with strange symbols and holographic tech within the car, so these puffle monsters use the holographic symbols to maximize their ability to create worlds, weapons, abilities, etc to gain the advantage in battle Daimaximum: Based on Eternatus and Dynamax (Both from Pokemon Sword and Shield), Puffle monsters use the magic of the Dynamax stones allowing them to grow massive in size (similar to the giant puffle monsters created by the factories way back when, and Jumbo puffles with forms based on Skylander Giants). These puffle monsters use their dynamax or gigantamax forms to unleash powerful new abilities of magic in proportion to their massive stature. Live in a reimagined universe of magic in which everything is gigantified in proportion to fit the dynamax and gigantamax puffle monster but also have structures and areas that fit when the puffle monsters shrink to normal size (so it accommodates both giant and normal size). Ruled and created by the mysterious beast Eternatus who created the stones and ability to manipulate the aura to grow in size and power.

Xaiyunn: Based on the armors of Kamen Rider Saber and other riders of the same series, these puffle monsters wield a reimagined form of magic in which they wield armor abilities and the abilities of spirit armors allowing them to unleash new abilities based on the spirit power summoned from their armor. Each magic symbol has its own spirit armor and puffle monsters that wield spirit armors that aren’t part of their element group can create a new group of symbols and elemental magic. An armor fusion can also grant stronger abilities and unique powers while also creating new symbols. These puffle monsters live in the reimagined magic universe in which spirit armors and symbols are created and prosper best (magic symbols normally used are foreign to that reimagined universe, as magic symbols are portrayed differently).

Zangetzu: Legendary magic shogun puffle monsters that wield the magic of the elemental flare banners (based on Kamen Rider Gaim Kachidoki Arms and flags). These puffle monsters each bear their magic symbol on these banners that flare up when used and act like sword/spear weapons. However, when flared up, the banners can be used to draw out magic symbols to unleash powerful spells or boost abilities. All puffle monsters based on design of Kamen Rider Gaim and other riders from the same series. All live in a magical reimagined Earth and magic universe in which it is all about warring kingdoms and empires, but all species have lived in peace for a while now ever since the last great war.

Xyzenith: Based on Astrograph Sorcerer, Xyz monsters from Yugioh (Arc-V and Zexal). These legendary puffle are created by the power of dimensional fusion as well as timeline magic fusing. These puffle monsters use the magic of the Overlay network (A spiral galaxy magic system in which the puffle monsters as comet-like stars enter and fuse with the puffle monsters used) and creating a new puffle monster with a special symbol fusion. Said to be made of antimatter, these puffle monsters are actually made of all infinite types of magic matters, and around them in the form of light orbs with their special magic symbol that they originally were formed by are known as Overlay units or Xyz material. These orbs can enter the puffle monster allowing for a special ability, boost in stats, or special attack or new power/weapon/etc. These puffle monsters are different compared to other fused puffle monsters as they are said to be not of any specific dimension.

Kiryu: Based on Kamen RIder Build (the full bottles) and Jingle Jangle (Netflix Movie) with the magic symbols and formulas. These puffle monsters are known to be the next generation of puffle monsters created by science and magic through the full bottle magic tech and magic formulas for special tech, abilities, spells, etc. These puffle monsters wield the formulas to create new abilities, tech, weapons, etc. Also use the ability of fusing elements (combo of full bottles in best match plus different abilities for each element used). Each puffle monster with their unique symbol can create an infinite amount of one specific elemental form (infinite forms of one class of symbol used in the bottles, magic formulas, etc)

Synchronyte: Based on Synchrome Beyblades (Beyblade Shogun Steel). Puffle monsters use the ability to fuse their auras and ultimate spirits of form through their aura creating a brand new aura and symbol as well as an ultimate new level puffle monster with a brand new aura spirit form created by the fusion. Their symbol fusing, aura fusing, Xoul fusing, etc creates a new power, ability, stats, etc. Each puffle monster Xoul has their own special aura beast in which their aura personifies a more powerful puffle monster form through the aura in which they can tap into for more power and full potential. In the case of the Synchronyte abilities, the aura beasts can fuse/sync to another puffle monster's aura creating a new temporary fusion of aura energies granting new symbols, abilities, and even a new form (temporarily)

Infected/Z3tah3x: Puffle monsters created by the infected program. Basically Zombie genm puffle monsters in which they are still elemental puffle monsters (normal puffle monsters with their magic abilities) but change in design slightly as they are now more pale due to the new Z3ta virus which transforms them into a zombie like puffle monster warrior in which they can't die (if they are broken, they just come back up like Zombie Genm from Kamen Rider Ex-Aid). They also use an infected version of their magic ability in which an attack could cause a poisoning or paralysis effect or even infect the opponent creating a clone of the puffle monster but now infected. Live in the zombie apocalypse realm (or the puffle monster world where all are infected, but live normal lives interestingly enough)

Titanfist: Martial art puffle monsters ruled by Magmagrabber (now named Marcus) and his Dragoknuckle and Titanfist techniques. Each puffle monster wields unique style of techniques to enhance their magic abilities and unleash special magic through their unique fighting style and can use their elemental magic fused with their fighting style techniques to create new spell attacks (like water magic plus a punch can create a magic shark made of water to attack, or fire plus punch makes a dragon, etc). These puffle monsters also use techniques based off of the Beylin Fist (based off of Beylin Fist from Beyblade Metal Masters) and the scrolls of the ancient art of titanfist, mastering and controlling the magic aura, elemental magic, symbol, and unique fighting style to create an entirely new form of fighting. These fighting styles can also change forms of monsters like Urshifu (Pokemon Sword and Shield expansion pack), as puffle monsters can use a variance of their fighting style plus a variance or normal magic symbol to create a new style (with new attacks, abilities, stats, etc) and may even grant a new form.

Kaito: These phantom puffle monsters of the underworld illuminati like criminal fighting society are ruled by 3 puffle monsters, the Crimson Bolt, the Maroon Rogue, and the Vermillion Vandal. The crimson bolt, the master and leader of the group wields a powerful dual edged staff and unleashes magic of the red lightning, the Maroon Rogue, master brawler and tactician wields magic bending, and the Vermillion Vandal, master of the skies and the master marksman (both shotgun, rifle, and gatling gun) using the phoenix wings to fly and shoot from the air unseen. These 3 run the other clan members in which their goal is to find the relics of magic and technology and steal it before the corrupt government takes it. Basically the Phantom thieves of the Puffle monster universe. Other Kaito puffle monsters live in the underworld (not really, but like the gangster underworld if you know what I mean) as well as they are hidden in the shadows within their own secret lairs around Maroon City, home to the Kaito clan. The standard puffle monster uses normal spy gear as well as stealth suits in order to steal the relics as needed. Common weapons used include the shotgun and dagger and can be charged by magic abilities to enhance fighting if needed.

Blademaster: Ruled by Guren and Sieg, these legends run the great school of magic in which each puffle monster wields their own special blade/sword. This school excels in blade forging, unique sword fighting styles, special magic blade fighting techniques, and special symbol magic combos to fuse with their unique sword fighting skills and techniques. These puffle monsters live in an imperial magic dimension in which the sword rules. Based on Bladedancer attribute from Buddyfight, and other Sabre puffle monsters Aronyte: Based on The Witch and the Bull Webtoon, these puffle monsters have special crystal cores (like the Witch's birthstones) that allow them to unleash powerful magic. They each use the magic of the cosmos, elements, etc allowing them to summon magic of the astral realm summoning warriors, weapons, items, or performing healing, rejuvenation, etc. These puffle monsters can vary based on astral stance (one unique symbol has infinite different astral stances) and each puffle monster can change their astral stance by performing the ritual or spell to change stances. Each stance gives them a special ability, stats, or bonus ability, or even a new elemental form and spells. Ruled and founded by the legend, Xenith as the astral master.

Genkaei (限界突破): The following characters means Limit Break in Japanese (Genkai Toppa). These puffle monsters use the powers of limit break (in a magic form known as Limit Exceed), allowing them to unleash their ultimate magic form changing their symbol to an ultimate form. Each puffle monster has an infinite number of Limit break techniques (One puffle monster can unleash Limit break Flare or Limit break buster, etc). Each puffle monster also have their own special flare (powerful aura and fighting spirit in the form of a flame). Based on the Limit break beys and flares of the 3 characters in Beyblade burst Sparking. Live in a magic universe of limit breaking abilities. Originally created as a solution to the powers of Summoners (they gave me the power to use magic based on any species in the monster books), and I use a ton amount of energy to create a new species (to use a magic if not in the book originally). This species acts as loophole to that rule as these puffle monsters give me the ability to Limit Break Genesis/Creation (use no energy to create any species needed) which will take form as a species under the Genkaei puffle monsters.

Xygmus/Xygma: Puffle monsters of magic that defy physics (combine magic and physic) creating a new type of puffle monster with the ability of dimensional overdrive, which allows them to wield the powers of one ultimate form through a special fusion. This involves each dimensional counterpart to tribute one symbol (one ability) and combine with one puffle monster (any dimensional counterpart) and create an ultimate symbol and form (unique due to the infinite combinations of tribute symbols) which their aura and symbol power actually bends the fabric of magic spacetime meaning they can't be in that form for a long time. Based on Yugioh Arc V and the Puffle monsters Sigmus and his many dimensional counterparts (during Legend festival, they unleashed this power in battle against Kaizune). Their world they created has puffle monsters with infinite dimensional counterparts and all can use this ability. Also based on Eternatus (Pokemon Sword and Shield), and Eternamax (their ability of dimensional overdrive and their aura created by their Xygma symbol creates a red sky above due to the warped magic spacetime by the summoning of power from the Exceed dimension (magic dimension beyond all dimensions, magic, and science))

Summoners: From the Lost Centureron, these puffle monsters wield the powers to summon puffle monsters of their infinite universes (each puffle monster has infinite symbols, and each symbol has their own universe with their own unique puffle monsters, nature, worlds, etc). These summoner puffle monsters summon these puffle monsters from their universes to act as allies or even act as boosts (turn into weapons, symbols for abilities and spells, etc). These summoners also make up the Court of Magic which gave me the powers of magic (summon any puffle monster to wield magic but only using species written in the book of puffle monsters or I can create a species to wield their magic (but I use tons of energy) but with the power of Genkaei, I broke the limits of the magic rule). These summoners and their puffle monsters from their universes they each own in their magic all live in the mysterious realm of magic in which time is irrelevant (found in the Lost Centuria). Based on AFK arena, Monster Quest Seven Sins, Summoners war Lost Centuria, etc. Uses advanced magic runes (and magic and rune science advances with magic tech, etc), basically a more advanced future of magic (more modern as well) for puffle monsters in which puffle monsters are now more like deities (since they can summon powers from their own personal universes (which they have an infinite number of, based on their symbols and abilities).

Lumos/Shining Legacy: Based on Kamen Rider Ex-Aid Hyper Muteki. These ultimate shining puffle monsters use the magic of the great star and invincibility but also use the ability of summoning their Absolute Perfect Future/Past/form from a timeline through the magic of controlling the ages (shining legacy ability). These puffle monsters can summon these forms by temporarily distorting the magic space-time but can summon powers from a time dimension/Age beyond the magic space-time known as the Shining Dimension. These puffle monsters than fuse with their alternate perfect self, to unleash a special unique form temporarily but creates a special fusion symbol that can create its own timeline/world line/etc. Uses the magic fo the stars and alternate constellations (Based on stars from Vanguard IF) Fantatista/Mugen Genesis: Use Xymbols (Ultimate special magic symbols combined with Xoul magic and created in the Sorcerers Century and Magic Millenia) and Magic books. These puffle monsters come from a mysterious magic space-time dimension that is home to the magic book of creation which created all symbols, magic, puffle monsters etc. These puffle monsters use the powers of magic books (which constitutes all magic laws, stories, myths, abilities, weapons, etc) and the magic of Fantatista Rings (Based on Armored Dr. Strange from Cartoon Hooligan), as these puffle monsters use the magic of the rings to summon magic energy from the Fantasy universe/Magic millenia/ Sorcerers Century/etc, to unleash powerful magic spells, create new puffle monsters, as well as create universes of magic (Skylanders worlds and powers), and use special abilities of the Xymbols compared to puffle monsters that use normal symbols.

ZCX: Zeroth Chronicles X, based on Zero Game. Puffle monsters from an expansive online MMORPG universe of magic (based on EVE online, Zero Game, Ready Player One (OASIS), World of Warcraft, Hearthstone, etc). These puffle monsters were created by a video game where in my imagination, my friend in Canada named Trenton became a programmer in the future and created the game Zeroth Chronicles, which became home to some puffle monsters that acted as mobs and allies to the players. However, a hack occurred locking all puffle monsters and players' conscience into the game, so the PMU and Puffle monster company decided to send Kaizune into the game through a special version of the game accessed by fusing the main code of Zeroth Chronicles, and PMU magic to create a brand new game (ZCX) but was then evolved further into a VR game (as it was safer and better accustomed to PMU magic and creation abilities) becoming ZCCVRX (Zeroth Chronicles Creator VRX)), allowing Kaizune to control time (ZCX like Kamen Rider Cronus Pause, Restart, and Reset), but also allowing him to create objects, magic puffle monsters, and perform spells (similar to Kamen rider Ex-Aid Mighty Creator VRX, and Kamen rider Brave Taddle Fantasy/Legacy).

Ziegen: Super armored puffle monsters like the Armored avengers, F4, X-Men, and villains of marvel made by Cartoon Hooligans. They use special magical nanite particles custom created by their magic symbol and core allowing them to use magic tech to enhance and max their abilities and potential. Known to be the next generation of puffle monsters in the far future with powerful magic abilities and awesome looking forms! Each puffle monster with their unique symbol can summon different unique armors. Each symbol comes with an infinite different types of armors and magic nanites.

Archeus: Ancient nature puffle monsters of the Arches National Park. They use the magic of time hidden in the Arches as they use their magic to use the Arches as portals to travel throughout the land in different time lines or even get to other parts of the park. These puffle monsters also control the magic of the Living soil (Biological Crust) and the mysterious walking rain. They also work and can fuse with the magic spirits of nature while also using the magic of Geomancy and Glyph magic, as they use the ability to draw symbols on the sand and rocks to unleash spells to create the land or magical pocket dimensions within paintings of symbols on the stone face of the mountains in the area. Certain areas include the Pinyon pine forest, petrified sand dunes, sand pit area (near the sand dune arch), the window arch area, the meadows near the broken arch, Double arch, and other areas in the map like devil's arch and etc. Elements are fire (hidden within the Fiery Furnace), Earth (Everywhere), Life (meadow and forests), and water (go back in time to find them in the ancient oceans or in potholes in current time). Also there is the special walking rain type, biocrust type, and the light, star, and dark types as well. Ice types appear in winter and sand types in the sand dunes.

Firithyr: Mysterious and powerful puffle monsters of the islands in the sky in Canyonlands NP. Born from the magic of the Sky stone, these puffle monsters look like Bdman and SD gundam. And use special magjc abilities. Different elemental types in different parts of the park. There are also magical floating islands around the area as the magic capital. Each puffle monster has a special magic ability and the ability to fly or control the magic of gravity to fly, levitate, etc. These puffle monsters use the powers of emblem charge to unleash their wings and special attacks/abilities/etc

Frosteel: These puffle monsters were originally from Telluride, Colorado. Known for living in the ultimate frozen kingdom of magic. They have been hidden within time as they live in a magic of Absolute zero temperature as their magic world is within the absolute zero temperature. These puffle monsters are special as they can move within the absolute zero temperature as time isn't frozen for them. These puffle monsters use special ice abilities as well to control their magic environment (enhancing the absolute zero) or special magic attacks that works best in the absolute zero time realm.

X-Force: Mysterious puffle monsters that control magic circles in a different way. In this case, their magic circles bend the fabrics of reality and space-time itself as they can shift the directions of attacks, warriors, and abilities into different directions (used as a deflection ability) or could also use it as a form of attack (allowing them to guarantee their attack or ability to take effect, or even maximize its potential through these fabric bending abilities). Lead by the hero known as X (the 100th hero of the PMU in the distant future), this was X's first mission and his main power (and so are the puffle monsters he discovered). They wield a special magic tech ability allowing them to bend the fabrics of reality-space-time in order to time travel, create new symbols, world lines, universes, and pocket universes. X came from the future to stop the first Covid infected super puffle monster to spread the virus and destroy/cure it once and for all, as in X's future, the virus evolved into Covid-20X (which turned puffle monsters into zombies like Kamen Rider Genm Dangerous Zombie). In this future, the puffle monsters live in barriered magic worlds and cities (no universe splitting anymore because the virus travels all over). These abilities can work even when time is frozen

Soleilgon: Through the portals of Infinite dimensions, these puffle monsters wield the core of Soleilgo (based on Solegos Circuit from Ducktales), as these puffle monsters wield the powers of the infinite dimensions and can create fusion abilities through the fusion of symbols from the infinite dimensions they can summon through their ability to create portals and rifts in the magic space time. Live in a mysterious realm of magic with constantly fluctuating magic space time as the rifts are being constantly opened but also known to be the hub of infinite dimensions as other puffle monsters from those dimensions are also able to travel around and fuse abilities

Noxus: Nox Dragon from Dragonvale and Yokai Watch Jam (Yokai Academy) as well as the magic from Suitor Armor (Webtoon). These puffle monsters use a special magic ability of rift magic control as well as the abilities to summon spirits from Yokai dimensions, use special symbols, but also have mastered the magic from the Rift of Enchantments, as these puffle monsters use special enchantments of abilities to enhance their abilities and create new combos of magic symbols and powers. Live in the magic universe of the Rift of Enchantments and enchantment spirits. Some enchantment spirits can fuse as an enchantment with a puffle monsters (through the symbol thing similar to the powers in Yokai Watch Jam), allowing a powerful fusion symbol, powers, weapons, and abilities.

Zentheon: Ruled and created by the Ultimate Astral Titan (creator of Valkyrion Hero Xoul), and also includes Zodiac book series universe, and powers of Kamen Rider Build (magic equations) as well as powers and worlds of Alien Worlds (Also show on Netflix). These alien puffle monsters use the powers of the astral code (a powerful cosmic force created by Zentheon himself) allowing puffle monsters to unleash special symbols to summon the powers of unique planets in their universe and powers from each symbol within that planet. Each puffle monster became a universe itself and is known by their magic ring around them with special symbols within the ring allowing them to summon the symbols to create a portal to summon magic from that planet, or any symbol from any planet within their universe. These symbols can include anything from nature, emotion, memories, histories, myths, and stories. These puffle monsters basically have the same level of power as the Valkyrion Hero Xoul (within the Hero Xoul). Zentheon is known as the ultimate Creator of the Xoul titans and creator of the Xouls as well.

Zeronus: Known as the envisioners, they wield illusion, imagination, and ideals to recreate time. Fight against Ohma Grand ZIO (risen by Dark Will in his final plan to eliminate magic). These puffle monsters wield powerful abilities to recreate time but also have the powers to summon portals of time to summon allies and warriors from infinite timelines to help in battle or fuse with them to create powerful Envisioner forms to unleash legendary abilities. These puffle monsters also act as the managers of time and watch over all time dimensions to make sure time runs smoothly and in order. When Ohma Grand ZIO came back, they decided to act and fight him in order to bring order to timelines again.

Northereale: Magic based on Christmas Chronicles 2 and Jingle Jangle (Both on Netflix). These powerful puffle monsters were created as warriors of the Holiday spirit as they use christmas magic and tech, but also use magic equations of joy and hope to create happiness to all the monsters, children, etc all over the world and magic world as well. These puffle monsters are said to help Santa Claus with his job while also acting as the Santa Claus of the Monster universe, creating toys, worlds, weapons, armors, and even abilities.

Zynune: Based on Inuniferous and the Final Conclusion of Magic (concluding arc for the December month). The original Zynune is known as the Deity of Endings and Conclusions (the opposite of Janus and Arceus), but was sealed away during a great battle and Janus took his powers in the form of the Eye of Zynune which was wielded by a staff. In this case, Dark Will steals the Eye and finds the tomb of Zynune and awakens him to devour the world again once more. In this case, Janus and Arceus used what power remained in the staff as well as combining their magic to create a good version of Zynune puffle monsters which use special abilities of absorption to create and take new forms of magic creating new unique symbols and abilities. Dark Zynune used the powers of Dark Will's Book of Ruin (The PMU chronicles except chronicling the villains throughout history), allowing Zynune to summon all villains of the past and take their abilities to the max while evolving them (Ohma ZIO II returns as Ohma Grand ZIO II, Speeda Demon becomes Speedelzebub, and all the Dark dragons such as Drazeros (B-Daman), Vanity Destroyer (Buddyfight Ace), Azi Dahaka (Buddyfight), and Dragod of TIme (Buddyfight Ace), and many more, as these dragons all fuse with the form of Jaou Dragon (Kamen Rider Saber) for Dark Zynune to become Zynune Jaou THE END!! All of this is to revive Redison THE ULTIMATE END and his evil clan of future evil Redisons). These Zynune puffle monsters use the powers of the books of magic (taking words and the magic definitions of words as magic power/symbols to absorb and transform as a new form). Zynune and absorption powers based on Inuniferus, Dull Inuniferus, and Vivid Inuniferus from artworks218_. These puffle monsters maximize the magic abilities they absorbed through the magic definitions.

Ultechron: Based on Ultron (Avengers), and the Armored Avengers and villains from Cartoon Hooligans. From a future where the conclusion of magic was the evil of humans, and puffle monsters created to destroy them to recreate the Earth into the likeness of the Monster world, these armored sentient puffle monsters use their powers to destroy humans. However, after some reprogramming, a group of the Ultechron puffle monsters were evolved and upgraded to fight off the evil puffle monsters and destroy Ultron once and for all.

Axura: Uses the powers of the Chronicle Creators, Dragonic Knight and King Lion Senki (both from Kamen Rider Saber). Symbols are based on Spiral Art circles. These legendary puffle monsters use powerful abilities through the books of Chronicle Creation, granting them the ability to write the future of magic, powers, weapons, myths, and worlds, creating stories of magic, characters, fantasy worlds with their own lore, and creating themselves powerful armors, abilities, weapons, etc based on the fantasy stories and universes they create through their own Chronicles. Each puffle monster can create an infinite amount of Magic chronicles for themselves to use

Phazer: Based on Webtoon Phase, these puffle monsters of the future have mysterious powers to phase through magic spacetime. Have mysterious triangle crystal like energy around them. These puffle monsters have travelled the magic universe looking for a place to safely hide and cultivate their magic abilities.

Auruxe: Fusion abilities based on the Faction Fusion Bakugan of Bakugan Armored Alliance. Puffle monster example is Redison X Kaizune or Redison X Redson. These puffle monsters mastered the abilities of Aura fusion, which allows them to fuse their abilities, Could, symbols, etc allowing for a new power to be created (albeit temporarily, due to magic space time fluctuation issues the magic may cause). This was solved by creating a magic universe based on that magic power created by each fusion Mechvolution: Powerful puffle monsters that use the mysterious powers of the Infinity Cloud Engine, which through the powers of imagination created the cores of these puffle monsters allowing them to create any machine/vehicle needed (Based on Skylanders Superchargers). These puffle monsters than allow them to also armor up in certain armors, equip special weapons, etc. From the future in a war against the Shark Vaccuum (in which puffle monsters from it, created a city and raided other cities as pirates), and which evolved into a war where moving cities fight for materials and attack each other (Based on Mortal Engines). These puffle monsters then created super vehicles for them to equip and allow for better movement and road fights.

Endelete: When I failed my Python MTA during the Winter of 2020, I got angry about Computer Science and my skills, and dark will took advantage of that and created a new form of digital puffle monsters to eliminate magic again. These puffle monsters are similar to the Deletors in Vanguard, as they use their abilities to eliminate magic (memories, xouls, etc). Dreadison (Dark Redison) created a dark twin known to be Redison the ENDelete. Which we were able to ally with until we can form an alliance with the rest of the Endelete types (if I pass an MTA exam to avenge my failure)

Quantimaginate: The counterpart of the Endelete puffle monsters. During a battle against Caitlin Campos, the Art Queen, Redison the ENDelete was able to delete a force of magic she acquired through a puffle monster magic card which fused with her art powers, and combined with the magic of the Delete dimension, these puffle monsters were returned to have the ability to create and realize magic from their imaginations, as opposed to deleting, they create magic with their powers.

Starkangel: In a universe where Redison is known as Redison Stark (Tony Stark), he died in the PMU version of Avengers Endgame, but in the case, he went to heaven and became part of the Military Corps of Spiritual Warfare against the Demons (part of HALO corps) as he created special technology armors and weapons for each angel, archangel, Seraph, etc which combined HALO Tech and spiritual magic powers with Stark Tech. Redison Stark now wields a white armor known as Starkangel Mark 1, while others wield armors like Mark 3 (battle cry) or Mark 8 (Seraphim Storm), etc.

Mu-Gen: From a puffle monster universe in the future in which all puffle monsters found a way to separate their minds, memories, magic, and Xoul into a chip and implanted them into new artificial magic bodies, allowing them to live forever and constantly evolve (Mu-Generation or Generation Infinity), as these puffle monsters acquire powers, knowledge of weapons and magic from all time periods and fuse it with their unique symbol powers or acquire a special symbol from each time they are “Reborn” but then add that new symbol to their library of symbols “from their past lives”.

Forever Future: Based on and ruled Mega Arceus Future form (by Valoo-art). This alternate version of Arceus (which was caused due to the interference of Zynune and his universe), decided that the future was better and more ideal, so he found a way to warp spacetime and created a loop (kinda) where it is always the future (Hence, forever future). These puffle monsters have an ever-changing ability as they always are in the future (but since time is not relevant in some cases, this universe is home to the most advanced tech, medicine, magic, culture, etc) creating an ideal universe based on that forever future form, while living in the ideal universe of magic that always changes (or has some time portals to other parts of the future timeline)

Permanent Past: Based and ruled by Mega Arceus Past form (by Valoo-art). This alternate version of Arceus (due to interference of Zynune) decided the past was better, and looped the magic spacetime to create a forever past (Permanent past) in which the powers of memories, ancestry, and knowledge is prized above all things and used to build up their culture (basically our time but a bit held back and more advanced and focused on history, memories, etc). These puffle monsters also found a way to bring relics, artifacts, historical figures, alternate timeline historical figures, the infinite fossils, and even memories to life as a puffle monster and Xoul.

GMEON (Genesis/Grand Magiversemaster Eve Origin Nexus): Based on final conclusion of magic and revelation of the Supreme Clan of Origin, in which there were infinite different eggs of origin (which created Arceus, Xenith, and Zynune), therefore creating infinite different magic universes of puffle monsters, each with their own magic based on their evolution created by their Original Deity. These all were created by the Supreme Core, Grand Magiversemaster Eve (a great ball of light that created the infinite eggs of origin and the ancient council of the Grand Magiverse Masters that watch over the Forever Future and Permanent Past as of now, who also descended and created puffle monsters with their special unique abilities of their own to act as successors later on. GMEON includes all puffle monsters descended from the infinite eggs of origin and their respective universes, timelines, dimensions, etc, as well as the ones descended from the Grand Magiverse Masters. These puffle monsters all will fuse back into the Supreme Core Eve heralding a new era of magic (through Monster Book 6, with a new hero).

Aziryth: Ruled by by the twin sister of Zynune, she rules the magic realms of the Mageverse with magic of the gates, doorways to magic, infinite realities (based on the Watcher from Avengers What If?), and the armored Infinity power from Bakugan Armored Alliance. So what happened was Zynune became evil due to the loss of his twin sister Aziryth, in a great battle of the Council of Origin and against the dark force of evil from the Dark Dimension, and because of that loss of his sister, he gave in to the dark force from the dark dimension causing him to go berserk and evil, creating his own dark universe of magic. However, he had a split conscious allowing him to create an opening of good where the other puffle monsters from the universes of the other members of the council could fix and purify his universe until they can purify Zynune himself. However, this was done through Eve's Discovery of The Infinite Prism of Possibility, which fused with her and created infinite versions of Eve. Which created their own council of Origins, and universes of their own. One of them brought Aziryth back through a mysterious portal, which showed how she never really died, but got absorbed by the prism of possibility, in which she developed the magic system of possibility and the magic universe of gateways of fantasy. Based on art from Tom Kaminski (randomspirits) on Instagram, combined with puffle monster magic, powerful symbols, etc. Each puffle monster has the ability to summon a legendary armor of their own to unleash Infinity Evolution, but also lead to the creation and fusion of Infiniteve (Eve's fusion with all her infinite forms and their magic universes) This fusion created one great PMU with infinite other universes created by the many forms of Eve within the new PMU, and thus heralding a new era of magic with a new hero as well. With the return of his sister, Zynune snapped out of his evil and purified to become part of the Zynune species stated earlier. Now begins the new era of magic in this brand new PMU
