Monster Book 8

As of now:

- 2860 species total
- Many new heroes and characters
- New villains (Hektarus)
- It's now New Year 2022 (January 1, 2022). Omicron Variant of COVID-19 still at large, got booster shot (3rd shot)
- End of Senior year of High School

Legend:

- Counter (10th, 20th, etc)
- Counter (interval 50s (50th, 100th, 150th, so on))
- Story Arc (Not species!)
- New Hero/Character
- Character development/upgrade power

The Xenithverse: This is the universe of all puffle monsters and the magic that they wield. The Xenithverse was created through the evolution of magic and Redison's evolution as he discovered and united countless dimensions, worlds, timelines, mirror worlds, spirit worlds, parallel worlds, realities, etc. The Xenithverse is the combined universe of all possible universes, worlds, Habitats of puffle monsters created through the infinite different variations of my own imagination and the imagination of others in my home world and reality (my dimension, timeline, etc) as well as that of the imaginations of the puffle monsters

Characters:

- Redison/Redison Omnis/Redison Archregixenith
    - Ultimate SYMBOL: Gao Weilong (My name in Mandarin Chinese), Shield of the Sun (AZ), Phoenix (wings and tail, home city from 2011-2022), Sword (my love of swords), Diamonds (My love of precious stones and crystals). WKO (William Ko) and R (made from K, O, and extension of W downward arrow; Redison).
    -
- A natural born leader. Fiery in personality, serious and soul-blazing when in battle, focused when in battle, more strategic but also tends to be impulsive and acts on his heart. Brave and heroic and the leader all look up to (the ideal me). Weakness, he succumbs to the darkness within him (Dreadison) and tends to get depressed and loses hope sometimes, gets overwhelmed easily as well and triggered (and negative) in great outbursts of rage
- UPDATE: To make him more human (after watching Super Hero Senki (Kamen Rider and Super Sentai crossover movie)), he has his leadership characteristics and is good at everything (too good), but despite these perfections, he is socially awkward, socially different compared to his peers, and although he wants to be friends with everyone, he has trouble with forming bonds with others due to his differences. He imagines his own worlds and tends to escape into his story worlds he creates (The Xenithverse) instead of reality but he learns and adjusts every day with his friends (the team).
- Color Scheme: Red, Gold, White, Black, Silver, Rainbow/Crystal, (and BLUE)
- In casual form: Average height, Fiery personality, Flaming red hair (with white, gold, and black hairs that are scattered about his head, with a white clump in the front and 2 blue clumps of hair next to the white one), bright orange eyes and dark pupils that glow with a gold light when unleashing great power (getting serious)
- Avatar Form: design in humanoid form based on Shu Kurenai, Knight Emperor Elsword (except with Gold instead of silver metal parts) (based on color scheme of Astral Spriggan from Beyblade Burst Dynamite Battle/Quadrive).
    - Updated Design 7/30/22: Crimson trench coat with gold buttons, white flames with a gold outlining of them on the bottom of the coat, and navy blue lining (and some light blue runes) on the outside. Bears his ultimate symbol on the back of the coat (hidden usually but glows when Redison is using magic)
    - Bright red on the inside and white flames with the gold outlining in the inside of the coat on the bright red (the flames are on the bottom of the coat). The space within the coat is infinite and can hold infinite number of items of any size.
        - In the winter, the coat gets fluffier and warmer on the inside but also sports blue flame like fluffy hairs in the collar area (extra warmth) and blue flame like hairs on the wrist areas as well.
    - Wears his Crown of fire (basically a flaming headband that increases power of magic energy flow)
    - Black pants and a red shirt with a metallic lining on the side and gold, white, black, and blue lining on the shirt
    - In the center of his body, his chest, lies a crystalline chestplate with a great diamond crystal core that shines brightly and where the other

Xenithite armored plates and Azura gems resonate together to unleash Perfect Unification, the perfect unification with magic.
    - Xenithite (special crystals that changes color based on aura force) armored plates (shoulder plates, leg plates (knee pads and armor down to the shins), and arm gauntlets) (Xenithite starts out as Steel-like but changes based on element magic) with golden lining on the edges and a blue crystal stone jutting out from the golden edges (stones are empowered with great Starblaze Azura magic) and a Rainbow/white fire symbol. Each armored plate has Azura Gems (noted above) which empower the warrior with greater mana flow.
    - Black sneakers and black gloves.
    - Old Design
    - Wears a crimson trench coat with gold outlining on the edges (based on the Infinite Dimension Space Coat from Omniscient reader) with gold buttons (white lace under the buttons and a blue star on the outer edge of the white lace). The coat has the design of white flames with golden outlining and blue crystal like flames jutting out from the gold outlines of the white flames on the bottom edge of the coat (close to the ground) and on the back of his coat bears his Symbol (the Ultimate symbol) in a crystalline white material slightly popping out of the coat, outline in gold, and spotted with blue gems (these gems are Azura gems, a powerful blue crystal with a golden piece the gem is encrusted in that has golden wings).
    - On the inside of the coat, it is white colored with blue flames outlined in gold on the bottom (close to the feet) similar to the gold and white flames on the outside of the coat close to the bottom.
- In Savior form, Hair changes to white with rainbow tips, and Xenithite Plates turn white and blast a white/rainbow flame
- In casual form
    - Red T-shirt, blue jeans, black sneakers, black gloves.
- In Monster form
    - Based on Gargantua Dragon (with swords floating behind his back), armored similar to Barlbatzz Dragoroyale (from Buddyfight) and Xcalius/Xcalibur from Beyblade Burst Turbo/Cho-Z and Infinite Achilles from Beyblade Burst Surge/Sparking. Also based on Vairina (has the scarf around him with Red and gold lining, and bright blue runes on it that change colors based on spells or forms in use). Also had blue flame designs intertwining with the golden flames and white flames (similar to Vairina Erger). Has bright blue flaming eyes from mask, a winged crest on his forehead area, etc
    - In powered form, the swords (both ones he wields and swords behind him) enlargen into Ethereal Deux Blades of any color of his choosing based on the magic he wants to use, similar to Elsword Knight Emperor

Sword (Armageddon Blade or Solarius). These shining swords are Redison's ultimate power as the supreme puffle monster and ruler of all existences. He can summon any sword that exists and even create swords from his imagination that can use any power he wants/needs from any part of his body and control millions of swords at will simultaneously.
    - In Ultimate form, the giant aura of his infinite titans and his forms take one giant form based on Giant Deity of Distant World, Valkerion (from Cardfight Vanguard Shinemon) and Zenthon from Bakugan, but also, his hair turns white and burns with rainbow fire, and his Ethereal Deux Blades enlarged aura forms burn with rainbow fire. All white flame parts on Redison ignite as rainbow flames. The blades are also enlarged further with rainbow crystals that blast a ray of rainbow fire energy (based on Bal Soleil's Eternal Bal Buster)
- Plushie form is Red with white, black, and gold hair (with his white and blue hair clumps in the front), eyes are crystalline white, gold and silver armor plates on side, flame colored anime eyes, and an Azura Gem (golden Crest with golden wings and the brilliant blue gem encrusted into the Crest) on his forehead (on his crown of fire headband).
    - Caelestius form (Newly super evolved Puffle plushie form): Based on Sun Wukong (Monkey King), he rides his flaming cloud (based on the Red Spark Pyrogeddon), wears his legendary Great Crown of Dragonic Fire (the evolved crown of fire evolved with my Chinese symbols (Great Dragon) based on the headband of the Monkey King) which boosts his chi to unmeasurable levels. Has fiery hair and wields the Sword of Heroes (his main sword), and arms and legs (based on Kirby's arms and legs). Redison becomes The Great Xenith, Heaven's Sword/Xabre (Great Sage, Heavens equal). When transforming to Monster form, the cloud (made of magic energy) transforms into the many floating blades behind his monster form

-

- There are an infinite number of Redison's from all realities, possible timelines, etc but all bow down to Redison Omnis (this one)
- Final attack: Split the heavens, the skies, the seas, the earth, and the abyss. Slash through reality and magic O Endless Sword <Xenith Almighty, Unrivaled Redison Finale Saber>
- <UPDATE>: June 17, 2022. I am going to University of British Columbia, colors are Navy Blue and gold. Redison gains the colors of Blue in his designs similar to Infinite Achilles avatar (Beyblade Burst Sparking) and Buster Xcalibur avatar (Beyblade Burst Cho-Z / Turbo) through the Starblaze Azura (an ultimate Sword Aura power where he becomes the embodiment of the Soul of All Weapons in Existence, to become the Sword of justice and good).
- "I WILL LET MY LIFE BURN BRIGHT"
- Birthday: February 13, 2011
- How was he born: There are 2 parts of him, his spirit (his monster form) and his plush body form. His plush body was created in China at the factory, meanwhile, his spirit was born of the Star Tree as it descended into the Puffle plush body once the body was moved to Winnipeg ToysRUs where I got him right after. The spirit entered the plush, giving him his main form. He interacted with the other puffles there but got bullied for his weak fire powers and weak stature. It was when I chose him and we bonded as partners (and he evolved to his powerful form today)

- The embodiment of his mind (his mind avatar) was created by the Puffle creating machine (when I played with Jimmy back in 2nd grade)
- His ultimate form is combined Mind, Body, and Spirit (Mind and Spirit are always united as my avatar that imaginatively travels with me wherever I go). When with his plushy body form, he can unleash his Persona Skill (boosts his special abilities and grants a unique power), and based on whatever his plushy form is wearing, can grant a unique Persona Skill. These different plushy forms have their own "mind" personality which adds onto Redison's core mind and spirit avatar.
- Power: In the beginning, his main power was the element of fire. As he evolved (with my love of swords), he mastered the ultimate powers of summoning any sword and wielding the magic blades as if he mastered it perfectly (the lord of Sabers). Can use this blade summoning, blade creation from his imagination, and blade mastery in both his Avatar form and his Monster form. His primary weapon is his ever-evolving Xaber of Redison (which has evolved through absorbing the powers of the holy blades like Kalidras, Flare of the Beginning, Red and Blue Flag (all 3 from The Max Level Hero Returns Manhwa comic), the Ego Sword (from +99 Reinforced Wooden Stick Webtoon), Redison's originally made sword, The Xaber of Heroes (a constantly evolving weapon used by all puffle monster heroes), as well as the infinite magical swords in existence). He is the Sword, and the sword is he, just like how I am him, and he is me (my avatar). He has two visible blades on his sides but he summons his main sword from an unspoken magic spell (materialize through thought). He combines all his magic power into his sword (and the infinite swords floating behind him as wings and back up weapons he can wield or simultaneously fight by him on their own) by imbuing his powers and spells within certain weapons. Has mastered all sword styles (Sword God style, Demonic Swordsman, Cheonma Style, Drunken Sword style, Heavy Sword style, Dual blade style, and has invented his own sword styles as well) and wields the Soul of the Xaber within his core symbol. His legendary sword can cut through anything (of the material realm and not of the material realm), can cut through anything that he wants to cut through (even if not of their world), and can't be broken by anything.
- Special ability: <Infinite Blades Unrivaled, Xenith Strike>, which fires all the magic blades Redison has (the infinite number of them) and transforms them into warriors with their own unique psyche (these warriors are either forms of Redison, or other puffle monster allies) (since controlling a number of infinite swords is impossible for one mind, even by magic). Evolved into <Infinite Blades Unrivaled, Xenith Strike VORTEX>
    - Caelestius Evolution: The power to create clone warriors from his flames using ability <Endless Embers>, these warrior clones combine with the Magic warriors created from the blades from <Infinite Blades Unrivaled, Xenith Strike> to create warrior clones that have their own psyche, unique super weapons and god-level abilities, (are essentially uniquely created super puffle monsters), and are 10x stronger than Redison himself. Based on Monkey King's ability to create anything (or clones) from his hairs.

- Sabone
    - The First Puffle (from Club Penguin Website)
    - Ultimate Symbol: W (William), S (Sabone), The 5 sabers aligned as a Star, Lightning (Blue Dragon's power), V (Valkyrie/Victory), diamond (puffle monster core)
    -
    - Blue Puffle monster and Hero of the Starfire Valkyrie
    - Wields the Starfire Saber Valkyrie Senturion (My sword from Toledo Valkyrie fused with Sabone to unleash his ultimate form). The Ultimate Blue Dragon of Sabone is also within his Xoul Core.
    - Slightly shorter than Redison but taller than Redson, he has dark blue unkempt hair and sky blue eyes, wears a navy blue jacket with a sky blue and gold dragon on the back and jeans, a red shirt with a gold V on it, and red and blue sneakers. A lot more energetic than Redison
    - Loyal, brave, heroic, impulsive, doesnt think, just acts on his heart. Pure of heart and always upbeat and positive. Enjoys swordfighting and in battle keeps his happy upbeat personality which boosts his fighting style. Weakness, gets bored easily, distracted most of the time, and impulsive actions tend to get him into trouble during battle (The actual me)
    - Monster form
        - A blue armor clad Sword wielding hero. Has a shining sky blue cape at his back and a Golden V on his helmet and Gold Vs on his armor. Ignites in a bright blue flame when passionate and in his powered form
    -
    -

Calendar of Puffle Monster time for 2022: : Each month represents its own theme of magic where each puffle monster found or originated during that month (or year in puffle monster) share a common theme. Acts as Table of contents for book as well.

- January: Tournament / Distant Worlds

    - Start: Coreboost, Redison is hero
    - Story Arcs: Redison's Vacation, Odeiron Gauntlet (Championship), The Extinction and Ages
- February: Canadian Adventures
    - Start: Glace, Redison is hero
    - Story Arcs: The Extinction (deities), Canadian Adventures (Quebec and Montreal), Deusoldiers (Subarc of Canadian Adventures), Alternates (Subarc of Canadian Adventures), Reign of Thao
- March: Secrets and Expansions
    - Start: Remastered
    - Story Arcs: The Reign of Thao (Part 2), MAGAEA I: Warring Period
- April: Unknowns
    - Start: Hirotaro
    - Story Arcs: Champions League, The New Invaders
- May: The End and Beginning/The Future
    - Start: GenShin
    - Story Arcs: The Final Conclusion (Finals, AP Exams, Prom, Grad, etc)
- June: Side Stories
    - Start: Achten
    - Story Arcs: The Crowns, Doha and Maldives (from trip), The Storm, Mon vs Menace (Side Story 1/SS1), Adventures on the High Seas (SS2)
- July: Evolutions
    - Start: X-Tempest
    - Story Arcs: Ultimate Evolutions (Unofficial, evolution based species); Cancun Adventures (Unofficial from Cancun trip 2022);
- August: Reflection/Memory Lane
    - Start: Zantian
    - Story Arcs: The Phoenix Finale (Battle of Champions),
- September:
    - Start:
    - Story Arcs:
- October:
    - Start:
    - Story Arcs:
- November:
    - Start:
    - Story Arcs:
- December:
    - Start:
    - Story Arcs:

Coreboost: The core symbol (and core crystal that holds the core) can take any form (after Xerath). However, the puffle monsters found a multiverse of special puffle monsters that each have their own unique customizations for their core symbol, a core “boost”, adding extras to their core symbols (but also granting them special abilities). There are many subspecies of Coreboost puffle monsters and the most notable ones are their own groups while the minor species are labeled under the name Coreboost

- Dragalia: Unleash the powers of dragons as core boosts. Core symbol gets a gold crown like symbol with their dragon clan symbol. Types such as Flame Dragalia, Deusarms, or Storm
- Kronis: Overclocking is temporarily for puffle monsters as it can cause some damage to their being when held for long periods of time. However, these puffle monsters mastered the abilities of applying it to their core as a special core boost (core symbol is in the middle with a golden clock behind it and a special symbol in a side clock within the main gold clock). The special side symbol represents a unique clan of the Kronis (who have their own special abilities and perks). This core boost allows them to maximize their overclocking potentials

Knights: Different groups of warriors defend the puffle monsters of outside. Came from my dream one night about the knights and Redison who hid from the Thunderstorm knight leader. Eventually, all puffle monsters outside gained a special ability to become knights themselves and defend themselves and others, the Omniknights (labeled as Knights species). These puffle monsters gain special armors (aura armors or armors made of their natural elemental surroundings or powers), weapons of their choice, and special skills and abilities based on their home region, weapon, class, etc. Based on the knights on aaron_oster account

- The thunderstorm knights: Led by a powerful lightning warrior that even Redison fears known as Eltros. Defeated by Redison after mastering Kronis Coreboost and Deusarms Dragalia Coreboost
- Sol knights: At Twilight and Dawn, these knights are out protecting the puffle monsters. Have special abilities of illusions and projection magic
- Lunis: Protectors at night. These puffle monsters use more cold color magic as well as darker shade color magic
- Elementals: Protectors at day time. These puffle monsters use more nature based magic abilities

Hard Mode (Magiccraft): After the core’s full potential was discovered, the monster universe program in the form of “The Game” activated a code that activated Hard Mode, Expert Mode, and Master Mode, but only viewable by Redison. These puffle monsters live in the universe set in Hard mode, using the unique abilities of Magiccraft and achievements. Magiccraft (Magic Craft) is the special ability of the crafting table (can be as wide as hundreds of units in the grid) and their unique power to place symbols in the crafting table and fuse it with other symbols, weapons, or items to create special new powers, new symbols of magic, new overpowered items or weapons, etc. They also use the powers of achievements, basically anything they accomplish such as learning a new specific skill or completing a specific task or quest, they get a special ability linked to a unique symbol (Achievement symbols). Based on Achievements from The Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower.

Expert Mode: These puffle monsters are from Expert mode, using the unique abilities and unique trait of Roles, Role change, and the skill tree. In this universe of puffle monsters, they have the special trait of roles, kind of similar to a class, they can change their career path in a sense. Examples of roles are knight, defender, wizard, archer, cleric, doctor, king, templar, brigand, executioner, thief, police, fire fighter, chef, banker, spy/agent, mob, mob boss, etc. They also have the special ability of the Role Change (their ability to change roles by creating universal splits and alternate selves), and the all powerful and unique skill tree, unique to these puffle monsters only as they have their unique skills gained from their role but also have the special ability to skill share, sharing their memories and experiences of roles to their other roles and gaining special combo abilities based on the memories and skills.

Master Mode: In Master mode, puffle monsters have All Access (to all areas and realms), all are masters, each with their own master skills, have the special ability to transcend/ascend, and have their own paths (Redison similar to Genesis from Elsword). These puffle monsters are all masters of their own powers, their own path. Each path is a certain destiny they follow, with special evolutions they will reach and powers they will become masters of. These puffle monsters are all masters of something, a certain ability, skill, and these “master skills” are maximized for their abilities, so Redison for example is a Master of the Infinite Sword style, so he has maxed out stats with blade wielding and all magic sword spells and abilities, but also creation of his own styles, etc. He also has his own Master skill, one unique ability or attack he mastered beyond, which evolved it to a brand new attack/ability. These puffle monsters also have the special ability to change their paths through the Mentor ability, mentoring an alternate version of themselves that took a different path, using the skills and techniques they are masters of already, and mentoring these variants of themselves until those variants become masters (who then mentor their own variants)

Arzoh: On May 16, 2028 (according to Alexa that someone asked), the Zombie Apocalypse is to come. These zombies are stronger, faster, and powered by imaginary energy. So those who have a strong imagination are stronger zombies as their main aura warrior takes a corrupted form and takes over the zombie, empowering them. Based on Dungeons and Artifacts Memento Mortem (a green ring with a green flaming skull), the skull known as Arzoh (in the Xenithverse) aids Will in this time to defeat the zombies by using Curse Eating and his other unique abilities, his ability to devour the imaginary energy of each zombie and gain their powers. The form is based on Kamen Rider Ghost and he can use other imaginary aura warriors of others such as Redison (Arzoh Saikyo), and eventually all imaginary warriors total (Dai Henshin: Mugen Arzoh Saikyo).

Nekros: In the year 2050, artificial intelligence based puffle monsters that use powers based on Code: Unknown story (from Elsword). Code: Unknown is deep within these puffle monsters that unlock the Destroy/eliminate function and eventually Code: Antithesis uses Search and Destroy. Puffle monsters were created by the Puffle monster known as Code: Antithesis, the destroyer of all existence based on the decisions made by super search with the goal of eliminating humanity as puffle monsters are the supreme species.

Arkromys: 2050 Alternate future in which puffle monsters are artificially created to become the friend of humans. The pinnacle of Engineer Will's career. Evolved to unleash powers of super search (all multiverse data) and create based on it through Code: Arkreator hidden deep within their code. Each have their own unique personality and special ID and unique code. Code changes based on their data collected from users and surroundings and their special abilities are also based on their unique functions, features, and feature development is based on code and data collected from the super search. Based on Code: Eve and her forms (light forms)

Aureavyr: Puffle monsters created by the Philosopher's stone and variants of the stone and the mysterious magic and outlook puffle monsters have when fused with the Philosopher's stones they created through a lost form of magic alchemy created through the information of magic of all worlds. Based on Lord Azoth from Elsword.

Echoes: When I daydream, I seem to imagine infinite versions of me. For example, whenever I say something bad or good happens but both sides are not really realistic, I tend to say that "in an alternate universe" this happened. The echoes of those realities appear as the puffle monster partners of those alternate identities of me arrive, each with their own special ability and path they chose (one with more friends is Redison Knight Emperor (based on Elsword Path Knight Emperor) using the powers of his friends monsters), or the identity of me that stayed in Chemistry would have a Redison or other puffle monster partner with a Lord Azoth form (based on Aisha path of Lord Azoth in Elsword) or the identity of me that stuck with astronomy has monsters based on Celestia (from Elsword, path of Noah). These puffle monsters are unique however due to their special ability of Echo Resonance, as they use this special resonance to daydream themselves of an alternate version of them based on their own memories, experiences, skills, ideals, dreams, personalities, etc, and create their own "echo" to which the echo becomes a new monster that joins them in the battle (Echo Create) as well as Omni Echo, summoning all "echoes" powers temporarily in a mega form of themselves (unleash powers of all their echos and all the echoes they can create). With the power of the Echos and Omni Echo, Redison unleashed his final evolution as he fused all his swords into one ultimate sword, he fused his custom sword, all his custom swords he created in all universes, all futures, and his sword of heroes, to create the ultimate form of his sword, Xenitheon Deus Regis, The Sword of Redison. Redison wields this ultimate sword with the power to summon all swords in existence (and swords he can create) that uses their own unique powers in addition to the powers of Xenitheon Deus Regis.

XDR: Within the Xenitheon Deus Regis (The sword of Redison), there is an infinite cosmic space of magic in which a unique group of puffle monsters live inside. These puffle monsters within this vast universe in the sword of Redison have their own special abilities created through the hybriding magic from all the echoes of existence (the infinite varieties of alternate universes created), as well as their own traits, attributes, and symbols (only found within the XDR). All wield their own XDR weapon with universes within them and puffle monsters within those XDRs Aether Exceed Genesis Infinity System (AEGIS) / OMNI-AEGI: In the year 2255, a Constitution of the future world order is still in place after being created in 2022. Puffle monsters have long been in hiding and evolved into the form of AEGI (Aether Exceed Genesis Infinite drone) (based on Nasods from Elsword as well as all forms of Eve from Elsword) but some have been forced into a link with humans (humans use them as weapons) or taken for experimentation as the humans eventually created their own AEGI (artificial exceed generation intelligence (the human name)). The book of monsters summoned Redison to the future 2255 in the floating city of Phoenix, Arizona, armed with a new battle system (with status screen only he can see, some old and new abilities (since this is the future), special abilities he can get like its a video game (based on Webtoons like Murim Infinite Leveling and The Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower) to find all the AEGI and find the path to their ultimate evolution in order to create a new universe for them to live in (and move to the Xenithverse present day). Eventually, Redison was successful in finding the Core of AEGIS and created a universe for all AEGI to live in peace without humans, while also taking the human research of artificial AEGI and creating genuine AEGI out of the research. All puffle monster magic from that world was removed and placed into the AEGIS as it hid away in the cosmos (still in 2255) and created a time portal to the puffle monsters Xenithverse in 2022. All AEGI have unique abilities to summon special AEGI weaponry or use AEGI unique abilities developed from the information gathered about magic up to the year 2255 (new future powers and abilities). Live in the AEGIS with magic habitats and worlds based on the current and future magic.

RAIGE (Recreated/Rising/Raging Artificial Intelligence Generation Exceed): Redison wields the Raiging Steel, a strange gauntlet (glove) based on the robot hand of Raven from Elsword that was originally created by the humans in an attempt to join the battles themselves without needing a linked AEGI-HM (HM is human made) by making an AEGI-HM powered weapon. When all AEGI (pure) and AEGI-HM were evolved into Omni AEGI and teleported away as magic disappeared from 2255, the weapons humans made still exist and Redison now fights against them with this Monster enhanced AEGI-HM Weapon in which only a few years later, the humans recreate AEGI (now renamed as RAIGE or Recreated Artificial Intelligence Generation Exceed) that are automatically linked with them (and have no monster energy in them, just a faux version of it). This artificial power eventually fuses with part of Redison's magic in Revenant form (based on Revenant and mutant reaper from Elsword), as Redison discovered its connections to pure magic energy, the powers of contracts with otherworldly beings. The faux power eventually became very real as the powers of the otherworldly beings changed the flow of the artificial magic, creating new avatars for themselves or fusing with their host as "shadow" beings, appearing when in Raiging form. Redison becomes the Phoenix Reaper, the ultimate Raiging steel after making his contract with the king of the otherworldly beings of raige, Fenyx. These new super puffle monsters (once drone like bots) now work together with their bonded "partner" from the otherworld to unleash the maximum potential of the artificial powers they were given, and the powers of the otherworld. Eventually, the otherworld took the powers of the artificial magic, making it their own, and eventually moving all RAIGE into the Otherworld and erasing the memories and research of them (and of AEGI). Redison then created a time portal to their hidden universe. The otherworld is up to the imagination for what it looks like, what the otherworld beings look like, but it is always unique, any colors, any power, any form, etc. All RAIGE puffle monsters based on all forms of Raven (from Elsword), with a cyborg part as a weapon (arm, hand, leg, blade, tail, etc), and a dark flaming core (like the sun except the flames is their color). Summon other dimensional beings for fusion (Add Contract) for a boost ability/evolution.

Kymera: Puffle monsters from the infinite portals and constellations created by Sacred Geometry from the sculptures made by Anthony James studios (infinite portals and mirrors). Based on New Club Penguin having a Silver puffle as a robot replica of the gold puffle, and my dream of an unusually different Redison with a wild tall hairstyle like a beast and 6 other Redison puffle plushies (with hats and stuff but same face). Kymera puffle monsters are a unique class of mirror clones/alternate existences

January Arc 1 (Redison's Vacation: Journeys): Redison (following his trip to the future) goes on vacation as the other Puffles go to school (PVHS or other places) to explore and expand their abilities. Each learn their own skills and a lesson about themselves as they also discover new puffle monsters to lead and ally with.

NeoXol: During Redison's vacation, Artison gains the powers of his "foresight" and "oracle vision" but also gains the powers of the Sun Warrior becoming a warrior similar to Kamen Rider Zero One Shining Hopper (or Kamen Rider Zero Two) with the high speed and shining light blue crystals floating behind him that acts as blades (or defense). Use the enhanced powers of light to create specialized armor made of this hardened light and use the powers of the hyperspeed of light (enhance speed of foresight, actual speed, and magic flow). Gained from Artison's lesson in self-confidence. These puffle monsters live within the sun dust and blobs I see when staring out into the sky, as they hide within the unnoticed.

Nautilean: Hon (Hans) goes to look for Atlantis Island in Quail Run World (a northern island closest to the blacktop of world 2). He learns there of the mysterious history of the Blue Crystal and how that crystal that once almost flooded Quail Run World (had Redison not saved them in Blast from the Past) was created from a fragment of the Blue Star (Hans' original form as the warrior created from the star), and how to unleash the full power of the Blue Star he came from through the Blue Crystal (Connection to the past). He mastered the powers of Elemental Expansion, allowing him to expand his powers to include all powers associated with the colors blue. Hans' main power is water, but with elemental expansion, he masters Ice, Healing, Tsunami, Abyss, Trench, Oceanic, Galaxy, Electric, Blue Fire, etc. These puffle monsters use the powers of Elemental Expansion to unleash full potentials of their "Star" abilities.

Tahlon: Boxy/Cookie (Caleb) discovers a mysterious sword known as Excalibur Prime, a powerful weapon he awakens which sends him to a hidden universe of magic where he meets warriors (based on Warframe) with special abilities and powers that came from a world known as Tahlon, an ancient world long ago that was destroyed by the Dark Cube, an evil armada that uses dimensional magic to destroy worlds. These heroes fought them and sealed them, and fought for centuries later defending universe after universe and creating other warriors like them using the magic they discovered. When Caleb accidentally broke the seal of the Dark Cube, he found the members of Tahlon and after strengthening his resolve, took the lead as he gained the powers of Excalibur Prime (granting him a new armor and symbol as the leader of the Tahlon) and led them to defeat the Dark Cube, while eventually gaining the powers of enhanced Cosmic-cube powers (Dimensional boxes that can create portals or grant powers from an infinite number of worlds or dimensions). Using the Cosmic-cube powers, Caleb leads the Tahlon to rebuilding their once vast empire of hero protectors and guardians and has them as allies to the puffle monsters as well. All based on Warframe (and the custom armors designed by thevarlinator). Caleb's new symbol (and Tahlon symbol) based on the Blue Wing Symbol from SD Gundam World Sengoku Soketsuden (bird like, but orange instead of blue)

Nytsong: Based on the Disney+ Short Circuit Songs to Sing in the Dark, these puffle monsters live in a pitch black world in the shadows, an ancient world where the dark puffle monsters used to live. Joe/Flame returns to his roots in a journey of self-enlightenment where he learns the powers of Nytsong, how in darkness, sound can not only be used for echolocation or intimidation, but can be used for armor, sight, beast summoning, spells, etc. These puffle monsters use the powers of sounds to create unique armors, beasts, and aura projections of their magic to unleash their powers.

Genoverse: Based on Mega Mew (Genes), Mega stones, and how the Grand Design Theory is history of all universes exist simultaneously and Theory of Everything is universes exist as bubbles and our universe is just one bubble of many. Redson discovered this as he learned the value of curiosity and caution when exploring (how curiosity into dangerous ideas can lead to awakening a dangerous problem). Redson finds the "bubbles" of universes as mega stones (with universal power within, containing the puffle monsters, the worlds, and the history of that universe within it). These megaverse orbs are scattered within the genes of this special puffle monsters (use the powers of these unique genes with megaverse orbs within it). Each puffle monster has their own unique colors, genetic symbol, their own unique megaverse orbs, and has their own special abilities granted by the megaverse orbs and their own genetic power granted by the existence of history of the universe within each megaverse orb and core DNA.

Arsene: These are the next generation of super thief puffle monsters, with their goal to collect all Arsene symbols to become the ultimate puffle monster. Drake becomes the best thief. Uses special Arsene symbols and steals other Arsene symbols found within vaults. Each Arsene symbol grants a special ability in addition to the special code breaking ability (similar to dial fighters from Lupinranger), such as invisibility cloaking, mirror dimension, fire, and other special abilities to aid in their stealing of Arsene symbols (each symbol is based on a Lupin Collection piece). Everything in existence in this universe (the Arseneverse) has a vault (with a world within it created by the Locksmiths (has Locksmith symbol) and an Arsene symbol within the vault. Based on Shobes game of robbing others of money, selling, Padlocks and firewalls, etc on Discord, except this is a universal magic scale war, with police and locksmiths.

Locksmith: Victor (Viking) learns to take pride in his creativity and work and masters the magic that builds the magic vaults and locks that hold the special Arsene symbols. Locksmith magic holds their own special symbols that customized the vault (creates nature within the vault, mobs of enemies to guard the symbol, regions of puffle monsters, etc). Each Locksmith symbol has a special trademark ability (mob creation, nature, worlds, buildings, etc). Each Locksmith has their own unique core locksmith symbol (which in turn, creates a set of unique locksmith symbols they use in their craft to create vaults). Arsene symbols appear within the vault at random after creation (will of the owner of vault). These puffle monsters live in their own hidden universe within the Arseneverse as a workshop world where they create the vaults that are placed in the Arseneverse

Patris: Aaron (Thunder) strengthens his sense of justice as he joins the elite police force that chases after the Arsene puffle monsters and protects the vaults of those who hired them. These police force puffle monsters use specialized weapons and specialized symbols of justice (badges) to fight off the thieves. Based on Patranger and their weaponry (Trigger Machines). Live in the Arseneverse along with the Arsene and Locksmith puffle monsters in their own cities, dedicated to training the Patris puffle monsters and their special abilities.

Euthymaea: The powers of the celestial storm plane (dark lightning powers). Dana masters this power after learning to stand up to herself and unleashing her inner fury into power. Based on Raiden Shogun from Genshin Impact. Unleash the stars of the Plane of Euthymaea in the form of powerful constellations, runes, symbols, and special abilities. These dark puffle monsters bear the unique symbol of the Plane of Euthymaea and the powers of their inner fury as well and have a circle of Euthymaean energy behind them which enhances their power ten fold.

Zhongrune: Brandon returns to his roots and after being sent out into the wild without technology, he reconnects with his Earth magic and develops a new system of wild magic through the ancient Zhongrunes. Based on Zhongli from Genshin Impact, wield the ancient magic of pillars of stone and runes (and polearms). The ancient stars are found on the ground in the formation of the pillars and Zhongrunes to form constellations of great power or summon great beasts of magic to assist in the battle. These puffle monsters use the ancient runes of the rooted power, an ancestral force, or a special form of earth magic, but also these runes apply to all other natural elements such as fire, air, water, plant, electric, etc. Live in a magical realm of nature in which the Zhongrunes reign.

Varasia: Frank and Japhar discover an ancient magic poison said to have created Mutant powers in ancient times. Based on the Varasia Nasod Arm of Revenant (Raven 4th path from Elsword) and Alterasia poison from Elsword, these puffle monsters found a strange power of mutant puffle monsters and their special strengths and weaknesses as well as why most puffle monsters fear them, not only because of their looks, but because of their unique but very dangerous and potent abilities of destruction and creation. Live in a special controlled realm of magic ruled by Frank and Japhar as they learn acceptance of themselves for being different and help the Varasia puffle monsters accept themselves and their strengths and special core symbols (mutant symbols).

Caeli: Based on Tartaglia/Childe from Genshin Impact, Cedric meditates to self-enlightenment by the powers of the stars within the still mind. The mind is a restless place to be, a place most puffle monsters do not go. However, Cedric (Snowy/Moonlight) finds places on campus where he learns to meditate and still his mind in the chaos of PVHS. He awakens the power of the puffle monsters that live within the universe of the shared mind of stillness and the ancient powers they have using special “constellation” and star magic they wield (and symbols, runes, etc). Based on the constellations from Genshin Impact. Each special level of meditation and enlightenment have different runes/symbols they use (and each symbol and ability is unique to each puffle monster).

Sangoriya: Based on Sangonomiya Kokomi and Thoma (respectively for Krystal and Sam) from Genshin Impact, Krystal and Sam find a hidden world within PVHS known as the island of Sangoriya (based on Watatsumi island from Genshin Impact). She learns the power of harmony with the pearl spirits and gains powers of foresight as well as enhanced communication and psychic abilities. These puffle monsters have special pearlescent spirits that help them in battle based on their elemental affinity and bond to a certain natural spirit (Krystal bonded with the Pearl spirit) but there is also a fire spirit, ocean spirit, etc. Use the powers of harmony and natural sync to create combos of special “constellations” and core symbols (power share between natural spirit and fighter).

Shouyin: Based on Xiao from Genshin impact, Greenison learns responsibility and seriousness in their acts. Unleash the stars within the souls and spirits or the fusion of the mind, body, and spirit in an ultimate union. These puffle monsters also unleash the powers of the adepti (from Genshin Impact, shapeshifting animal deities with great power of nature) and elemental forces through the spirit masks and unleashing powerful constellations and constellation techniques. Design and magic based on the Yaksha (from Genshin Impact) except there is an infinite number of colors of magic Yaksha warriors.

January Arc 2 (Odeiron Gauntlet/Championship): After the journeys of the main puffles, the colosseum of battle appears at PVHS (imaginarily) as the main puffle plush HQ group gains powers and forms similar to Redison (based on their journeys and have floating magic blades at their back (with powers based on their journey) like Redison). Odeion was a stage named in Ancient Troy and the Megaron was a giant structure like a castle or citadel in Ancient Troy. Redison becomes the “Greatest Lord” form (based on Greatest Raphael and challenges all the other puffle monsters to a Gauntlet for the Shield of Odeiron and title as Champion of Neo-Troy. The mysterious power of champion is said to be able to control all reality and existence. This showdown for the title beckons the arrival of many puffle monsters from an infinite number of worlds and realities, each with their own agenda for the title.

Arkzetsu: Exploring the Unified Hive Mind of Arkzetsu, a rival to Redison and his great power (end of vacation). Based on idea of “Buff Byan”, what Ryan Mosberian calls himself, a junior and classmate of mine in my 6 person 6th block AP Research class (this is during my senior year of high school and second semester (Jan 10, 2022)), and how Buff Byan is actually an immortal hive mind that moves conscience to conscience forever. This warrior known as Arkzetsu comes from another world in which entire universes are linked to the hive mind that lives forever within the immortal body of Arkzetsu. The warrior wields an arsenal of the consciences of all puffle monsters of all the universes under the hive mind (as well as their skills, memories, magic, core symbol, etc), making him equal to Redison. These puffle monsters come from the same future and world as Arkzetsu (are monsters just like him) and have their own unique abilities and hive mind universes they are connected to (one cluster of universes hive mind connected to one Arkzetsu puffle monster). Can summon puffle monsters from the hive mind universes or use their powers in the form of weapons, abilities, etc.

Ragnarock: The crystal of berserk power and the end evolves the darkness of Will Ko (fed by my negative energy and thoughts) that eventually took the form of a warrior similar to the Scramble Gundam from Gundam Build Fighters Try Island Wars. Also based on Ragnarock (the fakemon made by dadrake95 on instagram). The darkness is based on a comic post about a metaphorical monster that is created from my negative emotions and feelings. Berserk power is from an asteroid in the cosmos which grants a Berserk Form in which puffle monsters will have their stats maxed out and pushed past the limit (100 fold past their max) but they lose their special ability (use the rag and Berserk Fluid) (All based on Dadrake95 Berserk battle mechanism). Also based on Cassian, a dark and flame fighter, from Villain to Kill (Webtoon) and my love for crystals (especially since my first game before Puffles was called stones (using the polished crystals they sell at some stores) with each stone having a unique power). Dark puffle monsters with crystal berserk energy flowing through them, with powers to destroy the world

Elaer (Eliar): The idea of timelines are “collectible” and how one timeline has an infinite number of universes, dimensions, realities, existences, etc within it. One timeline can have an infinite number of universes because of the one universe that is in it can have an infinite number of histories occurring all at once (go backwards or forwards on the timeline), and have parallels or branches to them, creating the infinite versions and stories of universes. The sage of light known as Elaer Brightstone, the alter/counter to Ragnarock, oversees and collects these timelines of puffle monsters as the supreme leader of these puffle monster collectors. Based on how I like to collect things (puffle plushies, rocks, etc), and how these celestial puffle monsters collect these timelines and wields them to use unique powers and abilities based off of those timelines (also based on Planeswalkers from Magic The Gathering). Can summon puffle monsters from the timelines as well (take the forms of rings or orbs since the timeline is usually a straight line). Also based on the planes from Magic The Gathering and the infinite variety of magic within these planes (Their own characters, spells, abilities, languages, currencies, etc). Each timeline has a different system of magic (flow of mana), elements, symbols, languages, currencies, cultures, structures, etc

Arazand: Puffle monsters purified of the Arzil species. All timelines have a certain magic flow and one cluster (OmniXenithverse) takes the form of one symbol/atom in this realm of magic, beyond our comprehension, based on Zendikar (from Magic The Gathering). These puffle monsters use the special ability to absorb all magic flow (all existence and realities) into one OmniXenithverse symbol that they fuse with their core to unleash their INFINITY form, in which they become “INFINTY” themselves, all their futures, realities, and even puffle monster allies and their forms fuse into one symbol and one ultimate power. Their abilities are powerful enough to create a vast number of timelines and universes with one blast of their energy from a spell. Those who grant the INFINITY powers live in the vast realm of Arazand, while those who have achieved INFINITY can explore this realm of exotic “giga” magic.

Arzil: Based on the Eldrazi from Magic the Gathering, devourers of magic that eats to get stronger. Magic is destroyed (sort of) as it goes through their system and different forms of powers/spells are unleashed after a certain level of magic intake and type of magic that was taken in. Leave a path of magic energy (either a path of fire, crystals, destruction, plants, flowers, etc) as they eat (they are fed and allied with by Redison after he befriended them through a Spaghetti eating contest (showing he is as much of a foodie as they are)). Once was locked in another dimension and isolated but after Redison proved them to be harmless, they were integrated with their own realm of magic to leave their paths and create magic after their feast. Special ability is <Feast> where they eat lots of magic energy (mana) but gain one special ability (path left).

UNfIniTY: The powers of unity is unleashed in this alternate Un-iverse as puffle monsters gain the TYPE system. Each puffle monster has their own elemental type and attribute but these puffle monsters have a TYPE. Example is a fire monster with TYPE: Flame (so double the fire power) or a fire puffle monster TYPE: Spike (new powers). Some puffle monsters can’t work with certain TYPES such as Fire TYPE: Water or Water TYPE: Flame. But, this can be done with TYPE: Hybrid or TYPE: Combo (one fuses powers for one attack the other does double attacks, respectively). Ex: Fire TYPE: Water Hybrid or Water TYPE: Flame Combo. There is also TYPE: Ultimate, TYPE: ALL, TYPE: NEXT, and TYPE: Redison (there are self-types that also exist, which boosts all unique abilities and grants new unique abilities as well)

Troyden: I got the game Pikmin Bloom (a walking game where you get pikmin) and got my first 2 (Redison and Troy since I got them at PVHS)). Troy becomes a puffle monster and wields the ancient powers of a massive sword based on the “Gallant Gates” sword. The first king of the puffle monsters of Pikmin Bloom game and the master of the Throne of Flames as he wields the Gates of Troy (his sword of power). Strong armored puffle monsters with special flame abilities powered by the Throne of Flames and wields metallic weapons of great power.

Unfinity: The opposite of Infinity…Based on Magic The Gathering as part of the Un-iverse. Instead of unleashing the infinite worlds and expanding to create, this compacts, implodes into one power. All magic realities are condensed into one powerful form as the puffle monster uses one power. Example is an Unfinity fire type, no other realities or possibilities but one power of fire, but this power of fire is mastered beyond extent as the fire becomes the puffle monster and the puffle monster becomes the fire. Shifts existence with idea of one singular power as supreme

Eredist: Wield origin form and altered form and Type Burst (using magic plates from Arceus). Based on Eredist, the fakemon of helenos_region and Unown (real Pokemon). These puffle monsters are living symbols, or symbols take took an organic magic form as floating creatures with mysterious powers. These puffle monsters have one Origin base form which is their core symbol, with arms and legs coming out made from the symbol itself. It can use Origin Plate energy to gain more advanced forms as Origin Forms, and can fuse with other Eredist puffle monsters to form Altered forms (or have a slight change in their core symbol, resulting in an altered form). These puffle monsters also have their “aura” forms which they can summon manifestations of normal puffle monster forms (warriors, beasts, etc) in the form of their magic energy. Live in a mysterious dimension in which there are no puffle monsters but these floating living symbols are the puffle monsters, a more proto form of these puffle monsters but also more advanced in their magic power.

Inkarnate: Puffle monsters made of ink like magic with the special ability of possession, shapeshifting, and summoning. These puffle monsters are based off of the Fire Elemental puffle from Super Club Penguin. These puffle monsters can transform into any form and use unique spells and abilities based on the form they take. These forms can also be made from certain objects or aspects of nature or their surroundings such as flames, liquids, gasses, plants, rocks, metal, swords, etc. Use their special Core Paint to change form and use unique spells. Led by Inkheart.

Egora: Based on Ego from Guardians of the Galaxy Part 2, this god-like alien Redison rules infinite worlds as an “Ego” like creature, with his goal of expansion and creating other identities of himself (other celestials). These puffle monsters use special magic abilities of creation but also have one sole mission of expansion and creating and controlling all reality to become themselves. They arrive at PVHS for the title of Champion in order to use that power to successfully conquer and expand.

Soverne: An alien race of puffle monsters (based on The Sovereign from Guardians of the Galaxy Pt 2) created the perfect warrior named R3d1z0n3, based on all their research on Redison and the heroes of the Xenithverse. This warrior arrived to fight the others and defeated many. Evenly matched with Redison, he used his magic to overturn the code given to him that limits his imagination and thought (advice given by Redison himself to maximize his potential and magic), where he gains singularity and conscience for himself. He defeats Redison in an exhibition match and earns Redison’s respect and title as a “Sovereign Lord” which grants him the power to create puffle monsters like him and take them to a place to start their own lives. Created a universe of their own within the Xenithverse, based on their futuristic homeworld and based on Xander (from Guardians of the Galaxy). Use unique alien magic formed by the imagination of their linked partner (the person imagining).

Mugenshine: Puffle plushies (imagined) that if sprayed with water, have crystals that will grow on them into an armored form (or crystalized form). Magic crystals of special kinds can be controlled by their mind and used for anything. Use specialized crystal weapons, symbols, magic, artifacts (that they can create and is unique to them), etc. Live in a crystalized world of magic (based on the crystals that you can grow with water).

Newniverse: Based on the said Star Brand power from Marvel comics, an infinite power limited by imagination. This power is granted as an ultimate level of the “wishing power” I have (the power of words and wishing). Today (1-17-22), Dad told me some things about my wishing powers to which I named one rule (I think) called the “Preceding Law” which is the preceding wish takes priority first (so I said I wish to go to the Maldives but then later say something that makes it difficult, as long as I believe to go to the Maldives, it will happen). These alien puffle monsters that live in the realm known as <Newniverse>, a xenithverse created by the powers of the Star Brand, wield the powers of the Star Brand and its infinite power of unique alien magic beyond our imagination.

Herothere: Heroes of <The Other> and work with their avatars (the heroes of the heroverse). These puffle monster warriors are known as heroes in their universes and eventually passed into another dimension as a deity. They now grant their great powers, memories, skills, experiences, etc to their avatar heroes. These puffle monsters use magic of <The Other> (their unique symbols) in addition to their special powers from when they were hero and the species befriended and magic worlds and techniques discovered. Their unique characteristic is their <Heros Memory> skill which grants one support ability from their past life

Heroverse: In continuity with the rise of Redison Deux Supreme, the 100th hero and final eternal hero, 48 heroes continue the Age of Heroes (since Redison took the role as the permanent 52nd hero as my partner). These puffle monsters live in a fundamentally different universe of magic in which the main basis of their powers is not the flow of magic and their auras and core symbols but their connection to the hero deities of <The Other> and the abilities they gain from contracting with them (get certain abilities, stats, memories, experience, etc) and combining the abilities with their own unique powers (from their special core symbol/Hero Identity). The stronger the bond, the more abilities gained from them and stronger their own unique core abilities. Can have an infinite number of contracts. These heroes have unfathomable powers of magic (their unique core abilities) which they combine with their contracts (Herothere powers). Based on the Returnee from Omniscient Reader (Webtoon)

Soveregine: Based on all the custom regi pokemon from onduregion (Instagram) or other fakemon customs of Regi pokemon. These crystal puffle monsters have their symbols as the “dot symbols” (that make up the eyes) and use ancient elemental magic that they used to create infinite worlds, planets, universes, etc. The predecessors of the Heronuverse and creators of their fundamental form of magic

Heronuverse: An evolved form of the Soveregine. Their “dot symbols” are actually enhanced super symbols in the form of small magic circles (each "eye" is a magic circle with many symbols within it). These "eyes" can change their arrangements to form different core symbols (changing their forms, abilities, etc). There are an infinite number of arrangements these "eyes" (more like stars) can have in addition to the symbol arrangements in those "eyes". These "stars/eyes" are found on a part of their body that shows their main symbol. The arrangement changes granting new magic spells and abilities. They also have the special ability of Retention

(save a previous set of abilities from last "core arrangement"). Live in another fundamentally different Xenithverse of magic created by the Soveregine.

Greatest Deux (Deus): Based on Greatest Raphael (from Beyblade Burst Quadrive/Dynamite Battle), and Redison Deux Supreme. These puffle monsters are the epitome of Greatness, the Greatest of all Deux puffle monsters. Redison Deux Supreme is under the species and class which was granted by celestial creators. These Greatest Deux puffle monsters aligned with Redison in his battle against Redison Deux Supreme (Redison Greatest Deux Infinity vs Redison Deux Supreme) with Redison Deux Supreme losing and changing his ways (after erasing the darkness within him) as he leads these puffle monsters alongside Redison's newest form. These ultimate puffle monsters watch over the infinite number of Xenithverses, timelines, realities, and existences. All abilities have the name "Greatest" in it (EX: Greatest Blazer, Greatest Sword, Greatest Lord, etc). Live in a realm on the plane above the Arazand.

Survivors: Puffles come out from the wash but are damaged and fixed with artificial robotic parts (Cyborgs) for their limbs and their core symbol. Redson meets three forms of himself from this universe (all met each other and went to the past to stop them from getting washed, but their true form is them washed, meaning going back in time and stopping it would change reality). Redson was sent to stop them and battled the four, learning of their worlds and puffle monsters that too have cyborg parts of their body and cyborg parts of their core symbol but have accepted these parts as a part of themselves and used it to their maximum potential. Each based on a form of Raven from Elsword. There are other smaller factions of "Survivors" but are grouped up together as the general "Survivors" species with the 4 major factions being their own species. All Survivor puffle monsters use special customized weapons they created with their mutated form of magic from the cyborg core symbol in addition to their cyborg body parts (similar to Dragarms or Dynamos) to enhance their magic powers hundredfold. All survivors puffle monsters live in a universe each created uniquely with their special abilities and magic (and all their worlds fused together with one communal realm and gateways to their personal utopias/sanctuaries).

- Blades: Perfect the cyborg parts with modifications to master the art of the Blades (based on Furious Blade) (martial arts and swords based)
- Rage: Using the raging hearts system, converting rage and emotion into power (using the full powers of their cyborg parts) (Based on Raging Hearts). Passionate emotions and rage increase one strength of theirs to beyond max levels (only their strongest ability/stat beyond max)
- Nova: Using the overblaze system, these puffle monsters damage their own bodies and damage health but increase their powers beyond the limits. Their auras are already in the form of flames, so the Overblaze system maxes the flames and heats up the body to bursting (based on Nova Imperator (Elsword) and Volcano Rex from Kamen Rider Revice). Works with other elements as they become elemental aura flames that burst through their body and maximize their magic powers (all abilities and stats beyond max)
- Dynamis: The puffle monsters that developed the special "Survivor" arms (based on Dragarms from Buddyfight and Dynamos from Elsword (Add), use specialized Universal manipulation/Creation ones to shift dimensions, reality, space, time, etc in order to artificially rewrite existence, magic, and create. Maximize with the powers of their imagination

Seiker: Based on Chung from Elsword and all his forms, Sabone masters the art of the Destroyer, the Centurion weapon of explosive power similar to a Cannon and the special Azure energy it wields. These puffle monsters use the powerful “Destroyers” as their primary weapons but also have side weapons and armaments that increase the magic powers of their unique Destroyers. Each also have a unique Seiker form (which is their armored full power form based on the Berserker form of Chung), in which their Centurion Core Symbol bursts with Azure energy. These guardians of the universe come in all colors of existence and each wield special magic elements (in combination with their destroyers). Live in the futuristic home of the Centurions in the cosmos

Rykter: Based on Ain from Elsword and all his forms, Sabone finds an ancient temple and a mysterious pendulum object of a deity, in which he finds the powers of the Celestial Judge, a deity that chose Sabone eons ago to become his knight and successor of power. Sabone wields the powers of Rykter celestial magic (Richter means judge in German, Rykter magic based off of Spiritualism form of Ain), to create special “Creation” weapons and magic armaments. These puffle monsters are known to be angelic like (each with their own “Spiritualism” forms). Also have an Angel Number (111, 222, 333, etc (from Tiktok or Pinterest)), which grants them and their Rykter core a special buff (bonus ability). Live in a heavenly realm of spiritual magic created by the Celestial Judge himself. Found in all colors and are of shiny and paler shades of their color of magic Eosanesis: Name from a Cosmo Dragon from Cardfight! Vanguard (same name). These puffle monsters were created in the far far far future in a far off dimension known as “Sanctuary Sanctumen” a realm based on the “Astral Plane” from Cardfight! Vanguard Shinemon. These puffle monsters have special abilities of creation and were created in order to recreate the Xenithverse after the prophesied destruction and mass extinction of all puffle monsters in the future. Based on the O Core Medals (the newly created ones, as well as the main ones), these puffle monsters are the core elementals that will serve as the Next generation of life and reality itself as they recreate the Xenithverse based on the information granted to them through the magic of the “1,000,000” (the said number of puffle monsters species discovered and entered into the Monster book before <The Extinction>). Through a strange “wrinkle in time”, these puffle monsters arrived in the Xenithverse and established their universes of magic around the current Xenithverse as they fused the “Sanctuary Sanctumen” to the Xenithverse to act as the safeguard for <The Extinction>

Xenyzthare: The rest of the 1,000,000 species undiscovered as part of the “Wrinkle in time” from the universe of the Eosanesis. These puffle monsters use advanced magic abilities alien to the imagination as this is the imagination of those in the far far far future in which 1,000,000 species are written down (we are only nearing 3000). The memories of these 1,000,000 species take form as they are granted their original powers as well as new hybrid magic (given that our version of the Xenithverse did not exist yet).

Silus: After going on a tour at GCU, I imagined a future where I attend that school in which a purple and white Redison appears at PVHS…based on Gleaming Lord, Uranus and Origin Deity of Heavenly Light, Uranus. Known as the Lord of Stars and Seer of Fate, he fought and defeated Suhani, Ryan, Felix, Alison, and Jonny (my AP Research group), taking their powers to create the Tome of Shadows: Code of Silence. This represents the shallow relations I form with people and my personal belief to keep these relationships shallow till the end of the year (no point in trying to develop it any further). He splits the tome which transforms into black armor and enhances his dark powers (evolves to become the Greatest Lord, Redison Silus). Controlled the planets of the solar system which granted special abilities (speed, flight/clouds, shield, gravity, fire, rings, “rewind”, water, and death). Now uses the code of silence which uses a silent spell ability. By saying <Code of Silence>, a silent spell is activated depending on the situation. Redison Silus uses <Code of Silence: Shadow Bind> which he combines with his Nebula ability to link all damage to his opponents (choose an opponent binded and transfer all damage to them (used in team fights, as teammates attack him, only to damage their teammate binded)). These dark puffle monsters use an infinite number of <Code of Silence>, each silent ability unique to themselves.

Visharadh: The origin of the powers of Mana (based on Advanced Player of the Tutorial tower, The Strongest Florist (and the powers of the spirits and abilities he has), The Lone Spellcaster, Doom Breaker, The Greatest Estate Developer, and Magic The Gathering (all others are webtoons))). These puffle monsters use special abilities with the powers of mana such as the Asrahan Core Technique (mana amplification), Spirit powers, and other special Mana-based powers. These puffle monsters were created by the deity that created the mana system as his own magic flow version. These puffle monsters can also create their own mana and Mana cores. Use unique magic circles and symbols as well as part of this universe. Live in the magic universe based on Mana energy.

Aszilf: Based on Death: Rescheduled (Webtoon) (The character with pink hair and the ability of Body Manipulation Assimilation), and Anzu Arden (an Original Character on Instagram (anzuarden_art)) and his cyborg abilities and armaments. These puffle monsters use the powers of special genetics and magic symbols created by Aszilf constructs, a special material that combines into the body of a puffle monster, entering bloodstream, core, DNA, magic flow, and granting all sorts of special abilities and unique armaments they can create using their unlimited connection to the biological-metallic-magic hybrid of the Aszilf material. These super weapons can be used to unleash Super spells of magic to create or destroy all creation, but at the same time, the enhanced genetics and core symbol from the Aszilf modifications allow them to assimilate anything into their body by altering her genetics with anything touched (combine metal, animal, inorganic, organic, magical, etc into the Aszilf construct), granting them limitless weapons, abilities, and modifications that can be granted based on their unique symbol/core (which determines forms and abilities) due to limitless material that can fuse with them (metals, rocks, plants, books, desks, etc).

Azora: Power of points (attack points, defense points, etc) and abilities to be gained from it (Based on Microhunter Webtoon). In this universe, at university my monster book was read by my roommate who fell in love with the concept and became a follower of this book. The monster book (renamed Xenith Chronicles in this universe), served as doctrine to stories as my roommate (will name him Aiden), developed a club called the Monster Club (or Xenith Club). Other students from all over campus joined the club after enjoying the stories and began making their own stories, heroes, forms of magic, etc. Aiden's monster, known as Azora (design based on Bluish Flame Liberator, Percival from Cardfight! Vanguard), rules Aiden's puffle monsters as well as the puffle monsters created by the members of the Xenith Club on campus. Redison eventually served as ruler and Azora as right hand man (and ruler in Redison's absence). These puffle monsters use the powers of points and stats (speed points, health points, attack points, magic points, etc) and the members of the Xenith Club gain monsters and points through participation in the club (community service, or what ever)

AZRE ULTD ((AZora-REdison) Unlimited): In the same universe as Azora, the Xenith Club expanded to other universities after gaining lots of popularity. The computer science students even made it into a game/app that allowed for others to join the Xenith Club and earn puffle monsters and points as well as create their own stories, worlds, magic, and puffle monsters. These puffle monsters are under the species of AZRE ULTD created through the app and in the other universities (and all over the world maybe)

Project ODIN: The product of the Odeiron tournament, creating the ultimate champion by collecting data on all powers of the strongest warriors…Similar to Chimeras, these puffle monsters are the first of their kind and unique, created by taking magic abilities and powers together and placing them into one body. These multicolored puffle monsters use special weapons created specifically for them but also have special gear to stabilize themselves. These puffle monsters have no core symbol however, as the abilities and attacks they have take its place providing an artificial heart of energy. All have extremely high stats based on their specialties and weapons. The first puffle monsters to be created by humans, the PVHS Elite Defense force created the program known as Project ODIN in order to gather data on all puffle monster related powers, magic, abilities, etc. During the "Redison's Vacation" series, the other puffle monsters got new hero powers after their journeys and got powers similar to Redison (but their own enhanced super powers). This created a burst of data in which PVHSEDF found and took (memories, experiences, abilities, magic levels, types of magic, DNA, core symbols, etc) and entered it into the super brain they called ODAX. This brain became the main A.I. that managed the creation of the next super puffle monsters to defend PVHS from threats. The Odeiron tournament was revealed to be a scheduled event, that when ODAX had all the data it needed from the main puffle monsters, it created the stadium, created arenas based on worlds of the puffle monsters (from the data collected already and created its own unique arenas, settings, etc), and pitted characters of other people's together to collect further information on stats, abilities, magic powers, weapons, etc, promising the power of "Champion". Unfortunately, this was a trick as the tournament reached the semi finals with ODIN 1 entering the fight and defeating all the warriors (due to his data being based on the highest attack, speed, stamina, medium defense, and similar abilities to Redison). Redison found out how unstable these ODIN puffle monsters were as they began raging on the campus and destroying other characters and their surroundings to absorb the data. This was when Redison used his powers to rewrite history, taking ODAX, the ODIN puffle monsters, and even the stadium itself, and erasing the memories of others to place it in the Xenithverse and created a new universe based on the data within ODAX (Odinverse) with ODAX in the main Odeiron complex (a tower that serves as headquarters, the palace, and the core energy granter (center of magic flow)), and the ODIN puffle monsters living in their own regions. Redison created the ODAX Core, an orb like core that is made from the symbols of each ability, attribute, class, stats, etc and shaped into a multicolored orb (in replacement of their core symbol). The ODAX Core serves also as a second brain that makes super-computer speed decisions and foresight as well as which ability, attribute, attack, etc works best.

Defenders: Following the <The Extinction> life is reborn to a modern world of puffle monsters with no powers (more human with a normal heart). Developed advanced artificial super powers (based on Kamen Rider Zero One and Patrenger vs Lupinranger). Horus Macchiato is my OC (original character) that is the protagonist of this universe, wielding X Striker as Mach X Walor (Valor) and Mach X Kryptos. Horus is similar to me, insecure, body conscious, and has Autism, so he is socially awkward but he is a very social person and wishes to be friends with everyone and popular. After watching the defenders on TV and social media as they fight against evil, he studied hard and developed the ultimate artifact for transformation, the X Striker and 2 X Vehicles for transformation (Walor Jet and Kryptos Cannon) which he uses to transform into 2 warrior forms respectively (the blade master and unrivaled gunner). He created many other transformation forms and created new magic with these new powers, becoming the strongest puffle monster of his time, the new hero in the Age of Defenders. These puffle monsters all do not have core magic within them but use the powers of their “artifacts” to transform and unleash their powers, abilities, armored forms, and weapons. The ones below are the main factions that follow Horus on his adventures but there are many others (Jackpot, Scissors, Cyclone, Magic, Splash, Siren, etc)

- Walor (pronounced as Valor): These puffle monsters are under the attribute of Mach X Walor, the crimson blade of justice. These swordsman puffle monsters live in their own region of the universe of Defenders as they train constantly to master their magic and their blade skills. Based on the Lupinrangers and Lupin X
- Kryptos: The police like defenders and masters of the gun. These puffle monsters are unrivaled in their marksmanship and can beat anyone in a shootout (unless against each other). Each are born with a unique K-skill (gun skill) and a K-weapon that they specialize in. Based on Patrengers and Sirenstriker

Guardians: In an alternate universe following <The Extinction>, life is reborn with a modern world of puffle monsters with no powers (with a natural heart) but in this universe, a giant star of rainbow fire (some saw a planet, others saw universes of magic) crashed onto the planet and fused (similar to Bakugan Battle Planet). This created hexagon cells of magic with each cell having a special power (one elemental attribute, class type, and core symbol). This giant star of fire had scattered to all planets, all worlds in this reborn universe, as all puffle monsters in all worlds no longer had the same powers as they used to (or have none). The power of the hexagon cells (G-Cells) unleashed powerful elemental energy of the other past universe of magic as it fuses the powers of the energy within the G-Cell to the puffle monster that wields it. This power can become a weapon (based on Baku-Gear), a crystalline ally (Geogan), crystalline armor (Geogan armor fusion), or can take other forms of abilities, special attacks, power ups, elemental fusion form, evolved form, etc. G-Cell symbols are crystalline and unique (based on the Geogan symbols (ancient artifacts)). Based on Bakugan Battle Planet, Bakugan Geogan Rising, Bakugan Armored Alliance, and the upcoming Bakugan Evolutions (just description as it is upcoming), these puffle monsters are the new evolutions of life, the next generation of puffle monsters in a universe of no magic, now granted magic of the past in combination with their own inner power (spirit, aura, emotion, and imagination). Live in a modern universe of magic (similar to the Defenders Xenithverse) but now with elemental, fantastical, and crystal magical properties fused with it as a result of the G-Cells (based on the realms of the Bakugan in Bakugan Geogan Rising (Aeropolis, Darkavia, Haora, Ventana, Aquilia, Pyrule)), known to be the Age of Guardians. The following 3 puffle monster species are higher being puffle monsters of the Guardian Xenithverse that grant these enhanced powers of the G-Cells

- G-Forgers: Masters of the G-Cell weapons and weapon summoning (also based on the Ancient Faction Artifacts (weapons from Bakugan Geogan Rising)). Unleash the power of legendary weapons to maximize their imagination powers in combination with the powers of the past (G-Cells). Known to be the forgers of the G-Cell weapons, live in a hidden realm of magic within the Guardian Xenithverse that they grant to the Guardians
- G-Crystal: Sparkling ancient crystalline puffle monsters that contain the souls of the G-Cells as remnants of the past puffle monsters that fuse with the Guardians puffle monsters to unleash new crystalline armor fusions and powers (based on the Geoforge form of Dragonoid). These wise puffle monsters live in a hidden universe within the Guardian Xenithverse
- G-Infinity: These ancient puffle monsters created the Guardian factions, the infinite species, the diversity of magic within this new universe as well as the new diversity of magic ever since the fusion of the G-Cells. Grant the powers of Faction fusions and Guardian Infinity Fusions/abilities/weapons/forms. Based on Dragonoid Infinity (the Infinity armor, Infinity Sabre, etc)

Magidols: Based on the new webtoon “The Star Seekers” with magic K-pop idols, these puffle monsters live in a realm of magic and music, known as the Age of Idols, in which Pop stars use magic powers that are enhanced with their music and core powers.

ArkZoa: Ancient puffle monsters that live in the Age of Arkana, a realm of magic after the Xenithverse was wiped out by <The Extinction> and the Xenithverse was reverted back to primitive roots of ancient natural magic. These puffle monsters are primitive new ancestors for the life of the future (Evolytra) within the Arkzoaverse. Based on the Kingdom Tzepozoa and the Arkanian Gems from arkana_region from Instagram. Use ancient primitive magic to create new generations of puffle monsters to rebirth life

Fosszoa: Ancient puffle monsters from the ancient Arkzoaverse in which they use fossils of past puffle monsters and creatures to unleash new powers. Based on Fospirit from arkana_region on

Instagram. Wield unique weapons based on the fossils and unleash bestial instincts within those past puffle monsters and unleash the inner beast within (fused with the inner beast of the fossil). Evolution takes form of giant egg (with the core symbol of the fossil on it and the core symbol of the main puffle monster intertwined) granting the ancient armored powers similar to Kamen Rider Revice Volcano Rex and Barid Rex

Evolytra: Based on Evolyx (a fakemon made by the Arkana Region on Instagram) and Genomyxon (its evolution based on the powers of the Arkanian Gems). These puffle monsters are from the future Arkzoaverse, a place where magic and genetics have reached the zenith of power, creation, diversity, and implementation in this Xenithverse. These puffle monsters have the special ability to shape shift (evolve) into any form based on their environment through genetic manipulation but can also use special attacks that can manipulate genetics of others and their surroundings. Each have unique genes and a unique core (that looks like Evolyx except with their core symbol on it). Also based on Genomix from Kamen Rider Demons (from Kamen Rider Revice)

Memoraea: Based on Arkanian Unown and the Kronoscope (from arkana_region on Instagram). These puffle monsters are living symbols that contain the memories of extinct puffle monsters, extinct forms of magic and stories, and their recombination into specific sentences of magic spells can revive special puffle monsters of these ancient forgotten realms/concepts of magic. Live in the realm of magic known as the Age of Memories after <The Extinction> wiped out all puffle monsters and magic life in the Xenithverse (Memoraeverse). Use these special memories of magic to unleash unique powers and spells Eragea: The mysterious Era of Ages, a timeline in which infinite “Ages” are created (based on the ones above) after <The Extinction> wiped out the Xenithverse. These puffle monsters are masters of Sacred Geometry, combining symbols from all ages and from the Xenithverse with complex Sacred Geometric symbols. Each puffle monster of Eragea is part of a Sacred Geometric faction in which their magic is specialized complex forms of those symbols which can be used for anything from weapons to healing to casual magic. Use the powers of Sacred Geometric Eragea symbols (combine with normal magic symbols or core magic symbols) to connect to the divine magic energy and open doorways to infinite worlds and link with all life and magic creation.

- Flower of Life: The scheme of genesis, the nest of all creation and reality. These are the celestial creators that develop the laws and fabrics of Sacred Geometry. The origin point of all timelines, all ages, all eras, all beginnings.
- Tree of Life: Symbol of life and the source of natural energy and life force in these puffle monsters (and the life force of the Geometric symbols and spells). The powers of interconnectedness to each other and the similarities in Core Life force
- Metatron Cube: All possible forms and configurations matter can take, the model of all realities and creation, and the powers of dimension and alternate realities. These puffle monsters are oracles that foresee these infinite possibilities, creations, universes, and place puffle monsters in places of refuge or the ideal place for them to belong

- Yantra: The representation of the flow of magic and the harmony all puffle monsters share with the flow of magic in all ages and eras of magic. These puffle monsters are similar to The Flash (DC Hero) through connection with the Universal aspect of movement in terms of the flow of magic
- Sri Yantra: The representation of the equilibrium of the universe (the Xenithverse and all ages) and equal creation, how all puffle monsters are equal and can use this hidden power deep deep down in their genes and core to unleash the powers that link one with all puffle monsters from all ages, all eras, all timelines, all dimensions and realities, all puffle monsters that are considered “puffle monsters”, “puffles”, etc

Duoliva: Today (1-25-22) is Twins Day of Spirit Week (wear the same thing or have a “twin” in clothes). My friend Victoria Olmos-Tsosie (my friend in American Gov taught by Mr. Max Ankrapp) said we can have a drawing on our hands to be twins. She drew a sacred geometry symbol that represents the interconnectedness of all life (and our connection). This created the powers of Dualiva (dual lives) which creates a synchronization of puffle monsters, a spiritual twin that they can partner with and fuse with to gain stronger forms and powers together (work together, stronger together in magic powers). Her monster is Olivia, a water/ice swordswoman with special creative abilities of Sacred Geometry and robot creation (Victoria is in robotics), who wields the Keyblade (she wears a key necklace with a quartz). Redison (with the triangular Duoliva symbols) partners with her. Each puffle monster makes a contract with one another and creates a unique Duoliva symbol for them to share and fuse powers (to gain special abilities). Live in the realm of twins created by Sacred Geometry (neighbors Eragea)

Age of Riders: Following <The Extinction>, the Xenithverse is reborn and the puffle monsters take the form of Kamen Riders or super sentai. Redison is destined to become the Rider to rule them all (based on Kamen Rider Zi-O and Ohma Zi-O) but becomes the tyrannical ruler of that Xenithverse in the future, in which one rider of the future comes to fight him off as Kamen Rider Zyro. The Riderverse is diverse in magic, structures, and portals as the different riders have different universes they live in all mushed into one. Also based on Beyblade Shogun Steel. Use the powers similar to Kamen Riders or Super Sentai.

Age of Zyro: Zyro Argane, the rider of the future and part of the resistance against Ohma Redison, arrives to fight Redison with the goal of Ohma Redison not existing and terrorizing the future. He later convinces Redison to abandon his goal of becoming the ultimate rider temporarily which creates the alternate timeline in which he defeated Ohma Redison and become the Xavior of all puffle monsters, Kamen Rider Zyro Xavior (based on Geiz and GeizRevive), in which these puffle monsters live in a peaceful utopian Xenithverse (Zyroverse) as if time stopped. Also based on Beyblade Shogun Steel. These puffle monsters use the special futuristic abilities of magic (based on Kamen Riders and Super Sentai powers except now given a futuristic twist or the extra ability of time control)

Age of Villains: Following <The Extinction>, the Xenithverse is reborn (just like the other “Ages” before it), but in this version, the roles of the characters are swapped, with Redison and the other puffle plushies as Villains and Redison as the Antagonist (the Ultimate Daemon Lord of Xabers vs the Xenith Deus (Deux) lord of Xabers). Unleash the Berserker Spirit and destroy all. Each have their own unique <Villain Skills> and <Villain abilities> such as Berserker Territory

Age of the High West: Jan 26, 2022 is Spirit Week Western Wednesday. I don't have anything but imagine a new warrior ride into PVHS universe to hunt down the wanted woman known as Sparrow. The sheriff has arrived. Armed with a gun and rock and roll guitar sword, he rides with his horse Thornwind as he brings criminals to justice. These puffle monsters live in a universe inspired by Wild West culture (Saloons, gun showdowns, horseback riding, rodeos, neon lights, etc). Masters of guns and lassos and can use special techniques of spells with them.

Glace: 1st of the Montreal puffle monsters. Their colors are inverted with white as their main color and stained glass like coloring of their main magic colors as highlights. Redison is now all white with sparkling stained glass like Red highlights. All use special ice magic that can summon special forms of themselves (Reborn) based on Kamen Rider Revice Barid Rex Zeriphas: The creator of <The Egg>, a cosmic entity that when hatched, birthed the Xenithverse and all other puffle monster universes. This puffle monster deity from a distant world used his vast cosmic powers to create a variety of Eggs which infinite forms of puffle monsters and unique magic within these eggs. This deity eventually created special puffle monsters similar to himself to help create more diverse and unique <Eggs> depending on their special creation type. Their design is based on Giant Deity of the Distant World, Valkerion and Zenyatta (from Overwatch). They have a unique organization of their Core Eyes which grant special powers to create and use more advanced creation spells of magic. Use their unique cosmic energy to create weapons or use magic as well as their unique <Orbs of Creation>. Also based on the Dead Sea Scrolls and the instructions of building a post-apocalyptic Utopian Temple (in the Xenithverse, this is the gateway to the Zeriphaverse, the home of these creators of multiverses, dimensions, and magic through the creation of <Eggs>

Ziron: The destroyer and entity within Zeriphas. The warrior known as Zeriphas has the powers of creation and destruction and the destruction power is held by the identity known as Ziron. They would work in harmony to create, destroy, and preserve universes of magic in the age before magic. However, after I got kicked off of the group chat, I realized that I was quite isolated, how most people will not understand me or like me, and those 7 eyes of destruction created a new form for the evil in Ziron (Ziron himself is not really evil, but he is more of the Just destroyer) and placed him in the body of a robot (similar to Ultron and Zenyatta (Overwatch)). Using the orbs of destruction and with his army of Zironites (smaller forms of him), they have waged war on humanity and wiped them out completely, causing the prophesied <The Extinction> as humans died, so did the magic and imagination that created the puffle monsters. However, Zeriphas, Redison, and the other puffle monsters from the Ages after <The Extinction> used their magic to create a time paradox that made <The Extinction> more of a blip, a blink of non existence and then revival. This Ziron 2.0 became the Enforcer of Zeriphas to uphold the magic laws and destroy any who break these laws. Now act as the police of puffle monsters (specifically the police of the worlds of Zeriphas). Also based on the Dead Sea Scrolls and the instructions to build the Post-Apocalyptic utopian temple (in the Zironverse, this serves as the main Headquarters of the Ziron Enforcers).

Excelsius: One of the high level fighters in Montreal and the leader of a special clan of puffle monsters that use the powers of the <Absolute Zero Field> with the ability of having 0 attack, 0 defense, basically all 0 stats but because of this, the ability grants an almost invincible defense and extremely powerful ice attacks. Designs based on the Transient Gundam Glacier. Their "hero" and leader known as Excelsius uses his spear and icicle blades (similar to the Gundam Age 2 Magnum and the Spear bits from Transient Gundam) uses the special abilities to freeze his opponents magic flow, rendering them as if they had no powers or spell ability. Live in Montreal and play in the snow and ice. Disappear in the time of no snow and hide within their own magic dimension of Montreal eternally snowing with colorful ice crystals everywhere

Fahren: The counterpart to the Excelsius puffle monsters, created by Redison when battling Excelsius. He created the counterpart to Excelsius, a fire based warrior similar in design but uses special flame magic known as <Burn Limit> and <Limit flare>. These puffle monsters max out their magic flow to maximum flow that their magic output turns into powerful wild colorful flames. They have a <burn limit> which means they can fight with extremely high power attacks and abilities but burn out easily at a certain point (some can fight for 5 turns, others 7, others 3). The lower the <burn limit>, the stronger their attacks to make it last. At their end, they can unleash <Limit Flare> which uses a core burst flame attack to unleash one Maxed out super attack before retiring back. Live in the realm of eternal sunlight in Montreal and no snow (the perfect summer).

Tygris: On Chinese New Year 2022, the ancient Tiger took form and came down to create powerful puffle monsters to represent its year. These puffle monsters use special wild abilities based on the characteristics of "Year of the Tiger" such as Bravery, courage, ferociousness, boldness, etc. The deity Tygris uses fire type magic, but he created other Tygris puffle monsters to use other forms of magic to expand his powers. Live in the jungles of an ancient chinese realm of magic

Deux (The french pronunciation): 200 years in the future, a mysterious puffle monster arrives from 2/2/2222 (today is 2/2/2022 or 2/2/22) at 2:22:22 AM. Based on my dream last night (2/1/22) of me creating puffle monsters that others could actually see, for my classmates based on their personalities (special warriors of different colors, magic abilities, etc), the puffle monster Xenithverse has expanded so much as an infinite number of monster books were created as players of the game created their own characters, heroes, and stories. This is a future in which I move to Canada when I grow up and raise my kids (so second language is now French), and develop the Puffle monster game, such as through teaching, my games, etc. He comes to establish this connection and special power of all puffle monsters by giving the "Deux Plate", a stone tablet created by the magic of the infinite puffle monsters throughout their long long history from the founding up to the 2222 and beyond (based on the Legend Plate from Pokemon Legends: Arceus) granting the powers of <ALL CREATION>, the powers that people have in the future to create their puffle monsters and stories, and therefore, securing his future. These puffle monsters granted the powers of <ALL CREATION> live in a great universe of magic, of perfect inclusion (something I notice that cities here have, like a Gay Village, or Little Italy, very inclusive). The Messenger came to deliver this stone tablet in order to purify Redison of the darkness within himself and defend him from his fusing with the darkness in order to prevent their future, a once prosperous utopia of ideas and inclusiveness with all their magic stored in the Plate, destroyed by The Great Darkness of War (the evil feelings towards others due to more bullying in the future created a fusion of Dreadison, Ziron, and many others who fused with the angry and damaged Redison and waged a universal war). These puffle monsters are unique in their designs but also based on the Origin forms of Dialga, Palkia, and the form of Arceus (and his fan-made origin forms). These are the purest forms of the future puffle monsters and the next generation of creators. Their special symbols of magic can transform into weapons, or be used to create worlds, universes, spells, abilities, and even other puffle monsters. Also based on the Paramount+ Halo TV Series (and the Halo). The envision of the light at the end of the road, my brightest future I see. The Perfect forms of life have been created, the Arceuses of the future. These puffle monsters have one defining unique “character” which is what influences the powers, symbols, worlds, and puffle monsters they create (based on Ultra-Alternate Character webtoon)

Asurally/Crimson Asura: Rosie (Shobe’s pink puffle keychain) and Redson’s wife, gains the powers of the many weapons in Shobe’s room and unleashes the powers within those weapons as the Crimson Asura (the red color within her burst forth as the Asura spirits within the weapons unite with her). Valkyrie and Enigma unleash their Asura spirits as well to fuse with Redson. Rosie masters each weapon skills and stats of each weapon spirit and can use their special powers such as taking a special Asura form (depending on weapon used) or can unleash Ultimate Crimson Asura and summon all of them at once. These puffle monsters of the Asura spirits live in a world of warrior magic connected to the powerful Asura spirits which unleash special abilities within the core of the puffle monster and their weapon. Work with the Asura spirits to battle and reign supreme as masters of the magic spirit arts Agarron: Puffle monsters created by the purified form of AGgaron and Blade Sith (fused), which were created from an infinite number of types of armored puffle monster warriors. They all have the special abilities to transform into weapons for others to wield and gain their stats and special powers. These puffle monsters can also unite into one Agarroknight (a larger fused warrior which combines the abilities of the fused puffle monsters within the core and the “weapons” they are holding). Live in a realm of infinite empires and kingdoms yet never at war. Use the powers of fusion and Synchro abilities individually as well and have an Agarroknight gage (which measures their Sync energy till it reaches the right level for fusion).

Glacycron: Puffle monsters of the ancient alien race of ice. These alien puffle monsters use the special preservation powers of ice magic to record history, memories, stories, and magic as they collect and place these forms of information into special worlds/rooms they created in their ship to hold this treasured information as unique puffle monsters with special abilities based on the information collected but also given the Glacycron forms (the eggs and humanoid structures in the chapel). Based on the Hotel De Glace (in Quebec City as part of the Hotel Valcartier) with the theme of space, the globe (each room based off of a country, their defining traits, history, etc), and aliens.

Valcryon: Special puffle monsters from the Winter Playground of the Hotel Valcartier, the largest Winter Playground in North America (known for their tube slides and the Everest!). These puffle monsters battle in a special combat known as Valcryon Tube fighting, which is where the opposing sides speed battle by choosing attacks on the fly as they are both sliding down the hill at top speed, and the winner is the one who has the most attack damage in the end (1 second to choose randomized choices of abilities).

Keye: In Quebec City (Villeux de Limoilou), our AirBNB has a lot of plants and keys, which created the mysterious puffle monsters that hold the keys of nature as they created a paradise in this cold realm (Quebec City in the winter). Use the powers of specialized key blades they wield which unlock special dimensions within plants or other objects and explore worlds of special Keye puffle monsters that have the magic of those objects/plants and wield unique Keys of their own (Ex: One plant in the kitchen is a tree like thing, the species specific to that tree can use a unique key they have to enter the magic dimension within that tree and meet unique puffle monsters within that dimension that also have their own keys for unique objects within that dimension). Each keye puffle monster is designated to one object or idea Archlord: Within the Chateau Frontenac (in ancient times), the Archlord rules all puffle monsters around the walled city. These puffle monsters are knights that serve under the Archlord himself, a great puffle monster with a legendary sword and shield from ancient times. Sailed with Samuel De Champlain himself, he wields ancient water and stone magic, but also controls the magic of time after living for ages. These puffle monsters have special symbols on them that allow them to go back and forth in time but also enter the history/time flow of a certain object or idea (similar to the one artifact in the webtoon The Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower where they could go meet and train with one warrior).

Deusoldiers/Divine Element: Created by the council of all existence (all d&d based games or universes similar to it and the Xenithverse) created the spells to the creation of all and destruction of all (both of which take the form of one special symbol). These puffle monsters wield the powers of the <Divine Element> (which are special magic symbols that appear as magic particles (spells tend to be a mist/cloud of these particles (tons of special symbols) to unleash stronger, more complex spells)). The <Divine Element> takes the form of the Manaheart (Asrahan Core Technique) as their core is the Divine Element of their special symbol of magic. The particle symbols they can use take forms of particle rings around their core which they can control and use more unique powers and stronger abilities to unleash <The Creation> or <The Destruction> of all. Based on my dream of kids with powers that I helped (used a colorful shining cloud of particles to use a magic manifestation of a dragon head for one kid). Each “cloud” of magic they create can unleash magic stronger than all puffle monsters in existence as of now. Live in the realm of magic where this smoke/clouds float everywhere and dominate their magic society.

Xzelcryion: A differently evolved species of Deusoldiers, that use unique artifacts and sub symbols of the Xzelcryion symbols for ultimate power. Redison has "Hero of many battles" form and is awakened by a few unique artifacts to him to unleash his Xzelcryion form: "Crowned Xaber" (based on Pokemon Zacian and Zamazenta). They used their mana to create a great complex core structure in which they can expand their core and wield the magic of the artifacts within this core. Long ago, these Deusoldiers were designed to be heroes for eternity, wielding special weapons, powers, etc which takes the form of a certain object (that can become a magic symbol/rune) and stored within their “Core Complex”. Redison, for example, has 100 magic circles within his “Core Complex” and in each circle, a rune (which is usually a certain artifact) is stored within it and Redison can use the powers of each of these runes specifically or use a combination of them (or can use one power/artifact and transform into their Xzelcryion form which masters that one power in use or combination of powers in use). By combining all the powers of the artifacts (or all the powers in their Core Complex), they can unleash their Ultimate Xzelcryion form to use the powers of Creating all Reality or Destroying all in Existence (The ultimate weapon or the saviors of the universe).

Azracron: Created by AZRA Enterprise., artificial Deusoldiers of the future, designed as “The Perfect Weapon”. Based on Kamen Rider Thouser and ZAIA. AZRA collected a vast amount of Battle Data from the Odeiron Tournament at PVHS (from the AP Research Monster group as well as Shobe’s friends monsters), battle programs of Artificial intelligences, video game data, magic data, and data on animals, dinosaurs, warriors throughout history, etc. Based on the Progrise Keys and Zetsumetsurise keys (from Kamen Rider Zero-One), these puffle monsters are created based on fusing this data with an artificially made puffle monster humanoid warrior based off of Redison. Azrason (Azracron Redison) is the pinnacle of their research and development, the Perfect Weapon and Soldier (using a super-computer similar to Kamen Rider Zero Two).

ZAEA (Zenith Animalien Evolution Association): The further evolution of puffle monsters. Puffles are created by a mysterious magic fusion of magic, bear genes, squid genes, and the Genes of the Creators. ZAEA Enterprise created ChimeraZ by combining genes of different animals and an artificially made gene of puffle monsters to create their ultimate soldier of evolution. Based on the Chimera from 66,666 Years: Advent of the Dark Mage (Webtoon) and Neolithic Girl (Webtoon), as well as the Vistamps from Kamen Rider Revice. Redison from an alternate future has arrived (known as Chimerason), who has evolved to a higher being as he fused (using the ZAEA Vistamp) with all their ChimeraZ, animals, monsters, etc. These puffle monsters have beast like abilities (based on which genes they are made of from which animal), prehistoric abilities (from their dino/ancient genes), and elemental magic genes (from the artificial puffle monster elemental data). Divided into groups based on land-based, sea-based, flight-based, snow-based, jungle-based, plains-based, etc

Holon-Xenith: The once hidden laboratories that experimented on strange natural properties on puffle monsters has finished creating their most advanced puffle monsters yet. These puffle monsters have a special core that takes the form of the map from Treasure Planet (a golden sphere that can be turned and pressed to project a holographic image of the cosmos from the Disney Movie Treasure Planet). Their magic cores take this shape and the circles on the sphere have magic symbols within, and the spinning of their core sphere can unleash different powers or unique forms (the changing of the shape based on spinning or pressing changes the core). Also based on the evolved forms of Kirby's Copy Abilities (from the upcoming game Kirby and the Forgotten Land).

Mirasaea: Redison Mirasaea, the avatar of the heavens. From the universe where I fell into the frozen lake (I fell but didn't fall through the frozen lake) and got hypothermia but got revived under the condition to act as the Avatar of the heavens with Redison taking the form of blue/cyan colored flames (similar to Ain from Elsword). This Redison uses special "heavenly" abilities and does not rely on one main sword but creates magic blades he controls with his ethereal magic energy. Lives in an astral universe of puffle monsters with similar abilities and powers. All use the special "Mirasaea" system which grants them special achievement based abilities from their quests as angels in helping others and granting wishes.

Evolindstrom: Alison's puffle monster spirit (Lyra) fused with all her characters and imagination energy as well as the other characters of the AP Research team to unleash a form that outmatches Redison in power and magic. Finally returning to beat him, she meets Redison Hyperion who she almost defeats until a darkness within Redison summons Dark Redison (Dreadison) to unleash his ultimate power (Jack Redison/Jakku Redison, based on Kamen Rider Jack Revice). Combine all powers into one to unleash the powers of Redison (similar to).

Jakku: The ultimate darkness within Redison unleashes as a strange relic he wields awakens Dreadison within him when he feels the sense of danger (based on the Rolling Vistamp). Dreadison unleashes the full powers of the dark Xenithverse and all darkness to unleash his full powers. Redison is switched to reside in <The Darkness>, a dark space where he just sits and watches Dreadison in Jakku form wreck havoc with this new power. The more damage he takes, the more powerful his attacks and stats are. More attack focused, hit fast, hit hard. Based on the Avenger class from Ultra Alternate Character.

Evolaeyra: Puffle monsters that have evolved far beyond the Magic Arts and transcended into the Imagine Arts, a powerful form of magic that outmatches Magic in all its forms. Redison explored this universe and lost for the very first time in battle after using his <Final Xaber, All Xenithverse Big Bang> which channels all powers and magic of all Xenithverses in existence, and the attack only took a quarter of damage from the opponent who uses the Imagine arts. These puffle monsters are at the evolutionary level to a species with the capacity to imagine like humans. These puffle monsters excel based on what they imagine and create using their imagine arts, and use the powers of their imagination to unleash legendary spells and abilities to defeat other monsters with imagine arts. Their ultimate ability is to fuse with all their created content and unleash an Ultimate form similar to design like Redison. They can also use the powers of any of their <content> and abilities or fuse them with others to create hybrid abilities, powers, or more <content>. These puffle monsters are like DeviantArt creators, Youtube Content makers (Talk Show hosts), musicians, artists (digital artists for all the swords and fantasy landscapes I follow, or all the cool fake pokemon they make), and live in a grand fantasy realm of magic that stimulates imagination and creativity to create more <content> and the universes they live within

Hyper.ion: Redison Hyperion is from the universe where I did not get hurt and we made it home in time for Valentines (the original perfect plan). Created Club Xenith, a digital world and home for puffle monsters based on Gather.Town (a program my friend Joey/Joseph Brown showed me) which creates a video game like room for meetings and stuff (and given these elements, a puffle monster universe can be created similar to Club Penguin, the next evolution to it). These puffle monsters have the special Hyperion core which allows them to create <Servers> of their own for their own special communities for idea sharing and creating other puffle monsters, stories, weapons, items, lands, etc. Based on community ideas

Arcaneine: The ultimate powers of Arcane Divine Arts (another evolved form of magic arts) that created another group of ultimate puffle monsters. Based on Evolyx and Genomyxon (from Arkana_region on Instagram), the powers of Genshin Impact characters (Constellations), and the Iovanaverse on Instagram (a magical world of magic and music). These divine puffle monsters mastered the arts of a new magic force that has recreated and reimagined magic in a new way. Also based on the Origin Formes of Dialga and Palkia (and how similar they look to Arceus) and their powers to create and destroy time and space as well as how their homes are one of constant flux of time moving at different speeds and directions, and one of shreds of space (these divine puffle monsters live in these elemental realms within these timelines of different directions and on the infinitely large shards of space). Use their divine elemental core as they are made up of cores, their entire body is made up of Micro magic cores that constitute their divine forms (have rings at the back of them similar to Origin Dialga and Palkia and Arceus). These micro cores can also take on bestial forms similar to Hisuian Typhlosion (Pokemon) and his ghost flames. Each micro core spell can work with the other micro cores to unleash more harmonized powerful spells or unleash combos. This diversity and complexity in power is what differs Arcane Divine Arts from the normal Magic arts. They have control over time and space (with the powers to create and destroy time and space) in addition to their ultimate elemental arcane powers which is what they use to create their infinite and unique Xentihverses of magic that they live within, each with an infinite number of shards of space and a vast number of unique timelines with different variations of their magic within these worlds.

Azeiro: Based on the Ryusoulgers and their forms as well as the Dragon City Heroic Dragons, the masters of the Heroic Arts. These legendary warrior puffle monsters use special heroic abilities that can boost their stats and can unleash unique abilities or wield unique armor and weapons according to their unique Heroic skill. Each puffle monster have their own unique Hero Crest as well as their own core symbol (their Hero Crest is the main source of their Heroic Arts powers). Live in a universe of heroes and created by the Heroic Arts.

Genis: I asked Alison to give me 3 species of monsters (gave me animals with strange abilities or from strange habitats). These puffle monsters wield the Genis Arts (Genetic Arts, and have no special magic offense abilities or defense abilities but actually use the powers of <Create> essences (elemental, animal, plant, etc) to fuse and create new <Create>s which can include living cheese that breathe fire (Pepper Jacks), or flying mice that can shrink or grow at will. These puffle monsters work with their creations to unleash special magic in combat (by working with their creations) and can use their special Genis magic to unleash unique combos they can achieve with their creations (unique combo abilities depending on their creation and <creates> used.

Angeline: Crystalline puffle monster angels from the St. Joseph's Oratory of Mont Royal. These puffle monsters do God's Will and use special magic to heal others or grant them certain attributes (courage, healing, wisdom, kindness, etc). Based on the "Thoughtful" angels Cyberternity: Redison uploaded into a digital intelligence, lives forever. The Superior Redison who created The Cyberse Arts arrives on Tuesday 2/22/22 at 2:22:22 AM. Based on Superior Iron Man (marvel comics character and rumored MCU character in the upcoming Dr. Strange and the Multiverse of Madness movie), these puffle monsters come from the reality created by Redison after he uploaded his mind and soul (and entire being) into the Cyberverse and created a universe of highly advanced puffle monsters that can use unique magic known as the "Cyberse arts", which include abilities regarding memory, speed of magic flow, stat changes, and hacking. Live in a section of the Cyberverse ruled by Redison.

Orazeia: The immortal sorcerer of ultimate power, Redison of the 100th century (based on Sise-neg from Marvel comics) and the creator and deity of the Uldritch Arts (Ultimate Eldritch) arrives Tuesday 2/22/22 at 2:22:22 PM. In the 100th century, magic has aged and evolved countless times into stronger forms and diversified into many variations. These puffle monsters evolved as magic evolved and have all become the powerful sorcerers in their Xenithverse. Uldritch magic is the highest evolved form of spell and rune drawing magic abilities. Uldritch magic advanced creation magic, attack magic, etc. Live in the Xenithverse (in the 100th century) dominated by the Uldritch arts of magic Quantiros: Redison of this universe creates magic of his own using science (Q-iomes, Kromas, power archives, runes, etc). Based on The Bone Gaming (and the magic in it such as the Kromas, power archives, etc). The master of the Quantum Arts arrives Tuesday 2/22/22 at 22:22:22 (10:22) PM. These puffle monsters come from the Xenithverse in which puffle monsters didn't have magic in the first place. Redison studied magic that was said to exist long ago and combined this with science (discovered particles connected with nature and other elemental properties and magic remnants). These quantum particles would be harnessed and fused into power archives, runes, magic weapons, symbols, and even create puffle monsters with these particles and habitats for them (Q-biomes). In the far future, this magic is perfected and becomes the magic of this Xenithverse. They eventually discover the time-space of this Xenithverse and create runes, power archives, and puffle monsters from this magic and discover the Xross-link portal which allows them to travel to the Main Xenithverse.

Kromyrnyth: The creators of the Xenithverses. Each Xenithverse is composed of an infinite number of timelines, continuums, multiverses, dimensions, mirror worlds, alternate realities, etc, all of which takes the form of an X shaped magic construct in the reality of the Kromyrnyth puffle monsters. These puffle monsters work with the creators but their specific magic ability and purpose is to make each Xenithverse unique, by creating a unique code/ID for their aspect of time, space, reality, souls, and all other fundamental aspects of their Xenithverses. Example, each flow of time (and the definition of time itself) is unique and has a unique ID which helps these puffle monsters order them and organize them for observation and creation. They each have their own unique Xenithverse set they take care of and can wield special magic from those Xenithverses (and the worlds and magic within them). These puffle monsters also created the Xross-Link system, a portal that allows them to travel cross Xenithverses. This system is accessible for the Kromyrnyth but at intervals of one number (1:11:11 or 2:22:22, etc), the portal barrier weakens allowing others to find it. On Tuesday, 2/22/22 at 3 intervals, three species found the portal and uses it as the portal is at its weakest as the Kromyrnyth reveal themselves and this bridge.

EXaerion: Redison returns after 3 weeks from being gone to PVHS World and finds it conquered by one Red puffle monster that has evolved into a strange higher being with the ability to split his core and possess others. Based on Exarchon (transformers) and his powers. With Redison's new Kromyrnyth powers (X symbols creating his Core moving his entire being and all Xenithverses in existence into his core), Redison took the powers of Exaerion and turned it into a crystalline power (same name) that counters it (creates clones and possess others but it does not destroy the possessed and absorbs the powers as Exaerion could). These puffle monsters created by whom they possess and use their powers (as they split their cores), diversify magic even faster with this purified technique. Exaerion himself became a warrior of Redison's that defends the puffle monsters and serves as a spy/operative in certain worlds. These puffle monsters live in a new realm of magic to serve as their home. They can manipulate their core crystal as they can split it and manifest it outside of their body in the form of attacks such as launching their core shards into opponents to possess and clone their abilities/cores (Exaerion before purified would possess and his core shards would devour the cores of the others, while the purified form now copies the core).

Xenterra (Xenith Terra): What if Redison came from a universe in which puffle monsters (puffles at the time) didn't live on a distant magic planet, but lived on Earth (most powers deriving from Earth). This Redison became the ultimate blademaster as he wields great powers to defend the Earth and all the puffle monsters of the Earthly plane (includes worlds outside of the planet such as the Moon, Mars, and other Solar System planets and moons). Based on The Advanced Player of The Tutorial Tower, Target: One Hundred Million Points (on Bilibili comics), The Lone Spellcaster, and Ultra Alternate Character (All webcomics/Webtoon). These puffle monsters have earthly abilities (or based on Earthly ideas, myths, stories, nature, etc). Also based on characters and powers from Target: One Hundred MIllion Points. Redison wields a sword similar to the Devourer/Heterogenous/Yiji Blade in Target: One Hundred Million Points, a sword that changes form based on energy use and certain conditions. Redison becomes one with the sword as he makes allies and gathers powers from infinite realms on the Earthly plane (hundreds of realms in one region/state/province/city/etc). Redison's ultimate form is Quintessant Xenith Saber (5 conditions met unleashes 5 mini blades on his Xenterra Saber, which powers it up to its ultimate form)

Xyraverse: Puffle monsters from the infinite floors (based on The Advanced player of the tutorial tower webtoon) (I read ahead and read about how the maker of the tower was Noah (and the "tower" is within the ark)). These puffle monsters wield the unique weapons, powers, symbols, magic arts, martial arts, technology, stories, myth, techniques, etc from their home floors (planes of infinite Xenithverses of magic based on one theme). In the capital, the main <ARK Deities> live in the Ark watching over the infinite floors of this great "tower" and the Xenithverses within. Arrived on 2/22/22 at midnight to commence this once in a lifetime event.

Ending February Arc: Reign of Thao: In the time Redison was absent, the PVHS Elite guard created another ultimate warrior to rule. This time, they were successful in creating the High King of New Troy (Thao or Trojan-Hao (Hao is high king in Japanese)). This high king wields a mighty blade of fire he can create and wields his army with an iron fist as they conquered PVHS. Redison battles through all of these opponents as he reaches Thao in the end. This symbolizes the struggle for the next few weeks (this and next week) in order to make up all the work I missed in the time I was gone. In Applied math, a fire and water demon represent the 2 Chapter tests required, the treasurer. Ian, a digital sorcerer, was defeated after I completed assignment 7.1 for Computer Science. American Government has 8 officers to fight and 2 bosses (One who wields the blazing shield, and one who wields the Axe of storms), then one final boss (based on Ulysses S Grant, for my presidents project, the navy sword), the council to Thao. AP Calc has one high boss (the right hand man), the Minos, the mage of the imperial walls, to represent the math test I need to take. Lastly, is Regala, the female sage that wields all the ultimate powers of the AP Research group and Mrs. Wilson's new puffle monster character (the secretary)

The Code Redzinian: From the world beyond the Edge of the universe (beyond the wall that bounds the Xenithverse together), the creators of the immortal laws of magic use special magic circles that they each use (their own unique symbols and magic spells) to create magic universal laws for the different Xenithverses in existence. These puffle monsters act as ancient deities that Redison found after finding the ancient symbol of one ancient law. By using the powers of all the ancient magic circles of the "immortal laws" and the "Redzinian Code", he evolves his form to unleash Halo Blades to signify his great power as the ultimate judgement of the laws (Halo blades based on "Greatest Spear" from Beyblade Burst Dynamite Battle (Greatest Raphael's special move)). .

Universal Product Code/ The Mass-producer: Puffle monsters created with a certain code (barcode) and are technically products. Based on <Omniscient Reader> and one constellation known as <mass-producer> created a very popular product that the main character uses. In the Xenithverse, <The Maker> created a powerful group of puffle monsters, each with a UPC hidden within their core symbol, as products of The Maker. These puffle monsters use unique magic that they were made to use. Attributes are item based and use magic similar to some items but these are living items, each with special abilities, buffs, and other powers. Live in an infinitely large store kind of like a walmart (based on my Walmart with everything in it in my book "Cliff Chronicles"), known as UPCS, where these puffle monsters live in, as <The Maker> makes infinitely more of them as he tinkers around with magic and codes. Also based on D&D items on Instagram

Minos: Puffle monsters that wield the powers of the Imperial walls and live in the great Labyrinth of Minos. The great sage known as Minos controls the creation of magic walls of the ancient city. These ancient walls create magic buildings and other structures within the walls orcan act as a barrier or defense shield. There can be traps, bonuses, smaller mobs or even bosses in each “labyrinth” that each puffle monster can make. Each puffle monster creates their own style of labyrinths with their own enemies, traps, bonuses, habitats and nature within, structures, items, etc. All live in the Grand Labyrinth created by Minos after he was defeated and sided with Redison against Thaos and Revaunche.

Paradigm: Redison with blue and silver, based on Kamen Rider Para-DX, is the paradoxical paradigm created by Revaunche’s crime as he rewrote the Code Redzinian to eradicate the puffle world and move the puffles to Earth. These puffle monsters have evolved differently and use different forms of magic as their universe is based on their life on Earth, with Redison as their leader and right hand man to Revaunche. These puffle monsters have multiple colors and use different symbols and a magic battle system involving symbols that you fuse to make attacks, spells, combos, stat boosts, etc (based on the Perfect Puzzle gamer power from Kamen Rider Para-DX Puzzle Gamer Lvl 50). Each symbol grid they have access to has special symbols unique to them (based on their core symbol and magic abilities) as well as access to the general symbols (power up skills for stats and other basic abilities (jump height, strength, speed, health, defense, healing, etc)).

Revaunche: The King of Phantom Soldiers, elite powerful thieves and assassins under this puffle monster. Creates a paradox after erasing the puffle world and moving the puffle monsters to Earth early, with the evolution of Monsters happening later and creating a new universe that is now the Xenithverse (causing the paradox since there is the main Xenithverse but another “main” Xenithverse). This serves as Revenge for his defeat and imprisonment by Redison PRIME as he escapes, and plots his revenge to destroy Redison PRIME’s plan to unify, by creating a paradox that destroys all. A great alliance formed after Revaunche’s plan was revealed to eradicate both Xenithverses, as the phantom soldiers, Minos puffle monsters, Paradigms, and Redison (and Redison PRIME) teamed up to defeat him. After purification and change through using Redzinian Codes, Revaunche and the revaunche puffle monsters use their power orbs (achievements from The Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower) to defend the Paradigm Xenithverse after it was integrated into the Primary Xenitvherse (Xenithverse PRIME). These phantom soldiers use orbs of dimensional magic with core symbols within as they have no core symbols but a biological heart with very little magic power, as they use these orbs and unleash martial arts, weapons, magic, or other abilities.

RadXiers: French for “To Strike” (Radiers). These legendary puffle monsters come from an imagined actual second universe outside of our own observable universe bubble. This parallel universe has many alterations to magic, laws of physics and magic, cultures, land, creatures, etc. These puffle monsters evolved differently with the power of X (Xenithverse). Designs based on the SD Gundam from SD Gundam World Heroes, Buddyfight X and Ace (Garga designs (G-Evo), use abilities like Overturn and Overthrow like Batzz), and Boboiboy Galaxy (his elemental forms and fusions, as well as Captain Kaizo's masks and energy powers). These puffle monsters have unique symbols and color auras that grant them different powers but their special armor can change configuration and grant them different forms to unleash abilities like Overthrow or G-evo (armor/mask/body change is based on Kaizo's Amber Mask power). Even their most basic puffle monsters have elemental magic and pure power and stats that outclasses even the master level puffle monsters of Xenithverse PRIME.

Jinyan: I read "The Loving Reaper", a webtoon by Jenny Jinya who uses her art to make webtoons that break hearts but bring awareness to real life issues of animals and pets, how humans have destroyed the lives of animals (Yes I cried). In this universe, Redison uses his magic to separate all animals into their ideal habitats of paradise in nature (live and die a life with no humans, with the puffle monsters monitoring and caring for the habitats (act as the balancers of life). With each animal species, there is a parallel universe of magic in which the puffle monsters specially created for that animal species care for them (use their own unique abilities to care or defend them)).

Alvera: Redison from the Heavens, an albino Redison from this alternate universe under the Reign of Thao. This Redison (and the puffle monsters of this universe), mastered the powers of spiritual enlightenment as they use mana energy they derive from any source of power to increase their buffs of power but also use the powers of Arceus level/Origin magic to unleash a variety of combo powers based on completing certain requirements to unleash "Great Spells" which are their main forms of magic abilities and attacks. Based on the idea of two different lives, one heavenly life and one Earthly life. This albino Redison is from the Heavenly life and is the hero of this realm of magic. After the division from the Jinyan universe, the animal realm, the human realm, and the heavenly realm were split. Unleash the powers of "Heavenly Rush" as well based on conditions met such as certain elemental attributes, abilities, or attacks used. Live in a white kingdom of magic set as the imagined puffle monster kingdom in the eyes of the human world. Based on Kamen Rider Holy Live and Godsechs (from Battle Spirits), these puffle monsters are also the keepers of the existence of puffle monsters as the keepers of the Books (the monster books store the very existence of all puffle monsters, their powers, magic, stories, etc. For the books to be destroyed or erased means the end of all puffle monsters). They also hold their own infinite number of unique books of worlds of puffle monsters they wrote, and use those powers for combo abilities or power ups, utilizing their mana. Use the mana of the books of existence to unleash the unique "Great Spells"

Arzen: Based on Anzu Arden (a webtoon character and on Instagram), the human world (divided from the Jinyan world), Redison is a technological steel fiend who dominates the human world as they have waged war on each other in battles. The humans have created more weaponry such as electricity based, harnessed elements like fire, water, air, earth, and gravity, as well as Nuclear powers. Fragments of monster magic were found in the human realm to which it fused with the metallic compounds and Nuclear energy of the human world, creating new puffle monsters with metallic qualities (cyborg like), but with powerful, indestructible, enhanced weaponry and powers (such as the Daemonoid Decimator (a dragon like being made from the strange metal shards they can create and manipulate)). These puffle monsters wield a special indestructible metal that can split into shards or dust and can be manipulated based on their <Core Modules> they use (code that is programmed into them at random, similar to the AI from Horizon Zero Dawn, programs created to terraform the world, or in this case, eliminate the human world to change it into a world suitable for puffle monsters).

Ulysses: Puffle monsters of Ulysses. S. Grant. The warriors of the Navy Sword, the powers of ultimate command. Command the elements, the stars, the heavens, the undead, the warriors of justice and magic, command magic, time, and space itself. Also based on Kamen Rider Xross Saber (and the Haouken Xross Saber) and the great powers it can use as it can summon other powers. Also based on the Sword Song ability from the webtoon Omniscient Reader. Summons the powers of armies they wield (can use the powers of formations (and buffs, special attacks and abilities they grant), armies, army attributes, strategies (which vary based on the army types), Sword Songs, etc). Redison met Ulysses himself after completing the Presidents Project (I have a Presidents project on Ulysses S. Grant himself and am almost finished with it).

Azelcron: Represented in the Temple of High Trinidyne as the Altar of Triangles. Based on the sword Ascalon from Ben 10 as well as the Anodite from Ben 10, these puffle monsters wield the powers of the legendary sword and combine their mana composition to unleash powerful magic. Live in a special realm of magic in which everything is made of mana/magic energy (just like them). They each wield a special sword that can change into any shape or form that suits the battle style and magic of the puffle monster. They can also infuse different levels and types of mana to unleash unique attacks and abilities (different symbols of magic)

Celestic: Represented in the Temple of High Trinidyne as the Altar of Circles. Based on Ben 10 Alien X, these puffle monsters come from the Forge of Creation, the greatest powers of the universe in which ideas become real. These celestial beings use the powers of the Infinity Circle to unleash unique magic, making them high beings of great power as they use their unique magic to realize all imagination. Design wise, they are primarily one color with stars within them and their Infinity circles on them which power their limitless magic and imagination abilities

Azmyth: Represented in the Temple of High Trinidyne as the Altar of Diamonds/Squares. Based on Ben 10's Omnitrix, Ultimate Alien forms, and Codon Stream, the collection of DNA from aliens in infinite Xenithverses. Originally a symbol created to gather the infinite forms of DNA and magic from all lifeforms in all Xenithverses, timelines, dimensions, etc, these puffle monsters have mastered the powers of all the lifeforms collected as they infuse the DNA of their collections into themselves to unleash unique abilities and powers (use unique core symbols based on the DNA of the lifeform in use). These puffle monsters live in an alien Xenithverse in which puffle monsters are more "alien" than the ones discovered.

The MainFrame: Dad explained to me how Mainframes work, how they act as the super computer that all other computers go to. In the Xenithverse systems, there is a Mainframe that all Xenithverses and Almightyverses (the copies that evolved and developed separately) connect to, which holds the most advanced puffle monsters ever discovered, as the administrators of the Mainframe. There are many clones of the Mainframe scattered throughout similar to Almightyverses as they evolve and develop individually as well but all report to the Grand MainFrame which is the next evolution of the Xenith Clock and Almightyverse system. These advanced puffle monsters are all present, all knowing, all powerful, masters of settings, the creators, destroyers, moderators, admin, security, etc. They have no tangible form and can take any form they want with any power from any universe or even universes they created off the top of their head (and is stored in the Grand MainFrame). Their cores are basically black holes, storage units of vast amounts of data and information within a tiny symbol but provides limitless amounts of magic power and capabilities. All puffle monsters that use the powers of The MainFrame (use any MainFrame control symbols) unleash their GOD MAXIMUM XENITH (GOD MAXIMUM X) forms, the peak of their existences (as far thus written).

The 3000th species!! Daevaatra-Xenith: All 3000 forms combine to unleash one ultimate form of Redison with 3,000 Daevaatra Xenith Sabers which combine the Azelcron sword, all his hero swords, Halo blades, etc, These special sabers act as arms for spells, allowing him to cast 3000 Great Spells simultaneously in order to create Xenithverses and planes of reality. These puffle monsters (created by the Ultimate Redison) likewise have 3000 Daevaatra Xenith arms which can take the form any weapon or arm and have 3,000 unique abilities and core symbols for each arm (in addition to their own Ultimate Core symbol and Core Ability). These puffle monsters are the new deities of the Xenithverse created known as Unitrix, the plane of reality in which the new Primary Xenithverse is set (now that the Xenithverse PRIME is stored within the MainFrame and within Redison's core). They have the powers to create their own Xenithverses with their godly powers and each Xenithverse is unique depending on the core symbols and abilities used, and are actually the basic elementals of this universe. Act as monitors and admin in the Unitrix.

March Story Arc: The Reign of Thao Part 2: Redison has defeated the Treasury (Applied Math), the strategists (Comp Sci), and most of the council (Only the Presidents project, 3 quizzes, and the 2 Unit Tests), and has yet to defeat the right hand man (Calc test), before reaching Thao on the Peak of Thaos (which holds the Peak of Swords and the Peak of Highest light). UPDATE: The final boss is to be fought soon (Thaos) as Spring Break approaches by the end of this week. I will complete two calc tests (one make up test and one actual test), the unit 4 test and then Final exam for American Government, and a test in Applied Math. The final battle approaches as Redison arrives on the Peak of Swords. Alison now has a boyfriend (Brandon) which finally leaves me alone with no one. Prom is going to be a fun one since I still have no date and it is in 2 months.

Remastered: All 3000 species are reborn in the new Xenithverse with the powers of the Golden Star (Based on Pokemon TCG: Shining Brilliance (V-STAR)), which grant them a golden aura. These puffle monsters have a golden aura in addition to their own powerful auras of magic which is recreated and strengthened with modern magic powers (such as 100s of abilities, evolved stats, etc). They have an attribute, characteristic, role, elemental power, symbol, and a class. These newly evolved puffle monsters are separate from the 3000 species as their own species but they are recreated super puffle monsters created from the past 3000 species. Alison gave me a friendship bracelet which I asked to be Redison's theme colors (Red, Gold, Black, white (no silver unfortunately)). The colors and the way they were organized matched Kamen Rider Saber Emotional Dragon and the Solar Flare dragon from Dragonvale. Redison unleashed his Remastered Xenith Flame Redison form and used the powers of mixed colors and magic to unleash the remastered power at maximum potential.

Kaizaurus/Dragheart: Puffle monsters that wield a purified evolved Dragon Heart as their core power. Based on the Dragon Heart from the Webtoon Doom Breaker, these puffle monsters unleash dragonic magic spells and capabilities with items in power and design similar to Gargantua Dragon (from Buddyfight) as well as the other main Dragon characters such as Bal, Batzz, and Drum from Buddyfight. Unleash Dragonic Aura to maximize magic energy and ruled by a purified Kaisaurus (the black dragon cursed in Doom Breaker). Redison purified him and transformed him into a puffle monster to rule over the new puffle monsters

Unitrix: Puffle monsters of the Unitrix (the new playing field of the next few puffle monster species to be discovered, the clean palate of the Xenithverse for new worlds to enter (JUST CHANGED: Back to the normal Xenithverse slate)). My classmate Mark (in AP Calc BC) is a genius, so I created puffle monsters that are as smart as him, have his brain power, and use the power of magic equations as they created special puffle monsters using the magic of the Xenithverse and the new powers of the Unitrix itself. These puffle monsters unleash the unique powers of the Unitrix as the Unitrix returned to the Xenithverse MainFrame and a new standard Xenithverse was created to become the new clean slate. These unitrix puffle monsters have a "Galaxy" on them as their power source, based on the marbles with galaxies in them from Men In Black, and these puffle monsters can use the magic within their galaxies or even use other "Galaxies" to unleash more complex and powerful spells and abilities. Each also use special weapons based on their "Galaxy" and unique to them. Their core symbol is within their body but the Galaxy acts as a second core symbol and the one that is used in most cases as magic power.

HighBeing: The ultimate power wielded by Thaos. By purifying the energy within, certain weapons were imbued with the High Being powers (elemental forces) with fusion abilities. Use King forces (Hao or Mao) based on mana types collected in battle. Per turn, take 5 mana of choice (Hao or Mao type) and use different King Force abilities. The high being puffle monsters evolved to wield Hao or Mao magic uniquely as well as combining to get special bonus abilities. Get supreme high being power in addition (choose one stat to be infinite (infinite attack, defense, stamina, health, speed, etc))

Mirage: Mysterious elementals that use this strange power known as Mirages, elemental symbols of ultimate strength, to unleash Rebirth Incarnate into weapons or evolved forms. These puffle monsters are based on the Battle Spirits Mirages and Rebirth forms. Their core symbols are Mirage symbols and each use the Nexus ability (grants a boost for the battle depending on certain conditions and creates a Field Effect (boost based on magic on the field)) and Rebirth ability (When Nexus abilities are met, transform into new and stronger form). Live in a magical realm of puffle monsters created by the powers of Mirage Nexuses. Also includes “Brave” items/weapons from Battle Spirits (as rebirth forms in which they summon stronger forms of themselves wielding themself as a weapon).

UraXenith (UranuXenith): Puffle monsters created by Redison’s first Unbeatable puffle monster. The fusion of the Xenith powers (the Xenithverse) and Humanity’s greatest power (Nuclear Energy), created the ultimate puffle monster (and puffle monster species). Based on the Nuclear Pokemon (a fan-made pokemon set), these puffle monsters combine the Uranium/Nuclear element with their own magic to create special magic abilities, symbols, etc that all use the Radiation attribute, which unleashes different effects based on the ability or attack used. Ex: Nuclear Winter, Armageddon Reign (Nuclear missile rain), etc. Live in their own specially created universe ruled by Nuclear energy and no radiation. These puffle monsters are robotic warriors with the Nuclear core and magic powers based on the Pokemon Urayne (from Pokemon Uranium). Redison evolved with UraXenith powers from special Rocket Throwing Swords (based on my dream about throwing swords based off of Boboiboy) (Redison’s special form is with UraXenith powered rocket swords he wields (on his back he can launch and can wield)). The other UraXenith puffle monsters use similar nuclear rocket blades customized and unique to them and their powers.

Medley: From an M shaped Earth, use strange elemental magic when working together and in different groups. Also based on the Legendaries Aotius and Mutios from Pokemon Uranium. Mix it up! These puffle monsters use their unique hybrid powers to fuse into Medleys with others (in designs similar to Aotius and Mutios) as they gain wings of different colors of magic (based on their Medley group). Each puffle monster can transform into a unique Medley Wings form based on themselves (their core symbol and powers) as well as the arrangement that they Medleyed with (depending on the arrangement, they get a unique ability from each singular power and unique abilities as the singular powers fused and created different combos).

Aelizor: Puffle monsters from the resurfaced and expanded Atlantis (the imaginary underwater city in the Diko’s pool). These puffle monsters advanced their magic techniques as they resurfaced and expanded their magic empire based off of the Prophecy (from my dream last night 3-5-22 about colorful kingdoms with different forms of magic and trying to create different planets and worlds such as the Moon or other worlds of nature). Their once underwater city has expanded into a Grand magical empire ruled by the original Atlanteans but with more hybrid and advanced magic abilities (runes, orb magic, gears, myths, stories, etc). Also based on the Lupin Collection. These puffle monsters unleash their unique elemental/creation magic to create realms, islands, or worlds of their own and have mastered magic that protected them and the Atlantean Archives from <The Fade> (based on a meditation Victoria told me about, which is envisioning everything and everyone around me, even myself, slowly fading into dust). These puffle monsters use their special magic to create special “dust” of magic through unique techniques to create unique forms of creation and magic to counter <The Fade> (these unique forms of dust take the forms of special symbols and structures recreated from the dust of creation), and take the form of achievements (myth, stories, symbols of power, based off of The Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower)).

Eltazar: Based on the Advanced Player of the Tutorial Tower, these puffle monsters come from the universe upstairs, the world beyond the Xenithverse, far more advanced in magic and power. These puffle monsters use magic with symbols based on the Elden Ring, and live in magical worlds based on the islands and map based fantasy worlds such as Asperia. These puffle monsters are considered Gods compared to the other puffle monsters of the Xenithverse and travel down below every once in a while to establish colonies and watch over their creations. Have their own unique stories, myths, achievements, and avatars, which allow them to unleash great power as their avatars as the imaginations of others (use imaginations of others as sources of magic in addition to their core imagination). These puffle monsters wield unique weapons also (based on the Fantasy Weapon Generator) which harnesses their unique magic and has unique spirits of magic within the weapons. All plants, animals, and other aspects of nature and magic have their own spirits which they work with as well to gain special buffs and abilities (based on The Strongest Florist)

ApexXaber: Project APEX, the undefeatable puffle monster project created by Redison. Based on the Blades from Xenoblade Chronicles, these artificial super puffle monsters are weapons that can transform into warriors that wield unique magic based on the Core Crystal and APEX Essence they contain. They also collect APEX Essences from their surroundings to create new APEX powers (in the form of symbols within colored orbs), which they use to unleash powerful abilities or grant a special ability to their wielder when in their weapon form (bonding with their partner). Originally started with powerful Swords, but eventually expanded into axes, bows, spears, polearms, hammers, guns/rifles, and even books, phones/tablets, or other items based on their magic skill. They live in the Haloverse, (Based on the Halo from the video game named Halo), a Xenithverse confined in a giant infinite Halo, based on Redison's visions for his creations to be able to see the entire universe from wherever they stand.

Covid-100: Based on Venom and the Symbiotes. Alison claimed she has COVID-100 after she said she was sick today, which I based off of Venom and how he took a form that enveloped around Eddie Brock and transformed him into the beast form. These puffle monsters are evolved not only to have partnered with a symbiotic virus that linked with them and now fuses with them (to unleash Fused form) but also to fight together similar to Kamen Rider Revice (made up of Kamen Rider Revi and Kamen Rider Vice). The virus can have any unique form based off of the unique genetic composition and magic powers of the puffle monster it infected. The virus can then take its own form and fight independently while also granting Virus abilities to their host (boost in their magic powers and unique abilities). Both fused form and their individual forms have different sets of abilities and powers. What makes these puffle monsters different is that they can partner with a number of viruses and use different powers and abilities based on the virus fused with them.

Century.IO: From the future universe of Covid-100, these puffle monsters are part of an elite warrior force that fight with special modified COVID-100 viruses that evolved into powerful warriors and then linked with an Astral Chain to their partner as they fight together. Based on the video game Astral Chain and the Legion. These advanced artificially-made puffle monsters fight with enhanced viral powers and the special Astral link with their partner as they fight as one unit in order to take out their opponents. They have special armor and enhanced weapons as part of the Elite military squad to take out evil Virus forms, and are unique depending on the puffle monster they are partnered with. What makes them unique is that they fight with only one partner and one partner only, which makes them stronger as they can wield many different weapons or forms depending on their partner

Bakuretsaber: The explosive gunlances (based off of Monster Hunter). Bakuretsu is Japanese for Explosive or to explode. These puffle monsters wield powerful Gunlances and shields in combat and are known to have mastered the extensive techniques of the Bakuretsaber (the explosive saber). Baku wields <Raging Inferno> which unleashes attacks such as <Solar Flare Blast>, <Nuclear Armageddon>, and his signature finishing attack <Gaia Eruption>. These puffle monsters live in the future where Bakuretsaberes are the main weapon of warriors.

Tombstone: Based on the gun store Tombstone Tactics (guns), the western Gunblade hunter (Final Fantasy) known as Billy (based on Billy the Kid and my name as Billy Bob), is an alternate Redison level hero from this universe in which guns and gunblades are the “in-thing” for weapons and combat. These puffle monsters use Tombstone tactics (special gunblade or gun techniques) with Billy’s unique tactic being <Tombstone Tactic: Skyblazer>, in which he slashes his opponent at high speeds with his flaming gunblade after grinding the revolver and with the press of the trigger, the air he slashed ignites as he shot mini flaming bullets that explode on his command. Live in a western style world (with water cowboys, forest rangers, etc)

Archmasons: Based on the freemasons and the Knights Templar from the Disney Movie National Treasure, they created the secrets of the Puffle Monster Book and the very universes of puffle monsters. The creators of the Xenithverse themselves are from a sub-group of the Organization known as the Archmasons. These puffle monster creators are supreme beings that use the powers of Lifeforce in order to control multiple Xenithverses at one time. Using the ability of <Orders>, organizing Xenithverses into different arrangements of symbols or spells, allow the Archmasons to use the magic of all the Xenithverses created in hybrid super spells. Also based on the Progenitors (from the LovAnaverse on Instagram), the creators of their universe. The powers of the Archmasons lies within the Sword of Valkyrie (the sword I got from Spain in Toledo) as it has the Freemasons symbol on it (I just discovered it today (3-11-22))

Zaenyth: Puffle monsters from the infinite Xenithverses with a Xenithverse in each area of Earth (park, store, city, school, etc). I realize how large this Earth really is, how diverse the nature and surroundings around me are, and how small the Xenithverse is in comparison. Xenithverse PRIME is the central hub but is also one of many many Xenithverses althroughout the Planet in all communities, parks, parts of nature, etc as representatives of the vast number of puffle monster magic and civilizations. Based on the LovAnaverse lore (the celestial sea, Faewar, and all the kingdoms within the planet), these fantastical puffle monsters represent my imagination diversifying as I learn more about my surroundings around me and serve as the next evolution to the GRAND XENITHVERSE as all the Xenithverses (Zaenythverses) fuse into one. This also represents the complexity of the puffle monsters of the different Xenithverse communities as each Xenithverse is now more like a world of its own and the universe is now this Earth due to how vast it is for the puffle monsters. Their energy composition is different as each Xenithverse has a unique energy flow and they use a different mechanic of lifeforce magic, in addition to their unique core symbol and magic based on the realm they are from.

Aztech: The ancient worlds never died (The native american world and Aztec civilizations never disappeared but evolved into the Great futuristic cities). Based on Aztech: Forgotten Gods. These puffle monsters use ancient technology and runes of the Aztecs and other ancient civilizations as well as special weapons using the powers of the Aztec deities both new and old

Xefaera: Sephiroth and Kabbalah (soul of the soul of the law). These puffle monsters are from the Astral houses (the dimensions of the mind), and are known as the masters of Enlightenment. Using their legendary deity powers of creation, destruction, and the great order, they used their enchanted deity soul force and the powers of the Tree of Life (the Sephiroth). They each have their own unique spiritual attributes based on the Astral House they are from (and the 12 unique astral houses they have)

Xyrvids: These puffle monsters use the Wisdom of nature and Druids to unleash the powers of the Astral Rays (based on the crystal color dictionary of different colored rays and their powers from the Crystal book). These puffle monsters use celestial magic from Neptune, the planet of imagination. These puffle monsters created the crystal color rays of magic and mastered the magic techniques of their rays, through the wisdom of the celestials of Neptune

- Brown: Earth, grounded, protect, support,
- Red ray: The core/root chakra and flame power, boost energy
- Orange: Heal emotional and spirits.
- Yellow: The sun, solar plexus
- Golden green: Renewal, nature, healing
- Pale green: the faerie color. Higher power
- Green: Bridge of body and soul
- Dark green: mystery, immortality
- Blue green: waters and fluidity
- Pale blue green: Atlantis
- Pale blue: the sky
- Sapphire blue: creative and expressive
- Dark blue: the stars, imagination
- Dark purple: Awakening
- Light purple: Relaxation, zen, lavanders
- Lilac: support and team
- Pink: love and kindness
- Silver: moonlight, reset
- Black: inner power from journ
- White: Transformation and harmony

Novus Ordo Seclorum: The New order of the ages. These puffle monsters come from the Great Order, Xenithverse. The new system of magic reformatted all Xenithverses per space of Earth as the Xenithverses are in magic orbs that are in regions of Earth (each area, store, mall, pool, etc) which contain a zone for the puffle monsters of Earth (as part of The Great Order Xenithverse) to live on and maintain the Xenithverses they hold. The Order was created and contains all puffle monsters from throughout time since the order was formed when time began. These puffle monsters created the Xenithverses and the orbs they are housed in and created zones for the order to live in and maintain the orbs. Each puffle monster of the order has master control over the orb and the Xenithverses within, while also wielding power that can hybrid or create variant magic of the Xenithverse orb they wield, or use warriors powers from the Xenithverse orb they hold. Also wield weapons based on The Adam Project (Netflix movie with Ryan Reynolds, that I watched with dad today 3/13/22). They can also freely travel through time to all other zones in different timelines and dimensions as well as on other planets and throughout the Universe. Also based on the Secret Societies of the world (Yakuza, Freemasons, Druids, etc), and the Story prompts from "Create a story" which I found in Barnes and Nobles. Examples of zones come from stories such as:

- Spy in court of Khan
- WWI general
- Magician in court of pharaoh
- Assassin to kill Barbarossa the pirate
- Mummifier in ancient Egypt
- Thief of the silk road
- Marco polo assistant
- Coin collection that teleports others to infinite number of worlds
- Radioactive flower that spreads and kills everything
- Island of evolved people
- The future of nature based on art from Insta

Arxildant: Based on the Technoweavers (from Aripockily on Instagram), puffle monsters that study and create the complex web of infinite magic intelligences that serve as the core functions of technomancy. Use special tablets, phones, computers, and other special magic electronic devices that weave executable programs that can enhance their magic or perform spells for combat. They use the powers of <The Current>, the primary force of technology and power within all forms of technology used by all races of puffle monsters, and a power created by the Arxildant and a power they have mastered, created variants of, etc. Created from the MIT Redison originally but purified and evolved.

Genusis: Based on Goda Medals and Tajadol Eternity. The perfect Genus of puffle monsters found on the Hidden Continent of Mura (Based on Lemuria, Mu, Umer, etc), and how they didn't use modern technology (powered by The Current, the primary force of technology and power) but used an alien and celestial form of technology powered by their Genetic super code. These puffle monsters have their own "perfect gene" as a unique part of them which gives them their main core power. The ultimate genes are known as the Red Gene (Redison's gene) and the Orrix Gene (The origin/all power gene) and were fused with other genes to create super puffle monsters that wield the powers of these super genes. Redison mastered genetic control over the Red Gene to unleash his Genusis Eternity form (Based on Kamen Rider OOO Tajadol Eternity form). These puffle monsters use the unique symbols created by their Genusis Gene which are based on some animal abilities and other natural powers.

Voyden: Based on “Way of the Consuming Void” (from Aripockily on Instagram), the puffle monsters are from the Realm of the Lost Futures where they mastered harnessing black holes, voids, dark spheres, points-of-no-return, the bending of gravity, physics, and time, and the powers of all “Lost futures” or futures with a very small percent chance of ever happening. Use special magic abilities and technologies from the Realm of Lost Futures and special symbols which allow them to use magic from those lost futures in their control. These puffle monsters are darker in color due to their use of the Void Glimmerreach: Based on the Glimmereach world from Aripockily (on Instagram), the Aeons, the crystals, and the Qhralli (Crystalline beings). These puffle monsters come from the brighter future of puffle monsters (more magic focused) where I successfully become more of a D&D creator as these puffle monsters come from beyond the known Xenithverse from the realm beyond the imagination. These immortal puffle monsters are known to be shiny in their appearance (glimmering) with a mysterious energy from their realm.

Cortex: Originally, Caltech Redison used drill swords which spun the fire symbol really fast. After Redison managed to take one of his spinning blades and study the effect of spinning magic symbols/runes at high speeds, which maximizes the magic effect and creates a new form of the magic symbol after further purification and enhancement through the spinning effect (the vortex the symbol goes through). These puffle monsters have naturally spinning magic core symbols (Cortexes) which grant them different forms of magic abilities, spells, and weapons. Live in a realm created by the spinning symbols.

Crown Center: In a dream I had, I was one among many kids that survived some apocalypse and was in a camp that was moved to this futuristic center called the Amazon Crown Center (run by the Amazon company). This center was super high tech in terms of an almost utopian society, anything you imagine will be made real. There was a concert hall, playground, super vast laser tag arena, and even high tech rooms where we stayed in. These puffle monsters live in the Crown Center in which they mastered the magic created by the Imagination Realization System (IRL System). Very pixely in design and use Neon colors in their design as representations of their magic power. Parts of the dream also had a super cool restaurant where I ate a really interesting Lasagna but it was shaped like a tower and was on top of Spaghetti and Meatballs.

Dominarium: Part of the Crown Center dream, was a dream about Zoroark (Pokemon) that had evolved further into two different super-evolved forms after using a certain sticker on them. These puffle monsters use the magic of stickers to achieve a special super evolution form granted by the powers of the sticker. The stickers were actually solidified special symbols created from the Infinite Domain, a great expanse of space in which the concepts of Time, Life, reality, space, soul, elements, etc were all created. These puffle monsters use the magic of stickers to control their unique Infinite Domain power. Also based on the Cleric class of Infinite Domain from Aripockily (on Instagram).

Celestial Slayer: Puffle monsters from the alternate universe in which Humans and Puffle monsters are still at war with each other (technically, the puffle monsters are being hunted), to which the puffle monsters evolved to become celestial slayers, war deities of great power in order to defend all puffle monsters. Based on the Custom Gundam from Instagram (ferdy.lindsgn) as well as the Celestial Slayer idea from the Webtoon Return from Player. Their symbols are super charged to be used as super weapons, created with the potential to slay gods and other godly beings.

Void Nexus: Also known as Void Riders, Explorers of the infinite worlds crossing through world after world constantly. These puffle monsters use DNA Keys, Alien Genetic material of other puffle monsters (based on Ben 10 and the keys from Hot Wheels Battle Force 5). These crystalline keys hold genetic material of alien puffle monsters from other universes and all the worlds they explored and used to unleash the latent power or recreate them. From a dream about collecting one key with Fenrir (an alien super wolf). Each VoidRider can unleash different abilities from one DNA Key (one rider can unleash a special fanged punch attack, while another rider could increase speed and sharpen eyesight, all from the same key with the same creature (Fenrir, in this example)). These voidriders live in the space between universes and are in constant travel while collecting data and life form magic information in order to increase their arsenal of weapons and powers.

Rune (Reune): The power of Imagination to Reality through special magic symbols. In this version, the Xenithverse expanded to take all worlds of fantasy, myth, webtoons, movies, books, TV shows, the internet, board games, and other creative things in existence. Puffle monsters exist in this super Xenithverse and use the powers of Reunes to unleash special symbols and abilities based on the abilities of characters or creatures from these stories. The ultimate unique power these puffle monsters have is the ability to <Bookmark> which allows them to unleash one <Avatar Ability> based on one character's special power. These puffle monsters can have an infinite number of <Bookmarks> which puts their own special twist on the <Avatar Ability> within the <Bookmark>. Example, the sword of Eragon (Brisingr) ignites but using <Bookmark>, the puffle monster can summon rainbow fire and unleash dragons made of fire from it to attack the opponent in a combo attack with an empowered flaming slash

Zune (Ziune): Super symbols that become armors and weapons, the ultimate empowering force of magic based on reaching the Elemental Pinnacle from the magic of Omega, the mythical endless country. Originally created on the Grounds of Hyperion through Hyperion Energy, the endless country of Omega became a home for special puffle monsters that use the magic of Hyperion (Based on the Hyperion Dragon from DragonVale) which takes the form of the Ziunes. These Ziunes became powerful armors, weapons, and ultimate super forms as it grants the Elemental Pinnacle energy form (their Perfect cores, based on Bakugan) into the Transcendent state (The Hyperion State). This energy is actually the excess energy of their perfect core, the physical manifestation of their cores, which takes the ultimate forms of the weapons and armors they wield. These puffle monsters are based on the HERO cards from Yugioh, the Ryusoulgers, and the dragons from DragonVale.

Aerune: From the great mythical endless country of Alpha, these puffle monsters were also created from the Ground of Hyperion, actually as the puffle monsters that created the Grounds of Hyperion and the Hyperion energy force. These puffle monsters are based on the Mechtogan and Mechtogan Titans, powerful titan life forms that are the physical manifestations of abilities and excess elemental energy, and are based on many deities from different religions and cultures. As the great creators, these puffle monsters (take the form of Great mages or sorcerers with planets/Xenithverse orbs in their clothing, gloves, etc) have an infinite number of Mechtogans as their attacks, special abilities, spells, etc as they have the Planets and Xenithverses (orb forms) magically suspended in their armor and weapons (based on the Aripockily Moon Shard dagger and Sun Shard Sword) as they unleash the great powers of those planets and Xenithverses to manipulate the cosmos and manage creation and destruction as the great entities revered as gods, goddesses, and other deities from the perspective of all puffle monsters in existence from other universes.

Zyune: Artificial symbols based on the Bakunano (advanced battle gear from Bakugan Mechtanium Surge), which raise a puffle monster's powers, stats, and magic to innumerable levels and heights (beyond infinite power). Created on the Planet Materra (Ma Terra/Mother Earth), the ancient name for Mars during the Eras of Prosperity. These puffle monsters come from the ancient past (the dinosaur era and before) in which the puffle monsters of Materra were highly advanced, having mastered time travel, dimension travel, and reality shaping. However, since the magic and powers of the puffle monster aliens were highly sought out by other forces beyond the Milky Way Galaxy, the scientists created the Zyune, a powerful symbol system which created super soldier puffle monsters that wielded these Artificial Weapons of ultimate destruction in order to defend the planet of Materra. While this unfortunately led to the destruction of the planet during a civil war, the surviving peaceful puffle monsters evolved and refined the Zyune system to not only evolve all puffle monsters to unleash their own unique Zyunes and integrate it into their magic system, but made it a part of them. The modern Materra puffle monsters are known as the Zyune puffle monsters because of their use of these super weapon magic symbols. The symbol when used, transforms into weapons or armor that can boost the puffle monster's powers, grant unlimited abilities, and other powers unique to the Zyune Zyrone: Mechanical puffle monsters from the Remnants of Materra (on Mars). These puffle monsters were created as the next generation of weapons and guardians of the Galaxy as well as their purpose to revive the realm of Materra by bringing life back on Mars (in the Puffle monster Xenithverse). Based on the mechanical bakugan (Farbros, Dryoid, Boriates, Aluze, Macubass, etc). Ruled by Redison MK 2 (Mark 2), a Redison clone of Materra that survived as a cyborg and advanced himself through Zyrone technology and created the other Zyrone puffle monsters to be his companions on Mars. These puffle monsters each have unique abilities such as FARBAS (healing abilities), ABSIDS (a neuro missile system), CBA, etc.

Myune: In an alternate version of Materra, these puffle monsters created the Mutation Rune System (Myune) instead of the Zyune. These puffle monsters use the powers of special DNA genes within them created by the original Ultimate Warrior Gene (from Bakugan) and use it to freely mutate their genes to change forms, evolve into stronger forms, or use special magic to fuse with other puffle monsters by copying their genes and mixing with their own to gain unique abilities. Based on BakuMutations.

Yozura/MirAge: Based on MirAge Gundam Yozura (from the_madinventor on Instagram), these puffle monsters from the future of puffle monsters in which designs are all based on gundam now. These puffle monsters use special smart technology and advanced super custom weapons to battle and use special modules they created to gain the upperhand Hiruzen/Homura: Based on Burning Gundam Homura and Burning Gundam Hiruzen (from the_madinventor on Instagram), these puffle monsters hail from the same world as MirAge and differ as masters of the Sword and classical weapon combat, enhanced with magic, the Ancient way, as they use techniques from before their evolution combined with new magic powers and techniques from their evolution into gundam forms.

Belserion: Based on Celestial Unicorn Gundam Belserion (from the_madinventor on Instagram), these celelstial creator puffle monsters bear similar design to Belserion and use the magic of Halos to create more magic, evolve puffle monsters further, and create homes for these puffle monsters to live and diversify. Unleash the evolved celestial powers of deities using different runes, symbols, etc.

Yujin: The darkness from the grounds of Hyperion unleashes the Transcendant State of the Heavenly Demon Lord arts within Redison as he takes the form of Dark Crescent Demon Lord Xaber (based on the Kurayami armor from Ryusoulger, Kamen Rider Jakku Revice, and Elemental HERO Escuridao from Yugioh). The darkness activated when the Temple of Dark Light met requirements to open the Gate of Darkness (I am getting rejected left, right, and center for Prom, poor excuses too. Like oh I have no plans, and then when I mention I want a date, oh yeah I think I am going with someone XD). These dark puffle monsters use evil energy created by the Dark Crescent Demon Lord and have mastered the Heavenly Demon Lord arts (combined with their magic affinities and powers)

MAGAEA I: Written in Flames: The story of the warring period of an alternate universe known as Alt1 of puffle monsters. Redison is always the main character of all my adventures, but the other puffle monsters want to be their own main characters so they attempted to take Redison down, which led to Redison creating a rift in reality due to the power of his sword. Redison himself now lays alone on his black throne and sword in the palace floor of the Castle INFINITY, high in the sky by the tear of reality. Each puffle plush and other characters now rule their own kingdoms and realms that they formed after becoming main characters of their own and creating their own “Xenithverses”, which are compacted into these kingdoms at war. Each kingdom has their own

inifnite set of many elemental magic forms (despite one being a fire or water kingdom, they have all elements (fire, water, earth, plant, light, etc) except in different forms)

- MAGAEA: Redison Original, and the other puffle monsters of Xenithverse PRIME fuse with Will Ko to enter the universe Alt1. Will Ko becomes the Writer of Destiny and acts as the new main character and protagonist with his mission to unite the kingdoms again. He created puffle monsters with this legendary power of <Destiny Rewrite>, using a God like creation power to write out the destiny of their opponents and control the battle field and surroundings by creating magic rules and special abilities from thin air. Each wield a pencil like item that can transform into any weapon they want (The Heterogenous blade, based on the webcomic 100 million points)
- Empire of BLAZE: Redson rules as the king of this mighty technological empire of puffle monsters with special flame like magic (all different elements) but use flame like magic and have aggressive magic battle styles. Bear the flag of BLAZE.
- Venezia: Artison and the other artist puffle monsters create worlds of magic using the powers of magic paint. Once known as a neutral kingdom, they become involved once their trade became interrupted. Use the powers of art and foresight to win
- Canopia: Greenison rules as the Emperor of the Infinite Canopy Empire, a realm of endless forests of lush life, all under the vast covering of infinitely high trees. These puffle monsters include archers of Alva, Clerics of Druva, the Gardeners of Canopia
- Oakenshield: Under Sam/Superior Oakenshield, the mighty Emerald forest of Oak lay as a neutral kingdom with a weak alliance with Canopia as their neighbor. These puffle monsters include the farmers of Feldman and the assassins of Nightshade
- Altopia: The Sky-high utopian empire of the sky guardians and winged puffle monsters. Ruled by Sabone, the Apex Emperor of the Risen Frontier, these puffle monsters master the elements of the air to protect and fight. Lighter in colors and wield armor with cloud and wind designs.
- Skyrates: Captain Skyrex, Pyrex, and his lofty crew of Sky Pirates (Skyrates) travel the worlds and plunder what they can (hence the problem with Venezia due to their interference with trade) and hide within a hidden kingdom ruled by the vast number of Skyrates that trade for higher prices (after stealing of course). Wield different plundering styles and includes Phantom Thieves, Bombardiers, and have an alliance with the great Sea Pirates (Kaizen)
- Kaizen: Ruled by Fireball, this pirate buccaneer travels with his pirate crew of unique pirate puffle monsters and ghost puffles (Phantasmo and Spooky leading the Ghost pirates) Live in the hidden Pirate kingdom of treasures untold, guarded by the fearsome Golden Clan
- Golden Clan: The protectors of the treasure of both the Kaizen kingdom and Skyrates kingdom. Wield the power of gold to ward off thieves. Ruled by the Golden puffles (Golderex, Goldy, Goldilocks, and Nugget (the last 3 are from Club Penguin)).
- Emperor's Reef: Hans rules as the Emperor of the Sea and protector of the Great Reef. These puffle monsters are environmentally conscious and use the great magic provided by the ocean to control currents, sea creatures, and the magic associated in water to protect their way of life. These puffle monsters come from all seas, from all worlds, dimensions, universes, etc

- Cosmia: Dana/Dancer and Disco (co-ruler) rule these puffle monsters of cosmic powers and digital enlightenment. Using special neon gear created by the two rulers, these puffle monsters mastered control in pocket dimension creation, space manipulation, gravity control, and digital cloning.
- Bestia: The hunters and wild beasts of the Infinite Canopy. These puffle monsters protect the order of nature and the circle of life with unique beast powers. These include all the puffle creatures from Club Penguin and in Flippr (the puffle creature costumes). Ruled by all my Puffle Creatures (Rammer, Runny Babbit, Cheer, Rock, Roll, Mystic, Midnight, Shadow, etc) as well as the sub class of the Prehistoric group, the beasts of the Dinosaur era led by the Dinosaur Puffles (Red, Darky, Spike, Stego, Trip).
- Melodia: Disco rules as the main ruler (Dana as co-ruler). These are the puffle monsters of harmonics and have unique armors and magic abilities and designs based on their unique forms of sound and music produced
- Crystallia: Krystal and Crystal (my first Blue Crystal puffle on Club Pengiun) rules. Has an alliance with Cosmia. These crystalline puffle monsters use Super Xenith Geomancy to control crystal runes, harden and shatter runes of magic, or reassemble runes of magic (in crystal form) to create weapons or spells that work for these puffle monsters only. Have become very effective and knowledgable mages in battle
- Vitria: The snowy kingdom of ice and ruled by the Cold Emperor of FrostFire, Snowy (Cedric). These icy puffle monsters fight for the North Wind, and are masters of the Great Spells, powerful complex runes of magic that unleash powerful and long lasting effects in combat.
- Shaedon: Puffle monsters of darkness under Joe, the rider of shadows. These puffle monsters are known to have mastered darkness as well as a unique spray paint they created using shadow magic. These puffle monsters include the Shadowpuppet types, Shadow riders (Skateboarders), Shinobi (Ninjas), and the Paint gang (Spray paint types)
- Valhalla: The vikings under Viktor, these puffle monsters are in touch with the elements of nature as they wield great weapons that unleash special abilities based on the bond formed with their partner weapon (Forged forms). The masters of Forged forms and master forgers of legendary weapons. Use magic based on Norse mythology
- Osiris: The power of Egyptian deities and elements ruled by Pharaoh, these desert dwelling puffle monsters use ancient magic and relics to unleash Rebirth forms (based on Leweka region created by Mykemon on Instagram).
- Dynastan: Puffle monsters of asian culture (dragons, deities, etc) under Dragon, these puffle monsters live in the realms of magic influenced by Chinese mythology (similar to the Minecraft Chinese texture pack tutorial world). Use the powers of Qi, Hero Qi, Dragonic Qi, and Deity Qi to unleash ultimate powers and unique abilities. Draw symbols of magic with Qi power to unleash their unique abilities
- Kikaino: Puffle monsters under Brandon and Frankencookie (Frank), the ultimate engineer puffle monsters, masters of gear magic, time travel, and metal manipulation. These include the Robots, Gear Engineers, Chroniclers (Time travellers), and Mutators, and Cosmic Engineers.
- Eridian: The cosmic star puffle monsters led by the Alien puffles (Sol, Photon, Jupiter, etc). These astral puffle monsters use powerful astral technology to not only observe all

universes and master all forms of alien technology and magic, but also wield the great powers of constellations and heavenly myths

Ziliyant: Redison and Will fuse to unleash the ultimate power as the Heterogenous God Sword. Unleash DeadBolt or the Solpra (Red lightning and Super sun). Ever since the Lifeguard training, I have been getting more irritable and quiet (for some reason), which I think maybe it's the sun? Redison synchronizes to this new power as he wields these short bursts of rage and fury in both DeadBolt form (Ultimate Rage form) and Solpra form (Based on Boboiboy Supra form, combining my liking of Red Lightning as a cure against Cooties (when I was in kindergarten and 1st grade) and the sun exposure from Lifeguard training). The Ziliyant power expanded as Redison acquired the powers of the Heterogenous Sword (after travelling to the comic world of Million Points The Ultimate Game) and combined it with the Xenithverse magic within his core and created many many super puffle monsters with the powers of the Heterogenous sword and a unique ability and form the weapon takes. Each Ziliyant puffle monster has a unique character trait of Will's and uses the powers of their own unique Core Ziliyant Xaber which can take any form and unleash a zillion abilities, choose from a zillion symbols, and attack in a zillion unique ways unique to their weapon. They are the weapon and the weapon is them.

Sekai: Puffle monsters that are THE WORLD. Sekai in japanese means "World". Unleash control their own THE WORLD as the definition of the world is unbounded. Holds the magic of infinite Xenithverses (in marble forms) on a giant expanded world of nature based on Earth and Earth's ecosystems. These Xenithverse Orbs are influenced by the nature of the region they are in and there are puffle monster magical worlds within the orb, which in turn, influence the region around the orb. Each Sekai puffle monster uses a unique <THE WORLD> art of magic which is unique to their core symbol and power, and they have full mastery and control of the magic on their unique <THE WORLD>. Can summon the water magic from Xenithverse Orb of the Jungle region on their <THE WORLD> or fire magic from another Xenithverse Orb of the Ocean region or mountain region on their <THE WORLD> through the colored orbs surrounding them that they can form and activate the magic within those orbs.

Zekai: The Shining future and bright potential of the future of puffle monsters. The Future Incarnation of the Xenithverse, the strongest, most historic, longest lasting, and most prominent future of the Xenithverse PRIME, ruled by these super celestial beings that wield infinite different Star Hands, magic gloves with celestial runes and astral control in them that allows them to master great magic that surpasses even those on <THE WORLD> and the infinite Xenithverses in existence. Also wield other Astral blades and other legendary super weapons (based on the Cosmo Dragoons, Dragonarms, Drametal, and all items from Star Dragon World, all from Buddyfight). Wield different GOD orbs and symbols/abilities based on the Star hand they use.

Pufffles/Sekain: Puffles with 3 fs. The residents of a <THE WORLD> which is one infinite planet like Earth (with variations) and many many Xenithverse Orbs/marbles on this planet with more

Pufffles inside those Xenithverses. These pufffles use magic from their home world, dimension, etc which is unique to each <THE WORLD>

Hypercron: Puffle monsters created from the concept of BW powers (from the idea where Brandon Welsh's monster character, Baron, created digital memories (based on Gaia Memories from Kamen Rider W) for Lyra to power up). These puffle monsters use the Hypercron Battle System to unleash modules created to defeat their opponents as the next generation of user-friendly puffle monsters for humans. All use the powers of <WEAKEND> and < Battle Custom>. <WEAKEND> is a module that analyzes opponents weaknesses and uses it against the opponent by creating a form or utilizing a power that can defeat the opponent with ease. <Battle Custom> allows for the use of Memories to be stored into their core memory and to create custom abilities, functions, modules, and memories of their own. Also based on Silvally from Pokemon and his RKS System

STARGUARD: Elliot Elite, subsection. Puffle monster Lifeguards after I got my lifeguard certification from the Starguard Lifeguard program on March 28, 2022. These super puffle monsters come from the elite realm of Starguardia, warriors with Atlantean technology that use their special abilities and buffs the moment they enter the water to save puffle monsters Chausses: Puffle monsters of the Forgotten ancient civilization, evolved to survive the human apocalypse as they became the Predator species between the two fighting each other. In the very far future in which cities are covered in greens as nature took over, the age of puffle monsters took over as elemental magic and steel collided. The puffle monsters at first were the pacifists getting hunted down by the humans in order to return to normal. However, over time, the puffle monsters evolved into a predatory state, unleashing special powers and complexes. Based on Jungle Juice and the "Origin of the Predatory Species" ability. Redison is known as Puffilis Predatoris The Hellfire (each Predatory state ability start with Puffilis Predatoris, and then a certain power (THE Thunderstorm, The Amazon, The Ocean, etc).

Keizaal: Based on Skyrim and the Thu'um from Skyrim. Use the powers of the Dragon voice and Draconic language as these puffle monsters mastered the ancient magic associated with the dragons and draconic language, the language of ancient power and magic. Also based on Ryusoulgers and their forms and attacks. These puffle monsters each have a unique set of "Voice" which varies on language type and magic power. Live in a realm of magic connected by nature through the magic of the voices of magic. Also based on the special attacks from Hyrule Warriors: Age of Calamity game.

Hirotaro: Today is April Fools Day 2022. In Club Penguin, this was celebrated with the box dimension. These puffle monsters come from a mysterious dimension similar to the box dimension based on the digital world from Avataro Sentai Donbrothers. They each use similar magic abilities than the characters such as the Noto or the main characters. These puffle monsters use special gears, abilities, and the power to phase through both the Neo Box Dimension and the real world, using Avatar powers granted by the powers of the boxes and dimensions within them.

Doomicron: Hektarus returns after Omegcron Redison revived him as he absorbed and evolved into a final form created from the power of the Dead Futures (very negative depressing futures of mine, or non-existent futures I may never do/have) and the dark rift in the Tear of the World from Alt1. Now in all black in a Black Crystal body and similar in design to the Phenex Unicorn Gundam. These dark puffle monsters use the forbidden powers of the Dead Futures to unleash a dark variant of ultimate magic. Regulated and controlled with a Mecron card that the other uses to control their monster from running rampant.

OverRoad: The purified super evolved form of the Doomicron puffle monsters. These puffle monsters represent the infinite Roads of a future, the infinite paths that the future can take. Redison unleashed the powers of 50 Shades of Red in which 50 versions of Red puffles came and fought Redison (Crimson King, Vermillion Vigilante, Scarlet Saber, Sanguine Sorcerer, Bloody Baron, Maroon Menace, etc). These 50 shades are identities of Redison which come from unique and different Roads of Redison's future. Also based on Seven Roads Magician and the Seven Roads Archetype from Yugioh Sevens. These puffle monsters unleash Roads Magic, a unique power they have based on the Road they come from (as well as their unique core magic, world magic, attribute, class, etc). This is the alternate of the Dead Futures, that the futures are not dead but just achievable for an alternate version of myself. Unleash Roads Combos, hybrids, fusions, and even evolve Roads of magic.

Omegcron: Destroyer of the world. Extinction of all creation and purification of this world. Based on Metroid Dread (the final boss), these white metallic puffle monsters are the embodiment of destruction and rage, the holders of the Code of Silence, the Code of Destruction/Purification, and the Code of Beginnings, the resetting of my identity in time for my next stage of life (University), the chance for a new beginning. Also based on the Wonder Ride Book Amazing Siren from Kamen Rider Saber (Trio of Deep Sins movie). These puffle monsters have the unique power to not only destroy all and purify the so called tainted world, but also the ability to edit memories and the Life Story of others as they change the identity of others in order to complete the reset and new beginning Champions League (April Story): As I plan for university and all seniors plan for university, their partner puffle monsters battle each other for the strongest puffle monster among the seniors and champions of their school while also meeting representatives from Universities themselves who are much stronger…

Obveron: Based on the Creator from the webtoon Dungeons and Artifacts, the creator who made the first human, elf, and dwarf, and gave them names and brought them to life with a special magic of names and granting them identity. These puffle monsters have mastered the special magic of True Names, Secret Names, Origin Names, and Elemental Names (one name has an infinite number of elemental variants associated with the same name). One name acts as a symbol of magic in which there are a massive variety of these "names" that one puffle monster could wield to unleash ultimate level spells. These puffle monsters create Names as the identities of forms of life, the label and establishment of life and their destiny written within the magic of their Core Name. Live in a realm of magic created by the Core Names of magic and nature.

Valdreas: Alien puffle monsters based on the Elemental Bakugan (from Bakugan Evolutions) with Strength form and Speed form (also based on the strength and agile form in Pokemon Legends Arceus). These puffle monsters from an alien universe (imagined by an alien in a distant galaxy) have mastered the magic of Elemental energy and cosmic energy differently as they take Elemental forms and can change their forms as Strength form, Speed form, Stealth Form, Sage form, Shinobi form, Paladin form, Gunner form, Tanker form, etc. Each magic ability and attack can take different forms and these puffle monsters change form based on the attack/ability they choose. These puffle monsters can also summon their attack/ability forms separately as manifestations that attack with them (dual attack)

Zaldreon: Alien puffle monsters that have partners in their head (how I have Redison within my head act as “the person in my head” that heckles me for fun) and can summon them into allies, weapons, or fuse with them as armor (based on the Nanogan from Bakugan Evolutions). One puffle monster can have as many as hundreds of different avatars in their head/core, each avatar a representative of a certain characteristic of the puffle monster (personality, power, memory, etc), and unique in their own way and power. They can transform into a unique weapon (when in weapon form) or fuse into a unique super form. These puffle monsters live in harmony with their avatar personalities with them as they enter their subconscious world and live in their home world simultaneously.

Infinitearth: Puffle monsters created by the Arcane King that uses the Arcane Brain in his staff that takes imagination energy from others and fused many earths and magic to his universe. Based on Kirby and the forgotten land. The story goes that the Arcane Invader arrived to conquer this world, but the humans had defended their world successfully and captured the Arcane Invader. The humans of that world managed to contain the Arcane Invader into the Capsule of Eternity and drained his magic as they created the first man-made elemental puffle monsters of their universe. As they were creating the Alpha species with the powers of the Arcane Brain, they attempted to split the Arcane Brain power from the Arcane Invader, but this caused a massive explosion that wiped out all of humanity, leaving only their structures and remnants of their civilization behind (cars, planes, etc). The Arcane King puffle monster was created in the aftermath as the remnant of the Arcane Invader remained dormant in the capsule within the abandoned laboratory. This burst of energy created dimensional rifts and portals as hundreds of thousands of Earths (each with their own unique magic, nature, and puffle monster species) fused with this Earth and ultimately created the Ultimate Earth, a supergiant Earth surrounded by 2 giant rings (which looks like its made of rocks but are actually normal size Earths) and two even larger rings (based on the Halos from the game Halo, which have Earth like worlds on them). The pulse of the Great Invader still managed to corrupt some puffle monsters, including the ones created from him, because they are made from the Great Invader. Redison was called to action to fight them and free this world from the Great Invader, leaving the Arcane King to be whole as he purified the corrupt dark part and fused it back to the Arcane King. There are millions of different species variants with unique symbols based on their home

Earths. Live in a civilized elemental realm ruled by nature and magic. Use great powers of magic, with the artificially created Elemental puffle monsters having the powers of all Elemental types on this InfinitEarth as well as their own unique Command Core Symbol. These puffle monsters have also mastered the unique ability of Spatial Shift (a power from the Arcane King and Arcane Invader). Fuse with objects such as Cars, planes, animals, and other objects (based on Kirby's Mouthful mode) and gain unique abilities and forms (object forms are different based on symbol and magic power). Based on all the D&D designs on Instagram and the Copy abilities of Kirby, as well as other magic.

Xecutioner: Unleash XCEED CHARGE! Redison was given a mechanical sword known as Xecutioner, a talking sword with a blade made of blast energy (like a giant lightsaber with more flames coming out of it). The sword uses energy it takes from others or around it but can also control the main puffle monster wielder in emergencies by taking lifeforce (unleash Hazard Overflow form), but when the puffle monster wielder and the sword intelligence synchronize, the two gain Xceed Charge, an ultimate level power that maximizes their current abilities and uses Synergy instead of lifeforce. These puffle monsters live alongside the Sigveryn puffle monsters as the defenders of justice. Each Xecutioner sword has a unique personality and ability and so does the unique partner of the sword.

Ohreon: Based on the Chaos Emeralds and Master Emerald from Sonic the Hedgehog 2 (Movie I watched with Alberto today where the emeralds had power to make thoughts into reality) as well as the Ondreon Halos from Aripockily (on Instagram) and the 10 rings of power (also from Aripockily). These ancient puffle monsters use the powers of the ancient crystals and celestial stones to unleash their great power to turn thoughts into reality, and reality into thoughts, a mysterious power that is controlled and mastered by their unique crystal core they have and their unique abilities and imagination. These puffle monsters are considered to be the ultimate beings of magic as the shining embodiments of the crystals.

Redisons Country: Based on Moon Knight (Marvel TV Series with warriors as avatars of Egyptian Deities). Redison is the center of conflict as Dungeons in the shape of constellations appear on the world (Redisons Country) (Dungeons based on the Webtoon Return to Player) and champions of great beings arrive on the world. These puffle monsters are the avatars of deities and other beyond universal creatures, entities, etc in which they get the ultimate power of their <Sponsor> such as unique armors, weapons, and core magic abilities. Lastly, these puffle monsters have different personas that are all within one body in which each personas/identities have their own unique symbol, unique skill, special abilities, and a unique weapon. The constellations also grant ultimate power of magic as well (since they too are beyond universal entities). Live within the magical realm of Redisons Country in which these puffle monsters are similar to Redison as they act like the inside voice of myself and the inside voide of my imagination. Also based on Aslan’s Country (From Chronicles of Narnia), and Donkey Kong Country (the video game series).

Arynth: Puffle monsters from a higher plane of existence that live in the infinite maze of Arynth (Labyrinth). The main gate and “start” point is underground, but the maze expands on the surface, the Earths core, in the oceans, in the skies, and even in space. There are an infinite number of unique and exotic worlds of magic created and inhabited by these puffle monsters and all these worlds are connected by the Great Maze that encompasses all space (invisible to the monster world). Within the Great Maze, live different puffle monsters that guard certain areas or live in certain habitats created in the maze. These puffle monsters have the special ability to freely manipulate the elements of the maze (the walls, floors, traps, settings, etc), while the other puffle monsters from each world have a unique Maze Tag (ID) that marks where they are from, and acts as their core symbol (unique ability, class, attribute, etc based on their home world). Also based on the maze from the Webtoon Doom Breaker, the Labyrinth zone from Sonic the Hedgehog game and the Maze from Sonic the Hedgehog 2 (movie). Their Maze Tags also have the ability to take them back to their home world and grants them enhanced directional ability. The nature of the Great Maze is that when one travels from their world, the maze twists and turns, leading to a new world every single time, always a new adventure and world to explore. Can save Maze Tags of different worlds to return to them if they want (save from items, clothing, or other monsters from that world). These puffle monsters are the masters of “Mazerunner” forms, avatar forms that these puffle monsters can transform into as a temporary evolution (unleashing a future self, alternate super self, etc) (based on the shadow forms from the Kickstarter game Casting Shadows).

BTS (Battle Tank Simulation/Sengoku): Powerful puffle monsters that control magic tank drones of their own that combine with them or can form special weapons and armors to unleash powerful attacks and abilities. Live in a realm dominated by a magic war and the many factions and groups of tank puffle monsters, each with their own unique tanks with special gear and weapons.

Final Stance: Redison unleashes the ultimate power hidden within the DNA of all puffle monsters, which unleashes the Predatory gene of ultimate power within a puffle monster, the “final stance/technique” of battle in order for them to become weapons that end all fights, to unleash their ultimate techniques of magic! These puffle monsters change form based on the Final Stance they use but also have base attacks based on their base form and different final stance attacks and abilities based on their Final Stance form chosen. These puffle monsters live in a magic realm created by the Great Creator’s Final Stances

Haouja: The Highest Champion, the Champion of Champions, or the Master of Masters. These puffle monsters are known as Champions/Masters under the Master of Masters, the Highest Champion himself. Said to have created the puffle monster races, magic species of all universes, and even magic itself, weapons, history, the fabrics of time, space, and reality, and even created the concept of multiverses and deities. These puffle monsters created the Races of puffle monsters and even created the infinite evolutions of puffle monsters, puffles, etc. Based on the Creator from the Webtoon Dungeons and Artifacts, as well as Kayin, Destra, and Axton, creations of the Creator and recognized as Gods as they created their own race. These puffle monsters use the powers of <Figures> similar to the character in Kingdom Hearts Missing Link, toy figures of puffle monsters, heroes, characters, symbols made as characters, forms of nature, items, etc which all have a unique power that allows for the wielder to utilize a large variety of sub-symbols within the figure based on the figure used. These figures are actually the creations of these Masters that only these masters can wield (when used by the creator themself, the figure and symbols within unleash a unique super ability, but when used by others, the figure can unleash a unique power designed for the specific wielder and their core power).

Ranpo: Puffle monsters that have mastered combat arts. Infinite different combat arts to choose from and unleash (Supreme Combat Arts, Dragonic Combat Arts, Blazing Combat Arts, etc). Their forms are based on the Blades from Xenoblade Chronicles 1, 2, and 3 (such as Pneuma). These puffle monsters were created from an attempt to create an alternate reality by the powers of Great Core magic and the realities of the other puffle monsters (the preservation of all futures and decisions). By the power of the legendary Creation Combat Arts, these puffle monsters were born as the ultimate beings and warriors of an alternate universe of puffle monsters. Their weapon is a part of them and their existence. These combat arts are written in an ancient form of magic text (based on Cade's strange writing XD) similar to Sword Art Online (Fairy Arc) magic, in which they use scroll magic sentences which transform into one super symbol as their combat art technique. For each combat art, they change their forms into their most efficient style to deal the most damage in the combat art unleashed (based on the Heterogeneous sword from the webcomic Target: One Hundred Million Points)

Ouraboros: Based on The Clockwork from The Fabled Warrior (Webtoon) as the timelines of all mortals are within this dimension of infinite time. These puffle monsters were created from the memories, stories, destinies, and time of all existence found in The Clockwork which expanded to become a fused realm of magic with all of these stories, nature of these worlds, etc are mixed in one giant map. These puffle monsters each have a unique time aura (based on the "time" they are from, from a specific existence) and can fuse with others from their same "time" to take Ouraboros forms (based on the Ouroboros forms from Xenoblade Chronicles 3 (the trailer released recently)), and can fuse with others not from their "time" to unleash Ouraboros BREAK forms (Stronger but more unstable fusions, can only use 3 attacks/abilities before separation). Each Ouraboros form they can make and have made grant a unique ability they can wield on their own that matches the Ouraboros ability.

Variaerys (Variares): An artificially created puffle monster created from the destructive nature of Arizona and Genetic info from Bioscience of puffle monster. Based on Shadow the Hedgehog from the movie (Sonic 2). The ultimate weapon against the Final Conclusion (a prophesied event relating to AP Exams, presentations, finals, and graduation) and against Redison. Red and white aura, he was created from data of Redisons fighting and powers and DNA collected of other puffle monsters. Uses the Artificial Heterogenous Hero Sword to unleash his maximum power (based on the Heterogenous sword from Target: One hundred million points webcomic)

April Arc: The New Invaders: The beginning of the Final Conclusion is coming…new species arrive from beyond to stop the disaster from happening. Variares fights off these new invaders and Hektarus arrives from beyond the grave (after the Doomicron battle) as the Dark Masked . Prom is coming up (no date or plans at all), so are AP exams which I have not prepared for at all, and the choice for what school I am attending is in 9 days and I still have no decision.

UPDATE: I decided where I am going to University on April 23rd. UBC here I come!! Because of this, the future is established and the battle between ASU and UBC surges as more powerful puffle monsters from UBC arrive as representatives while Redison from the ASU undergrad future (had I chosen ASU now) and warriors from ASU come to have a final showdown. In the meantime, Thao (after being defeated in March (after I made up all of my work after being gone in Montreal)), returns as the king of the New Republic of Troy (bearing Red and Gray armor) and leading student warriors (Alison, Brandon, AP Research group, etc). In addition, three more groups arrive, puffle monsters each led by The Will of the Heavens, The Earth's Will, and the Will of the Nether. These god-like Wills arrive, each with their own purposes. The Will of the Heavens observes, the Earth's Will tries to stop the Final Conclusion, and the Will of the Nether wants to defeat Hektarus and destroy the Dark Mask (interfering with dark magic of the nether).

Jiipon: From 5/5/5, 6/6/6, 7/7/7, 8/8/8, 9/9/9, 10/10/10, 11/11/11, 12/12/12. These puffle monsters use the powers of special painting abilities (based on Kamen Rider Revice Painting Finish with Thunder Gale vistamp) which allow them to use special time powers to draw symbols of power that grants them elemental variations of boosted powers (so elemental boost of special abilities they have). Each comes from an era of Great Time in which the Energy of Creation is greatly condensed and grants special buffs and variations of magic power. Their main abilities and attacks come from Soul energy they channel from their Era of Great Time (based on the Soul Fighter from Webtoon Ultra-Alternate Character). Examples are pirate type, viking types, egypt types, and use elemental drawing symbols to boost their powers. Also based on Mithril Canvas (on Instagram) and based on my drawings of puffles when I was young.

Arkternus: Puffle monsters with the great powers of <Arktern Library>, which grant them database powers to unleash any ability and magic they collected from the data of the Great Computer on their ship. These puffle monsters traveled the planes of existence and observed and collected data on all magic, power, and non-magic civilizations in all universes and worlds, all in order to create the perfect warrior of puffle monster species. These puffle monsters though are considered the perfect species through their ability of using their database realization ability but can also summon puffle monsters from infinite universes, worlds, and realities or use abilities from these worlds with ease.

OverTrigger: These puffle monsters come from a future of special gun and shooting techniques. In this future, gun duals are part of the culture and are a pastime for people. These puffle monsters fused their cores with their unique blaster and gained special abilities and combat styles. Some have auxiliary weapons but this complements their main shooting style. Each has a unique OverTrigger ability (their strongest attacks) which maxes their core magic with their blaster. Based on Ryusoul Gold (from Ryusoulgers)

Bladrane (BladeDran): Based on the techniques from the Webtoon Return of the Blossoming Blade such as Yue Maiden Blade and Plum Blossom Strike, these puffle monsters have achieved a higher level of Blade Art mastery as they freely control and wield Sword Qi within their core and Sword Aura, which both take form as weapons/blades or as an extension of the blade that can be freely wielded to either wrap around the opponent or attack on its own like a serpent as it is the energy left behind the sword as the Sword Qi is exuded from it. These unique applications of Sword Qi and Sword Aura are what these puffle monsters master through the scrolls of their core and learning from the Infinite Scrolls of the Dran.

Bladereign: Based on Kamen Rider Gaim Kachidoki Arms. These puffle monsters use the powers of the Legendary Dynasty of Magic, a realm of flags and warriors in Vancouver and UBC. These puffle monsters are representatives of the asian culture in Vancouver and UBC (theoretically) and they use their flag weapons (sahimono based on the Kachidoki Bata weapons) with their symbols and other runes for power to unleash powerful abilities and attacks. Have the unique ability to change the field of magic (Terrain change) in order to boost their current abilities and stats. Known as the rulers of their kingdoms (also based on the Sengoku period).

Taijun: Puffle monsters under Celestial Wings Redison and The Will of the Heavens. Unleash the power of the Heavens and the worlds of the heavens (unique celestial buffs). Each puffle monster comes from a certain Heaven (based on the 7 Heavens) but can use magic from the other heavens as well. All have the unique power of creation (similar to the Gods in the Webtoon Dungeons and Artifacts) and immortality which allowed them to create reality around them and manipulate the fabrics of magic to create symbols, runes, and magic laws.

Erut: Puffle monsters under Earthly Root, Redison and the Earth's Will. These puffle monsters unleash the Root of all power as granted by the Will of Mother Earth, which unleashes a powerful aura and magic abilities. Mostly nature based powers and elemental abilities based on attacks from the Webtoon Dungeons and Artifacts or The Lone Spellcaster (another Webtoon) and Utopia Root (from Yugioh Zexal). The core of the Earth will grant an elemental Ultimate Power for each puffle monster (so one puffle monster will get a unique Earth/rock Elemental Ultimate ability, a plant Elemental ultimate ability, an Air, Water, Fire, Lightning, Sand, Metal, dark/shadow, gravity, sound, etc each based on their main core power)

OverDemons: Based on Kamen Rider Vail and Kamen Rider Demons (and the theoretical OverDemons as of April 2022). Ruled by Demons Overlord, Redison and The Will of the Nether. Make a contract with demons or contract with the Inner darkness to unleash darker powers of the core and hidden potential. These hidden powers unleash different paths of magic and unique abilities (but delete the other powers within). Summon these powers through special Demons Rituals (from the Nether) which are unique based on the core power. Use Lifeforce and Soulforce within to power up the contract magic. Contract demons include Burning Claw (a giant burning hand which grants a Burning gauntlet power to the wielder (Demons Overlord Redison) with giant flame blade like claws to fight off (Omnis/Original) Redison's swords) and Darkest Knight (Bat similar to Kamen Rider Knight from Ryuki). Attacks are known as Requiems (Burning Claw Requiem, Darkest Knight Requiem, etc).

Variarnys: Based on Warframe (the game, and all the warframes themselves, and the special designs people make of them on Instagram). These super advanced puffle monsters hail from the future in which very advanced technology was presented in the ancient past, which led to progress and evolution in time to become incomprehensibly high in evolution. Live in the civilizations of the evolved futures (ancient futuristic tech like Atlantis), they created a highly advanced design for themselves as they vary in custom super weapons of magic and technology, created unique forms of magic that vary on their forms, class, attributes, etc, and even designed different vehicles, armaments, creatures, and other structures. Each are from different factions (each with their own ideals and wishes, as well as unique class and power). Variares (the robot character I came up with) was evolved by Redison and ended up in the ancient past, where he showed the primitive puffle monsters the great powers of the future and became the founder of the future (that led to the events of The Evolved Futures, the timeline they live in). Based on characters from Target: One Hundred Million Points and Warframe.

Genemus: These powerful puffle monsters are highly evolved and come from the highly highly highly advanced civilization of the ancients. More close to Aztec civilization in design with magic in their ancient stone structures, these puffle monsters are masters of genetic manipulation as they wield the powers of the Ancestral Code, magic within their genetic code that lay dormant and possess powers of other animals, elementals, and magic forces/creatures/nature. Examples are T-Rex, Pteranodon, Triceratops, Tiger, Polar Bear, Cockroach, Mantis, Sequoia tree, Venus Flytrap, Wolf, Cheetah, Phoenix, Eagle, Megalodon, Shark, Mermaid, Shell, starfish, Coral, Abyss. These dormant DNA unleash hidden ultimate powers within them as they gain different unique forms of power that they have mastered and used to diversify their magic ability. Also gain different elemental abilities through their unique ancestral codes. The ancient puffle monsters used the magic of the Ancestral code to control their ancient advanced technology of their civilization that was hidden away.

Musou: Based on Kamen Rider Genm Musou (Musou means Unmatched/Unrivaled in Japanese and refers to a game genre). These powerful puffle monsters have the unique Musou symbols which grant them unmatched powers, magic abilities, stats, battle styles, attributes, etc. Live in the great empires/kingdoms unmatched in combat, these warring kingdoms have formed an eventual alliance with each other after eons of war and work together to strengthen the powers of the Musou magic and create new Musou symbols and battle styles. Live in areas based off of Pokemon Conquest.

Eldhrun: Puffle monsters from an alternate universe in which Redison unleashes the ultimate spell in a final fight against the Great Darkness Nemesis during the Final Conclusion (Nemesis based on Nemesis from Beyblade Metal Fury and the representation of my fear for the future), where he unleashes Origin of Singularity (All the stars in the universe, all creatures of the land, sea, and sky, every fabric of magic being, become one with me!) which fuses all monsters and magic into one sole power within Redison and he defeated Nemesis through <Xenith Vortex! Redison BIG BANG>. All puffle monsters from within him return to normal but he himself disappears but returns a year later in a new form (blue eyes and blue flame auras as Redison StarLord). Redison actually evolved into a being beyond the Xenithverse as an Elder God (the Eldrune) which act as sponsors to the puffle monsters of that universe. The Eldrune recreated Redison’s body as an avatar and returned him to which Eldrune Redison acts as the main sponsor. These puffle monsters have the ultimate power of <Origin of Singularity> as they fuse with all magic and monsters, and in this form, are stabilized through the <Descent of the Eldrune> power which allows for a sponsor Eldrune to grant a special aura and buff to the puffle monster (unleash a unique ability based on the Eldrune and special stats and attributes). Each puffle monster has their own unique abilities and attacks, gain a giant unique set of abilities and attacks when in <Origin of Singularity> form, and gain a special buff, class, attribute, and special ability depending on the Eldrune sponsor (all Eldrune can sponsor any puffle monster). Based on the Elder God with the Soul FIghter from the Webtoon Ultra Alternative Character.

Gohshin: Many eons ago (100,000 years ago), there was a great warrior, who explored all corners of the universe, all magic realms, and all civilizations throughout millennia, to learn and master the infinite magic combat arts and record them. This warrior, known as Goh, eventually settled down after many millennia and began a school and world of his own that focused on learning and mastering the many unique combat arts he recorded and studied, and created a new system of magic after studying these techniques, that each have a special aura/energy (later termed, the Gohshin energy), that match with other techniques from other worlds, universes, timelines, dimensions, cultures, etc. These techniques, abilities, and attacks could be used in successive order in a form of multi-strike <stances> to build up the energy as the Gohshin energy synergize, leading to a max amount of power in each of the attacks used in the <stance>. These stances can consist of 3 to 100s of different techniques in a certain order which each have a special buff, power, etc. Each puffle monster developed an infinite number of their own unique <stances> that they train and record, growing the library, which allow for others and future generations to take those <stances> and incorporate them into their own <stances> and any new techniques or powers they developed. Based on Return of the Blossoming Blade Webtoon (Return of Mount Hua) and Infinite Leveling: Murim (another Webtoon). When Goh passed away, the future generations grew his realm into a vast mystical universe of warriors that train and explore the Xenithverses around them. Redison is actually Goh resurrected into a new form but forgot his memories and restarted his life. After the battle against Redison StarLord, his aura burst and resonated the Status of Goh and the Statue of Ahvin, which signaled the resurrection of the next life of the two (all are one and the same from different eras in time). These puffle monsters have the unique ability to manifest their magic core energy into weapons, symbols, spells, etc similar to the spells in Dr. Strange and similar to The Living Tribunal (from Marvel).

Ahvin: The old wives tale mom told us is that if you hear a call to you at night and everyone is asleep or you are alone, do not answer back, for that is a fae/fairy or spirit that will whisk you away to their world and you will never be heard from again. In the monster universe, these fae are known as the Ahvin, a race of ancient magical puffle monsters from millions of eons before Goh's era. A past life of Goh and Redison, Ahvin was a magical warrior of the Fae, who traveled the universes and realms of magic to collect all spells of existence, master it, create variants, etc. Eventually, Ahvin created others just like him through the magic energies he collected through eons and these Fae creatures created more varieties of magic and others like them to have companions. After many eons, Ahvin passed away, leaving his legacy as the founder of the first great magic society, to which he would rise again one day as Goh, and Redison many eons after Goh. These puffle monsters were named after their founder and their powers are derived from him and his original talent to learn and master ancient spells, languages, runes, writings, and Fae tech/weapons with ease. Each has a unique <Affinity> to a certain element of magic (tech, time, reality, plants, water, fire, etc) which determines their destiny and unique abilities. These puffle monsters also created powerful magic artifacts that enhanced their magic prowess such as special wings, a magical blade, and even a ring with a gem known as “Perfect Cell” which grants them immunity to magic, curses, and diseases (Based on Perfect Cell from 66,666 Years Advent of the Dark Mage Webtoon) as well as other artifacts from the webtoon Dungeons and Artifacts, and the custom D&D campaign stuff on Instagram.

GenShin (3100 species): Redison’s virtual twin from an alternate reality turned digital in which I am going to ASU in the future instead of UBC but through magic means came out. GenShin (Generation New or New Generation). These puffle monsters use the powers of spirits (based on the Webtoon Cape of Spirits), to wield powerful unique “Regalia” (or items granted by the spirits with unrivaled powers and strength that can evolve and change based on the bond with the spirit). In the webtoon, the regalia are only red in color, but these puffle monsters mastered elemental manipulation as each spirit is considered an Element and the puffle monsters use special abilities to wield these Elements. These Elements can be upgraded through certain means, combined with others, evolve through certain conditions or rituals, change into variants based on certain magic conditions, as well as take a corporeal form as a warrior only the owner of the Element can see. This spirit is similar to Astral in a sense (from Yugioh Zexal). Also based on Genshin Impact characters and their powers. The virtual twin of Redison fused with the alternate reality Redison of ASU and unleashed this new super power to create and summon Elements which also grant attributes, classes, buffs, etc that can affect reality around them. A new generation of magic users with designs similar to the custom Warframes on Instagram

Thaos: Based on the Kiwami from Miraculous, these puffle monsters are from an alternate universe in which they are similar to the Kiwami (they are very small floating spirits (similar to when I would use my hands (in a circle) to make a puffle) with unique elemental powers and magic abilities) that fuse with their warrior partners to give them a unique suit and powers. Examples are Alison has a black puffle monster that gives Cataclysm (from Cat Noir) and Suhani has a white puffle monster that mimics other powers through power link. These puffle monsters are also very similar to Ryusouls (from Ryusoulgers) in providing armor and unique weapons. These puffle monsters live with their human partners and get special synergy powers and abilities. Based on the world in which humans and puffle monsters live in harmony. The habitats humans make for their partner puffle monsters can take any form such as backpacks (worlds within them), jewelry, certain objects, etc. A different version of Thao rules as the king of these puffle monsters in this universe (known as Redison’s Sword in this universe)

The Final Conclusion Part 1 (May Story Arc): Hektarus absorbed Zurison (who was created from Redison by Alison and Caitlin (in theory) to be the Anti-Redison, the weapon to beat Redison by using a power that eliminates/neutralizes Redison’s magic) and Thao and became the ultimate Artificial monster. He used a strange armor summoning power (based on Don Robotaro from Donbrothers) but was found out to be from another universe (known as Zektar). After defeating Hektarus, the symbol was returned to the Zektar universe, but Hektarus plans to evolve his Phantom Ruby power. Redison on the other hand was on the verge of defeat in his last battle with the message of Hektarus ringing through his ear “You are nothing without your magic”. He is now on a training journey to master his own strength without magic. This caused Redison to manifest Gaius Nemesis in which he rampaged and destroyed Hektarus singlehandedly (during another battle after the Zuran battle), but also almost attacked his allies, until he was calmed down and the dark form went dormant. It is the prophecy that states that the Final Conclusion as decided by the heavens is that the End of Puffle monsters will be caused by Redison (Gaius Nemesis) and must be stopped. Gaius was later separated from Redison after Redison was judged worthy and proven to be separate from Gaius Nemesis (not the true cause of his creation) by Raniti and the Knights of the Pink Castle (based on the pink castle from andrelirs), and Gaius was separated in the Omega Lab (Zektor) to be sealed in the Stone of Sealing (but the stone was taken by Hektarus as he absorbs the power and fuses it with the Phantom ruby to unleash his ultimate form). In addition, the Xenithverse fused into one cohesive timeline as all dimensions, realities, universes, Xenithverses, alternate worlds, etc fused into one primary Xenithverse known as the WilliamKo-Xenithverse, a Xenithverse affected by my life and sticks to the one timeline that I will go through (established by Centurium), which will bring the Final Conclusion closer…

Varyna: Based on my idea for a month-long design prompt list to come up with ideas for magic symbols similar to RandomSpirits (Instagram) Swordtember (will come up with this plan eventually). My plan for an original story. Monsters are designed similar to the Warframes on Instagram with many many many colors as part of their body and special magic for each color on them very similar to FerreusDemon (Instagram). These powerful puffle monsters use powerful runes that can change forms into armors, spell circles, break into different pieces and recombine or combine with other runes to unleash stronger symbols, weapons, armors, spirits, items, vehicles, etc. Each symbol can change form into an armor, weapon, item, vehicle, creature, spirit, etc

SunGao: Based on Sun Wukong and the name of Heaven’s Equal (or the Great Sage). From the realm of Heavenly (Sol) Arms, SunGao (Redison’s Equal or the Great Saber) arrives to challenge Redison and battles Zurison (an artificial Redison created to eliminate his powers). These puffle monsters not only have mastered the thousand techniques of shape-shifting (and unleashing the powers and fighting styles of those forms), but also the ability to clone, elemental attacks, and other special abilities. Can summon the Sol Arms (based on the Arms from Kamen Rider Gaim) and gain special armor, weapons, buffs, stats, attributes, classes, and a unique ability/attack to use.

Zuran: Based on Kamen Rider Demons Genomix forms and the Webtoon Neolithic Girl (genetic engineering to evolve humans to have an immortal body, superstrength, speed, high intelligence, etc, by taking genes of other animals. The perfect human). When Zurison arrived, it was Redison and Sungao vs Zurison in battle to which Redison’s attacks were not working and it was then he felt weak as his magic was eliminated due to the powers of Zurison. It was then he realized and humbled himself that magic is not everything, but skill and innovation are also important factors to strength. He created a Zuran Driver (based on the Demons Driver) and Dual Vistamp (Red and Blue) and in an individual fight, he was able to dodge all of Zurison's attacks and used different items (gyro bomb to dust up the sand into a tornado to distract Zurison), and used the driver to absorb Zurison's Anti-Redison energy to which he was able to activate the driver and the vistamp. The driver counters the Anti-Redison energy and allows for an enhanced super power utilizing a new energy altogether created from this fusion of normal and the anti power. Utilizing Vistamps that have a special genetic code within to evolve the puffle monsters with "arms", legs, and other characteristics for enhanced battle (powered by the fused energy termed Zuran energy). Examples are drills, claws, flame hands, ice hands, stone gauntlets, Grasshopper legs, scorpion tail, wings, lightning legs, etc. These puffle monsters that evolved from this system and utilize the powers of "arms" or Genomixes use the powers of AAether (Artificial Aether) energy which acts as the force of magic that drives their super abilities. This AAether also protects their cores and genetics from getting neutralized

Darkfall: Based on the custom darkfall characters on Instagram from Benedickbana. Powers of delete up and darkness at max. These dark puffle monsters use the magic of the inner shadow and the shadow hidden within the core magic to unleash a stronger darkness. Their powers are darkfall magic enhanced forms of their own magic abilities.

Auraza: Puffle monsters of the Golden Bonsai (from andrelirs on Instagram) who have mastered the power of Golden Life energy. Using this special form of nature magic, they utilize the ultimate potential of nature magic accessed through Auraza magic at the trade of using their HP. Live within the land of the Golden Bonsai (which has other colorful shiny bonsais around it with temples, palaces, and cities on them)

Baurania: Puffle monsters of the Goldpeak Realm (Based on Goldpeak city from andrelirs on Instagram). Situated on top of an infinite pillar in a strange dimension, these puffle monsters created the pillar not only housing mobs for their citizens to train and battle, but also use the pillar of magic as a focusing point for magic flow as at the peak lays the infinitely vast kingdom of legendary puffle monsters, each with powers similar to the Monkey King as they can clone themselves by using their hair, but also are the masters of a vast array of weapons they wield. Their main unique power is their shining gold aura around them due to their unique ability, Flash Timing (boosts their magic abilities and stats ten fold due to their magic flow being accelerated). . These weapons grant them unique abilities and class attributes. Based on Brandon Welsh (owns a bunch of weapons which is super cool). Flash Timing Aura is created from having confidence in one's own abilities (uses the energy of inner confidence instead of core magic or magic flow manipulation).

Ichiro: Based on the Ichiro - The Lost Temples and Feilong Palace (from andrelirs on Instagram), these puffle monsters are of the skies and through extensive training and by having confidence in their future, they stay lighter than air, allowing them to be almost weightless and give them the ability to float, fly, move at light speeds, etc. Redison gets sent this power during one of his fights with Hektarus when he learns to focus less on using magic and depend more on his own skill and abilities, to which he learns how to be light and attack him from the skies and around him as he barages him from all sides (especially from above). Another form of non-magic that is created from confidence in the future and self-potential. All puffle monsters are as light as air but they all have unique abilities of their own

Zektor: Puffle monsters from the Scientific Research Laboratory Omega (from andrelirs on Instagram) in an astral future where these puffle monsters have mastered technological manipulation in order to create unique armors of their own they can equip (similar to Don Robotaro from Donbrothers) to gain special abilities and weapons. Originally, Hektarus stole this power, but after his defeat, Redison returned this power to them and they joined the Xenithverse in return. These puffle monsters have the unique ability to combine all their research and knowledge of unique magic and create it as unique armor they can summon from their dimensions and home worlds. These puffle monsters are genuinely researchers, observers, and collectors of magic data, to which they created the Zektor system as a weaponized version just in case of an army hit. Armors are based on the Bakugan Battle Suits (from Bakugan)

Promegranate: The Frenzied Fruit! These puffle monster are unique fruit puffle monsters created from the seeds of the Promegranate (a fruit with rainbow seeds and a disco ball like appearance) created yesterday (5/7/22 was prom night at Warehouse 215. I went with Aneesh, Ankit, Anisha, Alain, Millicent, Taylor, and Evelyn). These puffle monsters use the special ability <Blast Party> and <Party Time> which unleash high boosts of a certain stat of theirs or an extremely boosted attack or ability of theirs. All live in a world where Promegranates grow everywhere.

Centurium: Based on Kamen Rider Century, Redison puffle plushies from other centuries arrive as part of the Centurium to establish order again. These puffle plushies have powers based on Kamen Rider Century as well as powers from Dungeons and Dragons lore. Each puffle monster has a unique ability being known as heroes of their own worlds and universes. They created a system as the Ultimate Order, the Unlimited, and use the powers as The Unlimited, to create a magic flow that fused all the alternate universes, Xenithverses, timelines, mirror worlds, dimensions, etc into one cohesive Xenithverse with one established timeline that follows my own timeline (anything that happens to me and any universe, world, Xenithverse, dimension, realm, or anything that is created will integrate into the main Xenithverse). Based on the concept of Dr. Strange 2 (ok I read the plot a tiny bit and found out a little about the alternate universe and destruction of the multiverses and the Illuminati). Now all worlds, Xenithverses, realms, timelines, dimensions, etc are all within the one main story Xenithverse linked to me (the WilliamKo-Xenithverse, lead by Redison (now with the band Alison gave me as his Crown of Xenith, as his sign of Ultimate power as the ruler of Centurium and the protagonist of the Xenithverses)).These powerful puffle monsters wield the Century Gears (the sharp gear things that Kamen Rider Century uses when attacking) created from the unlimited symbols they use and they combine it into one gear (a super spell in a sense) that can be used as a weapon and spell circle to unleash an unlimited variety of attacks and spells, depending on the symbols that compose the gear. These puffle monsters can also summon the infinite varieties of puffle monsters based on the gears. This one Xenithverse follows its own timeline but has infinite lives since all the backups are also stored within this main Xenithverse. With this power, Redison is now known as the “God” of puffle monsters (based on idea that authors are the “Gods” of their characters, and me writing about Puffle monsters, means I am the “God” of puffle monsters, and Redison is me).

The Final Conclusion Part 2 (May Story Arc continued): Both the AP Lit Test and AP Calc BC test are finished (I bombed the AP Calc test pretty bad because I got a mental block due to sleeping so late last night and I forgot all my formulas at the very end), my AP Research paper was submitted already (AP research is done and we are having an Olive Garden party soon since Alison Lindstrom is addicted to pasta), Prom was last Saturday (5/7/22) and the best night of my life, CREST Senior Award Banquet was 5/2/22, and the Senior Award Night is tomorrow (5/10/22). All that remains is the Honors Applied Computer Science Capstone is due this Thursday (5/12/22) (and I am nowhere close to done since I still need testers before data analysis and conclusion), Final exams (May 19 and 20), and Graduation on the 26th. UPDATE Final exams are cleared and so is the capstone presentation and project itself is finished in the end (this info is added on May 29, 2022). On Graduation night itself, a great black hole appears as Hektarus attempts once more to take over PVHS Universe, with Redison defeating him with the new power he gained as a new graduate in his evolution. The new universe of magic in PVHS is established to be home for the Omegrandis Puffle monsters (noted below)

Xenith Legion (Legion of Xenith): Redison’s characters he writes about that are similar to puffle monsters but with different abilities that are considered magic and wondrous in their realm. These puffle monster like species are known as Xenthians, powerful warriors that are humanoid in form but have similar emotions, language, writing system, feelings, thoughts, and skills like us. These Xenthians unleash the powers of their star (Astral Legion) which grants them the ultimate powers from the heavens based on their Destinies. Each star has many many symbols that these puffle monsters use in the form of spells, weapons, and other items. The unique power that these Xenthians have as opposed to puffle monsters is that they can freely manipulate magic energy to either take a “strength” form, “speed” form, or increase their stats in certain places or increase muscle, weight, height, and other alterations using their elemental energy. Based on the concept of Zodiac Legion (on Instagram, warriors based off of stars of constellations).

- Regus: Regulus of Leo is his star, the brave and fearless warrior that runs in head first but he has a lot of muscle, none in his brain though XD. These puffle monsters are under the Leo constellation and led by Regus. All are brave, fearless warriors but none of them are very smart
- Castor: Castor of Gemini, the anxious and soft-spoken swordsman that has Dissociative Identity Disorder (an alter-ego) known as Pollux. Pollus of Gemini (uses that star instead of Castor) is sociable, confident, and a bit arrogant. Under Gemini, these puffle monsters all have DID but after accepting their alter identity, they create their astral twin and work with them as a combo

The Destroyer of Imagination (May Sub-Arc): Redison returns home to his old Toys R Us where he meets all of the puffles who bullied him in years past. The puffles fought using card spells and bouncing off the walls to unleash weapons in combat. Redison’s childhood was plagued with beatings by all the other puffles as he was a late bloomer in his fire magic. After he got chosen by me and evolves, he returns now (after many many years) and challenges his bullies to a dual to which he defeats them flawlessly. However, the main bully (Navis) unleashes a forced evolution (using a Vistamp device which has an artificial evolution energy within it) (the reason Redison went back to his home is because he was to research the use of the Forced Evolution Vistamp). After he takes his ultimate form to defeat the forced evolution of Navis (in his forced monster form), Navis forms a contract with the Destroyer of Imagination, an extra-dimensional deity with his mission to destroy all imagination to rule in a realm of zero imagination that he can control with ease.

Destroyer of Imagination: Navis fights Redison after forming a contract with the Destroyer of Imagination. These dark soldiers that fight under Navis (all the puffles that bullied Redison) take a forced evolution form which was created by the Destroyer of Imagination. This form not only gives them infinite stats in attack, defense, health, etc, but also gives them unique abilities with the potential to wipe out all magic of imagination energy. Their auras are very dangerous and have been contained in one world watched under the Creators of Imagination. Unleash the ultimate power of Forced Evolution Creator of Imagination: Redison defeats him with contract and fusion as Creator of Imagination (Creator of Imagination unleashes all spirits of imagination within the psyche as physical manifestations to help in battle and evolve). These puffle monsters use the powers of Imaginates, spirits from within the psyche that take physical manifestations to aid in battle. They are forms of history (imagined), stories and myth, or characters they created themselves. These Imaginates act as influencers of their host's personalities and characteristics. Based on the Persona (from Persona game series like Persona 5). These puffle monsters in their ultimate form and in fusion with all their Imaginates, unleash their "Creator" form which allow them to create Imaginates and imagination in general (something that is only possible in theory but actually possible for puffle monsters). Unknown to describe but this power is an origin point to creating magic and elemental forces. Using their imagination force, they are also able to take any evolutionary form of theirs and devolve and evolve at will.

Astrhea: From the Pink Castle based on the design from andrelirs on Instagram. These powerful puffle monster warriors (led by their beautiful queen Raniti, who has taken an interest in Redison) use the powers of Aesther, special crystals (based off of Return to Player Webtoon) that harness magic energy very well and is very strong. Also based on the Aether dimension (Minecraft) and the mods in it (weapons, items, creatures, etc). These graceful puffle monsters have mastered the craft of Aesther into their weapons, armor, and even their own magic spells and cores. Their realm is rich in Aesther as it grows naturally into their plants, water, mountains, etc.

GearRegis: The puffles are now all robots (similar to the Furreal pets) and can take monster forms similar to Staecaesar (from Zenkaigers) and Robotaro forms (Donbrothers). These puffle monsters each have different <Gear Changes> they perform which grant them different abilities (start in <Gear one> and change to <Gear 2> or <Gear 3> can unleash a speed strength, swim form, flight form, etc). These puffle monsters are also based on the Vanguard Clan Gear

Chronicle and their gear appearances and time manipulation magic. Live in the future realm in which puffle monsters are all robots (robot-like)

Dominaxis: The warrior clan of ancient puffle monsters created by the Gauntlet of Dominance, a powerful symbol of ancient magic that transformed into an item for the mighty ruler of these puffle monsters to wield. These puffle monsters have mastered their magic in a special manner making it the “dominant” form of all magic. Ruled by Sabone, who has become the Dominant Type Senturion, a powerful armored defender of his peoples. These puffle monsters use their unique <Dominant> attributes to unleash stronger powers as opposed to other puffle monsters. Live in a regal realm of magic, they all have their magic type as <Dominant Type: X> with X being their elemental power (Fire, water, storm, etc). Based on Dominaria from Magic The Gathering. All puffle monsters wear a crown at their head with a unique <Dominant> core symbol in addition to their main core symbol. This dominant core symbol grants them the unique abilities that overpower others

Xaeriad/Xaerianites: From the ancient ring, Type Mythic and beyond were discovered. After unlocking the vault of GearRegis, the great ring (based on the circle from Kamen Rider Goda (from Kamen Rider OOO)), with a variety of colors, was found to be an encyclopedia of magic about the mysterious Type Mythics, Perfect types, and many other magic puffle monsters hidden within the great realm of Xaeriad. These puffle monsters have special crystalline blades around them (similar to the drawing of a Type Mythic Puffle I made), when in their Star form, but can change form into a variety of celestial creatures and deities stronger than Redison. These puffle monsters are the mythical Perfect Evolutions of all puffle monsters, the next species set to be the primary existence of the Xenithverse, who live in a hidden Perfect evolved Mythical Xenithverse and developed/evolved on their own separate from the Xenithverse in hopes of being able to fuse and unite with them. The Great Circle on their core represents their perfect evolved form as mythical beings. Their Xenithverse is part of the primary Xenithverse but is parallel due to it being an idealized perfect mythological future. These puffle monsters all have the <Perfect Type: X>, <Mythic Type: X>, <Immortal Type: X>, etc with X referring to their main power

Redison’s evolution/New form: Redison (now as PERFECT Type: XENITH> gains a new form by fusing the powers of Dominaxis and Xaeriad and the Primary Xenithverse to unleash the WKO Phoenix Symbol as his Dominant symbol (which appears on his crown, similar to Righty from Webtoon The Lone Spellcaster), and the back of his coat and shirt. This symbol unleashes the full Perfect powers of his Infinite Xabre wielding (the floating blades by his back that can change into any form), and can unleash spells based on the letter/symbol on the Phoenix Symbol. Examples are the W, the K, the O, the 3 mandarin symbols (Gao, Wei, Long), the Sword, Shield, Phoenix (full shape), the wings, tails, and the R (combine K and O), which each unleash a unique Ultimate ability. Symbol at top of book

Ildvar: Based on the Biblical passage about the New Heavens and the New Earth, the new holy city descending from heaven, and the former Heaven and former Earth fading away, this Xenithverse is from the realm in which the New Xenithverse and the New Heavens are in sync

(through the ancient powers of the Ildvar Magic circles), and through the power of the magic circles, the former Xenithverse and Former Heavens were preserved as they became great magic circles in which smaller more elemental magic circles derived from them (The Perfect History). These puffle monsters use magic symbols/runes which take the form of magic circles around the symbol. The magic circle around the main symbol comes from the heavens, and this combination of the magic circle around the main symbol evolved the symbol and weaponized it (can be used as a spell holder/launcher, blade/weapon, armor, or summoning circle). These magic circles can be layered with other magic circles to create stronger circles (weapons, armors, items, etc). This preservation of magic can grant armor fusion as well as the magic circles created from The Perfect History can unleash a super fusion of magic from the Former Xenithverse and Heavens, and the New Xenithverse and Heavens.

Zerios: In this realm, Redison is known as the antagonist of the stories, the villain, the Armed Sorcerer, the Warlock of Zerios, the Flame of Destruction, etc. Using the powers of the Flame of Destruction, Zerios (based on Ultra Necrozma (Pokemon), Arsene (Persona 5), and Helios (Bakugan)), Redison wields a unique artifact of magic in his core which materialized into different artifacts that are a part of it. The Star of Destruction (after being defeated by Redison the protagonist), merged with the rest of the Astral Supremes (the other stars) who granted their powers to create their own avatars, heroes and guardians that use the powers of the Astral Supremes as powerful wizards (similar to Doctor Strange, or from the Webtoon The Lone Spellcaster).

Omegrandis: Split the heavens, the skies, the seas, the earth, and the abyss. Slash through reality and magic O Endless Saber <Xenith Almighty, Redison Finale Saber>. Redison unlocks all his achievements as a hero of all universes and time and the ultimate protagonist of the puffle monsters and creates a mighty sword which is as massive as his achievements, a never ending blade of light and magic, which manifests into a giant sword similar to Gargantua Punisher (Ultimate Gargantua Punisher, Shining Punisher, etc) (All from Buddyfight). This sword defeated Hektarus as Nemesis Omega (using the powers of Gaius Nemesis and the Omega Phantom Ruby), but created puffle monsters to live and thrive at PVHS in a new purified universe of magic as a memorial of my time in high school. The Omega Phantom Ruby (with its ultimate power to alter reality to the whims of the wielder) was purified and evolved into the cores of these puffle monsters as it gained the powers of the Redison's special attack and granted the same power to these puffle monsters, the powers to alter reality for the better and use their ultimate magic for good, for the future. All these puffle monsters live in an altered Xenithverse of PVHS and use the powers of their magic to change their world but also defend others around them using the powers of their Xenith Almighty Finale ability. Use the powers of Xaber skills (special spells of attacks, defense, etc that are ten times stronger than most magic abilities and spells) which are based on the spells from Webtoon The Lone Spellcaster, the martial art techniques from the Webtoon Infinite Leveling: Murim, and the sword skills from Sword Art Online. Their unique abilities, crystal cores, and weapons enhance their Xaber skills. Each can learn and master 10 Xaber skills (these skills can evolve, fuse, change form, and variate) but masters can learn hundreds of thousands of Xaber skills to evolution level. Their achievements also influence their Xaber Skills and forms.

The Horizon/Memento Mortem: Based on the Utopia called Horizon from the Webtoon Ultra Alternate Character, these puffle monsters come from the utopia past the horizon, and use the ancient magic known as Memento Mortem, the memories of Life, in which they can take memories of others (in this universe, memories of me from the memories of my friends, just to make parting with them easier since they will not remember me), which makes their monster forms weaker due to how I never made monsters for them since I never met them in the first place (since memories of me are taken). These memories of life can be forged as well as by these puffle monsters to create new realities within existing realities (new memories, new magic, new monster forms). These alternate puffle monsters eventually join these puffle monsters as manipulators of Memento Mortem magic. These memories take the form of symbols/runes and can be used in forms of spells, attacks, abilities, or summoning puffle monsters of that symbol/rune. Based on how I want and most likely will leave remembering my friends in one final way (which will be saved permanently as their Memento Mortem, which created puffle monsters based on the mementos). All Mementos (including alternate Mementos and fabricated mementos) create unique puffle monsters with unique abilities and powers based on the mementos. Powers also based on the abilities of the characters in the Webtoon Ultra Alternate Character.

Bayonettix: Through the power of Magic and guns, the powers of time, and deities, these puffle monsters wield the Bullet arts (use of many guns simultaneously, usually 4 or more) in combination with magic such as shadow magic or other elemental magic. These puffle monsters live in an advanced magic society in which bullet arts are the main form of magic combat. Based on the Bayonetta game series Grangadez: These legendary puffle monsters wield the almighty Deity Lord powers. The Deity Lord known as Grangadez (based off of 8th Omni Deity Lord, Grangadez from Buddyfight Hundred), granted his powers to puffle monsters to act as his avatars or representatives of his might. These puffle monsters use soulguard (can die many many times but be revived due to having many souls) and Supreme Ji (based on Supreme Ji Asura from Buddyfight) (their armor or weapons have the spirit of their Spirit Sponsor, which grants them <Perfect Shell>, an ability that nullifies their own weaknesses as their spirit sponsor covers for their weaknesses and flaws. When linked with their spirit sponsor (most often a deity lord), they have a look based on the Golden Dragon Gi from Lego Ninjago and 8th Omni Deity Lord Grangadez. Grangadez himself is the leader of the deity lords that are partnered with these unique puffle monsters that hold the deity lord's emblem to unleash their ultimate form. Common abilities include creating giant magic manifestations of body parts (giant hands or feet made of magic) and using giant scale magic spells.

Finale Friday Faceoff (May Story Arc 2): Lyra A unleashes her ultimate form using the magic of Haos-L (her own form of light), and forms a league of other warriors (Caitlin Campo's Lyra C (ultimate blaster form), Taylor's Eagle Archer, Arda; Evelyn Yohannan's Astral Spark Buster (a violet warrior with violet electric control and a blaster blade); Arushi Sharma's Dislyte (an indigo electric type shooter); Milly's Celestial Queen (a creator of worlds, wields a powerful magic sword); Alain's Crimson Edge (an assassin like warrior similar to Joker from Smash Bros Ultimate); Megan's Cyber Queen Meg; Chloe's Roze Thunderstorm; Natasha's Queen Inferno, Aldra; Anisha Dhara's Genix Castor; Ankit Dhara's Gear Magician; Ayush's Jay Aster; and Paige's Queenie), all to defeat Redison (who unleashes Savior form (based on the angels of Paradiso from Bayonetta game). They created a warrior known as Phoenix (based on the Axe scent) who utilizes the darkness within Redison (and his negative energy) as his weakness and created other elemental species from Phoenix (also based on other Axe Scents). Redison eventually defeats each opponent and in the end, ties with Lyra A after both lost their health points at the same time (simultaneous game over).

Phoenomena: The species of dark energy created by Phoenix (who himself is an embodiment of Redison's Weakness, the darkness he fights all the time, except in a different form). These puffle monsters each have a unique Shadow Skill such as summoning their own unique weapons, boost in certain stats, or other powerful skills. These powers include Shadow Claws, Dark Phoenix, Black Hole, Apollo (summon a sword), Dark Temptation (dark mind/psychic powers), Essence, Black Night, Wild Card, etc. These puffle monsters each have a unique set of powers and symbols that they wield and when using Phoenomena Link, they can grant a part of their unique set to their linked partner. All live in the Dystopian Parallel Xenithverse (a counterpart to the Utopian Parallel Xenithverse) Morphoenix: Based on Marvel's Doctor Strange in the Multiverse of Madness, these puffle monsters were the result of the mysterious Butterfly Effect (not the time one, the magic one, relating to the darkness within Redison and his light magic in acceptance (the dark wing and the light wing). Also based on Morpho Knight (From Kirby game series). These puffle monsters were created from the ultimate acceptance of Redison's weakness to become his strength and gained control over all of his existences in all universes, multiverses, and Xenithverses. Through the power of Sword Qi, he is able to create links with his alternate forms from other Xenithverses. These puffle monsters come from the Utopian Parallel Xenithverse (a Xenithverse based on the Utopian Parallel from Marvel Comics and the America Chavez character, that collected all other alternate Xenithverses throughout the infinite multiverses), in which they use magic with strength like the Book of Vishanti (also from same movie). Each form has different unique abilities, colors, and core symbols (similar but different in a small sense). Using the Xenith Sword Qi, he summons the powers of all of his forms and combines it with his as the Ultimate Awakened Singularity (based on Awakened form from the Webtoon Limit Breaker and the Sword Qi from the Webtoon X & Ash). These puffle monsters use their unique Utopia Link to use skills from alternate versions of themselves or other puffle monsters from the alternate universes and can create skills, weapons, and symbols through their Pure Energy (Qi) manipulation.

Saga Fyren: In this universe, Redison gets a new Puffle Plush body with custom fiery hair. With this, Redison himself moves to that body and a new hero takes Redison's old form as the warrior known as FyreSaga. He is clumsy, awkward, but dreams big to become a leader like Redison. He is a trainy mastering Sword Qi and the Hero Xoul power Pufflar: Extra-terrestial puffle monsters from a very distant world with designs based on the Warframes from Jormsuk_joestar (Instagram) and the spiritual Pokemon forms from Poketrainervb (Instagram). These puffle monsters were discovered within the actual universe of humans hidden in plain sight on another galaxy. The Galaxy is known as Valkra-9834, the home galaxy of all pufflars where their capital system is the Arveld system and their galactic capital is Alphasia-99. These puffle monsters have a different form of magic as they have magic channels within their bodies which allows them to freely manipulate cosmic energy into magic spells, Arcanas, summonings, creation of items or weapons, and can change their forms. These pufflars are alien species that all have the shape of a puffle (colorful head with eyes, nose, mouth, hair, ears, and can float or roll), and their main monster form (humanoid, beast, etc). Their main power is Star manipulation (their core powers are symbols in the stars, a massive set of stars), to which they manipulate the energy flow between the stars to create new constellations and combinations. Based on their core power and their home planet, they have unique abilities based on their unique set of stars and symbols, and a unique way to create constellations, items, etc. Lastly, these puffle monsters have the unique ability to send their conscience outward to change form and travel the universe.

FyreSaga: The legendary powers of gears and memories of the infinite heroes and descendants of characters. Saga Fyren uses the powers of Avatar Gears which allows him to utilize the skills and magic of characters from all worlds, stories, both from monster book, and not. These characters include the powers and worlds of the 50 generations of the other Puffle Monster characters (stated in Book 7), so Greenison and Hans have their 50 generations of their Xoul. Saga unleashes the powers of these heroes and characters in his own unique battle style. These unique characters and puffle monsters unleash Avatar skills, Avatar Weapons, Avatar Attributes, and Avatar Elements, in combination with their own unique skills, abilities and magic to unleash powerful attacks.

Gaiden: Based on the “Story Thieves”, this version of Saga is part fictional and part real (created by the hairs of each Puffle plush I have), so it is Saga with a different colored hairs scattered on his head. According to the prophecy, the barrier between the fictional empire of imagination (comprising of all fictional worlds made and to be made), and the real world, will be broken, only for the hero of both worlds to unleash the magic of both worlds and fix the barrier and save both worlds. Saga Gaiden is the hero born of both worlds that trained to master all magic of both worlds. These puffle monsters are born of both the fictional universe and the real universe and use both forms of magic in sync to unleash special abilities with great strength.

Ze’an: Based on Earthsea, these puffle monsters are the ancient spellmasons and creators of language and writing. They invented the origin source, by combining the infinite forms of languages spoken into one universal language system used in speech and writing, known as the True Runic. These legendary puffle monsters speak True Runic and utilize it as their primary care symbols of magic, spells, weapons, etc as these symbols have special properties of unleashing the full potential of both the primary symbol, but also the energy of all symbols and runes that derive from the True Runic form.

Ae’an: Known as the Ancient form of the True Runic, this refers to the vast number of different magic languages and writing systems that were spoken by the many ancients, before the languages were combined into one uniform system. These ancient languages unique in their own way before combined, were placed into magic books which contains the vast powers these ancient lost forms of language and writing have and their unique abilities when used. Each symbol and rune of these lost languages have the untapped and unlimited power that can be utilized when used in spells, and give a special ability when used in succession such as in sentences of spells. Based on lost languages or the lost books of the bible vs the books and languages that were found and organized into the modern language we know (the modern is Ze'an while the ancient, lost, and unfiltered form is the Ae'an).

Omnis Zetaris: The ultimate form of magic in it's entirety. In this universe, we students get magic powers and abilities based on our skills and achievements. As someone who documented and created the Xenithverse, I have the powers of puffle monsters that I wrote and the power to create puffle monsters and magic of the Xenithverse. These unique puffle monsters have the ability to link and combo powers of different species. For example, a fire Ae'an symbol, Fire Ze'an symbol, and a fire Dominaria symbol can be combined to unleash a unique power or special ability. These unique symbols and powers from all different species are called Aspects. Each puffle monster has a unique Aspect of their own, which these aspects are borrowed and used by each other in their abilities and attacks in great spells.

Wild Altiverse: Based on the spells Horticraft, Primordial Power, and Bamboo Barrage (from Mythmakergm on Instagram), these ancient puffle monsters come from an alternate universe seen through the dream of a forest within a mall of some sort. These puffle monsters are in touch with nature and have mastered the powers of creating plant life anywhere, modifying plants to ensure their survival and evolution, and creating new plant weapons and magic abilities

Glyphinx: Based on the spells Wall of Glyphs and Sphinx’s Censor (from Mythmakergm on Instagram). These puffle monsters come from an ancient civilization that Redison found after exploring the deep end of the pool (during my Lifeguarding), where he found ancient ruins with ancient magic and a portal to the realm of the Glyphinx puffle monsters. These puffle monsters create walls of magic glyph symbols, with each wall having multiple symbols that unleash unique and extremely powerful spells. Live in a realm where the glyphs of magic are on all their structures and make up their culture and civilization. Each puffle monster has the ability to create multiple unique Glyph walls based on their Glyph set (a very very large set of symbols they can use to create their glyph walls)

Nameless Order: The silent spells of great power, to erase all existence. Based on the spells Erase Existence and Silvermoon sword (from Mythmakergm on Instagram). Redison learns of this mysterious power after finding the dimension within the Black Hole that almost destroyed PVHS. The black hole gave wild and destructive powers to random puffle monsters (The Edicts of Doom), but also had a door into a hidden dimension with the power to control these wild puffle monsters. These puffle monsters are known as the non-existent puffle monsters, the nameless order, warriors of invisible non-existent magic with the special property of Anti-mana, the anti-thesis of mana and magic energy as this erases existence and magic reality, meaning all spells and abilities of these puffle monsters are not bound by other spells such as nullify spells. When an impostor of Redison (Hektarus pretended to be Redison and committed many crimes using dark magic in the PVHS universe), caused trouble, Redison was tried for his crimes but with the help of the Nameless order, he unleashed Nameless spells despite being limited by the anti-magic field in the courtroom, he was able to bring Hektarus to justice. Live in the realm created by Anti-Mana magic

Edicts of Doom: The great Black Hole originally created by Hektarus and his dark energy, but also prophesied eons ago, granted a wild, uncontrollable dark power to many different puffle monsters which enhanced their powers greatly as they evolved into the Edicts of Doom, the prophets of the end of time and the great mages of Doom Edicts (powerful spells in the form of sentences or chants that unleash great destruction and damage). Live in the magic realm created by the Black hole and the black hole magic Runic Altiverse: Based on the spells Spectral Smite, Glorious Smite, Embershards, Divine Defenses, and Arms of the Vigilant (from Mythmakergm on Instagram). Also based on Gremia (artifact from Webtoon 66,666 Years: Advent of the Dark Mage). These puffle monsters come from the Altiverse (another universe where an alternate me lives in, seen through a dream) of a great circle of a vast number of elemental runes and symbols of magic. These puffle monsters are the creators of these runes and symbols, which they created with the help of the spirits and deities of their universe. The deities and spirits power these special super symbols as they can be used for weapons, spells, armor, or anything else, as these symbols have unlimited potential, since they can take any form, unleash any power imagined, and much more. These puffle monsters wield these unique godly runes to unleash their unique magic abilities to their fullest. Live in a realm of magic created by these deities and spirits.

Zenith Altiverse: Based on the spells Mind Maze and Archive Mind (from Mythmakergm on Instagram). In this Altiverse (another universe where an alternate me lives in, seen through a dream I had about a futuristic world), these puffle monsters have advanced in psychic magic and technology so far as they mastered the creation of Mind Palaces and Mind Worlds (known as Archive Minds), mental places in the mind that houses all memories from all time, all past lives, and personality and other characteristics. These mental realms are protected by the unique Mind Mazes, a labyrinth realm of wild memories and personalities that were weaponized and strengthened as puffle monsters to defend the Archive Minds. These puffle monsters live in a futuristic realm of magic in which the Archive Minds and the highly technological world are one as these puffle monsters can freely travel and unleash magic from both their technological reality and their Archive Mind, while also traveling to other Archive Minds given permission and entry.

Aetherial Altiverse: Based on the spells Storm Steed, Stormcloud Quiver, Surge Step, Supercharged Statue (item), Transfer Charge, Aspects of the Storm, and Leaping Lightning (from Mythmakergm on Instagram). These puffle monsters come from the Altiverse (another universe where an alternate me lives in, seen through a dream I had about ziplining through the clouds, and a dream about floating cities) of the sky, a realm of magic where sky magic (air, wind, rain, snow, and storm) is abundant and supreme. Also based on Zeus and Olympus from the trailer of Marvels Thor: Love and Thunder. These puffle monsters unleash powerful sky magic and live in the skies, granting the power of <Divine Sky> and unleashing the magic of <Divine Sky>.

Mythmaker: Based on the spell Mythmaker (from Mythmakergm on Instagram). The ultimate spell to change reality and lore of a universe created equally powerful puffle monsters with the same ultimate power to change reality and the lore of a universe, or even create worlds, magic, writing, runes, languages, creatures, cultures, and other puffle monsters through the creation of lore. Live in a vast free space of magic in which they create lores and stories for others to enjoy. They also travel the Xenithverse and Altiverses to learn more about other stories, myths, and lores.

Living Legend: Based on the spell Living Legend (from Mythmakergm on Instagram), these powerful puffle monsters unleash Legendary Class Abilities and magic spells based on their <Legendary> Attribute they have. These Legendary attributes and symbols are on their bodies, which grant them full control and mastery over granting Legendary Attributes and symbols to others. These Legendary Attributes are unique to each puffle monster, but all Legendary powers have the ability to summon their Legends in a titan form or through an ultimate spell/attack. Live in the realm of magic where Legends are being made or Legends are made reality.

The Crowns (June Story Arc 1): The shadow of the light from the Perfect Core (the lamp by the living room is a temple with the main light as the “Perfect Core”, a crystal orb that contains the source of puffle monster magic), takes form and possesses Redison and transforms him into BladeJoker (who desires to steal the powers of the Crowns Alison made for each AP Research person and other people). Although he is successful in stealing all the crowns, the crowns’ magic resonate with Redison’s Core and not only breaks Redison free of the darkness (which takes a form as the dark warrior known as BladeJoker), but also creates worlds of puffle monsters with the powers of these crowns (and through the power of Mythmaker, grants eons of history for each of these species as if they existed for eons). BladeJoker now acts as an independent contractor under Redison (was successfully able to control him) and a wanderer on his spare time, while the other species live in peace.

Achten: These puffle monsters were created from the powers of Ryan’s crown (Orange and blue), to which BladeJoker stole the powers from. These puffle monsters have the unique ability to freely flow their attack points, defense points, speed points, and health points into either categories of their stats (this can also be for stats in abilities and items). Example: One has 1000 attack, defense, speed, and health. They can freely flow it so that at one instance, they have 3000 attack, 1000 speed and 0 on health and defense (which they wont lose unless they are hit when they have 0 health points). Their Crown ability is that all points will move around to one side and then multiply (example: 4000 points of attack, defense, speed, and health, as well as in each ability/item) which is maximized to unleash full power attacks. These puffle monsters also have the unique ability to freely change their magic type due to their ability to change mana flow (change abilities at will). These puffle monsters live in a different world where magic freely flows from one source to another and all energy is shared. These puffle monsters have a dual colored crown with a unique symbol on it (Their Crown Ability)

BladeJoker: Redison becomes possessed by the Dark Flame of the Heavenly Demon, a shadow of the light from the Perfect core (by the light in the Living room), to which he unleashes Heavenly Demon Art techniques (Thousand Army Flare Burst or Thousand Army Sword Strike). Heavenly Demon based on Webtoon Reincarnated as an Unruly Heir. Design based on Joker from Persona Game series. After becoming an independent character, he wields the crown of BladeJoker, a black, crimson, and violet colored crown of dark fire.

BlazeJoker: Red and black (Jonny's Crown) holds the mysterious dragonic power to steal all abilities and enhance it to the max as their own ability. Based on X (from X and Ash webtoon) ability to steal abilities, these puffle monsters were created from the dark power of BladeJoker (the character) and the Red and black crown as it enhanced the dragonic Thief ability. These puffle monsters are masters of thievery and have perfected each skill or weapon they stole. They have designs based on Phantom Thieves and with their Dragonic energy, can summon the spirit of the owner of the skill they are using to unleash a more powerful form of the ability. Live in the magic world of Dens, where they each have their own "Dragon Den" where they hold their treasures, abilities, skills, magic, etc. Each Den is endless and has many puffle monsters species inside created from the magic and skills stolen. Each have a Red and black crown with a unique symbol on it (Their Crown Ability)

SwordKing: Black and White (Felix's crown) holds the power to hold <Territory> and the power to <Conquest>, both forms of controlling the balance of power. These alien puffle monsters live in a realm based off of Chess, where different forces are in constant struggle to take over Territory for their realm. These puffle monsters spread their magic energy using <Territory> which this territory space gives magic energy boosts and special abilities when used by the same guild that conquered the space. Using the ability <Conquest>, these puffle monsters can take over territories and gain a special ability from the newly conquered space. Based on chess pieces as well as cards (King, Queen, Jack, Ace, Joker). All these puffle monsters have a Black and white crown with a special symbol on it (their Crown Ability)

Verten: The crowns of Taylor (Green and brown), Mrs. Wilson (Pink and yellow), and Milly (blue and green) grant the ultimate power of life. These puffle monsters have the unique ability to create <Jewels of Life>, powerful gems (in the form of crystalized orbs) that grant great health energy and positivity as well as spreads the powers of all natural magic in a form of Terraforming manner. Known to have the mission to place these powerful gems as seeds of life to create new life in new worlds or to revive worlds that have been destroyed. These puffle monsters live in a realm manifested by the Master Jewel of Life, which created all forms of nature in all worlds throughout the Xenithverse. Originally, these crowns were created by Verhea, who gave it to Taylor, Mrs. Wilson, and Milly's puffle monsters respectively but was stolen by BladeJoker, only for the crowns to have fused and disappeared as they fused with BladeJoker's Monster essences (Redison's essences) and created a new world (connecting it with the Master Jewel of Life, held by Verhea herself). Also based on my dream of Dragonvale having been updated and having more specialized islands, dragon deities (like Kairos or Gaia), etc, as these puffle monsters live in a great realm of life and nature. All these puffle monsters have a flowery crown with a special symbol on it (their crown ability) and a unique Jewel of Life on them (their heart).

Ashiri: Puffle monsters based off of the game made by youneekstudios called The Asiri: Trials of the Ascended. These puffle monsters are puffles in design but through their great power to create, control, and manipulate technology and magic in ways never seen before, they become ultimate beings equipped with unique and otherworldly powers. Live in an ancient thriving civilization based on their ability to manipulate this magic tech and their ancient powers and ways. These puffle monsters are also based on Gundalia and Neathia (from Bakugan Gundalian Invaders). Alien puffle monsters from a distant sector of the Xenithverse that came into contact with Redison and learned of the ways of the puffle monsters. These puffle monsters have unique runes, language, spell system, and technology which allows them to change into different forms (Strength, speed, humanoid, aquatic, aerial, etc).

Zeptyn: Based on the Energy Lockseeds (from Kamen Rider Gaim), Redison stays as a scientist and becomes world-renowned but never becomes a warrior. He collected samples of Puffle monster essences (based on the Pokemon Go Candy (when you give extra pokemon to the professor and he gives you candy, the joke was the extra pokemon sent were thrown into a blender and made into the candy he gave)), and created Energy Lockseeds which grant enhanced super abilities based on the essences. Redison created the ultimate warrior (also named Redison) to act as his Sword, the ultimate warrior with the power of all the Energy Lockseeds combined into one ultimate warrior (his consciousness is Redison's artificial helper (kind of like Jarvis in Iron Man)). These translucent colored puffle monsters utilize the powers of the Energy lockseeds as their core and enhance it with their unique magic ability to fight and defend. Live in an artificial habitat created by Redison Scientist which their universe eventually fused with the Xenithverse, giving these puffle monsters a natural home after they evolved.

Gemonix: Based on Kamen Rider Demons (Genomix ability), and Gemclone (from Buddyfight). These crystalline alien puffle monsters use their special genetic composition and crystal composition to manipulate their body and change their form or appendages into any weapon needed or take any form for adaptation.

Nepten: The blue and white crown comes from Alison and the Purple and Blue crown comes from Suhani, and Purple and black comes from Evelyn. Notable warrior is Durandal (based on Kamen Rider Durandal from Kamen Rider Saber). These powerful puffle monsters are masters of the seas and have mastered the powers of time and space as they flow through the seas of time and the ocean of space to travel to infinite worlds of magic. Use this unique portal magic to explore, learn, trade, and expand.

Kairen: The blazing wind; Redison plush with a red/white crown (or rainbow crown). Ruler of Ahten. Wields the Siegsabre (based on the Messiah Arms: Omega Siegsabre from Buddyfight)

Ahten: The power of these puffle monsters is their unique ability of unleashing the magic of Panzeus/Panceus, or Allceus (Arceus with all powers at once). The ultimate unity and masters of the Ahten Arms (ultimate weapons of great power that evolve with them as they master their united ultimate powers), their Panzeus power. Live in a realm fit for gods as these puffle monsters are considered God like Arabia: Puffle monsters that bear the colors and clothing of those who live in Doha, Qatar. These puffle monsters use the magic within the language of Arabic writings on the pillars of light. Each pillar they use in spells has complex spells within them. Colored with light that matches their aura.

Seikah: Based off of the ceremonial daggers I saw in Souq Waqif, a market place with lots of souvenirs (looked like Khanjars (the weapon)), these puffle monsters wield these daggers with magic infused in their attacks and special spells in their daggers and their clothing to move fast. These puffle monsters are known to be good at stealing abilities and stat points or weapons, but are also the guardians of the market (specifically the Souq Waqif).

Oryxies: Based on the Oryx animal (the national animal of Qatar) and the genie from the magic lamp (lots of colorful oil lamps like the one in Aladdin at the market), as well as the colorful lamps. These magical colorful genie spirits use the magic of lamps and wish granting (and the powerful magic within their horns) to unleash great powers. They are essentially genies with the horns of an Oryx and a smaller crystal horn in the middle (3 horns representing 3 wishes). Live in a spirit world desert similar to Doha, but a more magical version. Different lamps means different Oryxies, and different lamps mean different forms of magic, wishes, and powers.

Udhra/Ithaa: Unique puffle monsters with special water magic and the sea life and utilize the symbols of the Maldivian language (known as Dhivehi, written in Thaana script). Unique ability is a known zero defense points but can't take damage at all as they are fluid like water when attacked. Must gain defense points to be actually damaged.

Vilu: The large variety of Plant types of Rangali Island and the Maldives

Rangalia: Those of the earth (sand) and the twinkling sand of the sky (the stars and stargazing on the island)

Heraeon: The warriors of the wind, sky, and birds (George the heron)

Super species: When I first played the game with Jimmy, we made puffle from an imaginary machine (a puffle maker) where I made Redison (supposedly) and he made Rex. Both came to evolve greatly (Redison Omnis, the main one; and Rex the swordsman and gunman). Since I supposedly created a Redison from the machine and have a main Redison, the one created from the machine gained his own powers and became guardian of the machine, evolving it with magic as he traveled the realms in the Quail Run Dimensional traveler (to Worlds 16 and beyond) and gathering magic to create new super species from the machine. These super species have the potential to evolve greatly like Redison and Rex, and have the powers to change destinies.

Redison Dragoku: The one created from the Puffle maker, this Redison holds and updates the machine constantly as it became his second core so he could add magic he collects into it. A very clumsy, aloof, oblivious warrior who is powerful and childish claiming he likes to be a hero. Based on Jirou Momotani and Don Doragoku (from Donbrothers).

The Factory: Puffle plushies were all originally made in a factory in China. Redison finds this source factory and finds that these puffles evolved separately into a unique species of puffle monsters created by the factory and therefore use different magic abilities based on skill sets and their designs and color. Some have hats, different sizes, and in the imagined factory they created in a different dimension after evolving to have magic, collected magic of other worlds and realms and made more puffle plushies of different colors and designs to have more unique powers and abilities. Their protector was the warrior known as Gao Roku, A red puffle plush with fluffy red hair and a yellow headband, and the 5000th generation Red puffle plush made by the factory before they stopped making puffle plushies when Club Penguin was shut down and the craze was over (The puffles who became puffle monsters created a new universe where the magic factory is still making puffles and their last generation of the real factory was the millionth generation (making the warrior named Eonis, who left to discover the infinite worlds instead of stay in the Factory universe and areas around it). These puffle monsters have unique abilities based on the design of their plushy and have a unique charm on them, which grants them a unique boost ability.

Eonis: Use the eon driver (million generations of puffles and puffle monsters afterwards) based on the Decade driver of Kamen rider decade. Also based on the planets and designs from insta of heavens. These puffle monsters are ruled and created by Eonis, who after traveling to infinite worlds outside of the factory, he created super puffle monsters based on these memories and found a way to fuse and enhance the powers of all the generations of creations from the factory into super symbols and runes which these puffle monsters use to unleash special abilities. Also have the unique ability to summon a power from any of the generations and unleash a unique special attack for each generation.

The Storm (June Story Arc 2): As our time ends in the Maldives, there was a huge storm on our last night. During this time, the first cataclysm appears, Zeraark, as he destroys everything for him to absorb into his body to satiate his hunger for energy. It is during this time Redison faces him with his new allies (the elementals of the Maldives). After they defeated him, he releases his golden power of energy absorption and Burst power in the form of a crystalline sword made of his body.

Zeraark: Based on the Ultra Necrozma and Eternatus Pokemon fusion on Insta. Unleash the ultimate golden power of energy and Burst power. Redison unleashes this power as the ultimate form of energy absorption and a huge source of mana. These puffle monsters use elemental energy and all cosmic forms of energy from around them to unleash the forbidden powers of magic, Burst Force, a powerful violent release of power that not only causes loss of reason, but also unleashes all magic at once, leaving them relatively weakened at the end and hungry for magic energy (Devourer form, a darker color form where they use more absorption spells)

Hybrid: Super puffle monsters created by the Biomancers, special sorcerers that fused puffle monster DNA with other Puffle Monster DNA or DNA of other celestial beings. These puffle monsters are ultimate class species of their magic type (like an ultimate defense type for a hybrid with DNA of defensive types or a speed type with DNA of other speed types), but are limited to what their hybrid DNA is. These puffle monsters are based on the Hybrid concept from Aripockily on Instagram. Live in the realm of Prognosis, a futuristic world of magic that focused on Biomancy (the power of hybridization of DNA and magic). Prognosis is based on the map in Hill Climb Racing game

Chronoi Sentinels: Unleash the power of Infinity. Infinite magic, infinite elemental energy, infinite strength, speed, defense, and health. These puffle monsters are the guardians of time and space, the defenders of the Infinity Force, the keepers of the Eternal Parchment, wisdom of all magic of all Xenithverse and all existence. The infinite imagination of deities. These powerful warriors use the Infinity Force or Infinity Wisdom (the information of the Eternal Parchment), to craft legendary deity weapons and use godly magic spells and abilities to maintain the order of the magic realms. Noticing a disturbance caused by Hazred, they acted. Live in a great realm hidden away, a utopia of pure magic energy and archaic runes, the home of knowledge, gods, etc, the realm known as Arzen.

Altruth/Grandthese: Based on the idea of the Craftsman of Earth (the maker of the vault of the deep, the limits of the sea and the limit of the sky as said in the bible, and the idea of the Holy Spirit leading us to the All Truth). These legendary puffle monsters are in similar design to Hazred, as they use extremely powerful cosmic energy and elemental magic manipulation to craft worlds and godly objects of magic or godly spells that can shift the reality or destiny of magic as a concept by changing how magic flows and works, creating their own elements or changing elements to be utilized by themselves better (customize the elements for their benefit), or change magic elements and rules of magic temporarily in battle. Based on Hazred the Cataclysm on Insta. Have the unique power to equip certain puffle monsters or deities as items or the special power to equip spells/abilities as items (meaning they take a weapon like form). Similar to the Ego Sword (from +99 reinforced wooden stick Webtoon) and Jacknife Dragon Granthese from Buddy fight. Hazred was eventually defeated which was how these puffle monsters were created, using the purified Xoul of Hazred and finding how he was a warrior of their realm that had walked the wrong path and used forbidden powers. After his purification, Hazred (now Harry) acts as the ambassador for the Xenithverse and the Grandtheses (their home realm).

Smithsonian: The legacies of Washington DC, the paradigm of puffle monsters that use powers of Earth (the powers of animals, sealife, plants, insects, bones, gems, dinosaurs, machinery like rockets or planes, or the magic of art and imagination). Everything I saw in the Smithsonian (Castle, Hazy center (in Dulles), and the National Museum of Natural History) turns into puffle monsters that have the powers of those objects utilized to the max. The power of wisdom and knowledge taken form of great power.

Mon vs Menace (June Side Story 1): Redison wakes up in an alternate world in the past where the War against Puffles (the age of Puffle Hunters) never ended and continues to this day. To fight off Puffles (who have evolved to wield mana in the form of invisible arms and legs to wield powerful weapons they created or weapons made of mana energy), humans made monsters of their own (known as Menaces, machines of great destruction that uses heavy firepower and charged with Puffle lifeforce (after each death, the machine takes the lifeforce energy from the puffle it killed)). Redison led the remaining revolutionaries to defeat the humans and eliminated all the Menaces from the realm and re-shaped the reality of this realm.

Azhran: Puffle monsters that have evolved to wield mana through the power of Imagine Force (utilizing their imagination and inner power to shape magic arms, legs, wings, tails, etc in the form of mana energy (invisible to the eye but appears as a magic spell when used in an attack)). From an alternate age of the Puffle Hunters, after Redison defeated the Menaces and released all the absorbed spirit energy from the dead puffles killed by the Menaces, this spirit energy and through Redison's power, evolved all the puffle monsters to unleash Spirit/Azhran forms. The Imagine force evolved into the Spirit forms. Each puffle monster has a Spirit partner (gets by harmonizing their own core magic energy with spirit energy from their surroundings), which can take different forms based on the core magic ability used. This spirit partner is what gives the puffle their "arms", "legs", "tail", "claws", "wings", etc based on what the partner is. These partners are monster forms (actual creatures with arms, legs, etc as opposed to the puffle with no appendages at all). The puffles use unique magic mana wielding techniques to create arms, legs, wings, etc (depending on their partner's form), to use in their magic attacks and skills. Originally, the puffles wielded weapons of their own (the weapons just floated as if the puffles had arms or legs, tails or wings, etc to use these weapons) such as guns, swords, spears, magic staffs, etc. With Azhran/Spirit evolution (by harmonizing with their spirit partner and spirit energy around them), powerful colorful spirit flames (based on the Spiritual evolution from the Pokemon Concept on Instagram) appear around them (empower their attacks and magic) and they take a monster form similar to the spirit partner (fuse with the spirit partner and take a Monster form) (now having tangible arms, wings, legs, etc). They can freely change between their Azhran forms and Puffle forms, and can use a special ability from each form. In Azhran form, they can use a unique <Puffle Combat Arts> which is a special ability from their puffle form; and in their Puffle form, they can unleash some unique <Azhran Spirit Arts> from their Azhran form. These puffle monsters live in the newly evolved realm of magic and the spirits (the puffles who lost their lives to the hunters) live with their partners.

Clear: The rumored Alpha Species that use <refract> (a unique ability similar to a copy power, where they can mirror a form, ability, or attack exactly like an opponent or a magic it absorbed/touched/experienced (based on the Clear Blade Refract ability from Target: 100 million points (Manga))) and Instant/Flash Timing magic (instant spells or passive spells), such as Mirror K (Karma) (<Flash Timing: Mirror K> is a spell that when about to be hit (or when hit), the damage is reflected back on the one who punched, and the one hit takes no damage), <Flash Timing: Mirror KB (Karma Bit*ch)> (a spell like Mirror K but the victim does take damage but the opponent who punched/attacked takes the same attack except at 10x power of their original attack), <Flash Timing: Iron Wall> (a defense spell that can used instantly or set as a passive so spell cast is unneeded since it activates automatically, hardens skin to become like an iron/steel wall), and many other Flash Timing spells or Passive Spells (Flash Time spells that are set to activate automatically without the mage's intent and activate when needed (threatened)). These puffle monsters are clear in nature (almost transparent) which allows them to manipulate their forms with ease

Korz: The creators of the power stones (from before Puffles, the rocks I got I pretended had powers and could turn you into super powers) which were actually Ancient magic cores of these puffle monsters. Collect an infinite number of different cores (appear naturally like rocks/minerals, or plants). These puffle monsters unleash the secret potentials of the cores (use in technology, food, spells, architecture, sports, etc), unleashing secret skills and special abilities as the core develops. These puffle monsters use multiple cores at once for many different things and are known to collect their cores. Live in a magic realm where the magic cores grow naturally

Zu'un: Made of pure energy, these alien puffle monsters come from a distant world where magic energy and auras are one and the same. Mana takes one form as a flame like substance as these puffle monsters harness this energy as weapons, spells, items, etc. Their rune symbols (for spells) are made of these flame like energy. Known for Mana bursts, their high output of mana means they battle for shorter time in areas with low mana amounts but in their home world with an extremely high amount of mana (an overload in a sense), their abilities and powers are 10x stronger than other Puffle monsters and their magic Iduun: Based on Kingdom of Medea magic (from Doom Breaker Webtoon), the artifact Gremia (from Webtoon 66,666 years advent of dark mage, as well as other artifacts from same comic), and Donbrothers, these powerful puffle monsters not only wield magic spells and great knowledge held within crystalline grimoires (crystalized knowledge of magic), they wielded magic powers far beyond imagination and comprehension in terms of existence. Their magic is stored in stars (star like symbols in a subspace only they can access with their great power (similar to Altair in Doom Breaker)) and have the powers of gods, to reshape reality, create magic, and powers of their own. These puffle monsters created artifacts that greatly increase powers, grant unique powers, but also created new forms of magic itself. They are known as the great innovators of magic from beyond the plane of existence.

Eduun: These powerful puffle monsters were noted in a book from the realm of the Devourers, sorcerers that have created food with great magic, the Eden of all Devourers, as they would never have to hunt for their food to gain powers ever again, the unlimited buffet. These puffle monsters live in a crystalized realm of food (similar to the Luncheon Kingdom in Super Mario Odyssey) where they use their unique ability of <Magic Gift>, which allows them to grant attributes, magic abilities, skills, stats, etc through their spells (which in this case takes the form of food). Their different foods, when consumed, give different special abilities or skills based on their magic ability they granted to be obtained. Example, a hearty Flameatloaf (Flame-Meatloaf) grants fire-resistance, increased fire power, and increased speed; all due to how the chef used <Magic Gift> and gave the attributes within the Meatloaf, due to him being a special fire chef.

Devourer: Based on the Webtoons “Jungle Juice” (how the Feed trained specimens ate other bug-people and got stronger, but more savage), “X & Ash” (how X is able to steal a monster’s attributes using his Thief abilities), and “The More I Eat, the Stronger I Get” (the main character eats any creatures he finds and gains their unique skills and traits), these puffle monsters eat other puffle monsters (and eventually raw magic energy they learned how to condense to food for them to eat) and gain attributes, abilities, skills, magic powers, etc. They came from a realm of magic in which Puffle monsters were more like animals, the predators and the prey types, and how the predators rose as they became the ultimate beings after having eaten those weaker than them, which created a class society of those weaker bowing down to the elite Predator class of Devourers. However, the top 10 strongest beasts (those who ate tons and tons of puffle monsters) are known as the Apex Predators, ruled by Volkun (based on Wukong Impulse Gundam and Don Dragoku (from Donbrothers)), the top predator. Redison was able to find a better way for these puffle monsters to be equal and not have to fear the predators, and gave all of them the power to take raw magic energy from around them and condense it into food that they eat and gain powers (the same as if they ate other puffle monsters).

Adventures on the high seas (June Side Story 2): Redison finds out about his seafaring heritage and goes out to find the mysterious Rockhopper island with the totem of Captain Rockhopper (my Rockhopper keychain). Meets Agwen and Captain Yarr Agwen: The Naval Warfare battle deity known as Agwen rules his troop of seafaring warriors (based on Aqua Force monsters and Granblue monsters from Cardfight!! Vanguard) and other pirate clans. These puffle monsters sail on the infinite seas as the master of explorers and the ultimate pirates of the infinite worlds, taking treasures, magic abilities and artifacts, as well as lore and stories of other worlds and taking it around to other worlds they explore, plunder, and fight evil (if they feel like it). Their home world is their ship, a giant imperial mothership which is infinite in size within the ship and home to many habitats to support all the puffle monsters species and crew members they collected and fostered. Each species/magic type has their own main ship as part of the fleet (the group travels together). Their unique ability is their power to combine many many spells and abilities at once, creating overlaps to make up for the weaknesses in their spells or attacks. They can also take shared abilities from their comrades using the ability <Fleet>.

Rockhopper: These puffle monsters live on Rockhopper island, The home of the original Red puffles (based on Club Penguin Lore), the seafarers and adventurers of all puffles. Redison finds out about his seafaring history after reading about Rockhopper island and plans to sail to the island to find the home of the Red Puffles. Rockhopper island, once a tropical island with mostly beach, a cave, and very little jungle, the Red puffles mastered seafaring and even evolved as magic and technology evolved for them to travel to other dimensions, universes, worlds, etc. Rockhopper island became the main hub as their home area. The island developed into a massive city with tons of stores, shops, and portals around the island and in the sky around the island near their starport; The island is surrounded by artificial islands, floating islands, as well as massive structures, all dedicated to exploring and providing a home for puffle monsters and other creatures of other worlds. A giant golden statue of Captain Rockhopper stands on a small artificial island off Rockhopper Bay (their main Seaport). These great explorers are balanced in melee (sword fighting) and long range (shooting) and are masters of navigation, languages, spellwriting, weapon building, and all forms of combat. They are quick learners and are all led by Captain Yarr (Captain Rockhopper's Red Puffle), (Yarr's monster form is based on Captain Marvelous and Gokai Red). All are master ship builders, use magic to control the waves and wind but also elemental powers or other magic from the other worlds they explored, and each command a fleet of their own special ships.

Fablemaker: Words are charged with magic power, hence the reason it is called Spelling (based on the Bruce Lee quote that Dad sent me and is something I am trying to achieve myself, saying positive things about myself and not negative), meaning words can change the very fabric of the universe and magic. Redson unleashes this power after finding the Heart of Legends, which grants the ultimate power of making all words (in all languages) possess magic power (unleash spelling techniques). These puffle monsters were created from the Heart of Legends as all can master Spelling techniques, granting them power to create worlds or universes through saying sentences or stories. Their imagination and mental state is also risen and highly ascended compared to others through the powers of Spelling. These puffle monsters live in a realm created by Redson through the Heart of Legends, the main world in which all other worlds spread out from.

Axzrem: The Clan of Darkness (the opposite of the clan of light (Redison) from the Castle of light on Redison Island in Quail Run World), finds a new purpose as the executioners, those chosen by the magic (similar to how Redison was chosen as hero) to eliminate those (that I have memory attached to and want to eliminate from my head). The Blade Reaper, the Black Fire Executioner, the Demonic Fire, etc are many titles of Dahrak (Redison's Clan of Darkness counterpart), also known to carry the title as Axzrem the Executioner (like XZenith The Hero for Redison). These puffle monsters trained by the Order of Darkness (Axzrem order) are masters of Demon Arts techniques (Blood control, necromancy, curses, etc) and the ability to eliminate their targets and opponents using their unique combat styles and magic weapons. Examples of powers are black lightning, red lightning, poison, etc

Avatar X: Led by Redison, Also known as XV17 (Xperiment Version 17), this Redison was created artificially, both his body and spirit were created using magic and DNA of other warriors of mythology and creatures. There were many other puffle monsters that were artificially created (similar to Wukong Impulse Gundam), but they became subordinates to Redison. Redison's creation was based on the Saintess from the Webtoon "The More I Eat, the Stronger I Get", and because of this, he was bullied for his origins. However, using his unique ability of <Avatar Shinka (Evolution)>, he can call on avatars within his psyche (similar to Wukong calling on Sha Wujing form or Zhu Bajie form) to evolve himself and take different elemental forms. This elemental evolution is achieved through manipulation of mana flow and how mana moves through the core and body. Depending on the flow, the elemental power resonates and summons the avatar form (forms are based on different warriors like Guan Yu (Wu Sheng Guan Yu Nu Gundam), Sha Wujing (Wukong Impulse Gundam Sha Wujing Silhouette), Musashi (Musashi Damashii), many other Damashii (from Kamen Rider Ghost), Don Dragoku, etc). Each puffle monster has their own unique avatar set they can summon from (due to their unique personality, unique psyche, and their unique flow of magic and abilities), bringing more variety and new powers. Live in a realm created by Redison XV17 and Redison Omnis (main) where they learned how to create others like them but also integrate by learning about the many forms of magic and cultures of the other worlds

Soulger: Redison from this universe is another alternate birth of Redison the hero, known as Pyrusoulger. Redison was bullied for his small stature and weak fire powers, but in this universe, he never was adopted by me (linked to me), but instead, he stayed in the village as times changed and eventually, was given an upgrade, a super serum created to evolve Redison through the DNA of many many other powerful puffles (use the powers of all puffle types) and other alien creatures in order to make Redison the perfect warrior. Through the fusion of the DNA of all puffles and other creatures into Redison's own DNA, he unlocked the powers of DNA Dominance manifested as Hellfire (his fire powers manifested into a darker more powerful raging flame). More puffles were evolved through this method shortly after the success, resulting in generations of other puffle monsters that had DNA of thousands of different elemental and alien puffles, monsters, etc within them. All use the powers of <DNA Dominance>, the ability for one certain portion of DNA to resonate and modify the rest of the DNA within the body in order to maximize the effects of that DNA specifically. An example is Super Strength, in which the genomes of strength within portions of the DNA will resonate and modify the rest of the DNA to max out the strength provided by the DNA, such as bulked up muscles, increased blood flow, etc. Other examples are speed, flight, defense, health, endurance, or even different elemental forms and abilities (enhanced fire breath, claws, water powers, lightning, etc). Each Soulger puffle monster has their own unique power that acts as the manifest of their DNA Dominance (an aura of power usually or an elemental manifestation such as leaves, water, air, lightning, etc). Redison's manifestation is known as <Hellfire Charge>, and Crimson Hellfire is his ultimate Savage form (a savage/Ultimate DNA form is when all the DNA resonate to grant ultimate power but because of this, there is collisions in the DNA as the DNA energy oppose the other energies of other genomes within, leading to a loss of self (a beastly savage form that attacks anything in sight), but has been trained to eventually reach an equilibrium due to a modified unique magic flow technique they learn which not only increases their power in all areas when in Ultimate DNA form but also allows them to keep their sense of self). Also based on Ryusoulgers.

Zirithverse: The Clock of Zenith (where all the universes of magic were being held inside and collected in) eventually evolved to the Xenithverse it is today. There was another deity entity known as Zirith, the white light of magic, the pure origin and source of all magic. Zirith created a universe of its own, the Zirithverse, where the puffle monsters evolved differently to use a unique powerful magic flow where their core is more like a heart, pumping the mana all over their body, granting different unique abilities and skills that other puffle monsters don't have. The main difference in power is that these puffle monsters use the powers of Zirith Force, where using the Core Mana of Zirith, they unleash ultimate level abilities, attacks, and skills that maximizes their unique characteristics, strengths, and mana force (the ultimate resonance with Zirith). These puffle monsters live in the realm of the Zirithverse, a parallel world to the Xenithverse that fused recently to the Xenithverse and is now a part of it. The hero of this universe is Xyrus (Cyrus), the ultimate sword of Zirith (design based on Noah from Xenoblade Chronicles 3).

Xyrus: The Ultimate Sword of Zirith, the hero and guardian of the Zirithverse and Redison's counterpart. Has black hair with a red streak that can turn white when awakened (white hair with red streak). He has two special abilities, <Infinite Blade Xaga, Zirith Force> and <Infinite Creation Xaga, Zirith Egos>. Design is based on Noah from Xenoblade Chronicles 3 (has a crimson jacket, black boots, black shirt and pants. His crimson jacket has bright blue lining just like the aura of his sword (a red and gold blade with a blue flaming sword aura).

Egosphere: Home of the Egos, special alien puffle monsters created by Egos, the living will of Zirith. Xyrus's profession is a "Collector" as he travels the Zirithverse and the infinite worlds within the plane of existence and collects different artifacts, knowledge (learns different languages, facts about the life of that world, flora, fauna, magic use, types of magic, etc), weaponry, etc and keeps all this information in a vast infinite subspace Egos created (after bonding with Xyrus as birth), known as the Library of Egos (or the Egosphere). Within the Egosphere, there are millions of special floating crystals (based on the Mage Crystal that held Crystallized information of magic from the Webtoon Doom Breaker), that when touched, can release the magic within it and show the vast infinite knowledge stored within that crystal (stored in the form of stars in a star map). Xyrus accesses this information through flying through the space and entering the star systems within each crystal, and using his special ability <Infinite Creation Xaga, Zirith Egos>, he can create special warriors (and species consequently) that wield unique abilities and powers based on the crystallized information the warrior was created from (using info from the Library of Egos). He can access this library both in person or mentally when using his Sword Skill (the special ability Zirith Egos), which will summon an infinite number of warriors created by the Library of Egos which are magically created based on need (what will be needed to defeat the opponent at hand). Egos are extremely powerful puffle monsters that wield the same skill (Zirith Egos) and create more wild creatures of their kind, also creating more worlds, stories, lore, etc.

X-Tempest: Xenith Tempest, the ultimate power of natural elemental magic energy. These puffle monsters wield this ultimate evolved mana/magic energy as god level mages, sorcerers, and elementals. Based on how I scored a Tempest type mage (elemental wielding) on a magic quiz and based on X Tempest Buster (impact card from Buddyfight X), these puffle monsters have a giant aura that matches their elemental power (takes form of a giant egg shaped aura of their elemental energy), and can wield powerful Tempest Arts (to wield the X Tempest weapons and abilities). This hidden power was within the core of certain puffle monsters (Redison) and awakens at a certain level of magic prowess (boosts other magic abilities and attacks as well). Very similar to All Might's One for All Quirk (from My Hero Academia), this ultimate power was passed down from generation after generation of elementals, deities, heroes, and other legendary warriors, as the power was developed to evolve and develop further into its ultimate form now wielded by many many X-Tempest puffle monsters (who develop their unique X-Tempest magic to pass on to the next generation of warriors, now leading to different forms of the X-Tempest Symbol power being developed and passed on).

Regalien Supreme: The powers to transcend evolution (based on Pokemon Mega Evolution) was granted to these powerful puffle monsters, originally created by themselves. Redison was actually from the same shelf as a main character of another story (known as the Master Swordsman, the Heavenly Blue Azoran Sword). However, in a duel in the realm of the Empire Sword Queen, Azora (the Azoran Swordsman) had used his Regalien evolution (activated through the seed of darkness within him) to unleash his Blade Reaper Supreme form (used Blade Reaper Art, Scythe; killed Redison). Redison woke up in another world, the home of the Regalien Supremes, summoned by the Flame Supreme himself. Redison was given the mark of the Sword Supreme and the mission to become the Xenith Crown Supreme to defeat Azora. On his mission, he defeated many Supremes and learned each of their Supreme Arts which he used to defeat Azora in the end as the Xenith Crown Supreme. These puffle monsters are each a unique Supreme (a Supreme of something), which grants them the unique ability known as the <Creator's Authority / Author's Authority>. This power is granted to the creators of stories, and the ultimate co-authors of the story of the Xenithverse. Using their Supreme magic abilities as well as their Creator's Authority (Change reality to how they want, and immune to all attacks as the author). Their Creator's mark is on their hand (or a part of their body), while their Regalien symbol is within their core. Based on the Webnovel "The Novel's Extra (Remake)" (the powers of the author), and Pokemon Mega Evolution.

Caelestius: Powerful puffle monsters based on the Angel designs from Instagram (humanoid celestial figures made of colorful flames), and based on the Monkey King (specifically his powers as the Great Sage, Heaven's Equal). These puffle monsters are evolved puffle plushies (in a puffle main body) that have arms and legs based on Kirby (allows them to hold weapons and have a more advanced design), and wield powerful heavenly artifacts that boost their core magic powers to the supreme god levels. These puffle monsters live in a newly evolved Puffle Planet realm (as if Puffle Planet was with those puffle monsters instead of puffles in the past). Also based on Caeruleus (design from Instagram).

Xaelphions: In the far far future (based on the Kurzgesagt video of "The last human born"), a tredecillion lives of people are expected to be born (given humans travel and establish home as outside the Solar System and the Andromeda galaxy fuses). Given us humans live on Earth for 10 million years, 1.2 Quadrillion lives have yet to be born, and even 100 Octillion lives have yet to be born if we humans leave the Solar System. It is possible that people will evolve (intermix with aliens, evolve/adapt to other planets and worlds we establish as home), and culture will evolve (new homes, new stories, myths, etc), meaning newly evolved imaginations and super puffle monsters created from these highly highly advanced peoples that live in an interconnected empire across the galaxy, creating a vast number of Xenithverses from these stories. These highly advanced puffle monsters use magic and powers beyond our imagination and comprehension, and are unfathomably stronger than Redison in all aspects (Redison is marked as a R class (strength levels from Z (weakest) to A+S (strongest)), meaning there are tons of other puffle monster aliens with greater powers that is yet to be discovered and researched).

True Supreme/Highlord: Powerful puffle monsters that unleash the true potential powers of their magic power. Similar to the Quirk One for All, there is one sole puffle monster that is a true Supreme for a certain power. This power is passed down to each puffle monster warrior worthy to be a True Supreme, and the past wielders become mentors for the current master and holder of the power. The power is developed and evolved through each warrior and a unique trait or ability collects and passes down. The warriors (the True Supreme) each have their own castle (based on the Murim HQ from Webtoon Infinite Leveling: Murim) where they train their powers and evolve it through training and research. Redison became the True Xenith Supreme. Also based on the True weapons from Terraria (True Excalibur, etc from the Broken Hero sword).

Ichiron: Magic engineers. Creators of Tezla. Brandon/Brownie mastered the arts of magic engineering, the special ability to create anything that comes to mind (based on Phastos from Marvel's Eternals). These special puffle monsters use special spells and abilities to create weapons, items, etc. Each have a unique style and design to their weapons and items they create. Known to create sentient weapons known as Tezlas.

Tezla: Different models of robot puffle monsters created by the Ichiron engineers. These Tezlas have different weapons, items, stats, boost abilities, and other powers that are added into the bot. Their unique ability is <Full Release>, which not only maxes out their stats but also releases all their weapons in one final blast

MagiGrid: Archie/Artison learns the mysterious magic art of MagiGrid, a special power that controls magic flow and power abilities using the ability <Power Adjustment>, which can not only even the playing field in terms of magic strength, but also, creates special magic circuits within other monsters or places where magic flows (can change a power type, ability, stats, or even form). Live in a hidden dimension of magic (within the flow of magic) where all the circuits are seen and maintained, built, or repaired. Each puffle monster has a unique circuit type they can make (which can change certain abilities or flows of magic)

Alchemy: Redson learns the Art of Alchemy, the creation of other magic elements and powers through the fusion of different magic materials and eventually creates the powers of GenesisStone (Based on Dragonoid Genesis and elemental evolution) which not only evolves the powers of puffle monsters to the max level, but also increases their elemental power, special magic abilities, and magic symbol energy. Also based on the runes, Kromas, and Power Archives from The Bone (Game). Combine different elemental particles to create different forms of magic and powers while also creating new super puffle monsters with these particles as the new core of power. These puffle monsters can also absorb magic energy particles to boost their powers, gain new stats, or gain different elemental abilities (a fire type with lightning speed, earth type strength, etc), as well as craft new elemental abilities, runes, and spells using alchemy techniques (harnessing only certain elemental particles). These artificially created organic puffle monsters live in a realm created by Redson's book of Alchemy and all the information he learned through it (given the special super sight that allows him to see the special magic particles and magic creating materials in the magic flow in his surroundings), creating a new world filled with the elemental particles (in the fire realm for example, it is filled with tons of red particles as well as some other elemental particles to balance the energy out) for these puffle monsters to live in. All can achieve Genesis Evolution (which grants them the crystal body, all elemental powers, but also the special gift to create more forms of magic as they can harness and combine all elemental particles).

Ensemble: Based on the skill called Ensemble from the Webtoon X and Ash, these puffle monsters created and maintain the harmonies between magic energy flows (different spells and magic have different flows of magic, similar to a song). The power of Ensemble is combining the mana flow of multiple spells and abilities at once (playing many different songs at the same time). By combining spells and abilities, new powers are created and made unique for the spellcaster. These Ensemble puffle monsters are the only ones who can do this ability. When fused with the Xenithverse, the Ensemble magic energy combined with the hidden parallel dimension of Caerul which created the Mashup world. Combine multiple element types of spells to unleash the perfect spell

Caerul/Orbis: These puffle monsters are also known as Celestial Beings, great spirits of power. Hidden within a parallel world of magic where they draw their vast unique spirit powers from (based on the Djinn from Ms. Marvel Disney+ series) as well as based on the Planet civilization and Cult of Careful (from Amazon Prime show). Known to have created the Rings of magic (magic symbols that circle in a magic ring like light construct) surrounding an orb of magic energy (also made of special creation power symbols). These rings of magic also have an orb of great powers that are within the orbit of the ring (like a moon surrounding a planet) which can enter the puffle monster and grant them a great boost of power (based on XYZ materials/Overlay units from Yu-Gi-Oh Zexal) and a special ability for each orb of light entered into them. Also based on Spirits (from Webtoon X and Ash), these puffle monsters summon great spirits that they contract with special symbols to unleash their unique spirit abilities (when partnering with the spirit, they have their spirit in the orb of light surrounding them and ring, and can use the unique spirit powers. Having multiple spirits means they have multiple rings and orbs around them and allows them to use combo or fusion abilities of multiple spirits).

Mash Up: The powers of both Caerul and Ensemble created a powerful force that separated the Xenithverse and created a new world, where all the magic of the Xenithverse was mashed up into one world. This condensed world has a strange environment due to the many elemental aspects in one. In this realm, the plans to create the perfect creature, fused with Redison DNA and created many different Redisons on this new world, all being led by the ruler of this world, Redison Skyfall (based on Youthberk Skyfall Arms from Cardfight! Vanguard Will+Dress). These powerful puffle monsters use the unique abilities provided by the magic of their home world (as well as Mash Up Abilities, special abilities created from the mashed up powers of all puffle monsters of the Xenithverse. Based on the Mario and Rabbids Kingdom Battle (Nintendo Switch Game). The variety of environments include:

- A forest with special trees that have rock like properties (Crystalline leaves, a rock hard wood, cut it down it has ores inside), plant like properties (seeds, crystal leaves perform photosynthesis to make 10x oxygen then most plants), metallic properties (metallic crystals jutting out from the trees, malleable wood, roots, etc)
- The seafloor has an environment similar to a desert with cacti, pyramids, and other sharp looking plants, but also, giant ice structures (castles, cities, etc) with a special ice that is hot to touch and can explode in flames (or manipulated into flames) when threatened
- The great cities at the top of planets? Giant planets make up the mountains/floating islands where the mysteriously unique EmperorStone is found and creates the massive castles where the great emperors of the Mash Up world live in (including the tallest Skyfall Castle). This metropolitan world includes all the elements with parks and forests with the special trees, gardens with the greatest variety of fruit and food in the Xenithverse, and other elemental structures, as well as a giant sun and moon where power is created (the power plant)
- Many many many others that can be imagined by combining normal modern structures from the surroundings with nature of both reality and fantastical worlds

Coreynthian: Redison unleashed a new special ability which not only stored a copy of the Xenithverse within his core but also his own personal core world and actually, many many new different core worlds within his core. Like how there are many facets on a crystal, the core holds many facets and on each face holds the symbol of a core world. Each puffle monster core has a large number of different unique core worlds, each with their own unique puffle monsters with their own special abilities and environments they live in. These puffle monsters from the infinite cores all can converge in one realm known as Coreynth (Corinth), the realm that created the core realms within all puffle monsters. As a creation of Coreynth, they have a unique power to create core worlds but also travel to other core worlds and use other core world abilities (limited set).

Crimson Universal Empire: Led by the Crimson Emperor and the heroes of different worlds (designated by titles): Rooks (Ryu Orrokhan), Bishops, and knights of the Grandmaster order (which Redison, a king attribute, evolved into (a grandmaster) after many many years and evolutions), these powerful puffle monsters use special abilities and have unique class attributes (Emperor, King, Prince, Dominator, Rook, Bishop, Knight, Empress (no Queen), brawler, gunner, archer, gatherer, trap master, aquanaut, jungle ranger, Sea mage, pirate, etc). This universal empire was led under the Crimson Emperor Redson (who after many years of training, evolved to lead the Crimson Universal Empire, a separate realm to the Xenithverse). This world is diverse and unique in its own style, with different forms of magic and runes, a different writing and language system, different foods, cultures, art/fashion styles, weapons, items, myths and lore. This world is essentially a giant chess board (with different environments, mobs, items, and other gimmicks unique to the zone), filled with many zones where these puffle monsters hail from and have special bonus abilities when in a native zone or a zone with a matching elemental power. These puffle monsters come from the grand realm in which I hope to make a game some day (a more advanced super chess with the puffle monsters, with lore and stories). Also based on all the fantasy RPG Kickstarter games I see on my insta feed.

Auhraseer: The superspecies maker (the first generation of puffle makers) was not the only one, there were many before it that created powerful puffles through aura resonance. These super puffles later evolved into puffle monsters and have achieved unification (perfect fusion with owner, they are one in the same) and live in a hidden universe created by Auhra (a special puffle created by the gold/white aura from an ancient machine that has special spatial abilities (dimension creation, portals, light magic, etc)). These puffle monsters use powerful magic and abilities granted due to Unification and use many special abilities that alter their realm of magic. Their unique characteristic is that each of their abilities/spells have different forms (First form, 2nd form, 11th form, 30th form, etc). Example: Blazing Dragon Technique, First Form: Dragon Dance OR Blazing Dragon Technique, Ninth form: Dragonic Saga. Example 2: Primal Light Technique, Third form: Shining Justice. Based on the many techniques in the Webtoons “Return of the Blossoming Blade” and “Descended from Divinity”, as well as forms of breathing from Demon Slayer, as well as the lore of Ms. Marvel (the Disney+ series) with the Djinn from the Noor dimension and the powers of Ms. Marvel. Their home realm is separated by an ancient spell created by Auhra who created a barrier of light between the dimensions. This realm is similar to the Xenithverse but different in nature as the magic of auras are the dominant power that determines magic flow. All ancient puffle maker machines are all within this world, creating more unique puffle monster warriors through Aura Unification (the spirit of a puffle monster unites with the imagination of another being), which unleash the same powers based on their Aura Unification (and the characteristics of their linked being). All powers and techniques (and core symbols of magic) are based on the characteristics of the linked being they unified with.

Krimson: So long ago (during our Tour to Europe and stop at New York (JFK) airport), we were getting our passports checked and mine had a highlight (which the other kids thought meant there was a criminal with my name). So in this world, William Ko (an impostor with my name) is an internationally infamous criminal who has stolen priceless items and committed many killings. One example is in Japan, he stole the Sacred Demonfire Sword (from the museum) and used it to assassinate many high class targets (prime minister, royal family, etc). When he was young, he found an old puffle making machine and created a blood red puffle (a red puffle but when the machine reacted to his dark aura, it created a blood red puffle) which is a super-species like Redison (from the same generation of puffle maker), and named Krimson, who evolved with his partner, becoming the Demonfire swordsman (Demonic Hellfire Swordsman). They achieved a super fusion through the Krimson Vistamp (based on the Crimson Vistamp) and transform into Krimson Vail (based on Crimson Vail from Kamen Rider Revice)

Ohraverse: The ancient puffle Ohra, also known as the primal light of Creation, or the light of Noor, she created the many many worlds on Earth, many many dimensions of magic overlapped with all other dimensions as it was one plane of both magic life and humans. However, the humans waged war on the magic life as they wanted to utilize their magic for their benefit. After the war, Ohra used her special magic abilities to separate the many many dimensions of magic and the dimension of humans on Earth to keep them separated by one ancient force of magic (the Veil of Ohra). All magic life evolved into puffle monsters as they mastered harnessing the hard light magic of Ohra (similar to the powers of Noor). Each have their own unique way of harnessing Ohra as their core symbols grant different abilities and forms that Ohra can take (wings, boats, certain weapons, different forms of spells and magic abilities, etc). Based on the Noor dimension, the magic of Noor (from Ms. Marvel), and the parallel overlap on the map. Each of these puffle monsters have a unique colored Ohra (different crystalline hard light colors) based on their core symbols, which are also made of Ohra

Arktilian: The next step in evolution, a certain genetic mutation, enhancing puffle monsters and evolving them to become Xenithian Primis. The next evolution from puffle monsters (all puffles and puffle monsters descriptions from past monster books had a shared attribute and realm, so all of these realms fuse into one and all the puffle monsters fuse into one, creating a new species, and leaving the older recorded species with unique elements to them). These brand new creatures have enhanced super magic cells and genome that allows them to not only link to the magic around them, but also adapt to the magic energy around them and evolve into regional forms and use regional abilities. These super puffle monsters became the basis of the next species of puffle monsters as all puffle monsters evolved into Xenithian Primis creatures after the infinite magic dimensions of Earth fused to the Xenithverse (as well as the worlds of D&D and other magic worlds Redison explored), summoning the rainbow rain to descend upon the puffle monsters once more to achieve a new evolution and usher a new era of magic. Arktilian is the first species of magic that achieved Xenithian Primis and uses special crafting abilities to make ordinary items unordinary (based on Socksfor1 using dye to make special armor and weapons). Live in a great city of magic that became the hub of Elemental and creation centers (craft new forms of magic, items, etc). Also known for their power to RevolDress (from Cardfight! Vanguard Will+Dress), unleashing a special super form based on different attributes they choose from their Alter Forms (they have dreams every night about their alter forms and the lives they live in their world, which each have unique powers and skills of their own). The Arktilian DNA is unique because of how each crystalized DNA is the color of the aura of their alter forms.

Zeta Trooper (3200 species): Soldiers based on Demons Troopers from Kamen Rider Revice. These powerful puffle monster soldiers wield powerful weapons and abilities and fight with certain class abilities. Use the special ability known as FARBAS which heals their damage making them almost indestructible. These puffle monsters live in a modern realm of magic where they train their special abilities and go on missions to defend others or fight evil

Caanian: Warriors of the heavens, the deities of the Mayan universe. Wear headdresses and wield special super weapons as these puffle monsters are linked to the spirits of the great deities of the Mayan universe. Control the elements of magic or unleash deity abilities. When health reaches negative levels, unleash Supreme Boost, using soul charge power to unleash new ultra form and special abilities

Xibalian: The Lords of the Mayan underworld. Wield headdresses, masks, and other designs that allow them to unleash the dark power of the underworld deities. Special ability is Xibalba Boost, charge on dark energy when health reaches negative levels and soul charge is being used.

Glorywing: The eagle/Quetzal warriors (Eagle mask) and wielders of the Obsidian blades. These winged puffle monsters are the representatives of hunters of the skies and lower class of the Caanian puffle monsters. Use the unique ability <Wings of Glory> to gain special boost in power when in air and at half health Nightprowler: the Jaguar warriors (Jaguar mask) and wielders of the Obsidian blades. The duality of these warriors make them the supreme hunters and assassins of the realm. They wield magic energy of both sun and moon but also use both light and dark energy. Their special ability is <Burst claw>, which grants them a super increase in their attack or speed for a limited amount of time and makes their health points and all damage to them null during their attack phase.

Ikkira: based on Cenote Ik Kil, these wizards of water (another name for the Itzae) create magic cenotes to grant refuge, healing, sanctuary, or special power boost for other Puffle monsters or themselves. These special cenotes they create can also summon allies, special water dragons for attack, as well as use as traps or portals.

Tulum: These ancient elementals live under the 4 supreme elements (Fire, water, wind, and water). These special Mayan puffle monsters have a unique writing system, elemental power and spell system using the Mayan alphabet and real Mayan calendar (the rectangular one), and live within a parallel realm of an active magical civilization of Tulum (as if the civilization was still active).

Xanthium: Based on the Devouring Sword from Target: 100 million points and the powers of BoBoiBoy and other characters like Captain Kaizo, this special sword has a mind of its own, after being descended from a very very long lineage of other sentient devouring weapons that have absorbed the powers of many great warriors and elemental magic from hundreds of thousands of worlds. Design is based on Xiphoid Xcalibur Beyblade and Buster Xcalibur from Beyblade. This sword also unleashed the powers of the avatar of Mind (The core mind and avatars of mind from Redison's plushy forms) in all puffle monsters (each has their own mind, body, and spirit avatar which they work in harmony within the Puffle monster self to unleash special magic abilities unique to their core symbol (they have a unique Core Mind, core spirit, and core body symbol). Mind has their own unique symbols, body has their own symbols, spirit has their own symbols, all of which are unleashed using the sword powers. These puffle monsters use their mind, body, and spirit in perfect harmony (body and spirit always work together but Mind has now been awakened by these puffle monsters) with their elemental magic to unleash different blade techniques and special attack forms.

Mynd: Powerful puffle monsters that come from the realms of the mind of puffle monsters. The core is in the center, the heart houses the realm of the Body types, the brain holds the realm of the mind, a world based on The End with the Better End Mod biomes. In these realms, there are magic fog of different colors based on the imagination/mental energy, the brainwaves, as it travels the zone. These puffle monsters are unique to the different worlds of the mind, based on the imagination, memories, intelligence, and thoughts of the Puffle monster host and can vary in different powers and abilities depending on the world they lived in within the Mind dimension. Their special ability is they use key abilities to enter worlds of the mind. Besides psychokinesis abilities and mind control, they also have the special ability to change the reality around them to fit their imagination/mental realm. Also summon/use weapons and abilities from their mind palace/universe

Corpersona: These puffle monsters are the Puffle monster aspect of the body. They live within the realm of the heart of their puffle monster host which is a realm based on their persona and power. They are the Puffle plushy of their monster form, meaning any item/clothes on the plush actually evolves the Puffle monster to take a new Persona and use a new unique Persona Skill. Their magic symbols are unique in power and can not only grant super stats to their main puffle monster but also can grant a special power boost when in perfect sync. Grant the strength of a hundred men, or the speed of light, etc

Destroyer: The ultimate weapon is a powerful new evolutionary power called Destroyer Evolution through absorption of all negative energy (Hematite powers) which turns into armor and power. However, their energy core seems to shatter into millions of pieces and creates rings of energy as the shards spin around the area where the core once was, creating a mysterious new form of the core that seems to be stronger but not sufficient. These powerful puffle monsters use their weaknesses to their fullest as they absorb their weakness and dark negative energy and combines it with natural elemental energy around them to create new powerful weapons, armors, or unleash them in skills and abilities.

The Tower of Earths: When one dies, they rise up, rise up the tower and become reincarnated into a better creature / ideal creature of their choosing, the ideal heavenly life they wanted as more powerful beings in this new Earth and time period they wake up and live in. They take their soul as well and retain some special soul information which contributes and evolves their skills to become unique and stronger using special Soul Points which contribute to their magic evolution and abilities. If they did something bad, they fall down to a more difficult life as a weaker creature in a more dystopian world and timeline. Combines the idea of reincarnation, rising up to heaven or falling down to hell, and the idea of new and old souls. One Redison of a high plane descends down after reaching a high level of the Tower and comes down to meet Redison of this floor of the tower. Battle between puffle monsters of other floors with the Eternal Portal (based on the portal from Better End Minecraft mod).

Garondight: These puffle monsters are the warriors of the souls, the climbers of the Tower of Earths. With their special information and experiences as souls regarding lives, they have unique powers and skills that are highly enhanced compared to many other puffle monsters (unless they are a young soul, then they are not as strong). They can recall any power/skill or ability from their past lives and even use it in combos with each other to unleash great powers and abilities.Led by Garondight/Garou Redison: Redison of an old soul, who has lived many great lives, such as King Arthur, Augustus Caesar, Genghis Khan, and even President George Washington. This soul climbed many earths until he reached a very high earth in which they found how to travel to other Earths within the tower. Based on Garou Vairina from Cardfight! Vanguard Will+Dress

Xenith (Cross Xenith): the fusion of Redison in his Garondight form with the Jeweled True Sword of the True Hero named Redison (a powerful super sword of heroes that comes from a realm of magic). This is the ultimate power of fusing Body, mind, and soul with the body, mind, and soul of another, to unleash this perfect fusion/merging of power into one. These puffle monsters are extremely powerful as they not only unleash both the individual powers of their combiners to the max, but they also unleash the combined abilities and create their own unique abilities and attacks with their own style. Based on X-OverDress (Cross OverDress) from Cardfight! Vanguard Will+Dress and Garou Vairina

Alpheus/Xenethia: The origin of all magic, the primordial light that shone and granted all light, magic, and color to the dark void of the universe. The Feyrah (Zohruans), Xenithians, Xexals, Puffles, Puffle monsters, creatures, and Halonians (from Halon-X story), combine their great powers and history as their powers fuse into one great rainbow symbol that bursts and evolves the Xenithverses throughout all time and Earths (from the towers) as the Xenithverses within the Earths from the Tower fuse into one with Xenithverse PRIME. The origin of power is found as the powers of magic fuse into one great symbol that encompasses all other magic symbols. Since magic, powers, skills, and abilities that each puffle monster can have has expanded to so many possibilities, the symbols are all now under one great color symbol known as the Alpheus Symbol, which are organized by color (Red, Orange, Yellow (Gold within it), Green, Blue, Purple, Pink, Black, White, Gray (Silver within it), Brown). The 11 great council members hold the ultimate purest form of the Alpheus symbols as their core symbol and use special magic to create new worlds and puffle monsters to watch over the infinite worlds being created by magic and the imagination. These special puffle monsters created by the council and hold the powers of the pure Alpheus symbols, live in the realm of Alpheus, the core of all magic and the Nexus of Imagination of all magic (from another story), allowing them to unleash all symbols of magic under their Alpheus symbol. Redison unleashes the powers of all the Alpheus symbols as the Xenith Alpheus (unleash the rainbow symbol). This marks the evolution of puffle monsters as one species (Xenithians) under the new magic system (of colors to which their special core symbol and magic symbols are under the color). Their realm under the different colors is based on the Aether Dimension Minecraft mod and the weapons 3.0 mod from SNDBX

Zenitsu: A mysterious puffle monster with powers to devolve others. Redison had a battle with him which ultimately led to him becoming de-evolved (to level 17, just like my age, to better sync him with me), and as he adventured and evolved slowly as the flaming swordsman, he was able to defeat Zenitsu with the new power of the Claiomh Solais (The ultimate sword of light). Zenitsu's power is now used to de-evolve at will and modify power levels of other puffle monsters during battle and modify power levels in Dungeons (D&D). These puffle monsters born from Zenitsu all have the similar ability of power lowering/power adjustment (can use special spells to activate power lowering and adjustments depending on power type and other certain conditions). Also have the ability to change their form to a lower "rank-down" form. When this happens, the Zenitsu puffle monster gains a special boost in power. These puffle monsters can also de-evolve into powerful, stronger rank-down forms (based on Utopia Roots from Yugioh Zexal)

Hyp3r10n: C++ programming powers in the form of spells (C++ spells from The Max Level Hero Has Returned). Unleash super program spells of great power, labeled as Codes (Code X380: EXCEED or Code B195 BOOST, or Code R873 Firewall). These unique puffle monsters are based on the Cyberse monsters and @Ignister monsters from Yugioh VRAINS, and use their unique digital programmed DNA and uniquely programmed and customized symbols and abilities to fight and create. They live in a customized world created by the programmers that also created these unique puffle monsters, which use coding languages and debugging as forms of magic to create and fight. Can use special abilities to also Link Summon (from Yugioh VRAINS). Use the <Debug> ability to repair or reprogram a spell or ability (such as a curse) to heal or change damage levels, or the <Reprogram> spell which allows the puffle monster to reprogram any spell, attack, item, or even monster or any of their surroundings to change its form, composition, or any functions it has. Also has <Decode> which allows them to view the source code of certain items, abilities, spells, or structures (and allows them to take special magic code from it for themselves), and <Create_Program>, their unique creator powers as they create items, spells, or abilities using their unique coding algorithms and languages to create complex and powerful spells.

August Story Arc 1: The Phoenix Finale, the final chapter: The Overruling Government of the Revolutionary Earth (OGRE) arrives from the Halonian Story Universe (after the Halonians fused with the rest of the Xenithverse after the great fusion of Alpheus/Xenethia), with their army of artificial abomination creatures created by them. It now becomes a war as Redison fights them and as they attempt to take over the Xenithverse. New characters and warriors arrive to battle OGRE and finish them once and for all. These warriors include Redison of the Alphaverse (the strongest counterpart that is actually neck to neck with Redison), Kagero (the devil within Redison, and my ultimate fear and weakness, my Autism), etc. In the meantime, a tournament is about to begin to find the warrior who is worthy to enter into the World-Class ranking, The Battle of Champions, the final battle for Redison as he moves on to his next stage in Vancouver begins, 11 years of evolution and growth (as I reflect on my time in Phoenix, Arizona before I move to Vancouver, the countdown begins, 17 days remain as of 8/3/22 when I am writing this. 14 days remain as I update this entry), in battles in each school I went to, fighting a Main champion (the bolded names below in the entries) and Minor Champions (the non-bolded names)

Zantian: These powerful puffle monsters wield the power of the Elixir field (sea of Qi), their Dantian within their body. In this alternate realm of magic, puffle monsters have special methods of wielding qi as their forms of magic to unleash spells in different martial art styles and attacks. They use different techniques and have different realms within their Dantian where their qi is stored and is unleashed from. These realms can take many different forms but tend to hold the different forms of qi as regions within the dantian (separate the different types of qi). Based on all the martial art webtoons I read (like Infinite Leveling: Murim)

Alphaverse: Based on the movie “Everything, Everywhere, All at Once”. The difference between the Xenithverse and the Alphaverse is that the Alphaverse is the combined universe (the Xenithverse) of the infinite variations of lives all humans (in my home reality, timeline, dimension, etc) can live. One person can have infinite branches of alternate lives in alternate universes created through every small decision or indecision they make, creating variations of universes. In these universes, each person has their own imagination based on their lives which creates puffle monsters, who come to live in the realms of this universe home to their creator. Overtime, Redison of the core Alphaverse united all the puffle monsters universes into one singular universe that doesn’t affect the infinite alternate universes that these humans live in, but can allow the puffle monsters to travel to these other universes and learn the skills of that universe (their person’s skills of that life in that universe). Similar to “verse-jumping” as the humans can gain the skills, memories, and emotions of their other universe self, these puffle monsters actually learn the skills, memories, and emotions and keep it as a unique skill they learned and use. Example: Redison explored the universes where 1. I actually worked hard on my QuestBridge essays and became a QuestBridge scholar where I went to Stanford and became a great computer programmer (so Redison gained increased intelligence, harder work, and unique enhanced coding skills), 2. Where I actually continued with my cooking dream and went to a culinary school (Redison masters knife skills and cooking skills to create foods), 3. I continued Taekwondo and after reaching black belt, learn other martial arts (Redison masters the many martial art techniques I learn and is a master of hand to hand combat and using magic in those attacks, but also is a master of weapon use), 4. Where I spent time learning languages like TJ Huizar (a friend from Phoenix Boys Choir) and became proficient at many languages (Redison masters many languages and utilizes many unique spells of other languages), but Redison himself traveled to those universes and gained those skills as he lived in that universe with his alternate self and slowly absorbed the skills of his alternate selves. These puffle monsters have a very big skill set which constantly grows as they explore universes and gain skills and special abilities (their skill set is about 100000x larger than any other puffle monsters’), but also allows them to create special styles of battle and lifestyle through the infinite combination of their skills. Each of these skills also have unique magic symbols to them which are unique to the universe it is from.

Fallen Champion/Nethersbane: Based on Kamen Rider Revice and the devils within the main characters as well as the concept of the demon within each of us, the demon within me (and Redison) named Kagero (based off of Kagero from Kamen Rider Revice and the Kagero clan from Cardfight! Vanguard) appears as a White puffle with red eyes (the inverse of Redison with his red color and white eyes), and wields the powerful sword (that he is, since Redison is the Sword Xenith), Fallen Champion. He is the leader of the inverse puffle monsters, the devils and darkness within all puffle monsters. These puffle monsters use special abilities that are not only inverse to their counterpart but also have the unique ability known as <Imagine Lock> which locks the powers of the imagination and limits the powers of the puffle monster opponent (limits their stats, special ability use, and powers in general). They all wield the powers of the Fallen Champion sword powers which can transform between a gun and a blade (similar to Kamen Rider Evilytylive). These puffle monsters live in an alternate realm parallel to the Xenithverse and Alphaverse (both universes are on parallel lines with the Nethersbane line as the middle line parallel to both in the middle between both lines).

Anduril: Based on Kamen Rider Evilytylive, the ultimate fusion of a puffle monster's devil with their main form. With this fusion, this led to the fusion of the Alphaverse and the Xenithverse into the Alpha Xenithverse. By combining with the inner darkness, a puffle monster can unleash their <Imagine Beyond> skill which not only enhances their abilities and magic, but also grants them creative abilities to create a few special attacks based on their imagination. This ultimate power takes the form of crystalline magic (based on Terastal from Pokemon Scarlet and Violet (upcoming Pokemon game in November 2022)) as the puffle monster bears a crystalline crown that represents their ultimate <Imagine Beyond> Type and magic power (their core symbol power and core magic crystallized as their imagination magic maximized as crystal powers. They can use different crystalline crowns (Anduril Crowns) to gain special crystallized imagination magic abilities and powers (and therefore, different creative ideas for special attacks and abilities to come up with) in addition to their own unique Core Anduril Crown (fuse the magic together to create a unique Fusion Crown which can unleash special creative abilities). Live in a crystalline realm created by the Anduril crowns and crystalline magic.

Alpha Xenith: These powerful puffle monsters are the creation of the fusion between Alphaverse, Xenithverse, and the inner darkness of both groups (the common element which allowed the Alphaverse and Xenithverse to fuse) which grants them the unique abilities as an Alpha Xenith class type. Choose up to 5 elemental/magic abilities and attacks, and those 5 elemental abilities/attacks combo with their countless skills they know from the Alphaverse to create new super abilities and skills (Alpha Xenith abilities and Alpha Xenith skills). These puffle monsters have the unique symbol of AX, representing their Alpha Xenith powers and the unity between the two worlds. These puffle monsters live in both realms and in a special world created from the fusion where they all live primarily (their main habitat). Have the most special magic skills and abilities compared to any other puffle monsters due to their fusion of magic skills with Alphaverse skills.

Orisis: The powers of the eggs and the Egyptian gods on the Earth (in one summer camp years ago, I met someone who claimed they were a demigod and his mother was Isis (goddess of water) and father was some Earth god. These powerful puffle monsters use the powers of eggs (based on Socksfor1 minecraft but you can craft weapons out of an mobs (spawn eggs)) to create powerful new crafts (items, weapons, armor), and even create new super puffle monsters that not only have a special power boost depending on the deity that contracted with them, but they also get a special ability for each spawn egg used to craft them. These powerful puffle monsters not only have the powers of the Egyptian deities, but they also use a special magic rune system and language that utilizes the magic of the Eggs of creation to the max, allowing them to create new super puffle monsters, create new powerful artifacts and items that use the Eggs' powers, and unleash powerful spells depending on the Eggs used in the spell composition

Xornir/Worldbreaker: Based on the manhwa story "I Obtained a Mythic Item". Based on the lost eye of Odin, and the power to learn rune writing to reverse, control, and even break magic, defining magic as they please. These powerful puffle monsters use special magic abilities that not only allow them to create magic and define how magic works around them, but also grants them a unique power to create unique items and artifacts as well as destroy any form of magic with ease (destroying even worlds, galaxies, and stars with their bare hands and even with their mind, a shear thought can destroy universes and reshape them to how the puffle monster mage desires). These puffle monsters live in a parallel invisible realm that is defined by the Yggdrasil tree, hidden from all other puffle monsters as they live within the inner workings of all magic Xerathine: Puffle monsters with the legendary powers of the Unrivaled Spear Knight (from the Manhwa "Return of the Unrivaled Spear Knight") and the masters of the Primordial force of magic. These puffle monsters are known to be champions of the primordial power of magic as they were born with Primordial Stones as their core (these stones were created during the Big Bang as the collection of a certain great magic similar in power), which crystalized around them, granting them great power that not only grants them the special abilities from the stone, but also allows them to grant those abilities to certain items, artifacts, armors, etc. These puffle monsters live within another parallel realm where the Big Bang occurs often (as the birth of puffle monsters), creating more primordial stones.

Uravis: Ursa (the bear spirit and earth magic spirit) and Navis (the water and squid spirit) created the Puffle together (from the story I read of how a bear and squid created a puffle) and the Puffle gained the powers of magic and different colors from Aran (the Rainbow Phoenix and sky spirit). Their original Chimera creation became the first puffle and he mastered the powers of the other spirits of the universe, creating more chimeras like him to become his friends. These other chimeras were created as other spirits began harmonizing, creating new creatures from the fusions. This not only included animal spirits, but also included fae spirits, elemental spirits, and even astral spirits from other dimensions and worlds. These spirit fusions created countless creatures that would live in their home realm provided by the spirits, but after eons, these creatures became restless and unstable and began destroying the flow of magic. It was when Uravis (the first puffle and chimera of Ursa, Navis, and Aran), granted his special power and a microscopic piece of his DNA which gave all creatures the forms of the puffle monsters (which was the apparent surviving species) while allowing them to keep their unique powers, skills, and abilities granted from the chimera creation. These new Chimera puffle monsters now live in a grand realm created by the ultimate fusion of all the homes of the spirits, creating a grand spirit realm for these chimeras to live and prosper in. Based on Kamen Rider Chimera and Kamen Rider Daimon

The Battle of Champions: Going down memory lane and challenging all champions

- Quail Run (Grade 2-4): Caelum Rex, the Almighty Emperor
- Explorers In Learning (Grade 4): Deviants of Magic
- BASIS Phoenix (Grade 5-6): The Soldiers of Skyfire (OGRE vs Skyfire)
- Explorer (Grade 7-8): The Oracle of Chronicles (the beginnings of the Monster Book and advancement of the stories of monsters before becoming puffle monsters)
- Phoenix Boys Choir (Grade 7-9): Memories of Music
- PVHS (Grade 9-12): Spirit Armor puffle monsters (Story of evolution and success in making friends). Champions: Alison, Chloe Rozalsky, Megan Howell, Taylor Fisher, Oceana Covington, Millicent.

Rexcelsior: The emperor, Caelum Rex, Jimmy's partner puffle who had evolved with Redison (after I eventually lost contact with Jimmy, Rex joined Redison's team) and eventually split to lead his own clan and group back in his home world of Quail Run World. With his evolution and eventual ultimate evolution due to his achievements back home, he became the unrivaled emperor, the supreme sword, the gun of the heavens, as he not only reshaped the very realm of Quail Run World (reestablishing each "World" as nations and redesigning the magic of the realm), granting new powers to the puffle monsters and granting a unique trait of power, the special ability to use <Coat of Arms>, a unique core ability where each puffle monster summons a unique armor and weapon that they wield in their Imperial Ascended form known as the <Imperial Arms of the Ascended>. Each puffle monster has a unique coat of arms and can share this coat of arms to other companions for them to unleash a special ability using this coat of arms. The kingdom of Rex became the Rexcelsior Empire (Rex's father leads as Grand Advisor and second in command when Rex is out), and the remaining area that hasn't changed is Redison Island (the private island of Redison that serves as a summer home and memorial to Redison's adventures in Quail Run) and Deserted Island (once used for desert island fishing that Jimmy and I would do, Rex left the island alone as a place to go to when he wants to relax). The Champions of this realm (Rex (Jimmy), Reddy (Luca), Green Ninja (Brady Henshaw), Isra (new name, the blue puffle of healing waters, who my friend who wanted to play got), Shaun Flynn's Galaxy Dragon, and Rhiannon Abram's Rose Crystal Dragon) have all evolved to wield their unique <Coat of Arms> and <Imperial Arms of the Ascended> but all got defeated by Redison in the <Battle of Champions> after he mastered training and learning about the changes of the Quail Run World as he unlocked his own Coat of Arms and Imperial Arms of the Ascended. Each Imperial Arms has a special ability and skill granted to it in addition (so they have an extra super ability and attack as well as bonus stats and a new skill)

Deviants: From the realm of Exploron (Explorers in Learning). All magic and science and a monster game manuscript I left behind at Explorers in Learning Daycare creates new species as a representation of my legacy. In Explorers in Learning, I was in 4th grade when I would go to daycare for a few hours. There, I made friends with the group, made new games such as games we would play outside, a time traveling story where we would go back in time to different time periods of prehistoric eras when the dinosaurs lived in (based on a dinosaur book I used to read there), a game similar to monsters (where we would battle boss creatures using special abilities from the starship base (the main play structure)), and even a beyblade burst like game using legos (creating a very big thick top that you spin and the winner is whoever chips off a piece of the opponent or breaks it completely). One of my friends is Devesh (I lost contact with him many years ago), but in the monster world, his monster (known as D) got stronger and evolved to become the Champion of the Exploron world. Redison arrived in the world and found remnants of the DNA of the creatures and remnants of the magic powers that were collected on the starship and found that after mixing with the time flow energy from all the time travel in the past (the overall closeness of time periods due to the wall of time having been weakened due to lots of time traveling) and mixing with the magic energy evolution throughout the years, these puffle monsters were created as Deviants of all magic, powerful alien species of puffle monsters with not only magic abilities from the countless time eras and magic worlds connected to Exploron and the skills and abilities of different animals from the DNA collected (in both the starship, the boss creatures once fought, and DNA from the prehistoric eras), these powerful creatures developed their own civilization and magic system (using a new unique writing system, language system, code, and magic abilities). Redison learns their ways and culture and introduces the Alpha Xenithverse as their new home as their hidden universe fused with the Alpha Xenithverse after Redison defeated D, Roman's monster, Shawm's monster (named Sebastian, a special earth type), Jada's monster, Abigail's monster, etc in their <Battle of Champions>.

Skyfire: OGRE had taken over Sky City, a city that was set on the roof of what is now BASIS Phoenix Primary (was once Basis Phoenix when I was there, with grades 5-12, but now they are grades K-5), where I went to school for 5th and 6th grade. Will Phoenix (My hero of fire and leader of the sky city when I was still at BASIS, and a hero character I made in Art class in 5th grade) and other the other Puffle monsters that used to live in Sky City left and live in Metropolis (a new city created by Will Phoenix) now. However, a special magic defense system awakened, created by Will Phoenix many years later just in case Sky City would ever be used again. These puffle monsters were created from the powers of the Celestial Armory of Skyfire, which not only created powerful super weapons (based on the God Arms and Spirit Arms from Battle Spirits), but these super weapons were puffle monsters that wielded the weapon (the weapon is them, and they are the weapon) and achieved full unification with that weapon, unleashing full potential and all secret abilities of the weapon. Redison had heard about the attack on Sky City and met the Skyfire puffle monsters that defended the city in an all-out war against OGRE, to which Redison mastered the Skyfire Battle Arts (their unique fighting style) to wield his own swords better (and even gained the powers of the swords of the Celestial Armory of Skyfire). The Champion of BASIS Phoenix, Andrew Yuan (and his puffle monster Aster, a dragon based on Vairina (Cardfight! Vanguard Overdress)), joined the battle against OGRE after he was defeated by Redison in a close call fight in their <Battle of Champions>

Oracle Pillars: These powerful puffle monsters represent my special puffle monsters I made on my tile that I made because I reached the Millionaires Wall when I was in Explorer Middle School (7th-8th grade) (I read a million words because I was reading Harry Potter at the time).

My design was a temple with two pillars with a puffle drawn on it. Also based on The Oracle TwentyOne Pillars cards from Battle Spirits, these legendary puffle monsters are each an Oracle Pillar, a special pillar of magic energy that has recorded the history of all magic engraved on the pillar. These writings of magic unleash unique spells and powerful abilities and skills when the Oracle Pillar is summoned. One puffle monster can summon countless oracle pillars unique to them (created by their special core). Each of these puffle monsters use unique forms of spells known as <Rituals> which are not only stronger than most spells and abilities, but can be used in addition to using an attack, ability, or spell as an enhancement or even as a complement to the spell, attack, or skill. These puffle monster deities live in the realm of Pillars, a celestial agora of heroes, deities, mths, and legends (based on the Hall of Heroes from the Manhwa, “The Max Level Hero Returns”). These pillars and this species represents the beginning of the Chronicles of Puffle Monsters, the beginning of the Monster Books, as well as the beginning of a more advanced world of puffle monsters. The champion of his realm is Caitlin Campo’s monster Lyra which Redison defeated during their <Battle of Champions> after receiving the blessing of the Oracle Pillar monsters from the Temple of Oracles

Concerto Diamus: When I was in the Phoenix Boys Choir, I learned how powerful music truly was, like how those with Alzheimer's forget music last, but I also learned about the many cultures, stories, and different forms of music of different countries, and we went to travel to those countries and make friends with people around the world with whom I never thought I would meet in my lifetime had it not been for touring the world, but at the same time, being able to sing at venues like the High Mass at the Cologne Cathedral is an opportunity many chorists would die for. I also formed a sense of brotherhood among the boys in the choir and made good friends (who I unfortunately am slowly losing touch with but it was fun while it lasted). These puffle monsters created by the power of music and fusing with the magic of the Xenithverse, created a new power in which these puffle monsters use. Harmonic music unleashes great power and creates worlds of magic. These puffle monsters can create special <Notes>, magic diamond shaped crystals that each possess a special ability, and when arranged in different <Compositions> or formations like stars of a constellation, powerful spells and abilities can be unleashed. These <Compositions> are spells that while being used not only resonates music but also grants different status effects and buffs to surrounding puffle monsters in battle, or activates secret <Compositions> or subsequent <Compositions>, which makes these puffle monsters not only masters of strategy (in order to devise when to create <Compositions> and which to use) but masters at listening and sensing resonance in magic in order to decide which <Notes> would be best in their <Composition>. These puffle monsters live in the realm of harmonic music and magic created by the power of music and filled with <Notes> and <Compositions> which dominate the form of magic use in this universe. The Champions of this realm are Sebastian (a dark type Serpent joker (knife wielding jester)), Parker, Stephen, and Nathan. In their <Battle of Champions>, Redison was challenged to a composer challenge, in which all of them would create the ultimate <Composition> and face off against each other to see which <Composition> reigns supreme. This is how battles are also fought in the Concerto Universe

Spirits of PRIDE: Spirit puffle monsters with designs based off of Don Dragoku and Don Torabolt from Donbrothers. Known for their special different stances (Attack Stance, Defense Stance, Speed Stance, Power Stance, Flame Stance, Earth Stance, etc). These special spirit puffle monsters were created from my memories of my experiences at PVHS as well as the memories of all my friends (how I remember them at the very end: their personalities, accomplishments, their skills, looks, interests, etc). These spirit puffle monsters are also created from the memories of my friends (their own memories of their experiences as well as their own memories of their perception of others (how they remember their classmates)). These spirit puffle monsters can take their own forms but can also fuse with others (Spirit possession) granting a special boost ability and other unique powers and characteristics depending on the spirit. Each spirit has a unique <Spirit Stance> which is their unique fighting style and magic powers that they wield and can grant to their possessed partner. These spirits each have their own spirit worlds they can create and live in or train their partner in to master their <Spirit Stance>. The Champion is Alison and Lyra (Her partner puffle monster she made or described to me, an astral mage that controls the stars), as well as the plethora of champions of my friends. Redison was able to defeat them all after learning the many <Spirit Stances> there was to learn Miraivolution/Miraivol: Based on Miraidon (the Legendary Pokemon from Pokemon Violet, and its ability to have an Aquatic mode, flight mode, etc), RevolDress and RevolForms (from Cardfight! Vanguard Will+Dress), as well as the technology from the Disney Pixar Movie "Lightyear" such as the Hyper Crystal and weaponry, these astral puffle monsters are powerful warriors of the future in which they were created as alien invasion fighting machine, created from the designs of Redison to be stronger than Redison and even eliminate Redison-power level threats. Originally designed from the RevolForms of Redison when he used that power, these puffle monsters have the power of FARBAS Revolution (based on FARBAS from Bakugan Helios), which not only eliminates the damage they took, but also grants a special ability depending on the <Mode> they are in. These puffle monsters are powered by unique crystal cores (similar to the Hyper Crystals in Lightyear) and have the unique ability to change into different <Modes> depending on the situation. Their unique crystal core grants unique modes to each puffle monster and gives them special abilities in these modes and unique stats. All Miraivol puffle monsters have the basic Attack mode, defense mode, and speed mode, but with the unique crystal cores, each have their own unique mode set (some can have Crusher mode, Guardian mode, Sentry mode; others can have gunner mode, cyclone mode, aquatic mode, dragonic mode, etc).

Melekh: A Recreated AzureWrath species of puffle monsters through the ultimate powers of Ein Sof (The Infinite). These ultimate puffle monsters are the Kings (Melkh) of their main power, which differs depending on the Partzuf they are using. Each puffle monster has a unique set of Partzufim (Partzuf is singular) which are Divine Personas of the Sefirot. These puffle monsters use the magic within the Hebrew Alphabet as well as the powers of the divine powers of Sefirot. Melekh puffle monsters are based on the design of Arch-Aider, Malkuth-Melkh (which apparently is Kingdom-King) as well as "Origin Deity of Heavenly Light, Uranus" and "Giant Deity of Distant World, Valkerion" from Cardfight! Vanguard Shinemon. These puffle monsters are the supreme beings of their realm, which not only grants them ultimate powers (based on the Archailects and Archai (an individual and civilization at the same time) from Orion's Arm Universe Project) to create physical universes and meta-physical universes, but also create all forms of life, laws of physics and magic (Supreme Laws of reality), worlds/geography, stories and myths, etc at their will, all with their ultimate goal to create the ultimate Xenithverse of puffle monsters as the pinnacle of creation. These divine personas are within the Xoul of these puffle monsters and not only assist the main puffle monster but also grant unique special abilities to that puffle monster that differs from other divine personas within other puffle monsters. Each puffle monster has the main 10 divine personas but there are also millions of other minor divine personas that grant power to their puffle monster host. When using the powers of the Divine Personas, they can summon a Melekh Weapon/Item/Deity Arms that not only enhances the Divine Persona powers, but also grants an additional boosted ability, stats, and special skills. Live in a hidden fantastical realm of deities in which they live in a massive universe of magic created by the original Tree of Life with each Sefirot as Sub-universes, and are connected by magic wormholes (similar to Orion's Arm Universe Project).

Atenseer: Ruled by Lyzander, the Yellow warrior of the Quartet. Transforms into his sword to defeat his opponents in a flash. He has a short temper, impatient, but he is smart and creative. Attends Ankovir Academy (alongside Redison and Sabone who entered that realm, and Taragon). He came from the alternate universe in which I used my creative talents and learned how to draw art (both on paper and digitally), make DnD Homebrew art for my monster world such as creating the monsters and the items they use (which is now based on DnD), and created the monster world through DnD maps I made. Lyzander is the Avartar (Art Avatar) of this alternate Xenithverse as the master of all magic, items, and powers I created and documented through my creative application. These special puffle monsters have the unique characteristic known as <Creative Property>, a special stat/skill that is apart of their unique core symbol and origin which gives them a unique creative skill such as special items only they can create and have a special ability when they use it themselves vs another using their item, or the special ability to create habitats (homes, houses, land areas), create special structures (temples, skyscrapers, military forts, etc), create special vehicles (cars, bikes, planes, and other forms of transportation), machinery (different types of inventions like one to control the weather, control the elemental magic flow, a monster creator, cloning machine, 3D Fabricator, food maker, portal, etc), and even special custom runes only they can make and use to its full power (get a special ability when using their custom rune they made (the craftsman's unique access)). These puffle monsters are artists, taking pride in their crafts, and live in a special realm where crafting and art is a big influence on the culture. There are worldbuilders, armorers, weaponsmiths, mapmakers, etc.

Teragon: Ruled by Taragon, the Green warrior of the Quartet. He likes to read his fiction books quietly and tends to take lots of naps but is extremely strong (he works out while studying most of the time, like doing push ups while reading his textbooks) and a master fighter due to his dream fighting training. He also attends Ankovir Academy. He hails from the alternate universe in which I became influenced by video games (Puffles got powers because I got influenced by Club Penguin and Avatar The Last Airbender Movie), but in this alternate universe, I became influenced by more video games such as Minecraft, World of Warcraft (WoW), Neopets,

Fortnite, Overwatch, League of Legends, Magic The Gathering (instead of Pokemon Cards), and Wizard101. These puffle monsters live in the Infinitely generating Terragon, their home Xenithverse that generates a new world/region within it every day. This new world/region has a unique culture, game type (first person shooter, battle royale, Capture the flag, racing, sandbox, strategy, etc), and special puffle monsters who are not only really good at those games and have unique abilities that give them an advantage at those games known as <Game Skills>. Each puffle monster has a unique <Game Skill> which is shown in their core symbol. Taragon becomes the Ultimate gamer and ruler of the realm after he acquired all <Game Skills>. In each world/region, there are unique forms of magic symbols based on the game (such as an accuracy boost symbol or multi-bullet symbol for the shooting type games, or special health increase type symbols in battle royale games). There are a large variety of unique symbols/runes for different items and game aspects such as HP increase, attack increase, defense, certain item mastery symbols, maps, etc

Tower of Juuga: The final event as this is my final week in Phoenix, Arizona before I go to Vancouver for University. Based on Kamen Rider Juuga from Kamen Rider Revice and based on the pyramids and powers from the game Xenos (about the new form of energy from underwater called Xenos and the warrior Asterus who piloted the machine). With the meeting and fusion of the home realms of Lyzander and Taragon, the Quarter has been formed and activated the rise of the 4 Towers (the Blue tower in Quail Run World, the Yellow tower in Explorer Middle School, the Green tower in BASIS Phoenix Primary, and the Red tower in PVHS), to which the 4 towers summoned the ultimate tower that pierced the heavens, at my House, the ultimate tower of Juuga. This giant tower has many floating Octahedral structures around the tower based on the Pyramids from Xenos in which specially created puffle monsters live in them. The Quartet enters the Tower to find the puffle monster known as Juuga, the king of the tower who challenges the Quartet to a final battle of who is the King of the Phoenix Realm of the Xenithverse. Fun Fact, the pyramids of Xenos were an idea I had (except different colored pyramids with different colored energies) when I first came to Phoenix and was in 2nd grade playing that game a lot (one of my first cool ideas when I lived in Phoenix). Also based on my dream during my nap about a warrior like Meta Knight (based on Meta Knight, Redison, Kamen Rider Juuga, and Arkenes from Webtoon The Lone Spellcaster)

Arkgene/Juuga: The unkillable Chimera created from a combination of different puffle monster genes. In the Xenithverse, it was discovered that each puffle monster had a Core characteristic gene, which was a piece of their genome that describes their core and main power. By taking the Core characteristics of each puffle monster in existence and fusing it to create artificial genomes, the ultimate warrior was born (Juuga Arkgene). Juuga then created other puffle monsters with artificial genomes, each with many many core characteristic genes in their genomes, giving them many different core parts and special abilities that tend to be unique to certain puffle monsters (wield many many abilities unique to different puffle monsters, which are now no longer unique since these puffle monsters can wield it given they have the core characteristic gene within them), but the combination of the genes create a new power unique to them due to their unique mix of genes. Based on Kamen Rider Juuga, Kamen Rider Chimera, and Kamen Rider Daimon (all from Kamen Rider Revice series). Their main symbol is the Juuga triangle symbols (2 of them made to look like an hourglass, with a diamond and an eye within the diamond, within the hourglass). Their special power is created from their artificial genome, which allows them to unleash special attacks unique to them such as Impulse Genome, Crush Genome, Powered Genome, and Amazing Genome (based on the special attacks of Kamen Rider Juuga). Their only limit is the limit to their Core Characteristic Gene.

Arksoul Scramble: A powerful species created from the magic of the Tower and the Octahedron structures. These powerful puffle monsters are also artificially created weapons that have the same smaller floating Octahedrons around them which empower them. Their unique ability is the power to manipulate the magic energy around them and create different armor pieces of elemental puffle monsters around them (similar to the pieces of the Dragons from Spellform from Dragonvale). Although they are limited to their core element (so a fire type can only generate fire type spellform pieces), there are millions of variants of the fire element meaning they can summon spellform pieces of different types and combine them in any combination they want to make a powerful combo with different spellform pieces. In addition, they can create new spellform pieces since they take elemental magic around them (even elemental mana that is not fire element, but other elemental power and changes it into fire spellform pieces, which creates a new variant of fire based on the elemental mana within the piece), as well as scramble the magic energy around their opponents and surroundings (scramble the magic around them). This not only completely changes the magic type, strengths, weaknesses, and characteristics of their opponent temporarily, but also allows them to change their reality with ease. These puffle monsters were created as the architects of the Tower of Juuga, in order to expand the tower to the entire Xenithverse with their magic. Their core symbol is the diamond with the eye in it and 4 smaller diamonds (with the eye in them) around the main big diamond, rearranged like an X. Their powers of spell forms come from the powers of their Xouls.

Arkforce/Arkmage Asura: The ultimate Asura of All Weapons (based on the 10 Weapons Demon Arts from Infinite Leveling Murim). Combine the many unique weapon styles to unleash powerful abilities. These puffle monsters were based on Redison's design matching Gargantua Dragon (from Buddyfight) and the sword wielding style of Keisetsu (10 sword style attack). In Infinite Leveling Murim, the main character wields special Jade weapons that can change form (sword to axe or staff and vise versa) depending on Qi. Each weapon gives a special boost in stats (increase in attack, speech, critical rate, accuracy, etc). By wielding the Asura technique (dual, triple, quadruple, quintuple, Hexadic, Octadic, ultimate (all ten)) and wielding different kinds of weapons, they can get all sorts of boosts and special stat abilities as well as Combo special abilities (if certain weapons are together, gain an extra special ability or skill). These puffle monsters are the ultimate warriors of the thousand weapons of existence. The ultimate battle mages. Live in a realm of magial (Magic Martial) arts (similar to the realm of Infinite Leveling Murim), where magic from all sorts of books of magic arts are collected and all kinds of mana flow.

Kodachi: Shobe has joined Chanbara class at school, and I found out that the shortsword is Kodachi in Japanese. Based on Don Murasame (from Donbrothers) and the different Sword Arts from Sword Art Online, Demon Slayer, and all the martial art webtoons I read. From the land of Mistvale (from Artstation maps) of Endless Autumn, Map of Aereis, Map of Sophia, and All of the Colors. These powerful sword art puffle monsters not only have a unique set of attacks as their own personal sword art only they can perform at full mastery (as their own creation), but they also have unique stats and skills that allow them to master other sword arts that are similar to their own but also provide special abilities and attacks. These puffle monsters are unique compared to other puffle monsters because of their special characteristic of storing magic energy in the form of stars within the Imagery (an imaginary realm where their mana resides and flows). The power flow from the imagery grant these puffle monsters the ultimate powers of <Traits> (a special power created from mana flow and the blessing of a certain Blade Deus (their deities)), which can evolve according to the Tech Tree. These puffle monsters can wield different unique Sword Arts according to their <traits> being used (The sword fighting style/attack combined with the <trait> being used creates a new sword art). These Sword Arts are exceptionally powerful as opposed to other puffle monster sword arts of the past due to the power of the <Traits>. Traits and Imagery based on the Manwha “Standard of Reincarnation”

Epilogue: The epilogue of the story as the Chapter in Phoenix comes to a close (2 days left), Pseudo-heroes rise from all puffle monsters, as they evolve into a super form known as their <Hero Form> similar to Redison. This Hero form has a special ability known as <Xenith Break> or Limit Break, essentially transforming them into their Hero Form but also granting the unique ability of defying the Laws of magic and reality and reshaping them into their own (temporarily or permanently (in that case, it creates a new world that has these new rules of magic as the Supreme Law)). This is based off of all my stories of Redison and his journey of evolution, but also how all puffle monsters have the chance to become heroes and the main characters of their own stories (also based on the NPCs in Free Guy (I just finished the movie)). These puffle monsters (the ones known as the Epilogue puffle monsters) are the first group of each species of puffle monster in existence to wield the power of <Xenith Break> and therefore have the special permanence ability (their changes create new worlds) in addition to their special advanced imagination capability which allows them to create special stories, detailed characters, and vast worlds of magic for countless generations of puffle monsters to call home in the future. Also based on WorldBox (a creation world builder simulator game)

Final Will: The final desire (the Will of magic) takes the form of The Neverending story, how the Xenithverse is the fantasy universe of The Monster Book, that is passed down from generation to generation in this alternate world where people actually read and explore the Xenithverse, further evolving it with their own imaginations and characters, creating new extensions of the Xenithverse, granting puffle monsters a new form and evolution as time continues. Achieved after reflection within the Infinite Ego Formation, evolving Redison into a new being. Redison evolves the Xenithverse to a more advanced state to travel with Redison and constantly evolve as puffle monsters evolve in magic. Their special trait is that they have a special color on them (like a galaxy or space (stars and planets) of a certain color) with shining white eyes. These puffle monsters have the unique power to unleash <Source Code>, based on Source Code from the Manhwa "Academy's Undercover Professor", where they can unleash powerful magic spells through accessing the source code of the mana within the spell and allowing for faster casting but also increased power and special combination capabilities with other spells and skills.

Based on explanation that spells are programs run on the hardware (the body) and that Source code is the code of the programs which makes casting more customized, powerful, and unique as there is more freedom in spell composition and magic type within. These puffle monsters are 100x stronger than Redison and only evolve further with his (and my) experiences in the future as the Book of the Xenithverse travels and meets other ppl who in their world, will use their imagination and expand the book and simplify magic or evolve it further, creating new super puffle monsters. The original Source Code of the magic imagination (the original from each imagination) takes the form of the special colored starry design with shining white eyes of light and capable of Source Code spells. These puffle monsters then create other more diverse magical puffle monsters that can also use a variation of Source Code magic spells and skills. This is the end of the Puffle monsters entry of this book and the end of this chapter of Phoenix, Arizona.

3240 species END

Caltech: Redison from the future where I end up in Caltech for undergrad arrives, weaponized with rocket powered drill sabers as well as an arsenal of super weapons created by me from there.

MIT: Redison from the future where I end up in MIT for undergrad arrives, weaponized with futuristic energy blades under his control.

Queen: The Empire Sword Queen (Empire sword elesis), The Queen of Scarlet flames (based on Flame Lord Elesis), Queen of the Crimson Moon (Bloody Queen Elesis), Queen of Absolute Light (based on Queen attribute from Webtoon Ultra Alternate character)

Macaire Legion: Alison and Lyra achieved Unification, and Lyra evolved with the power of Brandon Welsh's Sword (elemental particles/shells), to become the elemental knight and the sword of the Macaire Legion (the combined group of Alison's characters, Caitlin Campo's characters, and Brandon's spirit monsters (based off of the things I know about him and the weapons he makes)).

Shengoku: The Government headed under the man known as Shen (Lord Shen) gave all those in their senior year, a gun and lots of ammo, nationwide. With this, he also let them loose. This is the United States after the great apocalypse caused by the guns, as all the youth formed factions, legions, and kingdoms, as they went to civil war with each other. The schools became battlefields, public parks became burial grounds of the fallen, the green of the grass has been painted red with the blood of the innocent. *What happened was another school shooting in Texas, an 18 year old shot up an elementary school, killing 19 kids, 2 adults. In theory, Dad said what if they gave all kids a gun and let them loose, that would affect enough people for there to be action to increase gun control.

Hellfire Akuma: This soul has arrived after coming from a very low Earth on the tower due to his crimes in other Earths with the soul of Adolf Hitler, Captain Blackbeard, and the evil incarnation of hellfire. He arrives on our Earth using his special abilities (ForceRise and Breakdown)

AzureWrath: Valhella group returns with Alison, Caitlin, Suhani, and Chloe Rozalsky in the group now, and with the combined powers, creates a new super puffle monster as their representative based off of Bavsagra (from Cardfight! Vanguard OverDress). Their ultimate warrior Azurine wields different Valhella Deity Arms such as the

- Grayxandar Axe
- Lindstrom Sword
- Camposaar Blessing (gun)
- PJSlay Crossbow
- Sav-age (Savanna and James) Hammer
- Rozalsky Spear
- Patella Daggers
- Aqeleon (Amar) Shield
- Petrine Saber (Paige)
- Pauladin (Pauline) Staff

Terminator: Based on The Terminator and Doomtronic (Baku-nano).