The 45 Heroes/Warriors

1. Solar
2. Redison, Fury, Sabone, Phoenix (Daredevil)
    a. Shin Redison Xenith (Redison) (Elder Redison now, or the original puffle plush Redison) is now Celestial Sword Sage, Shin Redison ArchXenith (wields a powerful staff and can summon any sword and weapon)
        i. Average height, Fiery personality, Flaming red hair, bright orange eyes, Crimson Trench Coat with gold and white flame designs on it and his symbol at the heart of the coat. Inner shirt is a bright red shirt with a phoenix symbol on it, wears khakis, red and white sneakers, and has the brightest smile on his face (In Kaixenith form)
        ii. In Archxenith form, still wields staff but now dons a shining white monk robe with rainbow flames and gold phoenix designs on it with his symbol on the hood, the back, and the front
        iii. To avoid confusion of the many Redisons in existence
            1. Shin Redison ArchXenith (plush Redison) will be called Redison by my family, Alison, and my friends maybe... but public name will be Xaesar Regis Xenith (By University time, Redison will absorb all past avatars and take the name as Regis (Reggie) Xaesar)
            2. Redson will be known as Ren Xaesar)
            3. Redison Kaixenith is known as Kai
    b. Sabone Valkyrie (my sword from Spain Valkyrie and Sabone, my first puffle on Club Penguin website) fused with the powers of the Blue dragon, transcending into Ultimate Starfire Dragon Rider, Sabone Valkyrie Nova (Based on Motor Nuclear mn-q03)

        i. Slightly shorter than Redison but taller than Redson, he has dark blue unkempt hair and sky blue eyes, wears a navy blue jacket with a sky blue dragon on the back and jeans, a light blue shirt with a gold V on it, and red and blue sneakers. A lot more energetic than Redison

3. Redson, Magmagrabber (Marcus)(based on Main character of Wonderful 101), Hune (Menehune Fire puffle monster from Hawaii 2015)
    a. With the ultimate power of the Golden Dragon, Redson evolved into Ultimate Dragonic Saber, Golden Flare Redson (Based on Motor Nuclear mn-q01 (Yellow dragon)
    b. He inherited his fiery personality and burning curiosity from his father, as well as his fiery red hair and orange eyes. Not as formal as his father, he wears a red hoodie with a golden dragon design on the back and his symbol on the front, jeans, an orange shirt with a sun on it, black and red sneakers, and crimson glasses.

42. Ryder
43. Raizen
44. Kaizune
45. Redison II (Successor the Red star and the Grand Hero Eve Core), Scar
    a. Scar: Evolves to be Scar Z, Scarlord, Scarlord Oblivion, and a new form later on… the partner of Derek (Dark Will of the Alterverse and Valhellaverse). Redison with a darker hue of red (crimson ish) and a large scar over his right eye that glows when magic is used.
46. Xaesar (Xenon), Redison The Absolute King, Redison of the Zeroth Future, Redison D (Red D)
    a. Redison the Absolute King is from the War of the Absolute Story Arc. Rules all magic in the future as the final Redison and ultimate hero
    b. Redison of the Zeroth future is Redison of the future where I die early before becoming an adult (zero future or zeroth future). Purified to become ruler of Origorem while dark and evil spirit of him is absorbed by Dreadison (Partner of Dark Will)
    c. Redison D: Redison Doppelganger, and partner of Will D (doppelganger), uses powers of the Gemclone. From the Diamantium arc

47. Regis or Reggie (as shobe calls him)(Radon)
48. Kaizenith (Redison's new reincarnation), Ryugen (Argon, and the 3rd noble brother like Xaesar and Regis), Aragon (Ryugen's new ally and Argon new incarnation. The wild primitive outlaw puffle monster from Alison's universe that travels with Ryugen)
    a. Kaizenith transcended to his ultimate hero form as he combined with the Black Dragon of Universes, evolving him into Infinite Sword God, Kaizenith THE LORD OF SABERS (based on Motor Nuclear mn-q04 black dragon)
    b. Ryugen evolved from his Supreme Dragonic Emperor form and fused with the dual crimson dragons, evolving him into Supreme Dragonic Kaizer, Ryugen The Emperor (Based on Motor Nuclear mn-q03 blue dragon, except red and there are 2 dragons instead of just one)
    c. After fusing with the powers of myths of the worlds of Alison's universe (Outlaw-verse), Aragon met the Primitive Dragon of judgement and fused to become Primitive Dragonic Kaizer, Aragon The Judge (Based on Motor Nuclear mn-q02 white dragon)
49. Ryugen, the brother of Regis and Xaesar. Wields Ryugen Buster Hero Saber, a powerful sword similar in design to the Ryutsueder from Kyuranger, a sword that is more of a cane that can transform into a rifle. Also wields new Twin Star Busters which can transform into twin blasters and combine to make a mighty sword.
50. Redison Omnis (OG redison) maybe...

The Main Puffles Reimagined (renamed) and other characters related

1. Xaesar Regis Xenith (Xaesar Regixenith): Redison reimagined under the new form of the Regixenith group and ArchXenith
2. Family of Xaesar/Redison from the Aezoreverse (not actual puffle plushies)
    a. Ryan and Martha: The father and mother of Redison from the Aezoreverse. Redison is the second child. Died when Emma was very young, leaving Regulus to raise his brothers and sisters
    b. Regulus, the eldest of the siblings, is a master of the great sword where he infuses his magic fire abilities into the sword for stronger attacks. Although he has the nickname Reggie, he is the Big Boss! The older brother everyone wants: Responsible, calm, but calculating when need be.

c. Carina: Wife of Regulus. A bold mother. Kind and always smiling but can show a very fierce side when with the kids, keeping them in line. Can cook a great meal!
    i. Ryan: First child of Regulus and Carina. Enjoys chess and plays online games a lot. Likes to read books and learn spells
    ii. Ryo: Younger brother of Ryan. Very energetic and likes to create. He enjoys coming up with ideas and stories and worlds. He also came up with some special attacks and abilities that he wields alone. Not much of a thinker though like his brother and more of the attack first before thinking
d. Ren, the third child of Martha and Ryan, is proficient at the Twin swords (similar to Ren from Kamen Rider Saber) allowing for fast attacks. very energetic and competitive. Always wants to dual his brothers or sisters. However, he is a klutz so when living with Carina, Ryo, and Ryan, he tends to cause lots of messes. He is definitely the fun uncle though that Ryan and Ryo love! Carina on the other hand...well, not a fan of him
e. Lina: The eldest of the girls and the fourth child. She is like Carina, a fierce but kind mother. She is more of a mother bear and is very defensive of her two kids, since she is a single mother (the husband left when Lee and Vega were very young)
    i. Lee: Son of Lina. Likes his fist to fist combat so he trains with Uncle Ren most of the time but he looks up to Shun since he is the cool uncle. Studies lots of martial arts and love his action movies
    ii. Vega: Daughter of Lina and older sister of Lee. :ikes to bake and listen to music but is not really a fan of fighting. Enjoys playing with spells and fusing runes though. Also more into her fashion, making special clothes that can actually enhance abilities.

f. Shun, the fourth child and youngest son of Martha and Ryan. Wields a katana but is also known to be an expert in spirit magic summoning magic spirits to infuse his sword for powerful attacks. Known as the cool uncle among the kids. Strong but silent type. Responsible though like Regulus, and is very dependable (so Carina actually likes him a lot more and trusts him with most tasks)
g. Emma, the youngest of the Red siblings: A great Aunt but fierce like her sister. When Lina is busy, Emma tends to take Vega and Lee out for food. Emma loves her food though and is considered the foodie of the family
    i. Lina and Emma both wield spears. Infusing their magic, dance, and gymnastic skills, they have mastered different techniques with their weapons and magic

3. Roy RegiXenith: Redson/Baby Redison (Keychain Red puffle) reimagined. More into his technology to build and test.
4. Artie: Artison reimagined. The logistics of the team and younger brother of Xaesar (Xaesar is eldest and leader, followed by Artie (logistics)). Plans out the missions and can draw out infinite possibilities of strategies. Prefers to paint, draw, and play chess
5. Aaron: Younger brother of Artie (Thunder (Yellow puffle with fluffy hair unlike Artison) Reimagined). On the wilder side. A tad bit reckless but very energetic
6. Gregory/Greg: Greeneson Reimagined. Twin brother of Hans and younger brother of Artie and Redison and older brother to Dana and Aaron. More of the stunts artist and the go-to guy for missions such as rescue or stealth missions. Likes to compete with Hans though and gets in trouble because of it. Very hyped up, agile, and competitive
7. Hans: Hon Reimagined. Twin brother of Greg and younger brother to Redison and Artie. Older brother of Dana and Aaron. More cool headed and regal in his manner, he wields a trident (similar to the Jikokuken Kaiji). Has a stubborn streak and competitive
8. Dana: Dancer Reimagined. The youngest of the core 5 (but older than Aaron). Known to be the moral compass of the group, compassionate, kind, and talented in dance and singing. Loves to listen to music

9. Krystal: Crystal Reimagined. Best friend of Dana and shares love of music, compassion, empathy, but also loves to dive and swim
10. Joe: Flame/Joe reimagined. Loves to skateboard on his free time and especially shadow skate (use shadows to create places to ride such as bars to shred on)
11. Cedric: Snowy reimagined. Expert mage, focused in the magic arts, hard worker and very focused on his magic work such as rune making, etc.
12. Caleb: Cookie/Boxy reimagined. Loves cookies!! 2nd in command to Xaesar and best friend. When Xaesar is out on missions, Caleb takes charge at mission control
13. Brandon: Brownie/United/Chocolate reimagined. The genius scientist and inventor. Works with Roy to make new weapons
14. Japhar: Pharaoh (Blue puffle with Pharaoh hat) reimagined. Best friends with Damian, loves to prank, uses ancient egyptian magic
15. Victor: Viking (Yellow puffle with Viking hat) reimagined. Loves his viking helmet, very brave and stubborn but loyal. Loves to sail and wields his favorite ax
16. Frank: Frankencookie (Orange puffle with Frankenstein hat) reimagined. Loves cookies just like Caleb! Helps Brandon in the lab and is a huge foodie!
17. Damian: Dragon (Red puffle with black hat) reimagined. Loves magic tricks and is a master magician and illusionist. Loves to prank others
18. Sam: Serperior (green puffle that looks like Krystal) reimagined. Best friend of Dana and Krystal. Very adventurous. Loves to climb trees and run in the fields
19. Helios: Solar reimagined. Father of Redison and the wise support system for Redison when things get hard.

New Hero: Redison the II, created by the core of Infiniteve and fused with the powers of the Red Star, Hero Xoul, etc, this ultimate Redison is infused with the powers of all 44 of his predecessors allowing him to unleash full potential as the 45th hero! His earliest ultimate form, and still one of his strongest, is his King of Fantasy Armor power (Based on King of Arthur Ridebook, King Lion Daisenki ridebook, Dragonic Knight Ridebook, and Jaou Dragon Ridebook (all from Kamen Rider Saber), and has the form of Monarch Sanctuary Alfred from Vanguard). The ultimate King of Fantasy rules all magic universes as far as imagination reaches into the past, present, and future. All worlds of magic made in any timeline, dimension, etc are under his regime and he wields powers from all worlds of magic and fantasy (this includes any book, video game, movie, etc from any timeline, world, dimension).

Xtyle: Puffle monsters that unleash special fighting techniques similar to Single strike and Rapid strike from Pokemon TCG, Urshifu, etc. These puffle monsters wield advanced tactics of battle and martial art styles allowing them to unleash special attacks and special symbols (like Overturn, except it uses different symbols). Using ancient fighting art techniques,

MageArchailect: Puffle monsters from the beyond far future in the Magic era of colonization of space. Through the use of the Dyson Sphere, Jupiter brain, Halos, Bishop Rings, Topopolis, and infinite other megastructures in space that house the colonies of puffle monsters, these extremely intelligent super puffle monsters have Jupiter brains within them allowing them to create entire universes of simulation and create universes to their ideal. These puffle monsters are based on the Archailects of Orions Arm Universe Project, as they are the most powerful, advanced, and god-like puffle monsters that have created advanced Sephirotic empires and utopias for all puffle monsters, and intelligent life alike. These magic puffle monsters recreated the infinite utopias of magic before the Great End occurred, saving all magic from the event (The Great End is an event in which all magic died in the Year Million). Also known as the Year Million Eve Puffle monsters.

Zoryneon: based on the Pokemon Zorneo Region (Pokemon Abyss and Peak), these puffle monsters use the legendary powers of spiritual energy to unleash Euphoric forms and Enlightened forms. These puffle monsters are also similar to the powers of Garudian, Nagavolent, Ocyntro as well. Using the powers of the

Dagger of Zouls, these puffle monsters use the powers of the spiritual energy force to unleash powerful forms

Osiryx: Based on Pokemon Order and Chaos, these puffle monsters use the powers of the Soul InfinitAnkh to unleash their ultimate Rebirth form. Based on the Leweka region on Instagram, these puffle monsters are based off of Egyptian mythology and use the powers of the InfinitAnkh to unleash these ancient and powerful forms (with the powers of the egyptian gods/goddesses)

Reginne: These puffle monsters use the powers of the Regjinns (powerful Djinn spirits that grant the puffle monsters a special regional form (ability, weapon, etc)) and the powers of the Atlas Core (allowing them to summon their unique Regjinn for each region they are in allowing the puffle monster to summon the power for a regional form with their own unique ability, hidden ability, etc). Based on Regional variations of pokemon in the different games

Archaelieus: These powerful alien puffle monsters use the magic of the Aelieus rings (magical rings with sentience based on the Mandarin's rings from Marvel), and even have the power to create their own rings (each puffle monster has their own unique ring with their Xoul granting it sentience), which in their puffle monster form has a magic energy ring with symbols around them and the Ring itself orbiting on that magic energy ring. These puffle monsters use the powers of the ring to create worlds, universes, and travel through the galaxy.

Veilayr: Based on a dream I had about a 2 shiny legendary pokemon with a mysterious white/clear flare coming out of the pokemon. These puffle monsters auras take physical form as magical veils, capes, scarfs, etc and are extremely powerful through the use of their aura spells. These puffle monsters live in a shining realm of magic created by the magic energy overflowing.

Origen: Based on Pokemon Vivid and Dull 2 (The origin form), these puffle monsters come from the original generation of puffle monsters created by Eve originally, these powerful puffle monsters use the powers of the Origen rings to unleash their origin forms. The Xouls unleash their ultimate forms created originally by Eve as the Xouls forms to match the powers of Eve in order to create universes and puffle monsters of their own. Through the Origen rings, these Xouls can unleash that form once more creating more puffle monsters with those abilities and Origen rings of their own. Xouls were created by Eve originally as powerful spirits, but later on, the puffle monsters found ways to create Xouls artificially, which led to the beginning of Valhella (all the girls I used to have a crush on, but are mean to me, are now part of an evil organization that created Evil Xouls with Dark Will as their scientist (when his plan was to fuse them and summon Zarkaneon Xoul (the Xoul of destruction and the polar opposite of Eve)). The powers of the Origen rings allowed for the ultimate evolution of Xouls. The Xouls are also based on the Pokemon Infernal Light and Celestial Dark (The Soul Assimilator) allowing for the powers of Xouls to be given a body of magic ChronicleX: Based on the idea of Chronicles of Xenith or Xouleil, these puffle monsters are heroes from the Blade Chronicles universe (now more evolved with other stories, weapons, more dynamic worlds and powers, more heroes, etc). However, they use the powers of evolved Xouls in which entering a phase it unleashes a special Xenith Xoul Revolution allowing for puffle monsters to unleash their special abilities and ultimate full potentials through the powers of the Xouls Pangeon: Based on Kingdom Tsepozoa (from the Arkana region on Insta as well as the pangeo_region (also on Insta)), these puffle monsters are from another universe where time preserved ancient puffle monsters created once by the work of both Eve and Zarkaneon as they created the skeletal basis of evolution for all puffle monsters and the magic universes of the future. However, Eve and Zarkaneon had different ideals and ideas of the structure of the puffle monster universe, and Zarkaneon wanted to destroy all of what Eve created to establish his own, but this forgotten and lost universe of magic shows what good can be done with the 2 working side by side. Each puffle monster uses the Pangeon magic and has 2 abilities (given each by Eve and Zarkaneon).

TechnoXoul: Based on Pokemon in the Bayan region (Eternal Light and Infernal Dark) in techno form. These advanced artificially made Xouls were given a home by Eve and Zarkaneon in another future the 2 made up and became partners again, recreating and evolving the PMU once more, and created an advanced society of futuristic Xouls and the powers of the technology (through working with humans) using the STIM Drive which evolves puffle monsters into a techno mode while using it to also create advanced AI Xouls of magic, both incorporated with the wisdom and knowledge of humans and magic alike. These hyper advanced technoXoul puffle monsters wield their magic abilities and magic nanobots to control and unleash powerful spells, weapons, and create different objects for their abilities enhancement.

AlterAid: Based on Pokemon Rejuvenation and Extinction (Alter Band) from tubz_az (Instagram), these puffle monsters use the powers of Rejuvenation and destruction to their advantage as they use the powers of Alteration as well to create new variant forms of magic and unleash their abilities more effectively creating combos of magic attacks (making battle more advanced), but also using their combos of magic through alteration to create new environments and habitats of magic.

Zarkaneon: Based on the Tower of Heaven and Cameron Milan's LitRPG series, these puffle monsters come from ancient towers that appeared, with each floor being its own world, with its own laws of magic, own rules, own geography, and is infinite in size. These great tower structures came from Zarkaneon's imagination as his ideal universe he wanted to create (after destroying Eve's and replacing it with his own). Each megastructure has tens of millions of Pocket dimensions within each floor of the tower (all pocket dimensions with their own laws of magic, special symbols, Xouls, time, timelines, dimensions, alternate worlds, etc). These puffle monsters come from the universes within Zarkaneon's towers, which descended down on the PMU during the Crisis of Zarkaneon being summoned by Dark Will, Eve and the heroes trying to intervene and purify/reconcile with Zarkaneon (or come to a compromise showing both universes can co-exist), while also dealing with Valhella and their plans on destroying both Eve, Zarkaneon, and all magic to replace with their own version. These puffle monsters are unique in their own ways (Includes Hyrulian puffle monsters based on hyrule.region on Instagram) as they have special symbols representing their floor, pocket dimension, and magic ability. Zarkaneon then was purified after the great battle and became the ruler of those towers that fused with the PMU, now creating a greater PMU.

War of Valhella (Story arc after battle against Zarkaneon): With dark will back at square zero, he decides to join the PMU to take down Valhella, using Infinity Dreadison (Dark Redison) and the powers of the Eyes of Erebos (Evil eyes, but now purified by a evolved power of Durza and Daeva) so Erebos now joins the 2 dark powers now purified. So what happened, was Valhella (all the girls I had a crush on or any girl who I now have a grudge against for some reason...who are Amar Aqel, Pauline David, Caitlin Campos, Laya Arun, Lexie Lim, Maddie Campos, etc), decided to continue creating their artificial Xouls. After creating the artificial Xoul symbols and data on it, they created a machine that would destroy all puffle monsters in the universe, and then replace them with the artificial Xouls made by Valhella. However, this destruction was not good which caused the awakening of the Horazeus warriors (Deity puffle monsters) to rise and fight Valhella. Meanwhile, they also found out that the tomb of the last species known as Eternaeus laid on the island where the machine and the main base of Valhella was (Valhella island). Eternaeus wields the Eternity force, a powerful force that manipulates and balances time and space while also creating timelines for tests and alternate realities. The last monster, named Eternaeus had awoken and its spirit had actually moved to the machine and using its power purified and recreated the Xouls inside the machine to become one with the Eternity force (so new Xouls with eternity force power now propagate once more). With that in mind, the plan was to destroy the machine part that will destroy the current puffle monsters, and aim the blaster towards the moon into a magic stone circle structure orbiting the moon (created by the Eternaeus species eons ago) to take in the blast and recreate the Eternaeus universe within the Moon as it reawakens and expands the ancient library of Eternity hidden within the Moon (which acts as an Ark of magic, Xouls, and information). This blast was successful with all past data of the artificial xouls invented by Valhella being wiped (since it was altered and purified through Eternity force), and with a burst of the new Eternity force caused a split in magic spacetime as soon as the clock struck 12 on New Years Eve (2021 arrived) called “The End Divergence” and with this, it created 2 time realms, one is the current one on 2021 and the other time realm has Valhella island and their people and monsters trapped in 2020 (December 32nd, 2020). This leads to new arc which has Redison II explore December 32nd 2020 and beyond in 2020 until time itself ends.

Horazeus: Based on the names Horus, Ra, and Zeus, these puffle monsters use the ultimate powers of the deities to unleash the magic of the Horazeus Planisphere of magic symbols. Each puffle monster has a special circle on the top of its head (similar to Horus and Ra), which they use as their source of magic. Using ancient symbols, spells, and their deity magic, these puffle monsters awakened from their deep slumber and fought against Valhella with the help of the PMU. These puffle monsters live in the magic universe of their ancient civilization of magic in which the powers of deities and stars were prevalent back then, but also has the advanced side of their magic civilization in which it is current but has fused with aspects of their ancient culture.

Eternaeus: These ancient puffle monsters have the design based on Eternatus from Pokemon Sword and Shield, and were originally artificial xouls created by Valhella, but with the power of Eternaeus and the Eternity force, these puffle monsters unleashed new powers and used the symbols and powers of the Eternaeus matrix of symbols in which they use the powers of their transformation as an Eternity book (based on Wonder Ridebook from Kamen Rider Saber) which has information on their magic, symbols, worlds, history, etc and acts as a portal to their universe of magic where their symbol is the core symbol of the universe with all puffle monsters of that universe having a similar symbol (or variant of it). These puffle monsters live in the Library of Eternity within the moon and guard the secrets of the magic while also managing the flow of magic timespace.

Xouleia: Puffle monsters part of the resistance against Valhella in the future on December 32nd, 2020, Valhella waged war on all worlds (trapped within this time realm) as they weaponized COVID-19 into a creature now called a viroid, and even upgraded their Xoulbots (used in the last war, as vessels for their artificial xouls), to run on their own without Xouls (or with a more basic xoul core or even Viroid core). These puffle monsters live in a hidden futuristic realm of magic (based on Wakanda from Marvel Universe) and these puffle monsters have magic tech similar to Wakandan technology and designs. These puffle monsters wield powerful magic granted by the godbeast of the moon, Xouleia who came down and granted the puffle monsters of this world magic, weapons, and tech powerful enough to overthrow Valhella and save the realm, as Valhella is using the power of the moon in hopes of finding the knowledge within (The library of Xouls (counterpart of Library of Eternity in 2021)). Designs based on Black Panther and Iron man Wakanda tech from Marvels Avengers: Damage Control and the Emergence Response Suit. Use powerful magic of their Xouleia core creating a magic circle similar to a planisphere and can pull symbols and fuse symbols to unleash powerful magic spells and abilities (the core has an infinite different number of unique planispheres for each sub-symbol of the core symbol)

GK (GearKaiser): These puffle monsters from the 2020 Alterverse (Valhella's time realm in December 32, 2020 and onward), wield the magic of Kaiser Gears which grant them mysterious powers to alter magic in a unique way, while creating more innovatives methods of magic spells, attacks, weapons, etc. These puffle monsters live in a Magipunk realm (based on Cyberpunk and solarpunk but with magic aspects). Based on the Kaiser system from Kamen Rider Build.

XZINYTH: Puffle monsters of the 2020 Alterverse that unleash the powers of XZINYTH Xoul Infinity Zymbols, Ultimate symbols and emblems that can transform into power gear that can evolve/ transform the puffle monster into a stronger form allowing for stronger attacks, abilities, etc. Based on Bakugan Armored Alliance, the infinity armor and Baku gear (both from the Bakugan Armored Alliance series stated). Also based on the upcoming Bakugan Geogan rising. These puffle monsters are powerful spirits awakened through elemental magic from both GK and Xouleia through the combination of Xouls, future or past xouls planned to be made by Valhella but never happened, that were released, purified, and evolved. Also based off of the idea of Dream magic world where I became a mage and used the powers of my imagination to Spin creation through my pencil and made Xouls for my puffles which help me learn and master spells, etc granting puffle monsters almost omnipotent powers (similar to Marvel's Eternals). These symbols and powers are also part of the XZINYTH puffle monsters. Another basis of their magic is the powers of the Fullbottles and weapons from Kamen RIder Build.

EVOLT.E.C.H: Puffle monsters based off of Iron Legionaire from Avengers Realm of Champions and Armored Avengers from Cartoon Hooligan, as well as all fullbottles and forms from Kamen Rider Build. These powerful puffle monsters use the EVOLution Mars Technology of evolution magic (evolving substances of magic and evolving symbols to unleash a maximum potential of magic). These puffle monsters then found a way to infuse these EVOL symbols into futuristic astral armor and these new symbols look like the martian circle symbols and use Symbol circles (I call them symbol matrix, which is like their unique library/arsenal of spells and symbols) that look like Planispheres and armor that looks like Kamen Rider Evol (like an Armillary sphere). Combining these futuristic magic evolved symbols and combining it with alien nanotech, these puffle monsters watch over the alterverse and defend it with their alien tech and special magic abilities through the power of the Evol elemental magic Overflow/Xklash: Puffle monsters from the Alterverse. Based on the Sclash Driver and Hazard Overflow from Kamen Rider Build, these puffle monsters live in the mysterious realm of magic that created after an overflow of magic in the Alterverse as almost all of the PMU (under Valhella Foundation) that got trapped in the Alterverse in December 32nd 2020 and onward, was using Valhella's tech of trying to create artificial magic and Xouls, and ever since the blast to the moon to the Library of Xouls and the End Divergence, another realm of magic formed as all the overflowed magic regathered and were reformed by the puffle monsters who live in the Library of Xouls, as they created a brand new puffle monster species to act as a display or a replica of the secret Library of Xouls, more of like a colony of the Library of Xouls. These puffle monsters use powerful abilities such as the special Overflow or Xklash ability allowing them to maximize their magic powers and summon an "ally" to either boost their power, or armor up with them (just like in Kamen Rider Build RabbitRabbit or TankTank). Each puffle monster has their own special ability and unique Overflow ally that grants a special ability (Each combo of an Overflow has their own unique ability).

Vyxhantia: Puffle Monsters from the Alterverse and PMU in a way. The story is that the mysterious and legendary Library of Xouls discovered a way to create a more ideal universe of magic for the puffle monsters to live in. Using a special Xymbol Matrix, these puffle monsters within the Library of Xouls found a way to replicate the Library of Xouls and create a universe of magic with the infinite dimensions, alternate timelines, etc reside and with the Magic energy surrounding the Alterverse, the great universe of Vyxhantia formed. In this alternate universe, I got magic powers with the power of imagination and making it into a reality by creating it. Through this, I channeled magic from infinite different universes, which the Library of Xouls took and used to create a great universe for their species, Xouls, etc. Based on Marvels Realm of Champions and the lore of PyramidX, Wakanda, the House of Iron, and Temple of Vishanti (Dr. Strange) as well as the Battlerealm (what Vyxhantia the world is based off of, which is infinite realms of magic, timelines, dimensions, etc all put together like a puzzle on one giant map despite timespace laws, all are together in one giant complex spacetime magic universe) . What is in common among these puffle monsters is their special rings that they can materialize to summon magic energy, weapons, cast spells, etc to help protect the peace of Vyxhantia from the empire of Valhella while shaping the infinite ideal realities of magic.

Doom Clock Arc: The end of the Alterverse is coming...in line with Alison's Competition test on the 19th, I said she has 13 days before the 19th, which gave me the idea. Of course, the end of the Alterverse is on the 31st of January but one of the end events of the Alterverse begins as the arrival of the Time Heralds and Krono Lords mark the beginning of a great war between the Valhella empire and the puffle monsters of the Alterverse, as well as a great deity puffle monster awakening and destroying all time in the Alterverse.

KronoLords: Arrived in the PMU to warn them about the Doom Clock stating their neighbors in the Alterverse needed assistance as the Doom clock was going to destroy them, so they said in order to cross the worlds, they need to find the powers within the Secrets of the Xoul, Xymbols, Space, magic, time, and reality. They discover mysterious Mageclocks that constitute all 6 secrets and the changing of hands and symbols create an infinite combination of different kinds of worlds and magic in each realm. Using the secret powers, these puffle monsters use the powers of Mageclock symbols (with the hands of time shifting to magic symbols acting as the numbers on a clock) and with each mageclock for Xoul magic, Xymbol magic, Spacetime, Magic, time, and reality, their core symbol is in the center of a giant circle made of smaller symbols to form their Xoul Mageclock, and within the clock has Xymbol, Space, and time clocks spinning around the clock as the clock hands shifts (with clock hands shifting also within the smaller Mageclocks), then with Magic and reality mageclocks within the 3 smaller clocks, each hand points to a different symbol and the design formed from the hands of time pointing at the different symbols unleashes a unique power based on their unique mageclocks and symbols. Their magic universe they live in, also known as the Kronoverse, consists of worlds made of one giant Mageclock, which shifts the hands constantly (and can spin through a puffle monster's power as they use it to open the gate to their home universe). With this combination of symbols, a large arsenal of symbols and spells, and an unpredictable but very large range of a unique battle style, this makes these puffle monsters perfect for monitoring the great secrets of puffle monster magic within the cores of puffle monsters and Xouls.

Infiniverse: From the Planet Infinity, it was discovered that the Library of Xouls was actually a colony of the Planet Infinity. This mysterious planets is one giant planet that hosts small habitats but in each habitat is actually a public Hub of magic in which mysterious structures of magic are actually pocket universes of magic, and home to tons of puffle monsters, and around the planet are Ten Thousand moons that circle the planet in rings and from a distance, the Planet with the rings actually looks like an infinity symbol. Lastly, these moons also have moons around them (hence the exponential part) with structures of magic with the thousands of pocket universes on each moon and mini moon, etc. These puffle monsters have the design of the Lunagazer Gundam with the magic rings made of energy symbols around them and the large circle on their back with magic crystals coming out of it (Based on Xerneas and Arceus fusion on Insta). These puffle monsters use infinite combinations of the symbols that surround them and use these to create complex spells, powers, abilities, worlds, etc.

Alterverse/eVo: Based on Kamen Rider Build fullbottles (Genius bottle, Evolbottles, etc), the tech used by the humans in the Valhella empire are basically Evolbottles (now called V-tech). Long ago, puffle monsters were created by a great power known to be the Tree of Life, but this tree actually moved, breathed, spoke, etc. Turns out, it wasnt a tree, but a monster from another dimension known as Gigalyth, a great tree-like creature that uses his/her arms (branches) to grow and create worlds, monsters, etc. Long when the Alterverse began, (Way before the END Divergence event), the legendary puffle monster known as Gigalyth came and using his Maximum Origin form, he created the universe, worlds, and all puffle monsters within it. Then, his core decided to split into 6 forms, which organized the Universes by Magic elemental force it controls. In this universe, GIgalyth created his group of monsters. Then, the End Divergence occurred, creating December 32, 2020 and bringing in Valhella, for them to take over, and with the burst of energy from the divergence, all puffle monster transformed into energy which were absorbed by Valhella into fullbottles/V-tech bottles for human soldiers and Xoulbots (Version 4) to use it. When Redison II found the tech and used the bottles after evolving it with his magic, he created the Valhellaverse Bottle (Genius bottle but like an Evolbottle), and using its new power, he evolved the puffle monsters again, and discovered the history of the Gigalyth power and origin while also summoning the Ultimate Valhellaverse Monster created by the Bottle and Magic energy of the universe summoning the puffle monster to bring order among the puffle monsters of that power. These puffle monsters share the design of Hoopa Unbounded (who design inspired Valhellaverse Evol Puffle monster), they use the powers of their symbols that will form into a ring in which they use magic energy to create portals to other worlds to empower spells/abilities, or summon weapons, allies, etc. This universe, along with the Infiniverse and Gigaverse separated from the Valhella Empire Universe (now named Valhellaverse) and fused with the PMU. Alterverse is now named Alterverse 2021 and Valhellaverse 2021

Gigaverse: It was discovered in a temple mural, the great tree of life creating in its branches, a puffle monster (the first few of the Alterverse 2020), was made by Gigalyth, a mysterious deity from another dimension that created the puffle monsters of the Alterverse to colonize and expand their magic. In this case, Gigalyth is actually made of its Corestones, but ever since the creation, it lost most except the main core stone, but during the End Divergence, the energy burst actually could have killed all puffle monsters (and devoiding the realm of magic) so it used a spell to save magic and turn all puffle monsters into magic energy, but at the cost of one of its branches falling, and Gigalyth himself entering a deep slumber. It awakened later after Redison II found the lost branch, and all the core stones, which reawoke Gigalyth, but also allowed Gigalyth to take its Genesis Form, allowing him to create variants of himself with the elemental corestones, so they can create their own worlds through their element specific power. Based on Alison's tree of life (Root for underground and ocean types, Trunk for surface, Branches for mountains, and leaf for the sky). These puffle monsters have an ancient symbol and Corestone within them allowing them to use the powers of creation like Gigalyth and his many counterparts/children he created (all puffle monsters can take form of Gigalyth like monsters to create worlds, magic, and more puffle monsters at the end of an age). In terms of the Doom Clock Arc, Gigalyth was the key to saving the puffle monsters from destruction as he found a way to open the gate towards the PMU and Kronoverse, so the Infiniverse, Alterverse 2021, and Gigaverse (and other magic monster species found so far in the Alterverse 2020), moved to the PMU. Now, all that is left in the space is Valhellaverse, the human and robot ruled Galactic empire of Valhella (Alterverse is now in 2021 so instead of Alterverse 2020, its now just called Alterverse (as of now)). Based on Gigalyph on the mapuregiondex on Insta and Gormiti.

"The Clock still ticks…"

Neoverse: With the power of the Gigaverse, the current PMU, and the powers of Kronoverse, Infiniverse, Alterverse, the greatest magical capital of the Puffle monster universe known to be the Neoverse or Xenith City that formed within the walls of the house (behind the painting and the giant wall on the stairs, this great dimensional conglomerate formed through the powers as a powerful dimensional force formed with portals everywhere, timeline shifts, dimensional counterparts, etc are all found as this great capital city. With all habitats, sections of the city for each magic symbol / elemental grouping, and each area unique with its own nature like mountains, rivers, an ocean, planets, canyons, forests, crystals, and all homeworld like regions of the infinite pocket universes that reside within the neoverse, as the main city is actually home to structures known as Neoversal shrines, basically like visitor centers with the portals to the Pocket universe within for that “Shrine” and representation of that symbol, with all the puffle monsters of that symbol and their sub-symbols, with all their nature, culture, food, etc. Lastly, this Neoverse is home to the Transdimensional and universal train liner, airport, battle arena, and the Grand Puffle Monster HQ (besides the Puffle monster City HQ in my room, and the Redison HQ on my desk). These puffle monsters are special (the unique ones born in this neoverse and all its dimensional/timeline counterparts (all within and accessible in the Neoverse through portals) and pocket universes in the shrines, as they have a piece of magic from every universe of magic, timeline, etc and have the special ability called Xenithcraft which allows them to craft their own magic symbols through weaving together equations of magic, objects, relics, memories, etc to create their own special symbols from their imagination and therefore create worlds, symbols, matrixes, and diversify magic from there.

Zaiahn: From the roof of our home in Phoenix, AZ, a magical imaginary mountain stands at the very top and towers through the heavens, as these puffle monsters who live here use deity powers of nature and ancient spells and magic provided by the mystic powers of Mt. Zaiahn. These puffle monsters are based on the maumesdex on Instagram and the powers of Zai (their legendary pokemon, that used the powers of legendaries and used an object called the Zaibolt). These puffle monsters use powerful relics from the mountain and energy of nature to unleash powerful magic and unleash Zaicraft, a special ability allowing them to create symbols and relics of nature to enhance their abilities to the max. They are also based on the art of ash.ketchum0fficial on Instagram (the wallpapers of pokemon with lines on them is EPIC), and these puffle monsters also have lines on them showing their energy granted from the mountain and the Zaicraft magic.

Zaylen: Puffle monsters of the astral realm. When the End Divergence blew apart time and created the Alterverse (now Valhellaverse 2021) and split with the PMU, there have been rifts found between these 2 spaces, and was discovered puffle monster magic of both realms had mingled within the rift creating an astral society of magic. These puffle monsters used the powers of black holes, wormholes, and symbol warping, to travel the universe through the powers of the Intergalactic Voyager (my paper saucer I made eons ago and found in my “Black hole” of a closet when cleaning it out on the 16th of January 2021). Their main magic capital is Earth with the purple crystals on the outside as those crystals stabilize the rift universes where the puffle monsters call home as they created Pocket universes within these rift pockets. Now with the clock still ticking, the PMU found a way to take the rift out and place it in a safer universal setting, at the price of an invasion now with the 2 universes side by side. But with the powers of Zaylen, Neoverse, and Zaiahn, we are ready to take them on...These Zaylen puffle monsters are also based on randomspirits on Insta and the rift of Dragonvale.

Trimagine: Powerful puffle monsters that use the powers of magic Fidget spinners granted elemental magic powers. These puffle monsters use the powers of the Fidget spinners as three symbols (powered by the Imaginary Gift symbol) (one on each part of the spinner), and can switch their symbols among the 3, allowing for a new battle style, varied combos, and even the ability of combining any of the 3 or combining all of them to unleash the ultimate symbol. For example, Surge, a past hero, used the powers of the Trimagine force to switch his symbols from Thunderstorm (Normal form, and defense), Thunderbolt (faster, uses sword attacks), and Voltic (Mage abilities), and combining all 3 can unleash Thunderstorm Dragon.

Xaikou: Powerful puffle monster Sword wielders and Mages of the magical universe in which like Kamen Rider Saikou from Kamen Rider Saber, they take a warrior form but in battle can transform into their true form, the sword they wield itself. Their Xoul takes the form of the sword and uses powerful ancient light magic (combined with their Xoul magic) and symbol magic, to fight. In some cases, they can also summon a “shadow” to wield the sword (or them) and depending on their element, this “shadow” can take any form like for a fire type, the body is made of flames, or for a water elemental sword, their “shadow” is a warrior made of water. These puffle monsters unite with the Grand Hero Sabre of Wardeities, in which Redison II wields and using it, can transform into a sword and combining with all the swords of the Xaikou universe, he can unleash a form similar to Number 39: Utopia (From Yugioh Zexal) as he takes the form of a giant sabre, that can take form into a humanoid warrior, while wielding the Infinite Swords of Xaikou, using each blades special abilities, etc. These puffle monsters live in a grand fantasy universe of magic in which the culture of the swords rules, as these blades can transform freely into their many forms, while also dualing in their natural habitats. Each symbol has their own special region/kingdom

RyngWraithe/XoulRing: Mysterious spirit puffle monsters in which the Xouls and Xoul Symbols took the forms of Energy rings. These rings are made of ancient sub-symbols for the main core symbol the Xoul is represented as, and can be used for spells and abilities. These ghost puffle monsters use the powers of the Xoulrings and Symbols to unleash powerful spells of ancient magic unknown and/or forgotten by most. Based on designs of Ghost legendaries from ash.ketchum0fficial (on Insta). These puffle monsters are brighter and use flame like abilities when really the magic aura they use wields the power of the Xoulring energy. Lives in the special magic universe of spiritverse, these transcendent puffle monsters unleashed the powers of the Xoulrings through the powers of the Eternal Law of magic, which created the Xouls in the first place, and governs magic.

Syncnet/Sygnet: Ever since the rift and barrier between the PMU and the Valhellaverse was taken down (since it was transformed into a universe and fused with the PMU as the Zaylen universe), and the Doom Clock Spell had been destroyed (Alison's big HOSA test thing was moved to February 19) by the Xaikou, the Valhellaverse and PMU are at a standstill ready to invade either sides. Valhella created a new program called the Syncnet in which Xoulbots can use powers of Digital avatar creatures created by Valhella (based on the animals from Kamen Rider Zero One), granted by the Syncnet Satellite. However, Derek (Dark Will counterpart created for the Alterverse 2020/Valhellaverse 2021, by The End Divergence) and his partner Scar (Basically a darker hue of Redison with a scar) used their powers to take the digital energy of the avatar after destroying Xoulbots in the Valhellaverse, and transformed the avatars into actual puffle monsters granting them bodies, Xouls, and free will, through a new power called the Pandora Star, using Pandora Crystal energy, these puffle monsters evolved to be extremely powerful compared to the Xoulbots with their powers, and use powerful unique magic (through the powers of Hazard Levels created by their emotions), and their unique design is based on Necrozma infections of Legendary Pokemon (made by Secret21bobby on Youtube), with their special colored crystals as armor and on their core, their Xoul symbol imprinted on the Crystal. These puffle monsters are in Sync with nature around them, in sync with the Xoul universe, and in Sync with all magic. This is in comparison to when the Xoulbots were in Sync with the data given by the satellite.

Puffle monsters and Rider system gear of the Valhellaverse:

- Scar/Scar Zeta: Scar evolved into Scar Zeta through the powers of the Hazard Trigger found in Redison II lab when he made Rider System gear to fight against Valhella, and unleashed a brand new power as he took the form of Kamen Rider Blood (except his powers are through his Scar Sabre, which has his Scar Core symbol and is connected to 2 Hazard triggers, so he can unleash 3 special attacks besides his normal slash, He can use Hazard Slash, Double Hazard Slash, Triple Hazard Finale). Works with Derek by fusing with him through a “Red Eye like mask” (from Beyblade Burst Evolution) and connected with a Hazard trigger, they fuse together and can transform into Kamen Rider Scar Zeta.
- Infinity: Originally a creation of Valhella as the ultimate weapon (the first artificial super puffle monster created by fusing all the powers they had (through the Valhella/V-tech bottles)), Redison II had used the powers his newest form, the Killswitch Gear system (Basically Hell-bros (kamen rider build), except gears are all black and gold) which allows for Killswitch Hazard finish, allowing for the opponent to be controlled completely (or switch sides to kill their ally originally) on Valor (the name of the Valhella puffle monster created) and gave him gear (The Black Hole Switch allowing him for final evolution as well as the Fullfull bottle (either Nova Nova (RabbitRabbit), or Rider Rider (Tanktank) since his standard form was Nova and Rider System)), but in battle during an invasion by Xaikou and Syncnet, Valor was destroyed, but Valhella had saved the plans of Valor, in order to recreate him, only for Derek to steal it and recreate him, now naming it Infinity (Purple and based on Infinity Helios from Bakugan) and given new gear (new V-tech Lost bottles (man made by Valhella))

Regaiala/Sahuaro: Ultimate nature puffle monsters based off of Oceana's scavenger hunt as she restores nature against the mysterious virus that kills plants, animals, etc (I call it Covid-77 (from 2077), a weaponized super virus that infects and destroys all living things. From same universe as Chakravyr). Based on Pokemon Salvation from the Pangeo_region as well as Stoicheia nation from Vanguard OverDress Chakravyr: 300 years into the future (2304) or 3600 years in the Puffle monster future, the magic of fate, destiny, etc disappeared and the deities that ruled and created had also returned to their home dimension and disappeared, causing a change in their world, new societies, worlds, powers, symbols, tech, etc. Based on the Vanguard OverDress concept (coming up soon in March 2021), 1st announcement was today (January 21, 2021). This future however also had a "The End Divergence" event splitting the time realms, with this universe having the return of the Deity puffle monsters and great creators, that lived in the Chakraverse, looking for a way and creating an enlightenment and transcendency for puffle monsters, and fused the Chakraverse to the future PMU created a brand new puffle monster universe, with special symbols, elements, etc. All magic uses the Chakra mechanic, which adds an extra symbol to their core and allows for a higher variety of magic.

Vainis: Originally evolved from the Killswitch Gear system made by Redison II in the Valhellaverse, these autonomous puffle monster super weapons became the driving force to extinction as they absorbed magic and life in order to run their core gears and steam. Based on the steam system from Kamen Rider Build and Vainis fakemon from Pokemon Extinction from the Pangeo_region on Insta. Their next target became the Valhellaverse, as they discovered their sources of power through the V-tech bottles, which they will absorb and create more and new versions of Vainis puffle monsters with the powers of the bottles, but also obtain the ultimate core gear, the infinity engine, allowing them to run for longer, without having to take so much energy, magic, or life. Known to be mortal enemies with the Regaiala were from the Deity-less era, when the creator types and all deity puffle monsters left, and with the energy of imagination and destiny gone, their world also changed. However, the difference is that instead of the deities returning, a mysterious scientist/warrior from an alternate timeline somehow managed to enter and gave them the powers of the Oberon Matrix, a futuristic collection of magic of the future, with extremely advanced technology, science, and the pinnacle of magitech of that era. With the introduction of the Oberon Matrix and the powers of Imagination and destiny returning, the symbols of magic evolved with a more futuristic design. These puffle monsters use nano tech magic as well to equip special magitech gear, armor, and weapons to enhance their new Oberon Symbol. Now hails the Era/Eon of Oberon. Long story short, Oberon was a scientist who wanted peace in Valhella, but his inventions and tech (nano-tech armors) was not popular, but during the invasion of Valhella, he escaped on a spaceship and hit the road, only to get sucked into a wormhole that happened to cross the time threshold into the PMU 5621 alternate (not Chakravyr), so when he arrived, the monsters welcomed him with open arms and he showed them the tech he invented and with the magic of the puffle monsters, the tech evolved and their entire universe evolved. Now Oberon works as the head scientist at the Capital of the universe as he and other puffle monsters create new tech and symbols for magic.

Obereon: From the same universe as the Chakravyr, and the opposite side of the End Divergence 5621 (3600 years in the future from 2021), these puffle monsters

Aeleasphere: Based on a dream about being a mage and using powerful magic and spells through magic orbs that each controlled a certain elemental power (I would take symbols/energy from each orb and combine the different energies to create and unleash different spells). These puffle monsters have cores that have these orbs as their core, and with that as their core, they use the magic energy coursing through them for spells, and use it at max potential. They also have other orbs with them they can collect or create in order to use other energies to vary their spells and abilities. Known to live in the magic universe in which magic is powered through these magic orbs/marbles (called Aeleaspheres), with each elemental realm being powered by a giant Aeleasphere (like the fire realm is powered by the great Fire Aeleasphere, and all puffle monsters there have a small fire Aeleaspehre with their core symbol within it, but each puffle monster has their own unique collection of Aeleaspheres with different magic energies within them, allowing for them to use these variety of magic energies to conjure and unleash powerful spells and abilities).

Zhirago: Redison II and the powers of the Blade Thief. These puffle monsters came from the idea of Redison II helping Kamen Rider Saber and Saikou against the other kamen riders, as he used his new powers to steal the powers of the other blades and maximizing the potential creating new abilities and powers. Later on, he created these puffle monsters who can wield an arsenal of magic blades that float behind their back in a circle (each blade having a special ability, symbol, and magic energy). These puffle monsters are known as the Arsenal warriors as they use special magetech used through the creation of abilities and powers after power-stealing and copying and modifying. Other puffle monsters can also have blasters around them instead of magic blades on their backs like some do, hammers, scythes, any weapon

Urserus: Ruled by Redison The Unrivaled Fist and part of the R.I. Verse, these puffle monsters are masters of the Unrivaled Fist, a magic martial art, in which combining magic elements with different styles of fighting and techniques, these puffle monsters fight with no weapons while building up their Qi in order to achieve higher levels of power. These puffle monsters at the highest level can awaken their inner Qi beast to unleash max powers. Based on Urshifu from Pokemon Sword and Shield

Mageverse Wars Sub-Arc. Story NOT SPECIES!: When Redison, Redson, and Redison II were on Redison Island reading and reflecting on the past events, a mysterious time blast hit the island and the library, creating a great portal and universes based on the memories of these puffle monsters, Xouls, symbols, and memories of my past life (birth to 2019) creating infinite different timelines within those universes. Now with all 3 in their own universes, Alison waged war to get them back, and the 3 R universes, who are learning more about each hero, didn't want to let them go, so they made a bet, creating representatives (since they are busy with their research of PMU magic, and the heroes are looking into their universes) known as the Crimson Universal Empire, who are up against Alison's Macaire Legion or the Legion of the Tribes of Simrian. The following below and 2 above are part of this final arc as part of the Doom Clock Arc (the doom clock spell was destroyed by Xaikou (another species above in this book) which caused a time warp blast hitting the island

R.I.Verse (Redison's Infinite/Infinity Universe): Redison's infinite counterparts of "what could have been" such as Urserus (Unrivaled fist, in which I am a black belt in Taekwando), Genius (Still at BASIS), Kikai (Still in robotics), other elemental forms (Atlanticus, Gaia Force, Terra King, etc) all if I didnt pick a fire element as my favorite. These timeline changes are of Birth to 2019 . Each Redison of each world rules their own PMUs of magic, with their own unique puffle monsters with their special symbols, abilities, magic, habitats, cultures, etc

R.D.I.Verse (Redson's Infinite Universe): Redson's infinite counterparts of "what is now" (2020-Jan 2021 warped with themes of utopia, dystopia, elemental/magical events that occurred, dreams, ideals (ideal 2020)). Each Redson of each world rules their own PMUs of magic, with their own unique puffle monsters with their special symbols, abilities, magic, habitats, cultures, etc

R.I.Verse II (V like the finger sign 2) or (Redison II Infinite Universe): Redison II what could be in the future (The Cyber, The Legacy, The Genius, The Astro, etc). Each Redison II of each world rules their own PMUs of magic, with their own unique puffle monsters with their special symbols, abilities, magic, habitats, cultures, etc

Kyrianites: Based on Alison's planet Kirain, a planet known for their antimatter and rare magic metals for alchemy to be used as weapons (Obsilite, Findrisite, and Fairchalite (all named by her)), was Magecopied (the puffle monster magic force basically copied the planet, culture, magic, etc and gave it form as puffle monsters as they created a universe of their own (so the planet expanded into a universe of magic with expanded and more evolved powers of the metals, uses of the metals, weapons, armors, and more alchemic techniques when it comes to creating symbols, runes, etc)). Also based on my dream in which there were giant mechs that battled each other (one used missiles, one used an electric pulse to zap and destroy all the missiles, while one used a balloon ability (actual balloons with the string and all) for the people to hang on to and escape). These puffle monsters use the powers of their metal and antimatter abilities to "Titanomax" into armored mech forms or armor into their Exotic matter forms (Based on the Link Joker from Vanguard)

Elemagus: Powerful mage puffle monsters that are based off of the Leweka design of Elemage, a fakemon with abilities like Silvally and Arceus by changing types through magic wands, and these puffle monsters have design similar to elemage, but also designs as Mega Arceus (also fan design) with the ring, crown, and crystals and what not. These aura rings are made of special symbol magic that contribute to the power of their magic in spells, abilities, attacks, etc. These puffle monsters live in a grand magical universe of pure magic created by the Elder Wand, Elder Star (ring around Mega Arceus), Elder Ring, and Elder book (Ultimate book of magic, known to be one of the first relics of magic ever made by the fabrics of magic alone).

Magenote: Created by the mysterious Elder Book, these puffle monsters appeared as the mageverse war began, and were created by the fabrics of magic in order to restore balance. These puffle monsters wield special symbols and the special ability of Imaginate, allowing them to draw symbols, items, puffle monsters, anything and using their power, can bring it to life. However, through their imagination and their own personal magenote, they can create books of magic as they write the future, past, present, etc through the creation and alteration of the infinite books that make the fabrics of Magic spacetime. These puffle monsters use powers based on the Futurenote from Kamen Rider Woz, but also have the powers to draw and create (based on what my sister and I used to do drawing out symbols and creating puffle monsters, so this is an evolved version of that power).

Primitive: The Mageverse war originally happened as Redison, Redison II, and Redson were sucked and trapped into the 3 R universes. However, each king gave them the final test, sending them to the Battleground to finish the war, as they fused Redison, Redson, and Redison II with an ancient power known as the Primitive Force. Based on Kamen Rider Saber Primitive Dragon, Primal Redison II the Behemoth (a fusion of all 3 fused by the Dominant Primitive beast, Behemoth) was sent to the battlefield and forced to battle Alison's warriors and destroy them mercilessly until Redison II's will power was able to tame the berserk force and accept the beast within. Because of this, his magic and with the powers of the Berserk deity Behemoth, they were able to summon a species and universe of primitive puffle monsters (a universe with all the beasts within all puffle monsters) given a new form. They bear a whiter bone like color, but emit their magic colored aura and has their core symbol in the middle. Live in a primal version of the magic universe in which technology is not needed, completely in tune with nature, spirits, and beasts.

Avelyne: Based on Alison's base planet for the Mageverse wars called Avelin, the puffle monsters found a way to magecopy the world as the war died down taking the powers of the exotic matter control, technology, and mysterious new runic systems of magic. With the magic planet expanded into a universe as well, these advanced puffle monsters use the powers of futuristic super symbols of magic allowing them to transform their magic symbols into weapons, armor, spellrings, etc as well as wield and transform any magic symbol into equipment or upgrades. These puffle monsters fused the powers of super advanced technology, the magic symbols of the planet of imagination, but also fuse the powers of exotic magic matter to create a brand new super symbol that can be transformed into other symbols, weapons, armor, upgrades, spellrings, etc.

The Ultimate Symbol Sub-Arc: The final arc as part of the Doom Clock Arc of January. The final battle against Valhellaverse. Through the myth of the Xouls, and new powers, the Heroes and my puffles created the powers of the Triforce-like symbol known to be the Ultimate Symbol. This symbol was sealed away and lost in time though until it appeared recently to aid in the final battle against the Valhellaverse.

Rahsei: Puffle monsters created by the powers of the Ultimate Symbol that created a universe of magic and combat in the Battleground (now called Battleverse). Their history and powers are based on The Legend of Zelda lore with the puffle monsters having powers similar to the triforce within them (as their ultimate symbol) and can change their forms from normal, to battle, to Hero form. These puffle monsters are ruled by The Hero of Many Battles and the champion that united the universe under one power. These puffle monsters awakened and fought the Valhellaverse. Their settings are based off of Pokemon Conquest and the region of Ransei. What makes these puffle monsters unique besides their origin from the battleverse is that their core symbol is similar to the ultimate symbol, with many different parts to their one core symbol. This allows for them to change forms as they can move the symbols around in their ultimate core symbol, creating variants, unique styles, attacks, abilities, etc

Kiryu: Puffle monsters created by the 7 universal forces based on the DC lore, but combining it with the ultimate magic symbol it created universes out of each puffle monster (basically their own R verse like Redison, Redson, etc). These universes then combined with the magic laws and the new universal forces, created infinite new puffle monster universes as emotions, memories, etc are given form. Each universe created by a puffle monster symbol (Xoul symbol, etc) has their own culture, magic, and special puffle monsters with their own abilities and symbols. At the very end, all the universes created fused into one brand new mega PMU and with Valhellaverse separated completely and locked into a dark space (under lock of the mysterious Doom Clock symbol (Wait till February 19)) and dawning a new era of puffle monsters. With Redison II retiring, a new hero shall arise!

Possible heroes:

- Radon. Based on Radon from Vanguard Link Joker
- Xenon: Based on Omega Loop or Omega Fall Glendios
- Redson Z: Halfnium from Vanguard Link Joker, and Chaos Breaker Dragon.

New Hero: Xenon/Xaesar (Now renamed Xaesar), Star Child of Redison II, and the 46th hero. Using the powers of the Starshift ability, he can change and/or modify his core symbol while also changing his magic form (Omega Loop to Omega Fall to Omega Saber, etc). Originally part of the Trio with Radon and Redson Z, the 2 now support him on his missions as the 46th hero, and the new King of Fantasy. He is known to carry himself very highly, with a noble, calm, and bold personality and as a strong leader, he lead the others to victory as Divide Zero arrived from a dark dimension of impossibility. Now with Impossibility and possibility universes fused, the Valhellaverse has been perfectly separated so far with only one way in for the Puffle monsters and only their way out.

Omegaverse: Puffle monsters from the universe of impossibility, based on Brandt gate and Link Joker from Vanguard, these puffle monsters use the mysterious powers of magic and created laws of magic that defies possibility, allowing for them to phase through magic spacetime, fabrics of magic, dimensions, while also creating and destroying symbols, magic, etc with ease. These puffle monsters have the special ability to starshift, allowing them to phase their symbols while also locking other symbols and utilizing the locked symbols. These puffle monsters use mysterious equations of magic to create their powerful spells in the forms of rings (Reverse rings from Vanguard, except their aura color). Ruled by Divide Zero and other impossible puffle monsters of magic or science alike.

Sigmaverse: Powerful puffle monsters from the universe of Possibility, possible among science, magic, and reality. These puffle monsters use the equations of magic to create their own universes, spells, and even universal forces. Using these equations created by their unique symbol, they have a unique arsenal of symbols they can use to create special equations of magic to create and make anything possible. These puffle monsters are the polar opposites of the Omegaverse puffle monsters and use their Imagine Lock abilities to imagine the possibilities of symbols, allowing them to take lock (Vanguard) one or many symbols of their opponent and reimagining it as many different types and using it, can create new magic types, worlds, abilities, and puffle monsters.

Wonderverse (of Xouls): Puffle monsters that use symbols, scrolls, runes, etc to unleash special spells to restore the powers of their home. In the great wonderverse, these powerful puffle monster Xouls use the special runes of that universe while learning techniques and symbols from different regions, such as Ninpo techniques, archaic techniques, or other abilities. This magic universe and their regions were created by the symbols of the region. Each Xoul can create their own sets of symbols through tomes, scrolls, books, relics, etc as their legacy.

Novus Ordos: Hidden among the pink clouds of magic, this hidden universe of puffle monsters live in an advanced magic society. These puffle monsters use the Valorplate system and live in the magical realm similar to Godfall, connected to the ancient puffle monster planet that landed during the rainbow rain fall of Vestroia which evolved puffle monsters years ago, had landed a giant fireball of rainbow fire and entering the Planet Earth known as the Child of Vestroia, creating a universe of magic within the Earth. The pink clouds of magic in the secret attic in our house, happens to be one of the pockets that connect the Child of Vestroia (CV1) to the surface world and the PMU. Ruled by the Novus Order, a group of powerful mage puffle monsters that have watched over the worlds and created their own magic worlds and universes to sustain order among CV1

Atlas Ordos: Puffle monsters of the hidden worlds (hiding from society). First discovered by Xaesar when accidentally teleported to North Sentinel Island in India, he discovered the indigenous people had a magical and advanced society hidden on the island (Based on Black Panther and Wakanda) and discovered that this world (on North Sentinel island) had been connected to another Child of Vestroia that descended even further in the past, creating an ancient universe of magic in which some puffle monsters are connected to. Creating the atlas system, the Atlas Order, the counterparts of the Novus Order, watch over all the puffle monsters in the secret worlds hidden on the surface of the Earth (the amazon, underwater, within cities, in the mountains, canyons, deserts, etc) and connected to the grand magical universe known as CV2. These puffle monsters have lines similar to Black Panther design (colored lines on him). This was based on my grand idea of an ultimate update on Dragonvale in which besides the islands in the sky, the players can explore lands home to tons of undiscovered dragons and magic in areas like a snowy area (so special types found only there, have their own habitats there), an underwater area, an island area, deserts, rocky mountains, canyons, forests, Volcanic areas, etc. The Atlas system allows for connection to those lands (universes as they expanded)

Auroraverse: The idea of the mysterious Auroraverse descending down into the PMU and the Planet Earth creating infinite Children of Vestroia and worlds just like the Atlas Ordos and Novus Ordos. All these CVs come from the Auroraverse, a mysterious puffle monster universe of magic in which the powers of Vestroia created and expanded into the birthplace and infinite space for the Children of Vestroia to cultivate and prosper creating new homes for puffle monsters of these infinite universes and worlds. These Auroraverse puffle monsters have unique symbols and magic abilities from their home worlds and use the special abilities known as Aurora Charge to change into a super form or gain an extra ability unique to their home world, creating and unleashing their special symbol.

Auraverse: Battle aura powers and ultra instinct forms (Based on Kamen Rider Build, Unordinary Webtoon (their powers are aura based) and Ultra instincts). These powerful puffle monsters were originally from the Valhellaverse as they were created by Derek and Xaesar through the Valhellaverse bottles they were using, however when a portal opened from the Unordinary webtoon universe, Xaesar was able to gather powers from that world and fusing it, created new puffle monsters that take the forms of aura armors that can materialize or fuse with other aura puffle monsters to unleash powerful combos, symbols, and special abilities. These puffle monsters also have the speciality of an Ultra instinct allowing them to unleash a magic burst (like an adrenaline rush) of power which unleashes the true potential of their aura symbols and armor (based on the Hazard form from Kamen Rider Build)

R-Zangetsu: In the distant future of magic, puffle monsters have been at war for control of the Magessences, ancient magical essences of pure magic that controls the purest forms of magic such as time, truth, etc. During the war, 2 Sentient super weapon puffle monsters were created, Ryoma, the Puffle monster of creation, and Zangetsu (Destruction). Both these puffle monsters learned of the universe at war and realized the potential of the Magessences leading to them sacrificing themselves to create the ultimate symbol and create a utopian universe of magic in which the Magessences took the form of puffle monsters and all normal puffle monsters evolved through the powers of the special magetech created by the infinite source of Magessences created from the fusion of Ryoma's and Zangetsu's core symbols. These puffle monsters live in a magical universe based on the Ransei region from Pokemon Conquest, and the world from SD Gundam Sengoku Soketsuden as well as SD Gundam World Heroes, with armors and designs based off of the gundams from both series as well as powers from Kamen Rider Gaim.

Demios Arc: The Valhellaverse returns and with the theme of puffle monsters under debate of weapon or creature, Valhella created a puffle monster sentient super weapon they call a S.W.O.R.D (based on Marvel agency of the same name) they called Demios, which had powers to adapt to any area and could switch freely into different battle modes such as counter, attack, speed, defense, etc. However, when creating the first artificial Xoul for Demios to be paired to, combining all the research that was left from their Xoul research, they were successful in creating a Xoul, only for Derek (Dark Will of the Valhellaverse with his partner Scar), to add some of his and Scar's dark magic allowing for the Xoul to be under their control. The Xoul known as Extremer (Based on Kamen Rider Extremer), fused with Demios creating the ultimate Sentient Super Weapon and under Derek's control, Valhella is at war with Derek as he created more "Demios" puffle monsters under his control.

Demios-X: Artificial puffle monsters created by Demios-X (Demios Extreemer) and combined with puffle monster magic creating sentience and powerful magic abilities unique to them alone. Use Symbol Charge powers on their eyes (face based on helmet of Ryoma in B-Daman Fireblast (circular) with their 1-2 symbols on their eyes, sometimes 3, sometimes many more. Xaesar unleashed Mugen Demios-X form summoning symbols to cover the helmet and a mage circle on the upper circle (usually designated for a special symbol such as the Extreemer symbol for Demios-X). These puffle monsters live in the new universe of monsters created from a black hole after war with Valhella and victory only to create a black hole, but through their magic, created a new universe that fused with the PMU.

Ryugen: All puffle monsters come from the universe of magic in which the infinite parallel timelines of all worlds and universes prior discovered are part of a great river (of time). Based on Thornton Wilder's quote of how time is not a river but a great landscape, these puffle monsters come from the infinite landscape beyond the river of time. Created by the Dragon of Time Jihranzer, these puffle monsters use their Ultimate Exceed ability, allowing them to transform their Core symbol as it breaks into infinite subsymbols and then these symbols rearrange to create a 3D super symbol allowing for an ultimate form and abilities. These puffle monsters live in the great universe of Jihranzer, in which time is now a great landscape of magic (so each region, area, habitat, structures, trees, etc are now all Chronoverses of their own with their own forms of timelines unlike the river of time). Each puffle monster from the different time realms have special chronosymbols that represent the region/area they are from, and each have a special ability they wield also.

Ryoma: The invisible nations of magic on Earth in which the puffle monsters use the powers of the world rings and the infinitely different cultures, myths, stories, etc and live within the human world. Use the powers of world rings as well as extremely complex runes (as their symbols) (so a fire symbol is really a rune (made of many many symbols in the eyes of the PMU) (One rune is a giant magic circle with many many complex symbols within it). Magic is based on the magic from Witch and the Bull (Webtoon) and The Newlywed diary of a witch and a dragon (Webtoon). These invisible nations can be found anywhere, out in nature, in the city, etc. Each nation has their own abilities, specialties, cultures, weapons, and runes. Follows the theme of World Equality and an end to racism. Originally, the Sentient puffle monster Ryoma (from R-Zangetsu) found the human world and used a special technique that basically transformed one's soul into infinite forms of puffle monsters and runes. Then he created the worlds and connected them through the powers of the World Rings. These powerful rings have a special rune inside allowing for puffle monsters to Evolve beyond the limits of evolution

Comic: Based on X-Swordsman (Kamen Rider Saber series), these powerful puffle monsters use the powers of colors and comic symbols to unleash powerful abilities. The story is that Puffle boy transformed into a sword and his stories and puffles were transformed into comics, each with their own stories and abilities. Redison found this book and the ridebook (X-Swordsman), so collecting the books and comics of the infinite puffles created by Puffle boy, in order to revive puffle boy, these puffle monsters were created and now live in the Comicbook universe. The special ability of these puffle monsters is how they can switch their forms and abilities similar to Kamen Rider Saikou (X-Swordsman) form moving the colorful comic panels to create weapons, armors, and forms.

Valinar: Based on the Pokemon Calyrex (all puffle monsters use that power and have the design of the large crown head), and the idea of the Valar (from the Silmarillion) as well as the land of Valinor (the undying land also from the Silmarillion). These puffle monsters were found in nature and use the powers of magic as part of the highest order of magic using special runes and abilities, their horns/color of crystals is also similar to Xerneas's antlers (from Pokemon X). These puffle monsters use the special runes and crown abilities.

Alththani: Based on the powers of Chaos breaker dragon Close and Crisis (Stride Curse, the destroying of the infinite futures fighting to seize the power of the strongest future), these puffle monsters of destruction were created by the one puffle monster known as Chaos Universe (a dark version of the hero in the far future and the strongest hero of his time with only 2 forms of Close and Crisis), he created many puffle monsters through similar processes with that dark power. Scarlord (Scar-Z who evolved) is fighting with Xaesar to battle against these puffle monsters (and in the end they won so now these puffle monsters are used as soldiers to fight off the Valhellaverse)

Ashrem/Istaria: Based on the fantasy realm of magic in which I live a double life in the magic world where people like me with a powerful imagination create puffle monsters, spells, symbols, etc and attend school but notice I disappear in order to live my double life in the real world (with Xaesar Redison Xenith as my double that takes my place in both the real world and magic world when I am not there in either). The puffle monsters created by the residents of this universe are very different from all puffle monsters of the PMU (created in the Real world) and are different from the puffle monsters of the real world. Their magic is different as all PMU monsters have a basis of magic based on something in the real world. The magic is based on the Silmarillion fantasy and the Seven Roads archetype monsters from Yugioh Sevens.

Kaizern: The ultimate symbol is created as the last ultimate symbol, Grand, Ultra, Omega, Alpha, infinity, Ark, etc and all symbols are combined to unleash the ultimate symbol based on the Seven Roads Archetype except with infinite different symbols and smaller magic symbols making those circles/rings. Originally to be Redison, the Immortal hero who got the powers of all the heroes and the ultimate symbol (when I go to College) but I decided he made other warriors, (of all elemental and magic types) and each symbol gets their own Kaizern symbol to create a new type (including the new RedStar type for the heroes).

Ciphereon: Based on Galaxy Eyes Cipher Dragon and Neo Galaxy-Eyes Cipher Dragon (Both from Yugioh Arc V) and Type Burst mechanic from the Helenos Region (Fakemon region on Instagram). These powerful puffle monsters have special aura wings, capes, and armor similar to the light of the wings of the Galaxy Eyes Cipher Dragon and Neo-Galaxy Eyes Cipher dragon, but each elemental type puffle monster has special colored wings/capes/armors etc based on their color and elemental symbol. These puffle monsters live in a aura colorful realm

GenX.SYS: Powerful puffle monsters based on The Bone Gaming. These puffle monsters from another universe of magic use the abilities and runes of the Universal particles of magic. However, these particles and runes create infinite forms of power archives. In this case, puffle monsters are created from the universal particles, runes, and power archives. With the special magic of the puffle monsters, more special universal particles of magic are created as the universal particles fused with the puffle monster elements, symbols, etc thus creating more runes and more power archives. Each of these symbols, powers, runes, and power archives take puffle monster forms, and with each new puffle monster core symbol, aura, and Xoul, they create more special types of runes, universal particles, and power archives. Ruled by Redison the Zenith, he rules the universe of the universal particles, runes, and power archives of magic.

These puffle monsters use the universal particles of magic from the outside world and surrounding them to unleash spells and create Xoulger: Powerful puffle monsters based on the Kishiryu Sentai Ryusoulger, they wield the powerful ability of Xoul magic as it evolved through the power of universal particles, power archives, and runes, as each personal puffle monster xoul has the power to create its own unique universal particles, power archives, and runes for special abilities granting him armor, a fighting spirit, and a legendary weapon of power. With the power of these universal particles, power archives, and runes for special abilities, they created their own universe of magic apart from the GenX.SYS group. Both species came to the Puffle monster universe and their magic fused with the PMU creating a greater variety of special core symbol and xoul magic. Ruled by Redison the Caesar, a powerful emperor puffle monster counterpart to Redison the Zenith, that wields the infinite symbols, runes, and power archives of his ultimate xoul, but also the power archives, symbols, and runes of infinite other puffle monsters and their could.

Geoforge: Based on Bakugan: Geogan Rising (the geogan themselves and the crystals), as well as Jungle Juice Webtoon and The Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower (Webtoon). These mysterious Maejinns were created through the fusion of the Magaea universe that fused with the Planet Earth and the ancient dormant magic within it creating a brand new universe as an alternate world so the Magaea universe combined with the Earth creating both the Geoforge universe and the Planet Earth for all humans and puffle monsters (as a hub, as it has always been). Based on the NEST and the Jungle Juice characters with their powers of bugs called complexes, the puffle monster Maejinns fused with objects, magic, runes, symbols, souls, spirits, Xouls, animals, insects, myth, books, stories, etc as they use the powers of their fused object and utilize it to create new magic, runes, and symbols around them, then wielding their special ability, they can fuse symbols around them and their own personal symbols and core symbol to create a special magic circle pattern called a MageComplex. This Magecomplex forms a crystal ball around them (similar to Primal Reversion from Pokemon) and the crystal energy transforms into armor, weapons, etc to unleash stronger magic and unleash their Magecomplex powers. Their home world is known to be the Geoforge, crystal nexus energy fused with the core symbols and objects/magic of Earth created these crystals that create the ultimate puffle monster maejinns.

Imaejinn: Based on Reaction Mechanisms and Elementary Reaction from AP Chemistry. In this case, special puffle monster Maejinn hybrids use the powers of special spell mechanisms (or extremely complex spells). These mysterious puffle monsters use the powers of the Reaction Mechanisms as they mastered the powers of Alchemy, fusing symbols as liquids and creating brand new symbols through forging and molding the liquid magic solutions. These Maejinn use the powers of science and magic to unleash a special form of magic mechanic as they can use Elemental Reaction (combining symbols of magic as a liquid form and fusing them in an energy ball to unleash a powerful burst of magic created by the reaction of those elements), Core Essence (transforming any symbol in the area into a liquid form to be fused and create a new liquid to forge), and Spellburst Mechanism (Using the powers of the new forged super symbols, they can unleash complex super spells in order to overwhelm an opponent). These puffle monsters/maejinns live in a magical universe of science and magetech, with maejinns knowing the powers of core essences War against the Absolute/Absolute Rebellion Story Arc: Redison of the future arrives as the Absolute and only hero, with his claim he will absorb all other Redisons and fuse with the original Redison of this time period to rule the universes of magic with an iron fist, but the Redisons from the near future from university and far far future of Earth decide to intervene to stop him from changing the timeline.

Absolute Throne: There can only be one Redison, one hero…With the future coming in hot, these Redisons appear from the different futures depending on which university I end up at. These Redisons fight off Redison The Absolute Xenith/King (basically Ohma-Z-io). These puffle monsters created by Redison the Absolute King use all mechanics of magic (Power Archive, Mage Complex, Spell Mechanism, Gears shift, break, charge, Boreas, Core bloom and Harmonic, and many others acquired from infinite timelines and dimensions). But their power comes from the fusion of all those powers unleashing their unique mechanic called Absolute Throne (or an absolute ability) allowing them to overrule all other abilities, take zero damage, and have full power on all attacks and abilities, regardless of spells and disadvantages created. Live in a regal universe of magic ruled by Redison, who was now purified and rules with kindness in the aftermath of the Story Arc stated above

Dragears: Redison from MIT uses the mysterious power of the ancient civilizations of gears of reality, in which these puffle monsters use gear charge (Defeat one opponent, increase all stats, attack again), gear shift (change type, ability or stat, or change those 3 of an opponent), and gear break (Break through any defense (even defense that say they can defend through anything)). All puffle monsters can do this. Based on the Gears system from Kamen Rider Build, live in a magical universe of gears and industry

Boreas: Redison from UBC in Canada uses the ancient starflake, powerful crystal cores of ancient warriors fused into a snowflake like crystal, and using its power, Redison can freeze opponents in time, and use ancient abilities. His special mechanic is the Boreas Star, allowing him to change his core or fuse energy from the magic within a core crystal as part of the starflake. All puffle monsters he created can do this. Live in the magical northern realm of the PMU of Canadian puffle monsters.

Sylvana: Ancient puffle monsters of wisdom of nature and the infinite powers of the Earth. These wise beings of the high order of magic rule through order and peace. Redison from Stanford uses these powers of order and wisdom to create a more harmonic puffle monster universe of nature. Their special mechanic is Core Blooming and Core Harmonics, allowing them to unleash a special form of their core symbol, runes, and symbols (Core Bloom), and harmonize it with others (create fusion core symbols to also bloom and unleash special abilities). Based on Stoicheia from Cardfight Vanguard Exia: From the year 2312, Redison of Exia, the hero and Redison in that year, now has a robot body and full sentience, and in this form has mastered the powers of exotic matter that is considered magic among humans as well as the advanced tech (Gundam based). Based on the Exia Gundam (Repair 1, Repair 4, Amazing Exia, etc). These puffle monsters use the powers of the exotic matter combined with the puffle monster magic of the future and combined with Gundam tech as their bodies, these puffle monsters battle against the Asteroid Colonies during the Warring period of 2300. They live in the future universe of magic (with Mars, Venus, and Mercury now colonized and Earth being pretty much destroyed (polluted, etc) with Mars acting as New Earth and the Moon remaining as an observatory and the first colony (the planets are for the humans, and the puffle monsters developed their magic universes around them, with the Earth as their main home as they recreated it and created a hidden Earth as their main headquarters).

Dynames: From the year 2056, the Earth has divided into 3 groups, the societies underwater (where about 50% of the land now in 2021 is now flooded by the rising sea level) leading to underwater societies and artificial islands, the societies of the land, and the societies of the sky (creating floating islands and citadels). Each are represented by a special puffle monster type, all Dynames types (Based on the Metal Build Gundam Dynames Repair III), each specialized in their fighting style, the Dynames Buster (the earth representative, mostly heavy artillery and strong defense), the Dynames Triton (the ocean representative, more balanced for underwater combat, based on the Mercuone gundam), and the Dynames Stratos (The sky representative, fast, light, use blades and sniping abilities). All puffle monsters from each region have their own customizations and special abilities but their fighting style and designs are based off of the 3 representatives (Buster, Triton, and Stratos).

Celestial Being: Based on the TV show Debris (with an alien ship and pieces falling from the sky giving people powers) and Gundam. Part of the War against the Absolute Arc. From the year 2300, these alien puffle monsters use alien technology and symbols to unleash special alien spells and powers. Granted by the mysterious cosmic celestial beings, these puffle monsters used the powers of alien tech and their special future forms of magic only to discover that the Celestial beings are them in the future in which they have transcended magic and technology to create universes of their own. They eventually found the gateway and fused with them. They live in a transcendent universe of magic and technology known to be very alien in comparison to the current puffle monster universe.

The Sword from Beyond Xenith Arc: When War broke out between Redisons of the future all against Redison The Absolute King, 2 mysterious gigantic swords descended from another dimension. One Sword shining with the light of the Gods, apparently made of crystal cores (these were later found out to be every puffle monster core crystal from all time periods, universes, and dimensions), and one crimson and black sword that emanated with Dark energy and negative emotion. The one of darkness represents by deep somewhat suicidal thoughts of how I will have no future, in the case, Redison of the Zeroth Future (my nonexistent future since I am dead) wields the sword as the representative. He found out about the shining sword and went to destroy it, only for it to seal itself and create other swords as keys to unlock it, as it created its own magic universe and hid away. Xaesar was sent on a mission (with Redison) to retrieve the sword and learn of its great power Eairias: The name of the ultimate Sword of light, representing the shining future. This sword is wielded by Xaesar Redison when he transforms into his Valkyrion Xenith titan form (based on Valkyrion from Cardfight Vanguard) and armored up with the powers of the sword (so armored up, he looks like Number 39: Utopia Beyond, and other Utopias (from Yugioh)). This great sentient sword was created as the strongest weapon in all universes, the ultimate weapon of magic, that can destroy and create the universal fabrics of magic, time, space, and reality with a single slice. Sealed away in a hidden universe of magic, it created puffle monsters to wield powers like it (through the wielding of powerful sentient blades of magic) with each puffle monster wielding the powers of an infinite number of different crystal cores (known as the crystal cores of all puffle monsters) with Eairias having that power to create crystal cores, Xouls, symbols, etc. Earias is based on Eirias Sword and Ea (a sword of Gilgamesh). These puffle monsters are based on the Noble Phantasms (These puffle monsters powers and their origin are created as an object of powerful imagination with a legendary unique magic Xoul and other special characteristics, symbols, and spells creating them. From the Fate/Zero series. The sealed magic dimension of magic is known to be the Unlimited Blade Works except with magic creating the swords to become puffle monsters and therefore imagine more swords, magic, nature, etc expanding the universe

Origorem: Created from the Zeroth future and the Sword of the Zeroth Future named Origorem, these puffle monsters use the powers of the Chaos loops, Crisis, control, etc, granted by the dark power of the sword. However, after a great war with the Puffle monsters of the Eairias tribe, they were purified and transformed to become the heralds of the future, warriors of the infinite futures that are to come and the engineers of the Train of the Time (As dad always says, the train is coming, I either move one way, move a different way, or get hit, but the train is coming). Because of the train of time and the 2 swords, these puffle monsters use the powers granted by the Sword Origorem to control and stabilize the time rifts and dimensions allowing for these parallel futures and puffle monsters from those futures to co-exist with their symbol and a special colored ring (Reverse ring from Vanguard) representing their time and dimension. Worlds and concepts based on Project Earth 2050

Arvindr: Puffle monsters based on the Roselet and Divine Matriarchs from Mapuregion on Instagram that use the powers of the True names of Ancient language of magic spells, and the powers of ancient languages of magic (from Inheritance series). These ancient puffle monsters use the magic of the ancient language to create spells, symbols, runes, abilities, and worlds (based on the Fantasy world maps of different RPG games people like to play or read about). Combined with puffle monster magic and languages, the ancient language of magic expanded, meaning the true names also expanded and lead to the creation of a map of infinite worlds fused together and transformed by the PMU magic. Last for the February month.

March Story Arc 1: Cloth of the Ancients: A mural and artifact of magic was discovered (Red, orange, purple, white in the middle, blues, and greens, all found on a cloth I painted when I was very young). Each color is thought to be represented as a group of puffle monsters, thought to be ancient tribes hidden away. The Oranges and purples represent the tribes of the sun and moon respectively and time (sunrise and sunset), the blues represent the tribes of the sea and lakes, the red represents the tribe of the skies, and the greens represent the tribes of nature and the land. The white in the middle represents the primal dominance and the inner savage beast within all and a true mystery… (based on Primitive Dragon from Kamen Rider Saber). With the discovery of the ancient tribes of magic, it was found that each cloth they have tells a different story but that fused together, it can reweave the fabrics of magic itself, but there are an infinite number of tribes that formed in the far future with their own cloths, leading to the 2nd part of the arc, finding the others while also fighting off the Primitive Savage bone tribe (discovering 2 other versions of them, tribe of balance and harmony, and tribe of creation (the tribe that created the cloth mural of the ancients in the first place))

VoidTech: From dream, mysterious warriors of darkness that use mysterious tech implants (Prosthetic arms, etc) so more cyborg types, with a mysterious liquid substance connected to them in a tank that can boost their power or grant a strange ability

Aither: Tribes of the skies, birds, and the Creation essences of the sky, air elements, and the home of the Cloth of infinite skies. As a cloth is a piece of the infinite cloth of the Ancients, this cloth foretells of the magic world unfinished in creation to be all skies, home of floating islands, and those of wings. These puffle monsters are fast when it comes to flight and all have wings. They use the unique powers of the Creation essences of the skies to unleash powerful spells unique to their tribes. The cloth hid their own universe they eventually expanded into known to be the Aitherverse (or the Universe of the infinite skies, home to the universe as foretold in the cloth mural). Creation essences take the form of Wings or a winged crown Aquiris: Tribe of the Oceans, Lakes, rivers, and all water. Guard and wield the creation essences harnessed through the power of the Cloth of the infinite seas. These underwater tribes puffle monsters live and have full mastery over the ancient powers of the sea, coral growth, tidal waves, whirlpool, and the power to heal. Their cloth foretold of the unfinished universe of magic to be all underwater or a universe of magic with a plethora of water magic. The creation essences are wielded as Water Droplets controlled by the tribes puffle monsters who can master its power to evolve into a special form. The cloth provides access to their infinite universe of magic that expanded according to their ideal and what the cloth foretells.

Auris: Tribe of the sun and time. Wields the creation essences harnessed through the powers of the cloth of the Lumos Order, which foretold of a universe of shining pure light spread all over the magic universe and ruled by the Lumos Order, ruling the Utopian society. The creation essences are wielded in the form of Celestial orbs (with a shining light from them), and using the creation essences, they can unleash a powerful form unique to their tribe, granting them special abilities. The cloth provides access to their infinite universe of magic that expanded according to their ideal and what the cloth foretells.

Aisaris: Tribe of the moon and shadows and darkness. Wields the creation essences harnessed through the powers of the cloth of Duskfall, a cloth mural that foretold of the universe of dusk and the eternal moon, yet known to be a mystical world of peace, silence, and the stars. These puffle monsters use the powers of the celestial orbs (Creation essences in that form) which look more like stars and provide a more subtle and darker light. These puffle monsters can evolve with these orbs in order to gain a special ability and form. The cloth provides access to their infinite universe of magic that expanded according to their ideal and what the cloth foretells.

Aerith: Tribe of nature and the land. Wields the creation essences harnessed through the power of the Cloth of Gaia's seed, a cloth mural that foretells of the unfinished universe to be completed as an extension of the Garden of Eden and Gaia itself, a universe of natural beauty, untarnished forests, woods, gardens, etc. These puffle monsters use the powers of the creation essences in the forms of seeds, flowers (Roselets), fruits, and leaves, to unleash a special form of magic unique to their tribe. The cloth provides access to their infinite universe of magic that expanded according to their ideal and what the cloth foretells.

Aithlinar: Tribe of Creation, Creators of the Creation essences, and use their powers to create and weave many different Cloth murals of magic, reweaving the fabrics of magic and creating alternate magic realms of magic, each determined and created by their own cloth murals. Live in a mysterious dimension of magic in which they can see all and have their space to create their worlds, cloth murals, etc, a more celestial universe. Can use all creation essences and special essences they uniquely created for their use, which eventually was passed on to the infinite other tribes and eventually to all the PMU.

Aeylinthir: Tribes of Harmony and Infinity, the united and fused tribe nation as all puffle monsters of the infinite sub tribes with the rest of the cloths of the ancients discovered the tribe of Harmony and eventually established a nation of magic and their own infinite universe of magic while looking for the rest of the tribes. Each puffle monster has a symbol associated with their tribe and their specific type of creation essence powers.

Ardreth: After a great battle against the Primitive Savage Bone tribe, these puffle monsters were purified through the powers of the other tribes and a great power of the PMU purified them, which allowed them to become a peaceful tribe, granting the powers of instinct forms to all puffle monsters. These puffle monsters are the masters of the primal savage magic as well as the powers of the Instinct form, a powerful beast form allowing them to increase their stats and gain a special ability in short bursts. While it is dangerous to wield, those with a strong will can tame the power of instinct form for their own, eventually evolving into their Berserker form, full mastery of the instinct form allowing for Ultra Instinct and a bonus Berserk ability. Live in a universe of the Berserk and instinct magic.

Godweapon: Artificial puffle monster soldiers of the far future created as the epitome of the ultimate weapon. Combining Nanotech, portal tech, and once purified, the Cyberse, these super soldiers fight as the ultimate puffle monsters created through data of the Cyberse, as well as the magic of the PMU. Their design is much more different compared to other puffle monsters as they have one giant eye part and then a magic eye at the center. This circle is at the forehead ish area (covers the area where their eye is and a bit more above) and then a magic eye light comes from the middle and can move at ease. Other symbols can also form within that circle allowing for kanji aura symbols to form on the sides of the circle (so eyes are now more like Kamen Rider Geiz) with a special core symbol from the Cyberse in the center. Their ability is the Cyber Link ability allowing them to wield power archives stored in the Cyberse while linking it with PMU and nanotech magic to create new power archives for them to wield later on. Has an infinite library of abilities and magic spells on their core mainframe.

Diamantium (part of the Doppelganger Arc): Will D (Doppelganger Will) and his partner Redison D (Red D) arrive from a mysterious dimension. Red D has a special crystal core known to be Gemclone, which allows him to change his form at will (and turn all crystalline and use the energy stored within the crystals). Red D fights off against Dark Will and Derek (Dark Will of the Alterverse) with their partners Scarlord Oblivion (Dark Redison of the alterverse and Dereks partner), and Dreadison of the Zeroth Future (Dark Will's partner). Luca and his partner Reddy returns as well to take Red D down. Using the ancient crystal powers (another drawing of mine), Redison defeated Red D and Will D discovering that their world was plagued by the Doppelganger of darkness and light (both are evil) so defeating both, they purified their universe again and found the Core Facets of Infinity (a special crystal core that can create infinite different facets of the magic universe like the many facets of a diamond). These crystalline puffle monsters use the powers of the infinite facets to unleash their many different abilities within their facets of their core symbol, summoning the powers of their doppelgangers from the infinite facets of the PMU after fusing the Diamantiverse (universe of infinite facets and the Doppelganger world), with the PMU, granting all puffle monsters infinite facets to their core symbols and infinite facets to all symbols in general

Origin Pulse (and arc): Puffle monsters of an unfinished universe of magic in which fusing it with the PMU can finally create a Complete Perfect PMU. Wield magic based on magic from the Witch and the Bull (Webtoon), Inheritance series, all my past drawings, Dragonvale, Dragon City, Pokemon, Ryukendo, and wielded by the powers of the Sabre of Origin God Force (Based on the God Ryukendo Sword) and will eventually combine with the other weapons of heroes to create the ultimate sword of heroes, Origin Wardeity Xenith, Infinity GodKing Hero Sabre. The mysterious force of Original magic pulses deep within the Xouls and the hero finds the source of this power and pulse to be hidden in a grand universe of its own. Ruled by the Supreme Order of the Origin Pulse, these celestial puffle monsters use the powers of Origin Pulse to create powerful and primordial magic to be created and expanded on in the future later on.

Origin Beast/burst: More powerful form of Origin Pulse, evolved in a magic universe known for their battles and conquest through magic, uses Type burst and burst of energy as well as the magic of beasts and the hidden instinct potential found within magic animal. These puffle monsters use the Beastial energy in a form of a power burst through the Origin energy. Uses special Ultra instinct abilities, beast nature abilities, and Origin Burst abilities.

Origin Breath: Origin pulse evolved with the breath of creation, focused more on the powers of creation, life, and nature, these puffle monsters use special Origin breath magic (not through their own breath but like Dragonbreath spell magic through staffs, or their hands and spell circles). The universe of the Origin breath is home to the largest variety of nature puffle monsters as the powers of Origin pulse fused with all aspects of nature from all over the universe.

Origin Ark: Origin pulse of the future with special magetech to save all puffle monsters, these highly technologically advanced puffle monsters use special magic technology fused with the highly evolved Origin pulse magic combined with the futuristic symbols, in order to create a sanctuary of magic created into Halo like superstructures to act as Arks of magic (similar to the Halo series).

These puffle monsters live in artificial planets and Ark Universes they built through the Halo saving magic all throughout time and space.

Origin Break: Origin pulse of the future with powers to destroy all magic and origin. These highly destructive super puffle monsters use an evolved version of the Origin Pulse magic as it is used to break through evolution, magic, rules and laws of magic, and even break through dimensions. This Origin break however is very unstable and only a select few puffle monsters born with the power can wield it while others can only wield it temporarily before going berserk and breaking magic space time and origin

Origin Xoul: Xoul powers of the Origin pulse, more spiritual and celestial universe of Origin pulse magic as well as the ancient powers of crystals as the Ultimate Xoul Nexus Crystal core created special super puffle monsters (Based on the Geogan from Bakugan Geogan Rising). These ancient puffle monsters are evolved Xouls of magic created from a Xoul Nexus Crystal core and fused with the magic of Origin pulse, these puffle monsters gained a special form and are 10x stronger than most puffle monsters. Their universe is similar to the PMU except with tons of Xoul Nexus Crystal Cores growing everywhere and implemented into buildings, nature, etc. Basically a crystalline utopia of magic.

Origin GodForce: Original Origin Pulse powers, used to create all magic long ago including the Origin pulse and infinite forms of it. The admin powers of the Order of Origin, wielding the powers of creation and rule, and to create Origin pulse forms of magic and infinite variants. These celestial supreme beings wield the Origin GodForce as the ultimate form of all other Origin Pulse powers as they use it to create infinite variants of the Origin powers and even can control it with secret loopholes within each Origin force ability. These admin puffle monsters live in the celestial dimension of the Origin force watching over all other Origin force universes while creating more universes. In the end, they fused all Origin force universes, both created and to be created, into a fusion with the PMU as well as themselves to watch over their creations and progress, yielding to the Ultimate Perfect and Completed PMU W.1. More PMUs exist out there...to be discovered

Origin Unity/Unite: Powerful puffle monsters from the Infinite universes of magic (known to be all incomplete like the PMU, has a hero of a different color and skill in each world), but combined with the powers of the Origin Unity power, they can unleash Origin Unite Morph powers to unleash ultimate abilities by working with all heroes of the infinite worlds. Each incomplete universe is at 99% with the combination of their universe and the Origin Pulse universes (from pulse to Godforce) and with the Origin unite, fusing all the incomplete universes, it creates one Perfect Complete universe, each with their factions, made up of the incomplete universes that were once separated now fused together (and with each of those universes having infinite facets from the powers of Diamantium). Based on the Wonderful 101 (Video game) and parallel worlds (Kamen Rider z-io), as the Origin Unity Universe is a coalition of the hero king of each universe all working together as part of the Wonderful Unite Infinity team

Regis (Redison Z's new name): 47th hero, Fusion of spirits of Redison, Redison II, Phenexenith, Xenith, Xaesar, and all other heroes, all in the body of the Redison Puffle plush. Wields the legendary sword known to be the King of Blades, Regyx sabre (Based on the Ryukendo Sword), eventually will wield the fusion of the Ultimate Hero King Sword Xenith (my sword drawing), the Xenith Saber (the Tinkercad drawing), the Sabre of Origin God Force, and the Regyx sabre, to unleash the ultimate weapon of magic, and the true symbol of the hero kings, the Origin Wardeity Xenith, Infinity Godking Hero Sabre. Joined Xaesar and Redison on mission during the Origin Pulse arc, and is the first hero of the completed PMU W.1.

The lifetime of a completed universe Arc: A mysterious supreme order of magic controls the powers of the birth, destruction, and rebirths of the infinite different universes of magic (all about the size of the newly completed Perfect PMU, part of the arc with the completed PMUs as different PMUs exist at a time (10) but through the order, awakens the hidden power within the 10 PMUs to reawaken all PMUs created in the past and future, from all dimensions, timelines, etc.

Tales of Ruine Arc: A dark form of runes awaken, as I suffer from a stroke, a strange dark power awakens, as I transform into a form like Kamen Rider Saber Primitive Dragon, with Redison and all my puffles leaving me as I grew evil and savage, as a trade to survive, losing my kind nature to become more savage and silent, to join with my friends whom I gave magic powers too to become Kamen Riders (with swords, so based on Kamen rider saber) using special magic books (Wonder Ride books based off of their spirit puffle monsters), and I summon my own Redison and Sabone as my lackeys to be Wolfvorg (controlling the dark powers of the lone wolf) and Iceskull, both can transform into swords that I wield, and they have their own dark powers through the magic of Ruines.

- Alison wields the Sword of Light and her WonderRide book (WRB), Order of Lumos
- Taylor wields the Dual blades Hunter and her WRB, Rangers of Artemis, Element: nature.
- Oceana wields the Sword of Tides and her WRB, Wisdom of Atlantis
- Divya wields the Sword of Ice, and her WRB, Cygnus Astra
- Saniya wields the Crescent blade, and her WRB, Lunar Myths
- Chloe R. wields the Rose Blade, and her WRB, Harmony of the Sky

Ryugen: The third brother of Xaesar and Regis, known as Radon, but with a new power and super gun known as the Ryugen and Magna Blitz blaster, he wields 2 powerful blasters that he can use magic with to unleash different types of shots and modes to vary his fighting style. Based on the GouRyugun from Ryukendo and the Magna form, this powerful gun infused with the powers of a fiery wild dragon, and combined with the magic of Ryugen, he can change the modes from power mode (strong fireball shots), gatling mode (aka dragon fire mode, smaller but fast stream of fireball shots as if a dragon were breathing fire), blade mode (use as a sword), Mage mode (use spells), and Pulsar mode (combine both blasters into one large blaster for Dragonic Cannon or Dragonic slash in blade mode). His special attacks include Dragonic Blitz Burning Drive shot (standard), Blazing X slash (in blade mode), Corkscrew Burning Rush shot (one in gatling, one in power), and many others.

Miragaia: Miracle Earth, based on the magic school in Canada I was in where I wielded runes and spell circles on my hands like Dr. Strange and dueled against other students with magic powers. This school had kids I knew like Amar Aqel, Andrew Yuan, and Alex Kurz. I used a special magic ability I think was called Xenith or OmniXenith which using spell circles I could wield different colored runes around me to unleash different spells making me pretty much omnipotent. In the dream, I battled with a speed spell outmaneuvering the opponent who was using many surrounding floating shields to defend, and I found an opening to place a spell circle on her and activated a homing lightning bolt spell on her to win. I seemed coveted in that dream by many people while I made new friends from there. The school even had a Saturday time to go to school but also we seemed to be there which sucks. These puffle monsters that use this magic live in a magic universe of advanced science, tech, math, and magic and known to be PMU W2, discovered the Puffle monsters of PMU W1 as Regis actually discovered the world and made new allies and discoveries while on this new world. It was later discovered that this “Miragaia” world was the central headquarter world that watched over and held reign over the rest of the magic universe in which their magic system was similar and shared.

Miraterra: Miracle Terra. Based on my dream of time travel (same night as magic school). It was in an orb with 2 kids who were used to it, and we traveled in time to an area called Talon Chapter 1, section 175. So this universe has puffle monsters lives based on cosmic histories and books with names (So Redison Chapter 1 area/section 150 could be a certain time in his life and that section of time is its own universe on its own based on possible changes that may have happened in that section in time) so In the dream, we entered some cosmic dimension as the lobby to the time orb machine thing and I guess one of the travelers was named Talon so we went to a chapter in his life to intercept something. Also known to be PMU W3, these puffle monsters have special abilities and symbols, different core symbols and unique symbols found in different chapters and areas in each “comic book of life” for each puffle monster. The many universes that make up the PMU here are the cosmic books and universes within each chapter and section within those books (for each puffle monster in existence of this PMU, there is a cosmic book for their primary core symbol with different core symbols (not the main) for each chapter and section in each chapter). There are different puffle monster types in each chapter and section of each chapter in each book, with each puffle monster having their own universe and books.

Seiken: Based on Geogans from Bakugan Geogan Rising, Sacred Swords from Kamen Rider Saber, and the Mages and Witches from Wandavision, these puffle monsters use ancient power known to be sacred and extremely powerful. Known to be PMU W4, these powerful archaic mage puffle monsters maximize the powers of nature and dimensional magic as well as their core symbol power as they form a crown on their head made of the magic energy and symbols to unleash their Seiken form, a hyper evolved magic form to unleash unique and extremely powerful abilities and attacks. Their magical universe is more pure, not as technologically based as their magic sense is heightened so they live in harmony with nature and magic creating homes in the lakes, trees, rocks, etc while creating cities and lifestyles around nature and magic.

Geartling: Mechanical puffle monsters known for their magical gears of magic and innovation of creating new magic, weapons, tech, abilities, spells, etc. Live in the universe of infinite Parallels and perpendiculars, both organic and robot puffle monsters live alike (based on Vision and Zenkaiger). Known to be PMU W5, this PMU is more mechanical based (steampunk design) with special colored magigears running the tech of the universe. These puffle monsters are extremely innovative and in each section of the universe, there is a place for them as these puffle monsters are not only categorized by elemental magic type, but also "profession" as either a chemist, engineer, gearmaker, etc with each profession having a unique ability and power to wield or advance the gears they use in battle or evolution. Nature is all geared up in this PMU.

XC+ (Xoul Carnival/Clash/Civilization): Throughout time, the ancient order of magic that created the PMUs created a PMU that established worlds and universes all throughout cultures and civilizations in all time periods. Their central universe of magic is known to be the Carnival Civilization, the gathering place of all puffle monsters from the imaginations, myths, etc from all civilizations from different time periods all over the world. These puffle monster groups can include the Kung Fu types, or Eskimo types, Aboriginal types, Mayan types from temples and ancient cities now ruins like Tikal (TJ Huizar is there rn and as I've been talking with him, I got some inspiration), and even modern day cultures and future cultures and groups. Includes different dimensions, timelines, etc. Known as PMU W6, these puffle monsters are categorized not only by their Elemental magic type but also their Civilization/culture. The connections between the ancient civilization/culture universes are Monitored and new civilization/culture universes are created by the powerful Plus Puffle monsters (Based on Kyoryuger Carnival form). Unleash variants and special abilities from the different Civilizations/cultures/etc and live in these universes based on the cultures/civilizations

- Imperial Wardeity Legend, Redison Infinity The Xenith: Has flaming special rainbow flame swords and more simpler design. Uses Rainbow flames around him to unleash spells and symbols, normal flames are red

- Ultimate Regal Sabre of the Hero Kings, Regis Infinity (The current hero, bears the hero crown (as a Hero King) and wields the Ultimate hero sword. Floating swords are different and with rainbow bladed crystals from it instead of flames)
- Flare King Redson the X

Noroshi: Puffle monsters of imagination and illusion, created by the power of Imagine Smoke signals, aura signals (symbols drawn in Auroras like the Northern lights), etc. Based on Kamen Rider Sabela and her sword (from Kamen Rider Saber). Known as PMU W7, their universe has high amounts of imagination clouds, smoke, and aura flames that these symbols are created in. Islands, land, water, mountains, and all other structures are created through these clouds or smoke. These powerful puffle monsters are almost ghost-like in form, beautiful with special symbols that can vary in form as the shape changes like a smoke signal would. They can manipulate the tangibility of their bodies and are very flexible.

Key: Those with the keys, are those with the power, the power to open the gate to new powers, unlock the secrets of ultimate power. PMU W8. These puffle monsters wield Keys as a core mark on their body with a symbol on the teeth of the keys representing their key symbol, and they have a special core symbol as well at their heart. Only by combining the power of the 2 symbols can they unleash a legendary ability as they can unlock a great power known as the PMU W infinity (8 sideways), as they unlock the powers of the universe of magic as a vault in which great power can be bestowed unto them (Using their key unlock, 3 special symbols at random from their special core symbol Vault (each puffle monster has their own infinitely vast vault of symbols, abilities, worlds, land, histories, etc) will be granted and they can use any combination of these Vault symbols with normal symbols to unleash special attacks and abilities.

Omegaverse/Quasar: Live in the fantastical home of infinite galaxies and universes, PMU W9. These puffle monsters come from a mysterious dimension of magic in the cosmic universe. Each puffle monster’s core is a Galaxy with great shining stars (or supernovas) bursting at certain regions of this galaxy. These puffle monsters have special supernovas as cores (so each supernova in a certain part of the galaxy have a unique symbol) as well as their main core symbol. These puffle monsters also have the special abilities of Gift of the Galaxy (use their main core symbol maximized for their special attack/ability), Gift of the Supernova (choose a symbol and maximize its ability for a special attack), Gift of the Planets, Gift of the stars, and finally, Omega Constellation, (These supernovas draw out a great constellation and descend great power to the puffle monster). Based on Dragears and Shobe's Galaxy Wallpaper. Elemental types and puffle monsters have special unique cores and abilities, as well as with unique Supernovas and galaxies as cores, and a unique constellation.

Origins Code: Known as PMU W10, the Order of Creation created these puffle monsters to be the masters of genetics, creation, and magic diversity, as they created the magic flow of all other 9 worlds and their own through the formation and use of the unique and ultimate Origins Code. As a brother species to the Order of Origin and a go-between from the Order of Origin and the Supreme Order of Creation, these puffle monsters use the powers of the Origins code to develop a unique code for each symbol. One puffle monster has an infinite number of different symbols that composes of their magic abilities, body, eye color, genetics, evolutions, and destinies. Each aspect of life, time, and reality of a puffle monster is composed of an infinite number of symbols, which is composed of a more microscopic form of symbol known to be the Origins Code, created by these puffle monsters. This PMU is known to be a library like universe as they observe the infinite puffle monsters as they go through their destiny (while watching the code they created). No puffle monster has the same code in a symbol, so while a symbol may look the same, the Origin code is different, making a truly unique puffle monster, and exceeding the diversity further as each Origin code symbol (in this PMU) has their own special branches and infinite variants of symbols and abilities they can use. Also known as a place of creation as they create new forms of the Origins Code, destiny, emotions, colors, and all other forms and aspects of reality, forged in this PMU. Their symbols of magic are based on the Magic circles from Dr. Strange (the square spell thing with circles in it and with multiple layers of it as each Origin code symbol has a magic circle (with the code symbol in the center, and variants to stabilize around it), and then layers upon layers drawn together to create one complex Super symbol (that most puffle monsters would see as standard, but is complex and extremely powerful with these puffle monsters and in this form). All puffle monsters gained this power with the fusion of the 10 PMUs and the revival of all other completed PMUs, (will be described in next species entry below (PMU 11 and 12)).

Order of Creation: PMU W11. Rules the primary 10. Based on Archangel Artamiel from Summoners War and all hooded and with special wings and celestial abilities. Live in the ancient realm of PMU W11, these puffle monsters watch over creation and all 10 PMUs. They created infinite others long before the 10, but they had passed and faded away to non-existence. Now, with their powers and the purification of the Ruine and Althea powers, all other PMUs from time past and in the future, all can co-exist in harmony, with the order of creation in full swing creating more PMUs. These puffle monster celestials have the power to create PMUs based on their image and symbols as well as their imaginations, etc

Ruine: Destruction of rune magic energy and destructive power. PMU W12, the antithesis to all magic and symbols created these mysterious symbols of destruction, only exists to eliminate the other to create balance, nothing, no magic...These destructive puffle monsters use the powers of their antithesis magic to destroy but with the taming of their power, they now only use their destruction powers for the forces of good and to balance the life of each universe. One Ruine in particular (the Primitive Hazard ruine) was accessed once and granted to Ryugen who activated its powers (combining it with the Assault Ruine he had found) so he created the Assault Hazard Key (in a progrise key like design (Kamen rider Zero One)), and combined it with his Ryugen Blaster to unleash a dangerous wild berserker form which he used to defeat Valhella during an invasion. Wolvorg and Iceskull still run the universe of magic (now turned good) but as a police force really or as a military. By unleashing their Ruine symbol to a max level, they can unleash Berserker form, a beast like form raising stats and powers to an insane level, destroy everything in your path.

Althea: PMU W13 to beyond. Creation, Destruction, and now Preservation as all their magic symbols are crystalized like Resin Jewelry. All PMUs once dead, are revived again along with evolutions of the 12 PMUs with the main 10 PMUs and all other PMUs based on each of the 10 (an infinite different numbers of PMUs each based on a PMU, so PMU W1, has an infinite different number of PMUs that were older than PMU W1 but their Universe ended and was reborn into newer forms until eventually it was reborn to be PMU W1). Each PMU is like that (besides the main 10) and even the other PMUs based on the main 10 have their own older forms with the rebirth cycle of the universes. Also based on the New World from The Strongest Florist Webtoon

Parallel Realms Arc: Infinite Parallel worlds are colliding to this new PMU as all PMUs (including the now revived ones) fused into one mega coalition with the original 13, creating a new universal palette, but with this fusion, strange universes are colliding left and right, what's up with that...Based on Kikai Sentai Zenkaiger and Starts with the Dungeon Universe

Dungeon Universe: Based on The Advanced Player of Tutorial Tower, Jungle Juice, and The Strongest Florist Webtoons, these puffle monsters are from an Earth in which the magic world fused and created towers with the puffle monsters inside and the puffle monsters were the mobs that the humans tried to kill off (except the puffle monsters hid away to create their own society)

Simphirot: Based on Miracle Simulator Webtoon. Basically a universal simulator of a Puffle monster universe found as a computer program and can be controlled by one puffle monster. Control infinite different Simulators Universes with different themes and puffle monsters in each universal simulator (control evolutions, magic types, abilities, events, history, timelines, creation, etc), so each simulator universe or sim-verse has their own cultures, magic, nature, etc. With a vast number of these simulators, all puffle monsters can make their own sim-verses, which are created through the powers of the PMUs and the universal Generator (or Generator of universes) Sephirot, to become reality and part of the PMU.

Sephirot: Puffle monster created by the mysterious universal generator Sephirot (Puffle monsters have a universal generator core with a universe that powers them), they can create worlds, magic, symbols, etc and are extremely powerful being granted powers almost equivalent to a god. Based on the gears of each world from Kikai Sentai Zenkaiger (The tokitendo gears). Live in a universal space of magic for their powers to flow freely when they want to create worlds or enter the universe within them. Have a variety of powers as they can access magic symbols, runes, etc from the universe within them, and can create sub universes to use themselves (these universes within them and all universes created by them are also part of the PMU).

Island Kingdom Arc: Aquason searches Catalina island for the mysterious sword of the seas, sword of the sky, Sword of the stars, sword of the leaves, sword of the mountains, sword of the beasts, sword of the sun (all powerful weapons that lead to the Armory of the Island deity). When all the swords are united at the Armory, the power that exceeds creation is awakened. The magic of the island created clones of Redison and I and gave each a personality and a sword.

Tritania: Water types ruled by Will Koh and Aquason, who wields the Sword of the seas, calm, cool, collected, and intelligent in strategy. (My intelligent focused (rarely) side). These powerful and intelligent water types use special abilities that focus on multistep attacks and tactics allowing for stronger abilities then usual. These puffle monsters live in a great underwater realm of magic with kelp forests and fish and other sea creatures that they ride. Use Exceed the Seas ability

Virana: Powerful life types ruled by Will Koh and Greenison G (a different Greenison than the puffle plush), wields the Sword of the Leaves, fun loving, curious, and life giving. (My curious and carefree side). These puffle monster protect the endemic plants and greenery of Catalina island. They use life type abilities such as seed growth and their special magic ability (based on Dragon magic from Raya and the Last Dragon). The magic realm they live in is in a great infinite forest of greenery as they live in the trees and bushes. Use Exceed the Forests ability

Nyxaia: Celestial and psychic beings ruled by Will Koh and Nyxson wields the Sword of the stars, they are lazy yet imaginative, masters of foresight and prediction, and avid stargazers. (My imaginative side). These psychic puffle monsters use the powers of the stars and constellations to predict the future and future attacks when in combat. They can also summon constellations to battle as allies or use as weapons. Live on the island on the high peaks where they created their civilization with temples to predict the stars movement perfectly. Use Exceed the Stars ability

Boltara: Warriors of the sky ruled by Will Koh and Boltson who wields the Sword of the Sky, while his head is in the clouds a lot of the time, he is high energy and always laughing (my energetic side). These puffle monsters are in the skies and mountain peaks alongside the Nyxaia types, as they control the weather, such as the sun, moon, rain, snow, storms, and fog. Riders of clouds and masters of flight. Live in a floating islands they created from the clouds and sunlight. Use the Exceed the Sky ability Beastia: Warriors of the beast power, ruled by Will Koh and Clawson, who wields the Sword of the Beasts, instinctive, impulsive, very primitive in nature, but a master at survival and quick thinking (my impulsive, savage side). Tamer of the wild beasts, these puffle monsters live in harmony with the animals found on the island, and can use their abilities and enhance it in battle unleashing their Exceed Instinct ability.

Gekkaida: Warriors of the mountains and stone, ruled by Will Koh and Brockson, who wields the Sword of the Mountains/land. Stubborn, headstrong, and non-budging (my bulky and stubborn side). Found within the mountains of Catalina island, these puffle monsters have powerful defense abilities using the surrounding stones and rocks to create heavy weapons or shields/defensive structures. Use Exceed the Mountains ability

Solaia: Warriors of the Sun, ruled by me and Redison, Wields the shining blade of the sun. My shining and friendly side. Puffle monsters that wield the powers of the sunlight and happiness. Found in the city of Avalon among the tourists and people, take form and are boosted by the enjoyment and smiles of people, both natives and tourists alike. Use Exceed the Sun ability

Auxurrune (Exceed Creation): With some magic based on Raya and the last dragon, these legendary puffle monsters were created at the Armory of the Island Deities (The Wrigley Memorial) and with a burst of light, it awakened the power of Auxurrune, a great island deity long forgotten that created all other island deities and puffle monsters of the island. He used the ability Exceed Creation, which allowed him to create islands, myths, tribes, and create reality by sheer will. When he passed, he granted this power to the island deities, and eventually when awakened, passed this power on to all puffle monsters Enkairu: Mysterious puffle monsters from different time periods (Ro from the egypt time periods and Boba from the future alien time period). Based on Denliner and Singularity point, these puffle monsters are from different time realms and use the ability Exceed Time, to unleash a special ability from their time realm or use the power of an alternate time (imagining themself from another time realm and using the power from themself at that time period.

Example is Ro using Exceed Time and unleashing an ability from himself in the Future alien time period (imagining and making it reality, that he existed then)).

Zankaizer: The legendary puffle monster superhero Puffleman, or me as a superhero using puffle monster magic, unleashes powers like Zenkaizer from Kikai Sentai Zenkaiger. These puffle monsters I can summon have special abilities and help me in battle. I can also use their abilities as my own powers

Sephilanthia: Ultimate and supreme level puffle monsters with their design based on Sephilath-Aider, Shin Malkuth-Melekh and based on the theories for Kamen Rider Saber's new sword and final form. Redison fuses with me (through Redison the Spirit) and combines my imagination and his power and history as my partner and a hero, the ultimate hero is born. Unleash Ultimate Xenith Exceed, Beyond Infinity. Redison Xenith evolves into Shin Redison Xenith (the entire new PMU (with the fusion of all PMU W1-infinity) is absorbed into the Titan Xenith Valkyrion, who enters Redison to unleash this new form) and combines with me to unleash a new power. All Sephilanthian puffle monsters have their own Spirit titans like Xenith Valkyrion and their own PMU W1-infinity of their own. Live in their own main modern PMU. These puffle monsters with their own PMUs, including Redison and the PMU up to this group is known as the PMU Shining Age of Infinity

Ouroboros: Runic/Secret/lost age of Infinity and Ruine and sacred geometry and runes. These ancient puffle monsters live hidden and in secret but use special and complex runes of power created through sacred geometry with each energy of magic drawn to draw out the power of its runic power and the power of the infinite symbol of Ouroboros. Magic is based on Dr. Strange magic, constellations, and many different forms of magic, basically all puffle monsters of this age have a special magic elemental symbol but paired/layered with a complex sacred geometric symbol and by using an arsenal of sacred geometric symbols to combine with their core symbol, these puffle monsters can change forms and abilities. Live in a magic universe and age that focused on these runic techniques while harmonizing with nature (no advanced technology, all archaic tech controlled by the complex runes and sacred geometry)

Elemental ages of eternity: All worlds from the Parallel universes fused with the powers of the Shining Age and the Runic Age to create the Elemental Ages, so each parallel world (represented by a certain attribute), fused with the PMU and created a copy, therefore creating their own magic age and their own special forms of magic (So blazing Fire type or a blazing sword type from the Blazing age, or a Verdant Flare type, or Verdant seed type, etc). Matching elements are 10x stronger and unique. Magic and design also based on the SD Gundam World Sengoku Soketsuden

- Blazing Age: Empire of fire, military, and industry focused
- Oceanic Age: Preservation of the infinite ocean, atlantis, islands, etc
- Verdant Age: Greenery and diversity of plants
- Universal Age: Space travel and portal tech focused
- Cosmic Age: Use magic of the stars
- Cyber Age: Digital age with the cyberverse evolved and infused into the PMU
- Voltaic Age: Electricity and energy focused
- Imperial Age: Regal puffle monsters of light
- Arctic Age
- Crystalline Age
- Quaking Age
- Steel age
- Primal Age: Age of primitive dino like magic as well as nature of the past and instinct
- Comic Age: The PMU in the form of a superhero comic. All puffle monsters when they attack have the POW and BAM symbols with the letters solidifying and attacking the opponent
- Shinobi Age: Ninja techniques and scroll arts as well as shadow dance
- Wizard Age: Use spell sentences and books of magic to battle and wield magic through relics infused with magic
- Dragonic Age: Use the powers of the dragons
- Faery Age: Use powers of the Fairies
- Titan Age: Unleash the powers of the titans (grow massive)
- Spirit/Xoul Age: Use the powers of the spirits and Xouls, ancestral magic
- Hero/Fantasy/Grand Age: The fusion of all ages (those described and many many more) with the Age of Infinity or Infinity Age, creating a new era of puffle monsters

Invasion/Override: Puffle monsters from Exoplanet Terra, hyper advanced super puffle monsters that brain matter creatures (From Netflix Alien Worlds) control like robots with sentience, to unleash their Puffle form, to Override form (full body puffle monster form), to Override THE END form (Ultimate form)

Eden.Alius: Puffle monsters from the fictional planet Eden (Exoplanet in Alien Worlds show from Netflix), these puffle monsters live in a planet and magic universe with 10% more oxygen, leading to more advanced evolutions and magic. Use special magic abilities in terms of a magic energy field creation (with their Eden symbols that they can gather together to unleash spells and abilities) but with the combination of PMU magic, new Eden symbols were created. Each Eden puffle monster uses their own special ability and special core symbol that allows for Eden symbol manipulation within the magic energy field.

Durendal: Puffle monsters from the continental shift (different continental shapes on Earth) leading to different puffle monster types due to different environments, nations, cultures that formed, etc. Based on Kamen Rider Durandal from Kamen Rider Saber and from dream of seeing different Earths with continents and cultures

Myrai: Puffle monster city in the far future (like Xandar from Guardians of the Galaxy). Based on dream of a futuristic city, these puffle monsters have futuristic abilities and special tech (summon special armors and weapons)

Spellhunter: Based on Omniscient Reader Webtoon. Magic universe based on mechanics like it (with less blood) and has more PMU aspects to it. All spells, runes, and symbols transformed into puffle monsters and those who ally with them to find other spells and shape reality are called spellhunters.

StarClan: Groupings of puffle monsters based on Constellations in the stars (infinite different types of constellations and each constellation supports a certain power, similar to Omnicient Reader) and also based on the powers of Uchu Sentai Kyuranger (their constellation symbol is on their face similar to the helmets of the Kyurangers).

Xpectre: Kaizenith’s (new hero) first mission. These powerful puffle monsters are actually astral projections of Kaizenith in his different elemental hero forms, but these astral projections have their own xoul and special magic abilities and sentience. Kaizenith and other puffle monsters can also use fuse with Xpecter’s through XF (Xprectal Fusion) creating a spirit/aura armor and gaining special abilities through the fusion as well as the Xpectre's powers, but also there are XE (Xpectral evolution), and many other special abilities. Live in a sub universe of magic of Xouls Harmonicore: Based on the Bone Witch and Alison's text of how a book she read (Bone Witch) was similar to my magic world where the mages used runes to summon elemental power (she mistyped and said tunes), so I used that and created a magic universe of puffle monsters that used music and special instruments to unleash special magic abilities and spells. Elemental types have different instruments and are stronger or can use different forms of spells with each instrument. Live in a magical realm of music and harmonies. Harmonics allow for them to unleash extremely powerful fusion or group spells that can shape reality

Eizen: Powers of the hundred beasts, these powerful puffle monsters are based on Shobe's dream of an evil shadow beast (dog) that attacked her, but these puffle monsters use these aura elemental shadow beasts and shadow abilities to defend others and fight off evil shadow beasts. Summon like a red shadow wolf with fire powers, or a green shadow hawk with wind magic, etc. Their special core allows them to summon the powers of the hundred mythical beasts (a myth of puffle monsters of the legendary beasts that shaped the magic universe long ago)

Zhaon: Powers of the Elemental Burst and the elemental realm in my bookmark of flowers I made and based on Elemental Primitive Dragon from Kamen Rider Saber. These powerful puffle monsters (with design from the SD Gundam World Heroes and SD Gundam World Sengoku Soketsuden), tap into the power of elemental magic found within the universe of the bookmark. These puffle monsters have the ability called Bookmark (to save stored powers seen from memory) and can use different colored elemental powers to unleash different forms to wield elemental magic better Vange: Based on a dream of a battle world. I was on a spaceship and apparently playing some game (Aiden Riley was also playing, he's a genius in my AP Seminar class for 2021, but he was in a few of my classes), so we were divided into teams and he was on the team with the powers of wings (my team didnt get wings, or had any geniuses for strategy…). Anyway, the map was like a Disney and Pixar based planet with maps on that planet based on settings from the movies like there was a Aladdin based world and an area with a Mount Rushmore area (but instead of Presidents' heads, it was disney princesses'). Anyway, with the PMU magic overwriting the world, the planet expanded into a battle universe of magic. These puffle monsters have special battle abilities that give them advantages in different settings. This dream was also based on a Super Mario Galaxy and Super Mario Odyssey based world, with us collecting moons (another dream that same night). Also based on Pokemon like setting (also part of a dream I had that same day).

Epeake: Adventure of the climb (another dream I had that same night as the Vange world). The dream was Shobe, Dad, and I having to climb to the highest point of the map in some apocalypse setting, but the thing we were climbing (and the world we were living in or the map I could see) was made of blocks like lego blocks. In the dream, I think Redison had flew up to a higher peak (that would basically guarantee safety as it was beyond the peaks of the mountains, at the top of a citadel that sits on the highest peak of the highest mountain), so Dad, Shobe, and I had to head to that citadel, which was like some Cathedral of Dragons (the people were beastly, spoke their own language, which I tried to imitate in the dream sounding like a barbarian). We were able to get into the restaurant there (they had meatballs XD), but their water was warm since the ice was like a fire-ice thing XD. This world was also transformed by PMU magic. These puffle monsters have special magic to control the blocks and live in high citadels in many areas around the great map.

New Hero: Kaizenith: Redison has passed away and his xoul had evolved but taken the form of the Red Ninja flashlight in my room (Kai the fire Ninja from Ninjago) and evolved it to become the next incarnation of Redison, so his name is now Redison Kaizenith (or Kai). Kaizenith is based on a constellation from Omniscient Reader Webtoon who wielded the Unbreakable Faith (super badass sword). Redison Kaizenith wields the legendary Transcendent Hero King Saber, as well as the Aura Sword of Unbreakable Imagination, and many other legendary swords of great power.

Character: Ryugen: The third brother of Xaesar and Regis and the supposed 48th hero (after Regis) but he relinquished his place to accomplish the mission that Redison A. sent him to do, enter Alison's new universe of a galactic war where the worlds are only united by religion (Greek myth, Norse myth, Egypt myth, etc). Ryugen wields the powerful Transcendent Dragonic Emperor Gun (Based on the Gouryugun and the Magna Gouryugun from Ryukendo) which can transform into a blade mode and sword mode at will. Known for expert marksmanship and a great sniper, he can wield elemental magic similar to the past heroes (but with certain limitations as he is not a hero as of now) and can change the form of his gun and his own form at will. Been undercover watching over the outlaws (Alison's group of main characters of that universe) as he transforms into different forms such as Star Sheriff (police based form). Also uses the powers of his Starship, the Dragonic Raider, allowing him to equip certain gear to fuse with his Gun to unleash special modes (sniper mode, etc).

Kaiji: Puffle monsters of world time, have special markings on their body based on the Legendary Pokemon posts with white lines on them. Based on Kamen Rider Durandal and the Disney+ show Loki trailer (the TVA). From each reality in magic, at any point in time, there is a puffle monster representative that wields the magic and controls time of that reality or chronoverse, allowing them to make alternate timelines within that chronoverse, alternate universes, variants, etc.

Jikokuken: Puffle monsters of deep time, wields the infinite plates of Arceus and controls the inner fabrics of time, space, and reality. Based on Kamen Rider Durandal and the Arceus with mega evolution and many many plates. These puffle monsters were created by the magic of deep time, created by the Chronolords at the End of Time and the Beginning of Time, and live within a secret realm and flow of magic that coincides with all other flows of time. While Kaiji monitors and creates time magic in their chronoverse alone, Jikokuken puffle monsters can create chronoverses themselves, as well as variants of chronoverses, etc Jianghan: Fuse with the legendary beasts of ultimate power to transcend all magic. Based on Motor Nuclear Mnq-01 to 04. From Alison's new universe (I call outlaw-verse) based on different myths and religions that hold worlds together (Norse myth, greek myth, egyptian myth, celtic myth, etc).

Muone: Based on the Muon g-2 experiment and the evidence of possibly new discovery of particles and "forms of matter and energy vital to the nature and evolution of the cosmos that are not yet known to science". These molecules (in the PMU) are what control magic, what magic is considered is the movement and flow of these molecules called Muone. On Earth, these molecules fused and created an entity called Mu, which left and found me. By combining my imagination and the magic potential of Mu, a new power was created as new symbols only I understood could be read (symbols form like equations and translate into something I can understand while outside lookers see it differently), and with the powers of these symbols, equations, and new form of magic, new puffle monsters were created based on this new law of Muone and creating an evolution of Earth, combining science and magic of Muone. These puffle monsters use magic and abilities based on The Bone Gaming, Omniscient Reader, and Kamen Rider Build. With the fusion of this new Muone universe with the PMU, all puffle monsters can now wield the powers of Power/skill trees allowing for many more abilities and symbols they can wield

Kyrem: Based on The Celestial One from Cartoon Hooligans. Use the celestial matrix and more elemental and transcendent abilities. More white and gold in color scheme, with ancient runic designs, these puffle monsters live in an ancient universe of magic as the transcendent universe of magic that watch over all worlds of magic, they also act as the creators of worlds, while Uhrem watch and defend. Celestial matrix is a complex super rune that when created, can absorb magic of an attack and create a magic universe out of it, allowing to summon unique magic abilities, symbols, and warriors from that energy absorbed. Examples include Xolraye and Xolbolte. Both Kyrem and Uhrem use the celestial matrix (with different unique abilities of course). Both Kyrem and Uhrem based off of the Black/White Avengers from Cartoon Hooligans

Uhrem: Based on Black Hole Order Guardians of the Galaxy from Cartoon Hooligans. Use the Celestial Matrix, and more psychic and astral abilities, these puffle monsters watch over the corners of the multiverse and were granted omnipotency. Unleash the powers of the cosmos and live in a universe of magic hidden within the cosmos as their base and place to watch over all worlds

Xolraye: Holy Ray class, these puffle monsters were created when battling Sam Smith's (girl in Lifeteen) spirit puffle monster, Holy wings of light, Arakem, Redison used the Celestial matrix and absorbed magic of Arakem, creating the Xolraye universe and summoned puffle monsters that use the magic of the Holy rays of light as power. These ancient heavenly puffle monsters are always glowing from the light of the holy rays, and use powerful abilities granted by the light

Xolbolte: Holy Thunder class, created when battling Roberto Arvizu's puffle monsters known to control the Holy element and Lightning magic, created by the Celestial Matrix, these puffle monsters mastered the powers of the Holy Thunder, and live in the Empire of magic ruled by the Holy Thunder Empire (Based on the Thunder Empire from Buddyfight)

Grimemento/Grimemoire: Mysterious ghostly puffle monsters that use the powers of skill trees but also use the abilities of Mana Eating based on Memento Mortem from Dungeons & Artifacts Webtoon. These skull puffle monsters have different aura flames, special abilities, personalities, etc. Live in a mysterious realm of magic beyond the spirit realm.

Earth-Dungeon: RPG Earth as a Dungeons and Dragons world as well as based on Earth of SD Gundam World Heroes (With pirate world, knight world, etc). Different classes of puffle monsters. Kaizenith is a Paladin, Redison is a Sage, Wizard, or Soercerer, and Greeneson is a Ranger. Universe also based on Return to Player, Omnicient Reader, and Microhunter Webtoons

Xolarcher: Based on Taylor's spirit puffle monster known as Mystic Wood Archer, Diana. These puffle monsters master nature and wield magic bows and arrows and other ranger weapons. Created by Celestial matrix ability by Redison Archxenith when battling Diana, Lyra, and Roze. Live in the magic woods of Dianaverse, based on Elves of Inheritance series

Xolmonarch: Based on Alison's evolved spirit puffle monster Lyra, now known as Sanctuary Monarch, Lyra Astria, she created the ideal paradise Earth of peace and paradise. Based on Alison as President of Environmental Alliance club and works at Odyssea (so protect land, sea, and sky). Created by Celestial matrix ability by Redison Archxenith when battling Diana, Lyra, and Roze. These puffle monsters defend the environment as part of the Eden Empire and Sanctuary, ruled by Lyra Astria and her Knights of Sanctuary (Lynda, etc)

Xolaider: Puffle monsters based on Chloe Rozalsky's spirit puffle monster known as Arch-Aider Seraph, Harmonic Wing Roze, wields Masquerade ability and Arch-aid ability. Created by Celestial matrix ability by Redison Archxenith when battling Diana, Lyra, and Roze. Based on Chloe Rozalsky as part of HOSA. These angelic puffle monsters wield the magic of healing (just like her healing personality). Based on the Angel Feather clan of Cardfight Vanguard.

PURE: Puffle Universe REimagined. In the future, I pass on my puffles to my kids in which they rename them leading to a change in reimagination as their stories develop. My kids or my sister's kids will choose their puffles as their partners to be the main characters leading to different puffle monster universes becoming reimagined. All based on da7ed_x from Instragram as he does Pokemon Red and Blue RE

Adventures in the Outlawverse: Alison's universe of magic regarding myths of different cultures on our Earth. In the far future where space travel has become standard and colonization has reached peak levels, planets and groups all over the galaxy have set up their own cultures and united based on their religions and myth. Ryugen and Aragon go first, and explore while Redison and Kaizenith (mostly just Redison while wielding Kaizenith's powers) head there next.

- Part 1: Books of myth
    - Aragon and Ryugen wield books of power (based on Kamen Rider Saber) and battle Alison's characters every once in a while. Aragon takes the powers of Primitive Dragon and takes the powers of different myths in the forms of Ridebooks. Ryugen wields the powers of the dual dragons. Ends with the ultimate power of Jianghan
- Part 2: Gears of TIme
    - Based on Zenkaiger, Redison (in the form of Kaizenith) joins and transforms into the Galactic Outlaw, Dai Kaizoku (pirate in Japanese) ShinKaizer (based on the 6th ranger of Zenkaiger).
    - Ryugen transforms into Dragears (Basically the form of Kamen Rider Cross-Z with Dragears power (from Yugioh Sevens))

Universe NEO: Puffle monsters of the New World Order. In this alternate future, I asked god to take my life instead in order to protect my family from the rest of COVID (Guakong and others in the Philippines are sick), so with my death, my legacy continues among my friends and family. In this version of the future, I leave my stories to my friends, such as Alison Lindstrom, Chloe Rozalsky, Chloe Connor, Divya Sundaram, and Shobe. They continue the universe of the PMU developing stories as puffle monsters took a new form as their characters and they secretly continue to meet to fuse and proliferate these ideas. The celestials (Kyrem and Uhrem) unleashed the power of the Celestial matrix leading to all ideas and imaginations of my friends and their characters and their magic, evolved and created into puffle monsters and universes of their own leading to Redison (NEO) and the rest of my puffle monsters leading them to create a great universerver (Universe Server: a cyber connection that allows for all worlds and imaginations of my friends all over the world to be connected to one magic universe). However, this universe was threatened by the Universe NULL (explained below) so they absorbed all the universes of magic and the timeline itself and placed it into an alien saucer ship, and flew away, able to escape through a wormhole and entered our world on Homecoming 2019 and since it was a space based homecoming, they were able to blend in and establish their pocket universes and haven within the PVHS Universerver (relatively new at this time). At the NHS Induction meeting 4/16/21, I found the alien saucer from homecoming, and Redison and my puffle monsters found the puffle monsters of the Universe NEO. These puffle monsters are similar in power and magic except with different abilities, mechanics, worlds, etc.

Universe NULL: This alternate universe, I die along with my ideas of puffle monsters threatening the existence of the PMU magic that exists in the future (such as Universe NEO). This was fixed though as Shobe's son or daughter (my nephew or niece), finds Redison and my puffle collection and brings them back, and as a techy, she succeeds in creating the Puffle monster game I always wanted, leading to the evolution of puffle monsters based on my legacy (now called Nexus Universe Linked Legacy). These puffle monsters are from the magic universe within a coded virtual reality based on The Strongest Florist and Beyond Virtual Webtoons.

Azkiel: Puffles from the far future. My kids and their friends wield the puffle monster powers. Redison becomes Flare, a burning swordsman, Greeneson becomes Zephyr, a winged staff warrior, Boxy becomes Quizz, a mage that uses dimensional box abilities and quiz powers (based on Kamen Rider Quiz), Joe becomes Noir, a shadow ninja, Snowy becomes Soleil, gains gold markings and has powers like Boboiboy Solar, Hon becomes Durandel, an Atlantean type trident wielder that can reverse time (based off of Kamen Rider Durandel), Another version of Snowy took the form of Angel, A winged seraph white knight. Artison takes the form of Horus, a desert sun type warrior, and there are many other new forms. Part of the New World Disorder series (The COVID is raging on and destroying all worlds of magic as Guakong and all my family in the Philippines are getting sick by COVID, so I begin to question my own future).

Zhongli: As part of the New World Disorder, the ancient constellations of the infinite cosmos grant great power to all puffle monsters. Based on Genshin Impact constellations, weapons, abilities, and worlds as well as Omniscient Reader webtoon. These puffle monsters are special warriors from a dimension created by a strange power that seeped from Alison's outlaw universe into the PMU, and with the strange dimensional and temporal rifts forming due to fluctuations in possibility of futures, different myths, constellations, and powers formed as puffle monsters gained the powers of their constellations and even have the powers to summon and create constellations of their own at a certain level, creating new sub forms of their magic type. Live in a universe based off of Genshin Impact.

eSCAPE: A virtual reality world created under the virtual deity Amestus. These puffle monsters use this virtual reality in order to escape the world they live in now. This future of the Earth is an absolute disaster, so puffle monsters created a virtual reality for them to live in as their new home, with the order of Amestus as the admin to watch over the realms created in this new Electronic landScape of worlds.

eDEN: Live in a realm based off of the Hexagona map maker from Christos Stavridis. These hexagon maps can be created and they look pretty cool. In this case, the PMU utilizes it as a virtual universe of magic created by the Hexagona map maker as each realm of magic is a giant hexagon map, so the PMU is made of many different hexagons. Each hexagon has their own puffle monsters with special magic symbols and abilities. There are also different cultures, challenges, and many other things that makes this Virtual Den a paradise for puffle monsters. Basically a place for the homeless to call home in a virtual world with magic, etc. What puffle monsters call a second home in the far future when digitalization becomes reality and common, allowing for human and puffle monsters to enter a digital world (in which the infinite compilation of the magic worlds are placed in this great Universerver).

Eqlipse: Puffle monsters created from Amar's realm as these puffle monsters use anti-magic abilities (a nullification force) as a counter to my puffle monsters. When purified and evolved, they were given the powers to create planets around them and then control gravity around these planets that surround them for offensive and defensive purposes (can eclipse some for attacks and special abilities), or use special combos. Each planet is unique and has a special ability. Puffle monsters can be formed from these planets

SkyWarden: Legendary puffle monsters of Donat City (St. Donat's castle), and wield the powers of the Skyward magic. Part of the clan of Invincible Eagle, these powerful celestial puffle monsters rule the Skyward Passage, a realm of sky that can allow for lightspeed travel from one realm to another. The SkyWarden monitor and create realms within the passage as areas of rest and sanctuary for hiding. Based on the Skyward series from Genshin Impact Elemaeus: Based on Elemies card game and the ideas of Quantum Entanglement and how their world is far away yet connected to our Earth in terms of elemental use of Earth, Fire, Water, and Air. In this realm, puffle monsters became the creatures and representatives of that world, gaining their abilities, cultures, and characteristics. However, the puffle monster magic fused creating an expansion to the 4 elements and leading to a more vast Quantum Synergy system that runs this universe, allowing for cultures and worlds to be built on new elements like Metal, Psychic, Nature, Beast, time, and many more.

MassBrain: Puffle monsters based on the MassBrain system from Kamen Rider Zero One Others: Kamen Rider Metsuboujinrai. Use a collective intelligence to combine into one form, this was a solution in the far future with the threat of overpopulation and Climate change. Puffle monsters lived in capsules (similar to the Matrix) and as a group, is part of a collective intelligence in a virtual brain that created one avatar to live and explore the dying world or find a new world while these puffle monsters are kept safe within the capsules of an escape ship that leaves Earth once it is completely dead. Their Earth had died and in the search of a new world to call home, these puffle monsters found a wormhole entering the PMU. By combining PMU magic with the MassBrain system, new puffle monsters were created as 10 minds in one, allowing for a super puffle monster to be born, granting them 10 abilities, 10 times the intelligence, etc. All puffle monsters from that universe that run the system created a new monitoring system to analyze and observe new powers created through the system and all puffle monsters from the capsules are freed and living on their own.

Ender-sym: Based on Superior Iron man and his endo-sym armor, the puffle monster universe of the MassBrain species was left with the Earth and many worlds dying and left abandoned. However, a strange new species emerged as mysterious symbiotic alien species (based on the symbiotes from the Marvel universe), as part of them. These puffle monsters re-colonized the dying worlds through the powers of the symbiote partners that work with them. These symbiote partners have special abilities of their own and can unleash them on their own but way better when combined with their puffle monster partner. These can lead to combo abilities and attacks. This new reborn universe then found the PMU through traces of the MassBrain puffle monsters and both groups decided to reconcile and the universes fused. Once ruled by a tyrannical puffle monster and his Symbiotic partner, the puffle monsters overthrew him and led to a time of peace and prosperity.

Xiuhn: From the Earth Day Special: Legend of the 4 Earths and named after Xiuhpilli or Huizilopohctli, these puffle monsters come from the legend of how the Sun goes through a cycle of birth, death, and reincarnation (the legend of the 5 suns), with each sun creating a new world (in the PMU, a new universe). These 4 Earths were destroyed by Jaguars, a hurricane, rain of fire, and a flood, and now our Earth and the PMU based on it is the 5th World/Earth. On Earth Day, the puffle monsters found an ancient temple containing the ancient calendar of the suns and stars, predicting the end of the 5th world and the rise of the 6th world. It was found the stones, when activated with certain spells, actually hid a portal that led to a conglomerate universe that combined all 4 past Earths. These puffle monsters have special symbols and abilities from their World, so a water type from the 1st Earth (Jaguar Earth or J-Earth) and a water type from the 4th world (Flood Earth) have difference in symbols, cultures, and abilities. Through a special spell, these puffle monster worlds were freed and recreated once more, then fused with the PMU, in order to help save the current 5th world from destruction of Climate Change

Huatzin: Part 2 of the Earth Day event, Rise of the 6th Sun. Both based on Aztec legend of the 4 Suns/worlds of the past, now being the 5th Sun/World, and the thought of a 6th World after the end of this world, these groups of puffle monsters were named after Nanahuatzin, the small and humble god that sacrificed himself to become the 5th sun. They come from the future 6th world that is to be born after the end of this world we are in now. They came to the 5th world after a portal was found on the Huatzin side, as they found the same ancient temple containing the stone calendar that showed the 5 suns and their current 6th, and through a special magic spell, activated the portal to the PMU as the 5th sun (along with the other 4 suns as well). These puffle monsters are more spiritual in power and use the powers of ancient symbols and spirits (similar to Masango from Arms Video game) in their reincarnated world. The Earth Day ended with a great battle against Tecuciztecatl, the boastful proud got that refused to jump in the fire but then did after Nanahuatzin, but had a rabbit thrown at him to dim the light (becoming the moon), who in the PMU was corrupted through a dark power as he became the Dark 7th sun, who wields power of the 7th world, in which forbidden magic is used as the primary magic. This dark power was defeated through the work of Xiuhn and the PMU leading to the defeat of Tecuciztecatl, and the reshaping of the 7th sun/world, and onward as the calendar continues infinitely.

Sanzang: Based on Wukong Impulse Gundam and different forms he possesses. These puffle monsters can transform into different silhouettes and use the powers of Sword Song, by the powers of the Transcendent Warlord Deity (Based on Naval Warfare God from Omniscient reader) to use scrolls, sentences and spells of ancient power, to unleash their special forms or create symbols to armor up.

R3D1S0N: The digital robotic avatar of Redison, created in the future as Redison's actual form allowing him to speak, use magic, weapons, transform, etc. This Redison came from the future in his robotic form (except as an advanced robot he looks like most puffle monsters). Uses the strength of an earth type, powers of a fire type, flight and agility of an air type, healing powers of a life type, durability/invincibility of a metal type, and the speed of a lightning type. He also uses the powers of the 02 armor allowing him powers like Kamen Rider Zero Two. Lastly, he can use the powers of the Power Visor (similar to the Beast-X visor of Power Rangers Beast Morphers) to take the data of armors and abilities of Redison. The puffle monsters of this era based on R3D1S0N were created to live as companions to humans in the far future. These puffle monsters use the powers of data based on Puffle monsters and data inputted into the computer and Magi-Grid mainframe of one puffle monster. Each core chip has a special symbol and combines the symbols with the data from each armor and ability used. Their enhanced super memory allows for recalling of all abilities. They also have the ability to see future attacks and act accordingly (based on Kamen Rider Zero Two). Each puffle monster uses unique data and armor abilities and live in special servers.

GyrKaizer: Artificial Gear puffle monsters created as a warrior that controls the powers of the Gears of time (stated earlier in the Outlawverse worlds). These gears of time evolved into puffle monsters made of gears on their body. These gears can turn (some do, some don't, or all do) leading to the magic energy lines drawing different symbols based on the gear orientation, allowing for these puffle monsters to have hundreds of different abilities based on the gears. These puffle monsters are based on Bikaiser and the Hell Bros from Kamen Rider Build.

GlutTon: Based on Guzzlord, an ultra beast pokemon that ate everything in its path, these puffle monsters take their form as titans that eat anything and everything, gaining the powers of those they devour, with a powerful black hole within them that allows them to devour even light and auras of puffle monsters themselves. These were created as I felt angry at how I ate everything and gained so much weight, thinking you know I was probably as fat as Guzzlord and may die one day young due to my insane obesity, which would then lead to the zeroth future (the future in which I die young from indirect suicide stated in an earlier story within this monster book), of course I am also mad at how I have to control my eating or else everything about my health could get worse, or I may get grounded for the whole summer just because I am too overweight and then ended up needing a nutritionist.

Starsong: Alison's avatar and main character is Lyra, a sorceress that controls the magic of starlight (color scheme is blue darkness with speckles of light). Dark blue eyes, Long brown hair the color of mahogany with sunlight cast upon it, long and tied back, Thin, pale fingers always twitching and linking, A gaze that flits between interests and figures quickly and a mind that holds the unspoken secrets and wishes of all those around her, A dark blue dress, of old Swedish or

Russian design, with a waist wrap embroidered with red swirls and bright red sleeves
Loose blue pants tucked into high, tight boots sewn with leather and fur. She wields an astral Lyre and an astral staff. Her lyre has the powers that with each note played or tune played, a symbol for a spell can be created and activated. These puffle monsters use the magic of the Starsong by using the magic notes and tunes to create special spells and abilities like Lyra. All magic in the universe has a special tune only starsong puffle monsters can hear and these puffle monsters can use and create new tunes, notes, harmonies, etc, weaving new music of magic. Their design is similar to Lyra, eyes that shine like stars, and their color and design is glowing like the night sky in different colors based on their constellation and astral power.

Redison (who goes by Kai as well) begins to write a monster book of his own (monster book in this term is about magic creatures and adventures with his own characters, etc). These new worlds are created in an entirely new dimension as a monster of a monster known as the Mithras.

Omnis Mithras: From Redison's first novel, Omnis Mithras: The Legends of Xolomon. The legendary warrior known as Xolomon (based on Kamen Rider Solomon from Kamen Rider Saber), he found an ancient sentient blade known as Holy Sword, Excalibur, so together they went on an adventure, made allies, and went to take down the evil organization, The Sword of Darkness, as Zynune, the evil swordsman took down his older brother Xenith that once wielded Excalibur, and ruled over all other swordsmen and women. Throughout Xolomon's quest, his sword evolves into Holy God Sword Excalibuster, a powerful godslayer that can transform into a warrior to wield the sword itself. Xolomon then makes his own sword where he stores his conscious and together along with their allies and all swordsmen and women of the realm, the two defeat Zynune and seal the sword of darkness for good. The Mithras of this realm wield magical blades that contain their clone Xouls, and the other group of Mithras are the sentient legendary swords (like Excalibuster).

Mithras Modern: From Redison's second novel of the same name, a guide to a world of magic found on Modern Earth through an adventure of a puffle monster with a magic watch and the power to summon weapons and robots for battle against the corrupt government that seeks to control the robots to conquer the world. These mithras wield the powers of the Meta-Watch, allowing them to unleash spells and magic through absorbing magical energy found all over the world and in all surroundings. Later on, robot allies were created to be fused with the Mithras in the novel and the main character Xolomon (who had teleported to this new world from his home realm of Omnis Mithras), evolves his sword with a robot and gains robot allies and other allies that wield the meta-watch. These mithras also have the power to summon robot allies to equip as armors, weapons, etc and gain their abilities.

Mithras Terras: From Redison's third novel of the same name, another guide on the magic found in nature on Earth and on all worlds, and even some worlds introduced from the past 2 books as part of an ancient civilization's empire as it spread secretly through the flow of magic hidden within nature. These ancient crystal Mithras were formed through the conscience of nature that created these Mithras through the flow of nature and magic, the true potential. Based on the Geogans, these powerful Mithras use special abilities of the Earth and end up in a great war against the Polluters of civilization.

Mithras Blast: Ryugen writes a book called Blast Fever, a story of an ex-gunslinger of the galactic army that is searching for a new purpose in life while fighting the now corrupt galactic army. The ex-gunslinger Rex, learns the ancient art of Blast Fever, a technique used by the gunslingers of long ago before the galactic army, that channels magic and elemental energy to unleash unique types of blasts from their gun. After a long battle and with the fall of the galactic army, the reign of the gunslingers returned with all Mithras of this universe learning and wielding their own unique power of blast fever. Mithras channel their core symbol and symbols around them to unleash blast fever techniques and abilities. Based on Blast and Blast Fever from Kamen Rider Vulcan (from Kamen Rider Zero-One)

Mithras Kaizoku: Redison found my manuscript about Pirates of the Pufflebean (basically PIrates of the Carribean but with puffles) when I was younger, and turned it into his 4th novel about Adventures on the high seas. In this novel, Jones goes on an adventure through the seas of magic, discovering more than just the 7 seas, but a multiverse of seas of magic, and the discovery of the lost kingdom of pirates that govern the seas of magic, and eventually becoming one of them. These Mithras use the magic of their home sea infused in different artifacts and weapons such as swords, guns, maps, and other treasures. Note: Kaizoku is Pirate in Japanese Noone: Cowboy and wild west universe, based on the High Noon Gothic group of the League of Legends Multiverse. These puffle monsters are known to be legendary gunslingers, but also use special magic abilities that enhance their gunslinging abilities such as enhanced speed, stealth, the ability to summon sandstorms, smoke, as well as wield a magic lasso, and other weapons.

Zylean: Based on Event Horizon world of League of Legends Multiverse. These Mithras are written to have been created by the astral gods and goddesses to become the next deities of the monster universe. Use special astral abilities and constellation powers to create and watch over the magic universes Ezreal: Based on the remembrancers and Pulsefire from League of Legends Multiverse, these Mithras (written by Redson) are known to watch over the timelines of magic and battle those who cause disruptions in the time flow. Also based on Kamen Rider Decade, Zi-O, and the upcoming Disney+ show Loki.

Academia: Mithras from an alternate magic universe in which the entire PMU is one giant Battle magic school, based on the League of Legends Multiverse of Battle Academy, Star Guardians, and Battle Academia. These mithras are divided into houses and classes instead of magic elements and types. Written by Redison after watching Harry Potter and other movies about schools of magic Doomfrost: Mithras from the new Ice Age that struck a reimagined current PMU, based on Blackfrost League of Legends Multiverse. These mithras evolved to survive in this harsh new climate as ice types evolved to become stronger, fire types evolved to use a new type of flame that can burn through the new ice of the ice age, and nature and water types evolved in order to preserve the old forms of nature while also creating new types of nature, beast, and water types that represent the creatures and forms of nature that are prevalent in this new ice age. All puffle monsters (Mithras) basically evolved in a form of adaptation to this new world. Written by Redson after learning about the ice age

Destroia Arc: So I found out my common color scheme in clothing is Reds, blacks, and greys (with some dark blues and greens scattered throughout). Also,

I notice I have been getting a tad more short tempered for some reason (more dark emotions) which Redison reflects as my avatar. Redison unleashes a new power known as the Metacard that contains the dark version of the star of creation Vestroia, known as Destroia. This dark power grants Redison with different forms such as Burning Assault Redison Destroia The Hazard (based on Assault Wolf from Kamen Rider Zero-One) which increases his attack power greatly by unleashing all energy on attack and attack based abilities, increasing his speed, strength, but at the cost of control. His other form is Raging beastia Redison Destroia The Predator, which transforms him into a beast with enhanced super animal instincts, giant claws and powerful legs (Based on Wukong Impulse Gundam's giant monkey form). Known for his giant flaming claws and fire power (fire breathing, fire ball making, etc). The other puffle monsters created a new belt to allow him to control his forms (instead of going wild), however, the Destroia Metacard has a mind of its own and created a new item to connect to the belt that overrides the control Redison has, unleashing a third form known as Bererkerogue Redison Destroia The End (which causes a wild new form based on Kamen Rider Rogue and Kamen Rider Build Black Hazard from Kamen Rider Build)

SDP (SD Prism): Based on the SD Gundams from SD Gundam World Heroes and SD Gundam World Sengoku Soketsuden, as well as the SDs from Kikai Sentai Zenkaiger that Twokaizer can armor up with, as well as the Eevee from RE:PKMN with a prism that with a change in color can change its forms (eeveelutions). These SD puffle monsters lived in PV as a result of the gears of time in the PV area slowing down and collapsing, resulting in these gears to become SD puffle monsters. Kaizenith was able to master the power of Shinkaizer that Redison had (twokaizer) and use the powers of the SD prisms to work with him, but the PV police tried to capture them all, which led Redison to unleash his dark forms of the Destroia metacard, allowing Kaizenith to free them to their own magic universe. Each of these SD puffle monsters had their gears changed into prisms that are on a part of their body and colored their elemental magic type, they also have their core symbol crystalized within the prism. A change in the color of the prism allows for a change in form (change into the many facets of the prism).

Berserkerogue: Under the dark star of Destroia, these dark puffle monsters use the powers of the uncontrollable rogue force, which when activated, destroys all weaknesses, flaws, and unnecessary powers and replacing them with other powers that tap the core and the maximum potential of a monster, creating the rogue form of a puffle monster. All attacks have the word rogue in them, with their final ability being the ability to crack and shatter reality. The powers of Destroia and Redison's powers of creation made these puffle monsters as the personification of the eventual end of magic as it shatters. These puffle monsters have a shard of a core with their main symbol.

Hazard Assault: When I first made puffle monsters, violence was stripped of them, or in the sense, the pure hate and spite that drove violence in our world, making them peaceful creatures and friends that battle each other in friendly competitions. As darkness began to grow in time, Destroia awakened creating one power, known to be the Hazard Force, which when activated, will unleash the primitive violence, hate, and spite that I took away into a puffle monster, and give them the insatiable desire to destroy all creation and everything in their path, eliminating the sense of reason and empathy and replacing it with a violent rage. Redison's anger towards PV for trying to take the SDs resonated with Destroia, unleashing his Burning Hazard Assault form. Destroia and with Redison's creation power created these Hazard Assault puffle monsters as a form of balance, for light to exist, darkness must exist as well.

Predator: Puffle monsters were once creatures, beasts of magnificent magic power. However, the rainbow rain evolved them to become monsters, and later on, the power to transform into puffles and any other form made them the superior imagination spirits they are now. The power of Destroia awakened yet again another new power, the beastly instinct within one puffle monster maximizes their primary abilities that they use such as their speed, strength, agility, firepower, attack, defense, etc. This also unleashes the "fight or flight" response maximizing their general stats and allowing them to become an apex predator form as their "Creature" form transforms into "Predator" mode, allowing them to unleash Predator abilities but like the other Destroia forms, at the cost of their rationality as they go wild with no conscience. These puffle monsters as well as the Hazard Assault forms and Berserkerogue forms were sealed into a separate magic realm with the star of Destroia as their own magic could proliferate and at certain moments, their counterparts of the PMU could unleash their abilities when necessary. The powers of Vestroia were eventually able to use a special ability through a flame fusion with the star of Destroia that subdued the puffle monsters of Destroia allowing them to control their rage and desire to destroy and only unleash it when needed.

Imaginarium: A magic realm in the future consisting of domes or rooms of imagination energy of magic with each dome containing one giant world (one planet of magic). There are many rooms in this Museum of magic so each museum/library is considered its own Universe, and these libraries are scattered in a magic realm of some of the wisest puffle monsters in existence, known to be the Imaginarium keepers, as they build the imaginariums all throughout this magic universe that holds these libraries and centers of imagination. New magical types are created through this brand new diversity caused with the compilation of reimagined worlds and Mithras as these imaginariums allow for these worlds imagined to meet each other and cross over to other worlds to explore. This magic universe looks exactly like the PMU except most buildings are replaced with the Imaginariums and that everything else (such as the nature and landmarks) are also actually imaginariums as well with unique mithras created by the imaginations of puffle monsters as they wrote their own stories which the books teleported to the Imaginarium universe where the librarians watch over it and keep it orderly, while also encouraging the new diversity as imaginations collide.

AITHER: The Universe of magic created by the AI Gaia and subordinates, all puffle monsters are AIs that expanded into the 41st century (Based on the game, Horizon Zero Dawn, which is set in the 31st century) in a new revitalized world of magic and with perfect harmony among the animals (no humans). These new puffle monsters have unique symbols such as the symbols that represent the AI like Gaia, Hephaestus, etc, these main AIs became the leaders and main “deities” of these puffle monsters as the elemental types came from each AI, and developed their traits, so some became life types like DEMETER, or some became the water types like POSEIDON, but these AI Monsters, abilities, and systems then developed further with their own personalities, unique powers, code, etc, becoming their own AI (from the water types, you have TRITON, NEPTUNE, and WAVE) then from DEMETER, there is SEED, OAK, SAPLING, and LEAF, each of them have their own purpose and ability. Later on, more Primary AIs like Gaia developed such as TERRA, META, and many more, which in turn had their own sub-function AIs which in turn had theirs, creating more AI types.

Shiroshin: Ruled by Shiroson, Redison except white, who Wields a sword made of pure crystal or glass with engravings on it. Shiroi is White in japanese. Based on Zenkaizer and Zenkai Red. Works with Kuga, the white warrior of the white coin (uses white tiger powers). Forms include Shiroisun (white sun) form and Enlightened form (white and gold). Known as CODE AURA. He eventually got the magic to create his own species of Zyleons which use the powers of Aura and light and use the special ability of Shining Silhouette, an alternate version of Shadow Silhouette, that uses the powers of Aura magic instead of Darkforce magic. By changing their aura, they can change their silhouette form and wield new abilities, weapons, anf special forms. These Zyleons live in the shining realm of the White Sun, where auras are created but also spirituality is focused so these Zyleons can their many auras and even split their forms creating new Zyleons, each with their own unique auras that can evolve. Each unique aura can grant a shining silhouette form.

Kuroshin: Kuroson is the hero, Redison except black, These Zyleons have more ninja and shadow based abilities. Kuroson's main form is Kuroson Frenzy, wielding shadow magic and darkforce abilities, he can wield shadow claws and shadow dragon heads using darkforce magic (Kuroshin magic). Known as CODE FRENZY at PVHS, he is a known wild enemy to the PV Guard which have new Shotrise guns and use their IDs combined with their data to make metacards (Progrise Keys). These Zyleons he created, use the powers of the Darkforce (based on Cloak from Marvel) but also use special rings by summoning magic spirits from the Darkforce dimension, summoning special shadow gear such as shadow claws, shadow dragon heads, shadow swords, etc. Based on the magic ability and color, some Zyleons have different rings with different shadow weapons that are created such as maybe shadow blades that can blast fire, or shadow stars, etc and these shadow weapons can be of their colors (a fire type Kuroshin uses his magic rings to summon red shadow cannons and red shadow blades, but these magic blades uses fire magic). These puffle monsters also use the special ability of Shadow Silhouette, allowing for special silhouette forms based on Wukong Gundam's Silhouette forms. One Kuroshin Zyleon can have many different shadows with special weapons they can summon from their rings. Rings is based off of Armored Dr. Strange from Cartoon Hooligans. Live in the Shadow Kingdom of the black moon.

The Infinity Series or Zyleon Chronicles: Millicent has her own magical world she writes, Alison also has her own magic worlds she writes about. After a reflection on my very own monster world, I realized it is just one giant story world that changes over and over again, evolves, and is forever expanding. Kuroson and Shiroson are part of the Hero Type, that are from the universe of Zyleon Chronicles (or the Infinity series) which is a Puffle monster universe in the form of a book universe similar to Alison's and Millicent's. Basically I would present monsters in this form, but in my own world, Monsters, Mythras, and Zyleons are now all together (but are separate species all together). More Zyleons like Kuroshin and Shiroshin, and use abilities based on the Spellforms from Dragonvale (such as the Bastion Dragon, Armament dragon, Psyche Dragon, etc). Each Zyleon has their own special spellforms and through customization can earn special abilities, weapons, etc. The following Zyleon species below are from a completely different story series of magic written by the celestial writer that created the Infinity Series of Monsters, or the Zyleon Chronicles. These new series (completely separate from the Zyleons of the Infinity series) are Bastione Chronicles, The Riptide Records, and Skyrider Stories.

Bastione: The Zyleons of Hope, these zyleons use the powers of inspiration, hope, light, and creation as the sages of the zyleon universe as they help create worlds, new zyleons, forms of magic, spells, etc. Live in a realm of light within the Zyleon Chronicles Universe

Riptide: Zyleons of the sea, these zyleons are the rulers of the infinite seas. Known to live underwater, they can appear out of water and control the tides as well. Have special spellform armors to gain special aqua abilities such as fins for speed, symbols for magic, etc

Skyrider: Zyleons of the skies, these zyleons rule the skies and the heavens above the zyleons. Can customize with special wings and symbols that can grant abilities to control the wind and storms

RegisXenith/Regixenith: All puffle monsters are Redison in different forms, different backstories, heroes and partners to different universal counterparts, etc, in past, present, and future and all living in the Empire of Redisons (or Redison Empire), a great magic realm of Redisons and centered around the Red Star Citadel, a massive castle of magic that holds the Omniversal Library (Holds data and Xouls of all puffle monsters of each universe a Redison in this universe rules over, as well as history, descriptions of worlds, magic, abilities, weapons, etc), and holds the Court of the Red Xoul in which the high order of Redisons rule over all others, and where Redison the Spirit resides. Redison ArchXenith discovers this Kingdom of Redisons, learns of the different Redisons, and discovers this Kingdom is actually a crossroad realm in which all Redisons have access to this universe. Redison The Spirit was the very first Redison, the soul core of Redison plush, in which Redison ArchXenith is technically, so after many trials, Redison the Spirit fuses with Redison ArchXenith becoming Xaesar Regis Xenith, the Ultimate Ruler of all Redisons, Redison Incarnations and reincarnations, Redison Avatars, and monsters that fused with Redison (which created an avatar). New names given to each Redison to separate them for identification. Redison ArchXenith (OG Redison and my partner/Avatar, the true Lord of Sabres) is Xaesar Regis Xenith (or Xaesar if he becomes a book character), Redson became Ren Xenith, and Redison Kaixenith is now Kai. Redison ArchXenith as Xaesar Regis Xenith can transform and wield the abilities of any Redison he chooses, as well as Sword Sage form, and all hero forms. These other Redisons use the powers of their own universes they have, but as part of the Regixenith group, they can wield the powers of other Redisons and universes as well through a Regixenith Link.

Keterra/Silver Legacies: Guakong passed away, but his spirit lives on in the puffle monsters his soul created. This is his legacy, ancient puffle monsters that control magic of great spirits and souls and use the magic of ancients to unleash powerful spells and abilities. Based on the Keter Sanctuary in Cardfight Vanguard Overdress and ruled by Silver Apex Deity, Bastion Legacy (Guakong's spirit puffle monster) that rides a horse (Guakong's chinese zodiac). These puffle monsters live in a grand spirit realm of magic ruled by the Sanctuary of Spirits, a place Bastion rules over and watches over all puffle monsters of that realm. These puffle monsters hold the powers of their spirit magic within a crystal core (based on Guakong's crystal trophy)

Værynha/Infinite Destinies: Based on Marvel's new Infinite Destinies Comics coming soon in August about the Infinity Stones having new heroes with those powers. Puffle monsters based on Cardinal Noid, Cubisia and Cardinal Deus, Orfist (Both Cardfight Vanguard Overdress), Vairina Arcs and Vairina Valiente (also from Cardfight Vanguard Overdress). Use infinite cosmic magic that represent the powers of magic. Long ago, the universe was made of 10 forms of magic that were condensed as crystals, and these crystals took the form of beings that created universes of magic that sustained and diversified the magic powers of each crystal (infinity stones). These crystals then traveled all over, until they were hidden in temples in pocket dimensions they created so as to not be used by evil. In the case, a dark warrior named Dust Solomon found these stones and used them to become Dust Solomon The End (based on Nobunaga Epyon Gundam). With this evolution, he destroyed all these universes in an attempt to destroy magic itself and recreate it in his own image with the powers of these stones (now dark due to his core magic). However, the magic energy from the universes now destroyed condensed once more into new gems, more powerful than before, and took the form of new deities to wield the powers of the Infinity Cosmic magic. These warriors destroyed Solomon and the dark gems in his possession became transformed and fused into one being of light known as Værynha Arceus, who along with the rest of the deities, created new universes of magic and revived the once destroyed universes. This became a cycle as these ancient gems of power would become deities, create new universes, and then pass on, becoming new deities, over and over again. During the PMU time, the gems, along with millions of other gems created from the variant cosmic energies created over time by the first gems, arrived on the PMU to create universes in the area. These new puffle monsters created by the gems (with one gem at each universe taking the form of a deity to watch over them (or more of a Hero)), wield the great cosmic powers granted to them leading to new types such as Ethereal Breeze, Storm Eagle, Fae Tempest, Aquos Serpens, etc. The PMU then found the gateways and portals and was able to connect to all the other universes created by the gems to eventually form one giant supercluster of universes formed by the gems and incorporate it into the PMU. Each gem has a unique power, and puffle monsters created by it can wield that power to an extent but with variations. The universe/world around them has nature and settings based on the powers of the gem that created it. The primal gems are stronger and in a more celestial universe setting. All these monsters can use Overdress (Vanguard). Have rings just like the Cardinal monsters stated above, that harness the Gem power best.

Note: Following species are based off of Kurzgesagt - In a Nutshell Youtube videos and Koranos Youtube Videos

Akeus: Based on the Type Omega civilizations, God puffle monsters that harness the powers of universes, basically gods that created the universe, multiverse, etc. These godly puffle monsters like to express their emotions, imaginations, thoughts, etc through creation so they create universes and worlds within them. Like me, they do this for ∑xion: Puffle monsters based on Type Omega civilizations and Universe simulators (called Type Zeta civilizations, civilizations that like a Type Omega, harness the power of the universes in each simulator), basically the simulation of universes, cells, life, and that we are living in a virtual simulation among many. These puffle monsters can simulate universes in a server, and can wield the powers of the puffle monsters within the servers/simulations that one Exion puffle monster can create. Each Exion puffle monster can create an infinite number of simulations of universes with each universe having one trait of the creators core symbol and ability, so an exion water type creates simulators of universes such as if the universe was flooded so all water type ruled, or composition of water changed, etc

Species Ω0: Puffle monsters of the Type Omega civilization universes, outside of the PMU. These puffle monsters harness a unique power of their core symbol and magic of their world in their universe that the Akeus puffle monsters created. There are many puffle monsters in each world and in each universe, but what they all have in common is that each group is about a Type 2 or type 3 civilization, harnessing the powers of their stars, galaxies, have colonies everywhere, etc. They are all marked with an Omega symbol and their core symbol.

Species.0.0.1: Puffle monsters of the Type Zeta civilization (Exion) universes (given the PMU is a simulation) outside of the PMU (so other simulations). These puffle monsters are unique and will share one trait of their creator while harnessing one form of magic of their world in their universe with their unique core symbol. These puffle monsters are very similar to the Species Ω0, but the only difference is their core symbols is more pixelated in design and with the sigma (E) symbol marked as part of their core symbol, to mark they are part of a simulated universe of Exion. Have the ability to travel to the other universes in other simulator servers, which created diversity and more universes to be created.

Renling: Powers based off of Miraculous and Renlings, Combined with Gold Earth, Rogue Earth, Super Earth, and Black Hole World (all 4 from Koranos or Kurzgesagt videos). Extremely powerful intelligent puffle monster like creatures that wield the magic of the Astral Prodigious System (based on the Prodigious from Miraculous Shanghai), that created infinite different forms of Earth and magic universes in which something occurred that changed the course of history. These different universes are accessed through the Astral Prodigious by the other puffle monsters of the different universes, allowing for diversity in these universes and development of new universes based off of culture or symbol fusion. Take a form similar to the Kwamis or Renlings, as well as SD Gundam and SD from Zenkaiger. These SD like puffle monsters can grow into normal monster size and then use their own SD power to equip armors and gain special abilities or use other puffle monsters to armor up (Similar to Twokaizer using the SDs to gain a form). Each puffle monster from a certain universe has a special unique power from that universe only they can wield.

M1nd: Mind upload technology created puffle monsters to become immortal and changed society. However, humans also gained the power to upload their mind into digital avatars that could co-exist with them. In the end, puffle monsters and humans have their digital avatars to co-exist with them, but these digital avatars have a mind of their own based on the mind of their human/monster base. These avatars can create puffle monsters and imagine as well, creating a new universe of magic based off of their imagination that is incorporated into the M1nd universe.

Zeroth End: Puffle monsters with the powers of Zeroth End Scarlord and Zeroth End Dreadison. Both rule this militarized magic universe that, with their power, act as a failsafe system that will destroy all magic if the entire magic universe is turned evil. Uses the power of the Vacuum Decay, a crimson ring like power that can obliterate reality and existence itself. Entered the PVHS Realm and are at odds against the PV Guard

Zeroth Dawn: In a post-apocalyptic universe in which magic is a thing of the past, puffle monsters no longer have powers but use technology of their region and different forms of energy and AI as their power. More tribal in design and based on Horizon Zero Dawn and Horizon Forbidden West, in which these puffle monsters live on technology and AI (with what seems like magic powers but really just technology that enhances natural processes). Work with mechanical beasts and can wield special armors and tech weapons

Zeroth Dusk: Part of Zeroth Dawn universe, these puffle monsters live in a hidden realm of magic, part of an ancient civilization that once used magic, basically the PMU long ago in which magic was still used. More spellform symbols (not armor pieces but more just symbols like the tropical spellform types)(Dragonvale) based magic as well as Kromas (runes from The Bone Gaming).

Shinryr: Puffle monsters based on Gardedge, Fangtom, and Darkanine (3 Legendary pokemon based on Hyrule region pokemon on Instagram). These puffle monsters use an ancient form of magic found in the regions and are archaic in design. Each wield an ancient blade of magic and wield the powers granted by the Trinicore, a mysterious new form of a core magic. The great spirits of light used their knowledge of the Trinicore and core magic to create new forms of magic cores to take form of the crystal like universal particles and Kromas (from The Bone Gaming).

Qore: Puffle monsters that use Q-codes, Kromas, Universal particles, power archives, live in magic universes fueled by the Q-biomes and Qore magic (all based on The Bone Gaming). These puffle monsters are in the far future in which core magic has evolved and become more prevalent. Most forms of magic comes from the core, but it was never analyzed and discovered that core magic can come in many forms. This is based on Q-Codes within genetics of a puffle monster and the codes of the universal particles and atoms that make up puffle monsters and a core symbol. A core is a crystal or crystalized heart that holds a puffle monster’s primary symbol that makes them unique and holds all power of magic for spells, abilities, etc. By changing Qores or using Qore abilities, these puffle monsters can change forms and gain special abilities, allowing for extensions to the use of their core symbol Deqode/Qode: Puffle monsters based on Kamen Rider Decade and Rider cards (especially those card scanning lines). These puffle monsters found the powers of the universal particles within the powers of cards. Long ago, cards were used as ability cards (when puffles was based on Bakugan back then) to unleash attacks and abilities. However, these cards were rendered useless later on (when I discovered Pokemon), but the cards made a resurface as it was found in the analysis of Qores, Q-codes, universal particles, etc that the ability cards was these powers in a concentrated form, which using the old Power Gauntlets (that used the cards in the past) now with updated PMU magic, these cards transformed into puffle monsters with a special core that uses Qore magic but in this case, has an aspect of card scanning (based on the cards from Kamen Rider Decade). Uses the powers of dimension walls to travel to infinite universes of magic in which in this universe, the whole PMU and all puffle monsters have these card scanning codes that allow them to use unique abilities in this universe or use the codes of other puffle monsters, such as armoring up with their abilities or even transforming into them (as long as it is in an alternate universe).

Xaizo: Puffle monsters of the REverses. These puffle monsters come from a reimagined version of the PMU and all pmu worlds. This first group is based off of the ninja and specifically Saizo from SD Gundam World Heroes. Based on the idea of the Black Holes and Information (the rearrangement and unique arrangements of atoms and molecules that create forms of shapes. Example was carbon atoms rearranged can be coal or diamond (different information)). Black holes absorb information and it is said that it can destroy information by turning arrangements into the same, it can store all this information into a baby universe, or the information is safe and stored in the Event Horizon, basically acting as an infinitely large harddrive (data storage). As it eats planets and stars, the information within them is stored into the Event Horizon, basically an extremely tiny pixel of the black hole contains as much information as all the information that exists on Earth. In addition to the idea of the Holographic Principle and the idea of how everything that enters that black hole is stored on the event horizon in a 2d form (a hologram). Everything in the black hole is basically a hologram, on the inside, it is 3d but on the outside it is 2d. So with this idea in mind, the entire universe could be encoded and on a flat screen. Based on these ideas (From the Kurzgesagt video on Black Holes and the Information Paradox), the PMU was found to be a tiny speck/pixel of information, basically printed into the flat screen of a black hole, but there are many black holes and even within the one black hole with us, there are infinitely many more pixels of super condensed information (so each pixel is a full size PMU (up to this point), each with their own laws of magic, physics, nature, puffle monsters, abilities, symbols, etc). Xaizo puffle monsters are monsters of information and live in their universes of magic (stored in a pixel of a black hole), and have their own special abilities, magic, core symbols, etc. Each pixel has its own reimagined version of the PMU (so one about ninjas, or one about robots, etc), and each pixel PMU has a symbol that represents that universe (so a puffle monster of the ninja pixel has a symbol that states it is from the ninja pixel). With their powers, they can change their "information" allowing them to unleash a variety of powers and abilities that no other puffle monster has ever done before. They can take almost any form, change their core symbol to become almost any symbol, but their Xoul and Xoul Core symbol will stay the same always.

New Hero: Ryugen, Dragonic Emperor of the blaster and Sword, wielder of the dual dragons, brother of Xaesar and Regis, previous name was Argon (Noble gas brother). Takes the form of Utopia Ray Victory as base form (with an enhanced Ultimate Hero Gouryugun (its actually more in the form of the Biting Transformation Gun Ryutsueder (Dragon Cane), so it can change into a sword form (like the cane but now wielded like a great sword), and into its rifle form) (Gouryuguns surround him as blades and blasters when needed (Gouryugun based on Ryukendo). Evolved forms include Asura form SLASH: Powerful puffle monsters based off of the sword person from Unordinary (Webtoon) and all the blades and stuff from Kamen Rider Saber as well as Elsword. These puffle monsters are from the universe created by an alternate Redison known as Crimson (or Chris) and his son Edge (or Eric) is the best magic sword wielder as part of the Phoenix World Academy (the puffle monster school at Dikos house (Phoenix world)). Ryugen battled Edge, only to discover a resonance from him that matched the hero xoul and the magic symbols within the hero Xoul. It was later discovered that Crimson was born of the same star as Redison, Artison, Greeneson, Hon, and Dancer but was born later on and sent to a different part of the world. He went on to become a researcher of magic and master of sword arts and created the Godslash system (a special magic weapon system that allows for sentient symbols to harmonize with Xoul core symbols and other symbols for maximum effect in spell use, abilities, etc). These puffle monsters then were created as the PMU magic created puffle monsters for each special symbol under Crimson. Each puffle monster has their own unique and sentient sword that work with them, but these swords also have their own "sword" partners that they can wield when in warrior form. Based off of the Excelblade, Godslash KANESADA and the bladedancer attribute (Both from Buddyfight).

These puffle monsters also can form their own energy swords, knives, etc as well, each with their own special abilities infused in them. Crimson later founded SLASH, or School for Leaders, Archmages, Swordsmen, and Heros in which these puffle monsters mostly are under. Organized by class, element, battle style, etc.

Ashfire: When we got Guakong's "pope ring" which has a giant diamond, and his ashes, the magic of puffle monster Xouls created magic from the ashes and the diamond ring creating a great new power and puffle monsters that can wield this new power. These puffle monsters have a crystal core at their heart (like the pope ring diamond) with magic colored ashes that shape around their core symbol into an echo of that symbol (an outline of their core symbol, but with slight changes in the shape of this outline). This outlined symbol of Xoul Ashes enhances a core symbol power hundredfold by unleashing a hidden potential within a core symbol by allowing them to change forms and abilities.

Omniforce and the Destroyer of Worlds: Idea based on the Omniforce Wonder Ride book, Kamen Rider Solomon, Kamen Rider Decade. The star that created Redison, Artison, Greeneson, Hon, Dancer, and Crimson, reveals its identity as the Star of Xolomon, a great power that summoned destined heroes that with hidden power can create their own universes. Artison, Greeneson, Hon, and Dancer have yet to unleash that power as Redison and Crimson have created universes of their own (Redison has the PMU and Regixenith, Crimson has the Godslash universe)...

Artison Universe: Puffle monsters created by Artison after he unleashed his true potential as his own hero, main character, leader, etc and created and discovered his own universes of magic (like his brother Redison). These puffle monsters are all Values, feelings, auras that are personified as puffle monsters, which stem from the ideas and imagination of Artison and his inspiration for his artwork. These values, feelings, personalities, etc take the form of monsters in which they can use the powers of other puffle monsters of this universe or enhance their own powers using magic paints. By painting a symbol in the air with their magic aura they emit, this symbol can become a mask or face painting on them that allows them to unleash the power they drew Thunderson Universe: Thunder evolved into Thunderson as the star of Xolomon unleashed great power unto him. Puffle monsters under his universe have the powers of styles and techniques, skills and characteristics using the mask/face painting power and instead of things such as love, inspiration, colors, joy, wrath, sadness, etc, these puffle monsters are the embodiment of traits such as strength, agility, fluidity, speed, etc

Greeneson Universe: Greeneson finally became the main character and hero fo his own universe which has puffle monsters and universes that are Nature and botany based. These puffle monsters from verdant universes of life use the powers of nature and beast. Their primary abilities and magic mechanic is based on natural processes and animal instincts/abilities such as claws, fangs, Eagle eyes, flight, and plant processes such as Might of an Oak (Oakenshield), Overgrowth, Poison ivy, bloom, etc

Zephyrson Universe: Superior evolved as his true power was awakened as Zephyrson, child of the Xolomon star and master of the wind, leaving Greeneson as Master of nature. Sky based with cloud and wind types, but also ideas of dreams, ideals, myths of the heavens. These puffle monsters became known to be masters of the elements but also there are some puffle monsters who are the embodiment of ideals, dreams, and aspects of heaven or paradise. These puffle monsters can also dissipate like the wind, making them super fast and hard to hit. Tend to not like to fight and use a special wind that results in relaxation and Europhic thoughts. Live in a universe of clouds, floating islands, dreams, etc, basically an imagined version of paradise.

Hon Universe: Orders/Laws based on Notify spells from Buddyfight. Hon unleashed his true potential as a child of the Star of Xolomon and created his own universes of magic as the hero of these universes. These puffle monsters have magic mechanics based on Laws and Orders, basically each special ability for example can be called Law 1 or Order 25, each order and law have different abilities (there is also a difference between a law and order). This universe of magic is an orderly advanced society of magic as these puffle monsters use the orders, laws, maxims, etc to their advantage. Each law and order reacts with a core symbol differently, so for example, Redison using Law 1 will have a different ability vs Redson using Law 1.

Sabone Universe: The Xolomon star unleashed a hidden Xoul within Sabone which summoned Sabone Indigo. These puffle monsters use the Power of formations, different formations they form with allies, different powers unleashed. Similar to Galaxy Formation from Buddyfight Ace, Sabone Indigo and his puffle monsters of his universe use the powers of formations to unleash combination abilities and attacks, discovering that different formations actually create universes of puffle monsters that have their base power based on the formation, but then can create variations of formations and new abilities (and therefore new universes). Each formation has its own symbol (which becomes a basic symbol in the universe it creates). Sabone Indigo always loved the different formations a group can take and discovered that puffle monsters linked together in different formations has different energy flow. These puffle monsters live in a great city of magic similar to the United Sanctuary in Vanguard, and these puffle monsters are like the Royal Paladin and the Cloud Knights (Vanguard Overdress)

Dancer Universe: Puffle monsters with abilities and universes based off of Musical Terms (speed up like Alegro, or Piano, etc). Dancer's love of all forms of music, dance, and musical arts became the base of the universes that she created. These puffle monsters are based on different styles of music like Pop, Rock, Funk, Techno, EDM, Country, etc but also dances like Tango, Flamenco, Disco, and even instruments like Violin, Oboe, Didgeridoo, etc. Each world has their own music system (types of notes, beats, rhythms, etc), and each universe has one basic rhythm or beat that all the worlds within follow. There are many universes of muse-magic leading to the magic mechanic to be related to music with special abilities such as Harmonics, Symphony, Duet, Concerto, Dance-off, etc. Their symbols look more like music notes or instruments. Dancing styles also have different abilities.

Abysson Universe: The star of Xolomon unleashed the powers of a darker force within Disco (my purple puffle from Club Penguin in the computer), unleashing a dark form of shadows and Requiem runes which use abilities like Necromancy, Soul stream, etc. These puffle monsters use the powers of the Abyss that allows them full mastery over shadows, Requiem runes, death, nightmares, darkness, etc. Each universe is based off one Requiem rune, and each puffle monster in that universe has that requiem rune but also their own core symbol. This allows for the abilities to put on shadows as armor or cloaks, or use shadows or nightmares as weapons. The depths of the abyss mean stronger power...

Omniforce Universe: Based on Marvels Eternals (movie teaser trailer showed their powers which was cool). Ideas of deities, creation, etc and deities of different religions such as the deities from Hinduism and their abilities, or the Greek and Roman deities. These puffle monsters are immortal and use powers of gods, great Omnipotent power that has been used to create the stars of the heavens that create puffle monsters and star trees alike. Each Omniforce puffle monster has a certain attribute that they create their stars with. Their magic is based off of Marvel's Eternals and their powers Destroyer of Worlds: Wanderers that destroy anything and everything in their path, later become entities of thought, rationality, theories, etc. These puffle monsters were the prophesied destroyers of worlds that travel the multiverse of magic and with their powers have erased world after world through their magic. However, after a great war against the Omniforce universe and others stated above, it was found that these puffle monsters actually obtained a lot of information about the sciences of each world and universe they erased (but in the end they didnt erase, but instead absorbed), and these puffle monsters create theories, equations, mathematics, chemistry of symbols of magic, etc and in the end, became the entities of rationality and thought, science. Based on the Link Joker monsters from Vanguard.

Omnison/Xolomon Universe: The children of the Star of Xolomon that came before Redison and the gang or after like Crimson. The powers of the Xoul Ash and the powers of the Great Star, by fusing Vestroia, the star tree, and the Star of Xolomon, a great power was awakened as the heavens awoke and revealed stars and constellations like Xolomon that created and awakened the potential to universe create in puffle monsters in past, present and future. These children of Xolomon and children of all other stars are under the avatar known as Omnison, the physical form of the Star of Xolomon that watches over all puffle monsters born of the star as well as leads the supreme court of Astrals, stars like Xolomon in a physical form that watch over their children and the universes they create, and so on. These children of Xolomon use powers like Redison, the power to create universes of their own and unleash powers like the heroes, an arceus like power, or an omnipotent force of magic that allows for infinite techniques, abilities, weapons, etc through the magic of the universes they create. However, with the awakening of the heavens, these stars can come in contact with other stars so puffle monsters from these stars and their universes can meet and share powers.

RA.I.kon-SN: Based on the AI Ghosts and Spirit Nexus series stuff from DarkTidalWave, and Virtual paradise (all based off of Reicon from DeviantArt of DarkTidalWave, and the main story of Kamen Rider Zero One REAL X TIME about the virtual paradise, nanobots, etc). These puffle monsters were virtual spirits with elemental powers (so normal puffle monsters like now) but in an Augmented Reality style game (a goal of mine for the PMU to be in the future). The humans played the game and worked with puffle monsters, giving them armors and avatars like Reicon. However, each puffle monster they work with, gives a different power (so if I play and use a fire type monster as my AI spirit, my form and abilities are different compared to if Alison played and used that same fire type monster as her AI Spirit). These avatar forms are given their own Xouls and core symbols and with a vast number of players, in the future, humans were not needed as these avatars became the “humans” in the end. What made these avatars (and warrior forms that each player uses) unique is that with the power of imagination, each warrior form is different as each player’s imagination is different so their envisioned form when fused with an AI spirit/puffle monster creates a unique warrior/avatar which becomes a puffle monster in the Spirit Nexus. The world that the players use, and the place where the spirits and avatars reside are 2 completely different places (the spirit area is the one connected to the PMU).

Sæge: Ancient puffle monsters that have mastered plant witchery, learned the secrets of plants, and the hidden properties of magic within them. With the recent awakening of the heavens and the powers of the stars descending on the puffle monsters (creating puffle monsters that can create universes), one star, known as Vera, created hundreds of puffle monsters that specialized in nature magic and created universes of magic based on plant witchery aspects. Based on the Plant Witchery book (found at the Desert Botanical Garden Gift shop on 5-27-21 with Alison and Taylor for their birthday outing), and the Desert Botanical Garden as well, these puffle monsters of each universe created by the Vera types (the universe creators), are known to be wise and ancient puffle monsters and masters in their craft of spells, potions, and symbols made with the essences of plants. Meanwhile, they also have mastered knowledge of the language of plants and the secret code they speak to each other, and through this, have opened a brand new path to unique spells, magic, symbols, etc. Of course, only the Saege puffle monsters know the codes of plants and their secret language (which actually vary for each plant and species), and can utilize their unique symbols, spells, etc. These universes are in the same grouping as Greeneson’s universes.

Redicon: C is pronounced as a S like Cyclone. Known to be a created clone of Redison, he is different because of how he has no heroes. Redison is as powerful as he is because of the ultimate hero titan spirit. This titan holds the powers of all magic from all universes created from the heavens (basically all magic in existence). However, one monster can't hold the powers of the titan or else they would explode cue to the massive power. Redison is only able to access all magic of the Titan because of the hero spirit and the reincarnations as the many generations of heroes of the Red family but also the many heroes of different colors and powers. The power of magic of all existence is split among them but Redison is the core of the titan so he can access any form of magic and even mix abilities, spells, symbols, and even create new symbols through these fusions and abilities. The only con because of this is that if not trained correctly, the magic and spell fusions can be unfocused and therefore, weaker than basic powers. However, Redicon was created with the goal of creating a perfect puffle monster like Redison, with no heroes so he can't access all powers. He was given base level Arceus magic to control most powers at basic level but through the powers of Magibooks (based on Wonderride books from Kamen rider saber), he can use maximum potential of a focused power accessed through the book. So far he has Comic (allowing for power distribution to arms, legs, etc, as well as a few color and superhero related abilities), and Shinobi (Ninja related abilities). Ultimate power is Omniforce (Omnibus of all powers and relatively close to Redison). Redicon also absorbs the powers of each book so he can also distribute his elemental powers to arms, and legs.

Elemental Wild: Puffle monsters of the Yellowstone National Park and Grand Teton National Park. Elemental puffle monsters that have enhanced abilities vs basic elemental types and vary based on region (water type at Yellowstone lake has a different stat and/or special ability vs water type at Madison River or Mammoth Springs). Their symbol is many colored circles that form a big circle and in each smaller circle is a sword like point (runic) and a giant blank circle in the middle. The circle in middle Is filled with their core symbol. Based on a compass rose in some way. By bringing this into the puffle monster universe, all Elemental symbols will have more complexity to them to include region symbols, stat types, and many more. (Originally (in the pmu story line), magic symbols were that complex but in modern time, simplified to the normal symbols today), but these Elemental Wild types are more primitive in power but extremely powerful. These puffle monsters in design are based on the Elemental puffles from SuperCPPS. Elemental Wild groups are as follows, each have fire, water, life, earth/stone, air, storm, snow, beast, star, sun, moon, light, and shadow.

- Mammoth Springs and Terraces
- Norris Geyser Basin
- Yellowstone Lake
- Hayden Valley
- Mud Volcano
- Madison River region
- Grand Canyon of Yellowstone
- Lower Geyser Basin: Fountain Paint Pots
- Grand Prismatic Spring and Excelsior Geyser crater
- Old faithful and the Upper Geyser Basin
- Biscuit Basin and "Geode Spring/pool"
- Firehole canyon falls and river
- Jenny Lake (includes Cascade Canyons)
- Teton Mountains
- Jackson Lake

Calderan: Puffle monsters underground within the Yellowstone Caldera, the supervolcano that gives the thermal properties of the springs and other areas around the park. These puffle monsters are more ancient and are more stone in design (similar to the Puffle Roca from SuperCPPS). Use ancient crystal and heat magic to grant power of life giving to the Elemental Wild species.

June Arc: In an alternate future in which I chose a blue puffle instead of Redison, this blue puffle that became known to be as Lord Azores, became a tyrant of this PMU as the one sole hero who was able to hold the powers of the titan. Redison was sent from the future to the past to be chosen instead of Azores. With this timeline change, Azores was erased from the timeline, however, with his power, he was able to preserve his enslaved universes of magic and with this, Redison A (Azores universe) who went to the future was also preserved so now Redison and Redison A meet when Azores finds the PMU and tried to take what is his.

Story line similar to Terminator. Story starts as Redison (OG) begins to have flashbacks of his time in the resistance (he was an average fire type and volunteer to enter into the time portal and go back in time (only to lose his memories of his supposed past life, basically restarting his life)).

Aezoreverse: It was found out later Aezorys was also a member of a resistance of another universe and a co founder as he arrived back in time to fight another red puffle I would've chosen instead of Redison or Aezorys, known as Ozarc (temporary name). Ozarc was under a dark spirit that drove him insane and made him evil, so Aezorys travelled back in time to defeat Ozarc when he was young, but in the end, the dark spirit took control of Azores. This is the universe in which Aezorys rules and where Redison was once from. After being freed from the dark spirit, Aezorys found his true strength and through the magic of his universe, created the forms of Haouken (based on Kamen Rider Xross Saber), which allows for these puffle monsters to unleash their creativity and infuse their magic and creativity in their spells. Magic runes is similar to the glyphs in Owl House (Disney show). These puffle monsters have a galaxy like design on them and are shining like the stars. They have the abilities to connect the stars into different shapes that can grant great powers or form glyphs in the heavens that unleash new abilities. These puffle monsters are mostly Arceus like except in terms of being an arceus in only one element (so Regulus is an arceus in the fire elements and can unleash full potential in that). Lord Aezorys himself uses the powers of the Celestials to allow for the use of all abilities of other puffle monsters from his universe while also using the magic of the Astral Orders he created (which can restrict some abilities and control the battlefield to his own favor). Most puffle monsters can do the same (after Lord Aezorys became freed from the dark spirit and his own Xoul evolved) and create Astral Orders to use on the battlefield. Use the powers of the heavenly symbols and Astral order symbols (basically use the powers of Sephirot)

Ozarceverse: Universe that Lord Ozarc rules. Thes puffle monsters had their magic under slavery under Ozarc and their Xouls as well were pent up inside them. However, their powers stem from a burst of power, as the energy and Xoul power was released inside them to summon their Asura force. Lord Ozarc wields the Crimson Asura, a powerful being of destruction that grants Ozarc beyond powerful offensive abilities. These puffle monsters are a bit more unstable in power but after being freed from Lord Ozarc’s rule, these puffle monsters gained some control over their Asuras while still keeping their savage bursts of strength and power. Based on the Celestial Slayer and Crimson Asura ability from the Webtoon Return to Player Timbermoon: Home to Redicon and puffle monster clones like Redicon. These clone puffle monsters are similar to Redicon, with each cloned ability having it's own "id" so each ability having an id means it's own twist. So a fire ability cloned from Redison, is different depending on who cloned it. They live on a planet very similar to Earth (like a cloned Earth) that was named Timbermoon, as if the moon had trees on it, like Earth in a way.

Amigo: When we went to Nogales, we meet the Mexican puffle monsters that through the Amigo system can allow for armor up fusion (based on Vamola Carnival from Kyoruyger) with other puffle monsters. They transform into special armor essences that combine with the user of the Amigo System and can fuse (up to 2, one for each arm). One’s strongest point becomes the main power. By combining two of the same type of puffle monster, a special form is granted (e.g. two Rojo Amigos combine into Inferno Caliente Carnival, or two marron (brown) amigos combine into Macho Macho Carnival)

RCX (Regulus Custom X): Armors for Redison and eventually evolved with the magic of Regulus and the Family magic of the Red Family (Regulus’ siblings). Underwater armor is RCX Triton. Above water armor (battleship armor) is RCX Neptune. Enhanced hand to hand combat armor is RCX Mars-buster. Super Strength, bulk armor is RCX Titan. There are many other armors for Redison that he can equip (similar to the PLANET system from Gundam Build Divers RERISE). Each armor has its own conscience (similar to the Mashins from Kiramager) and depending on mood and experience as well as bond it shares with puffle monsters, they can evolve and custom their form, changing their stats, abilities, etc.

Orixe: Powerful puffle monsters based off of GodArms or Exalted Sword attributes of Battle Spirits. These puffle monsters come from the book and universes of origins. Based on the idea of the very first book, the story that all stories, myths, and books of all languages, in all universes, dimensions, timelines, in past, present, and future are based off of now...These puffle monsters are ones of the Great Book, the story that created all stories and universes today. They all wield great power through the powers of the Godarms/Exalted Swords. The Great Story took the form of one puffle monster known as Type Mythic, the ultimate deity of creation that all puffle monsters seem to follow in design and power. This puffle monster has design similar to Primal Arceus (Instagram designed by axouldier). These puffle monsters match in design and power as puffle monsters of creation and origin as they create their own stories and universes of their own (where more puffle monsters are born from).

Beilung/Beirung: Name appeared in dream. Beliung translates to Tempest in Malay. Unleash the powers of the winds, the infinite skies, and the imagined futures. Each person imagines their own future which forms into an island of magic that houses the world of their future. The ancient tempest of magic created puffle monsters to live on these islands and maintain them. Use special abilities of their imagined futures

Asalin: All universes created and destroyed throughout timeline after timeline, story after story have become one...These are the puffle monsters that are Type Mythics creators, god like puffle monsters that create stories, basically puffle monsters that are like me, of great imagination and creativity that have created worlds, magic, etc. Can take many forms

FLORA (Future Linked Onniseer Reality Area): View your futures in a garden. Each future is a flower. The brighter the future, the brighter and the bigger the flower. These puffle monsters come from the gardens of the FLORA. Each puffle monster has a unique symbol and power depending on which future they came from and whose future. Each person has their own futures, meaning each person has their own gardens. Each garden has many different flowers, meaning many different future universes with each their own puffle monsters with special symbols and abilities.

Horobison: Redison as a robot (in a universe where all puffle monsters were replaced by robots) except corrupted by a dark code and the Zeroth Future Sword, transforming him into a dark warrior and embodiment of the Zeroth Future…embody powers of despair, spite, hate, envy, etc. These dark robot puffle monsters unleash these dark emotions to unleash great power and abilities

Roots: Based on Utopia Roots. Unleash the Root of all power…Wielder of this is Variant Redison R1365. This Redison takes the form of a mighty Sword (similar to Utopia from Yu-Gi-Oh), and partners with Will (also a variant from another dimension) by taking form of a sword design that fuses to Wills clothes. Will can summon Redison for magic and the sword as the design pops out and becomes a weapon. The roots of power is granted to this Variant Redison, who was created as he strengthened his bond with Will and Will strengthened his bond with him. All magic that this Redison wields passed it onto the many elemental puffle monsters of this timeline and dimension

Syg1l: Variant Redison R0194 is the variant of Horobison's universe. This Redison is also based on my dream of a robot warrior with Arceus powers (all magic) that can unleash an ultimate magic form of gold. These powerful puffle monsters unleash arceus magic similar to Redison R0194 using emotions and magic information logged into their system. Different designs on these robotic puffle monsters depending on their elemental habitat and type Redison I own is actually a variant...Redison K0982. Where and who is the real Redison…

Atlaska: Created by another variant, Redison A0326, these puffle monsters were created from the Atlas of magic designs. I noticed that certain art portraying the ocean have their own special style (found on the Bath and Body Works Soap that had sea minerals since it was ocean based and the design on it were similar to designs of sea monsters, fish, waves, etc). So in this universe, each aspect of nature and magic have their own unique designs that were written into this Atlas that described where they are found, etc. Apparently, this magic atlas created these puffle monsters in these locations, so as the Atlas changed the magic universe, the Redison of this world took hold and created a headquarters, a Capital of this magic realm that he named Atlaska (atlas + alaska, a vast state filled with wildlife (in the United States, I've been there before, it's nice)). Redison Daiki eventually came and took it, then released it after the intervention as stated below many times.

Pendragon: Variant Redison P9461 rules as he wields the powers of the red pen (I once stole from Sam Cunningham in BASIS phoenix when I was in 5th grade, eventually returned it) and a dragon from someone also in Basis I really wanted

(from the Renaissance Fair). This Redison's power comes from the power of dragons and knights. This Redison was created after I stole the pen and never returned it leading to a timeline change, and in this timeline, I went to the Renaissance fair in which Redison unleashes the power of the knights into the pen (the pen is mightier than the sword). Each puffle monster of this universe use the powers of knights and wield a bit of magic in their blades (that look a bit like pens), and use the powers of their clan and chivalry. Redison Daiki entered this universe and took Redison of this universe as a card, leading to this universe disappearing from this timeline. However in the end, Daiki ends up releasing it after the realms he collected fused and created hybrids and strange realms, while also almost destroying all of time with Redison PRIME and Redison Omnis (Redison K0982, my main one).

Phantomasque: Variant Redison P9254 and all other puffle monsters use the powers of magic masks (a gold mask I took in Explorer middle school once in choir because I thought we were keeping them, but apparently we weren't). These puffle monsters are born of Variant Redison P9254 and the nexus event that created him, as Redison Daiki made it possible for me to end up stealing the mask. These powerful puffle monsters are similar to Redison P9254 but are special in the way that they are actually magic masks in normal form, and when humans are not around, the rest of their puffle form appears. They can partner with other puffle monsters or with humans granting them powers through the wearing of the mask (kind of like Miraculous). Similar to Pendragon Redison as their world was also taken when Redison Daiki took the powers and mask as a card. Was eventually released by Redison PRIME.

Rælic: From the Fluff ball keychain (the crimson) one I was thinking of taking at Dave and Busters. Never did though, since I felt guilty doing it though. Variant Redison R4628 is the ruler of this one. Uses the powers of Raelics, these fluff balls are actually totems in a way. By drawing a symbol on them, you can unleash great power from them. These Raelics eventually grew sentient and became puffle monsters themselves that other puffle monsters partnered with. Created by the nexus event as Redison Daiki made it so I ended up taking the crimson fluff ball keychain, creating new characters and new stories (and a new timeline) that Redison R4628 rules. Later on, Redison Daiki traveled to these universes and took their powers and the universe in general as a card, eventually released though with Redison PRIME's intervention.

Daiki: Variant Redison D6084, the greatest phantom thief of all dimensions and timelines, stole artifacts and different puffle monster powers (turned into cards), across dimensions, timelines, universes, etc. This caused nexus events to occur (event that causes a split in timeline) all over and for many many universe and timelines to be born because of this behavior. Stole Lyra and her powers (Lyra is eventually returned but she is taken at first to create a Phantom form of her for Phantom Redisons he is creating as forms for himself). However, with all of this loot, eventually all the puffle monsters and magic he took ended up fusing with each other creating an entire universe and a mega timeline of its own in which Redison D6084 lives in and uses as home base and storage of his treasures. Takes the form of Kaito X Rogue (Kaito is Phantom Thief in Japanese). The story is that this Redison (who takes the name of Kai or Daiki, as in Kaito), is one of the variants. He followed Redison PRIME's mission which was to diversify magic through carefully creating new timelines and universes. However, he took it a step further and in differing methods, but also, he found interest in the multitude of powers and artifacts all over the multiverse and timelines, and he mastered the magic of Aura Curtains, allowing him to appear and disappear undetected. Orignially, one of the Redison PRIME regressions wielded the PhantomRide Blaster (based on Diendriver from Kamen Rider Decade) as a way to preserve and record all magic discovered in each universe and timeline he discovered in his regressions, by storing them in cards and holding them in a book. However, Redison D6084 (now will be called Redison Daiki), entered that realm and stole the gun and cards when Redison PRIME wasn't looking (this was actually all part of a plan by Redison PRIME, as he knew that this variant would be beneficial for his mission). Daiki puffle monsters are based off of the power of the Phantom Cards that stores the magic from each universe and timeline, however, some hybrids formed through fusion (based on Mario and Rabbids: Kingdom Battle). Redison Daiki uses the powers of cards and the gun to take Phantom Forms (similar to Kamen rider Decade). By taking a power, he can fuse it with a Phantom Redison (a blank Redison that can take in a power and change form after fully mastering that power), in a card, and then use that Redison card to either summon him in battle or fuse with him as an armor or form change.

LyrAstrae: Puffle monsters formed by the magic of Lyra and Phantom Redison LyrAstrae (a phantom Redison created by Redison Daiki after taking Lyra's constellation magic as a card) that got this power. Constellations turned into weapons or armors, similar to ZW attributes of Yugioh Zexal or ZEXAL Weapons. Live in a futuristic cosmic universe of magic in which astrology and astronomy are very popular and all magic is based off of it. Part of its own timeline that was created as Redison Daiki took Lyra and infused her powers into the PMU.

PRIME: Ruled and created by Redison PRIME, the original Redison that came from his own original timeline. A nexus event and variant is created when someone diverges from their destined fate, leading to a new timeline being created. This Redison kept his destiny but had a mission and wish that magic would be more diversified. This wish was granted as he discovered he was a regressor (similar to Junghyeok Yu from Omnicient Reader webtoon), he would repeat going through the timeline over and over again, but he could change something (using DLC magic similar to Return to Player) and create a brand new timeline (so now there is one old timeline and one new timeline that he is in, but both timelines are not connected to each other, keeping the balance of time). He did this over and over again, and eventually found a way to have this done by basically creating clones. Every time he regressed and moved timelines, a new Redison PRIME was created to become the guardian of the timeline that was just left behind. The 1st original Redison PRIME would oversee all of this and store all the magic within the very first timeline (which contains the infinite universes created, alternate worlds, etc) that he went through and use it as a base. However, in one regression, a strange force created a glitch that split Redison PRIME 1086 (the 1086th regression) into two, Redison PRIME 1086, and another Redison, that became a variant and would become Redison Daiki after he stole the experimental PhantomRide Gun from Redison PRIME 1086, the very first treasure he acquired, and after perfecting the gun and Phantom Ride and Phantom Creation techniques, he also mastered creating Mirage/Aura Curtains that allowed him to teleport and jump all over the infinite parallel timelines that Redison PRIME created, and caused trouble leading to Nexus events and variants and diversions everywhere...While he did spread and diversify magic, this would lead to a possible collapse in all time, which is when Redison PRIME and Redison Omnis as well as the many other Redison Variants would intervene and successfully unite all the timelines and branches and alternate timelines, etc all together into one Grand timeline (similar to the Sacred timeline that was unified in Disney+ series Loki). These puffle monsters have access to all magic from all timelines. They are all like their PRIME 0 member, since they are technically the regression of their PRIME 0 member. Only Redison PRIME 0 is the strongest out of all of the other PRIME puffle monsters (more puffle monsters of different primary elements were created later and their own timelines were eventually ordered and fused with the Grand timeline such as Greeneson PRIME and Artison PRIME).

Redison is now the hero once again MAYBE..., 2444 species total
